They came, they sang, and they had a fine time. Woodville made a lot of new friends this weekend at the Tex-La-Neches Valley Mid-Winter Gospel song fest this past weekend. Several thousand people from about 10 states were here and it was a good one. Burl Carter, president, is to be commended, along with a very dedicated arrangements committee.

While I am on the subject, I would like to say something about something I saw that restored my faith in humanity and made the prospects for a more beautiful Tyler County more abundant. When I got town-down Sunday morning about daylight to put KVLV on the air, I saw a good one. Burl Carter, president, is to be commended, along with a very dedicated arrangements committee.

Commissioners Set Salaries For 1969

Tyler County commissioners at their first regular meeting last week set salaries of elected officials, county employees, and other courthouse officials as required by state statute. The meeting began Monday, was recessed until Tuesday, and then completed Wednesday the agenda for the first session of the year.

The court, with all four commissioners—J. Carl Shepherd of precinct one, H. H. Powell of precinct two, Leon Fowler of precinct three and J. R.

(Bo) Jordan of precinct four—present dispatched most of the business before it unanimously. County Judge Jeff R. Mooney presided at the long session.

The lengthy agenda and action of the court in order in which it was presented follows: Unanimously accepted bid of Pritchard and Abbott to appraise oil and gas properties, except pipelines, in county for a fee of five cents per year on each $100 valuation.

Singing Festival Called Success

By Sponsors

Officers of the Tex-La-Neches Valley Singing Convention and the chamber of commerce committee sponsoring the singing festival said this week that the convention here Saturday and Sunday was one of the most successful ever held. While those attending the Saturday night and Sunday song sessions were set at about 2500, smaller than expected, the enthusiasm and the presence of 18 top quartets and singing groups made up for the smaller crowds.

Fog and rainy weather contributed to the smaller attendance. Quartets and groups here for the sessions Saturday night and Sunday, some of whom were at the concert Friday night, included:

The Taylor Family, Gulfport, Miss.; Stutes Family, Wichita, Kansas; Challengers, Trio, Nashville; Sons of Calvary Quartet, Dallas; Hotley Family, Houston; McJody's Trio, Mabank; The Travelers Quartet, Shreveport; The Waymakers Quartet, Lutkin; Shaw Family, Baton Rouge; Tinsley Sisters, Trio, Beaumont; Journeyman Quartet, Huntsville; The Harmonizers, Trio, Lutkin; Bethel Family, Nederland; Harris Family, Zavalla; Wills Family, Fort Worth; Gospelways, Trio, Colmesneil; and the Nederland High School Chorus, directed by Woody Woodrome.

The summer session of Tex-La-Neches Valley Singing Convention will be held in the new Memorial Auditorium in Shreveport on July 19 and 20, Mr. Carter said.

Burl Carter Thanks All For Helping With Singing Convention

The executive board of the Tex-La-Neches Valley Singing Convention joins me in saying "Thanks A Million" to the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce, the local arrangements committee, the City of Woodville, the Woodville school system and everyone in Tyler County who helped in any way to make the winter session of the Neches Valley singing convention a total success.

Especially do we appreciate the wonderful cooperation and fine publicity we received from Wiley Poston and KVLV radio station, Chuck Stamps and the Tyler County Booster and their entire staff.

Again, thanks, Burl Carter, convention president.

That Was A Mouflan

The animal caught by Stock Deputy George McKee of Tyler County last week, and named "Mouflan" as a mouflon sheep, was a wild sheep, McKee said. The animal was reported that it is a mouflon sheep which is a native of Corsica and Sardinia.

Tommy Anders, who had just moved to Southeast Tyler County from Lubbock, picked up the animal from McKee. He said that he moved two miles and three miles from Lubbock to his new home south of Fred. The one caught by McKee got through the fence and had wandered into Fred.

Interestingly, Mr. Anders said that two female mouflans were born after he made the move from Lubbock.

If the editorial staff of this newspaper did not know what kind of sheep or goat McKee had captured, several readers did.

Dr. James Page of Houston wrote that his associate, Dr. Westbrook, had hunted wild and exotic animals in many parts of the world, he correctly identified the animal from the picture as a mouflon sheep.

Burton Fortentberry, who is a taxidermist at Colmesneil, came into the office and also identified it correctly.

Jessie Odom Alford of Harlingen, in a clipping from a book showing several sheep with curled horns, one of which was a mouflan, and C. W. Herrington wrote in that he had hunted this type sheep and that his son had killed one on a ranch in West Texas. He thought that the one caught by McKee had been raised from a small animal as a pet, since in the wild state they are fast and elusive.

With this note, Dr. Pope sent in an advertisement he had clipped which offered hunting rights for the "exotic" mouflan sheep. The ad was placed by Burdham Brothers of Marble Falls, who grow mouflan sheep on their ranch in the hill country west of Austin. The Burdham's advertised that they had lots of large, mature rams with three-quarters curled horns. They guarantee hunters a sheep for a fee of $125.

Dr. Pope wrote, too, that someone had several head of mouflan sheep within a few miles of Houston.

This newspaper thanks the readers who wrote in identifying the mouflan sheep, and we are glad that Mr. Anders was able to get the animal returned unharmed to him.

America Still Is...

ONE WOMAN'S OPINION
By Mrs. Ethel O. Hill

America still is getting more involved, and is "putting a finger in more pies" with every change of the moon, it seems. No wonder the poor supreme court judges get confused as to their decisions today. (I suppose to politicians, and from at least 100 different points of view.)

It is hard to be surprised if the world is allowed to farm, to be sure, but the farm planter, along with other farm crops, will not only be a good business, but a profitable one. It is a business that is being developed, and it is being developed in a big way. It is a business that is being developed in a big way. It is a business that is being developed in a big way.

But, how do we get it? We get it by having a good farm planter, and a good farm planter, and a good farm planter. We get it by having a good farm planter, and a good farm planter, and a good farm planter. We get it by having a good farm planter, and a good farm planter, and a good farm planter.

HOMEMAKING HINTS

By Mrs. Maurine J. Mooney, HD Agent

How should you serve salmon? Any way you like. This versatile fish can be used just as it comes from the can, or you may want to add a sprinkling of salt and pepper and a dash of lemon juice.

But "as is" is just the start to a multitude of salmon serving possibilities. You'll find that most recipes call for use of the entire can of salmon—except the liquid, flake salmon and add to vegetable mixture. Stir in 1/4 cup of chicken soup. Cook for 10 minutes. Drain the sauce. Combine flake salmon with milk. Turn out on lightly floured bread and knead gently, about 15 kneading strokes.

Reserve a small nugget of dough. Roll remaining dough out into a rectangle about 8 x 12 inches. Spread dough with salmon mixture and roll up lengthwise, like a jelly roll. Transfer roll to baking sheet, seam side down. Combine egg and water. Brush well with egg mixture and decorate with small cut outs made from reserved dough. Brush decoration with egg mixture. Bake in preheated 400-degree F. oven for 25 to 30 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serve hot with chicken lemon sauce, Serve at room temperature.

For the chicken lemon sauce add sufficient milk to reserve salmon liquid to measure 1/2 cup liquid. Combine this liquid with remaining chicken soup. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, or in taste. Heat to serving temperature.

Salmon potato buffet salad: 1 pound can salmon, 6 cups cooked diced potatoes, 1/2 cup chopped green onions, 1 teaspoon dried flat weed, or sweet basil, 2 cups mayonnaise type dressing, 1 cup diced cucumber, 1 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Flake salmon and mix with potatoes, green onions, cucumber, celery, parsley, and herb. In small bowl combine mayonnaise, lemon juice, salt, and onion. In butter or margarine unit vegetables are soft. Stir in olives. Drain salmon, liquid.

Physicians all agree that when you are overly tired you are more susceptible to cold and other infections. They agree that these infections are spread from person to person through the air and also point out that holiday eating, with its excess of sweets and goodies, may have crowded out other foods that are needed to insure a well-balanced adequate diet. Your employer will agree with you that if you get a cold or signs of influenza, stay at home and keep your germs out of circulation. Follow the doctor's instructions as to bed rest, medication, and plenty of liquid.

AWBA Meeting Held January 14
The Webster chapter of the AWBA met January 14 at the Ranch House. Guest speaker was Mayor Jimmy Freeman who brought an interesting talk on the progress Woodville has made over the years since it began as a community of a few log cabins.

The next meeting will be February 11 at the Dogwood Motel. This will be the annual business meeting.

Bishop Harris To Be In Woodville Church February 9
Bishop Vincent M. Harris will be in Woodville on February 9 to administer confirmation at St. Lawrence Catholic Church.

The ceremony will be held, along with mass at 8:00 a.m. Afterwards the Bishop will have a short time to visit the "Log Cabin" (N.Y.) Post.

Putting you first, keeps us first. 1969 Impala Custom Coupe

Start with an Impala Custom Coupe. Add our Turbo Hydramatic transmission, 200-hp V-8 power windows, brakes, whitewalls and wheel covers. And it will cost less than a '68 Impala full with comparable equipment.

For more car, too! A '69 rides better. Looks better. Protects better with its new "guard rail" in every door.

Value Showdown: $101.00 less than last year's Impala with comparable equipment.
