Booster Bits

By WILEY POSTON

Jim Dillon, Woodville attorney, and myself get crossways on some issues, and Ole Jim tells me off in no uncertain terms, and I tell him what I think, then we drink a cup of coffee together and each goes his way with his own opinion. However, there is one thing that Jim Dillon and I are in absolute agreement on, and that is the need for more interest in Mental Health from a national level right down through state levels. Jim and I had quite a discussion on this subject and from all the information I can gather, it appears that our legislature is sadly neglecting the mental hospitals and giving more attention to the correctional institutions. We sometimes are prone to forget that Mental Health covers about everything that is vital to a strong and progressive state. It covers not only the sane and the insane who might have a chance to regain a sound mind if they are given the right care, but it includes alcoholics, narcotic addicts, plus mentally retarded children and even fostered adults. We are in the process of some research on this and hope to come up with a series of articles that might be of real interest. The thing that worries us most is that we are constantly reminding that correctional institutions are doing a lot of Prisoner Rehabilitation, and it appears that some of this rehabilitation is turning out to be Prisoner Conditioning. So many inmates that are sentenced by the Courts often say that they knew what they were doing when they committed their crime, while on the other hand a potentially ill person just doesn't know whether they "know anything." What I am about to write will probably draw criticism from the "rebellious" ones, but we still believe that a SANE CRIMINAL OWES A DEBT TO SOCIETY, AND NOT SOCIETY OWING A DEBT TO THE CRIMINAL. This does not mean that we believe in mistreatment of our prisoners, and we certainly feel that they should be given an opportunity to be helped if they really want it, while on the other hand we do feel that we are mistreating an unfortunate part of society by not doing more in the mental health field. We will welcome letters from our readers on this subject.

We haven't checked with Toby Spurluck about the outcome of the Lion's Basketball tournament, but from all indications it was a real success. We are sure that an organization such as our Woodville Lion's is a great asset to the community and deserve all the help they can get from the local folks when they put on a good project. Citizens State Bank, Prexy Carey Cruse told me he was out at Fairview Baptist Church for the dedication program Sunday and said it looked like a homecoming in the Dies Community. Carey said he never saw so many folks in a long time. We sure do want to join with many others in congratulating John Spanhans and the congregation of Fairview Baptist Church at Dam B for the wonderful job they all did in building the new building. It will long stand as a monument to Christian progress in Tyler County, and a symbol of what good folks working together can do.

People we saw department: R.A. and Mrs. Jernigan at Tyco Feed Co. showing us more about that great new feed mill. These are fine folks and we sure like them. Sidney Owens and folks getting all set up in their new Town House Doughnut Shop out two miles from downtown Woodville on the Jasper Highway. Woodville Nursing Center Administrator, Chaplain Rev. Rowart Smith doing a good job on KVLL's morning devotional. Mann Furniture Company's David Mann working real late. . . and . . . the Dogwood Fever getting warmer and warmer. So long for now. See you next week!

HE WANTED TO BE TEXAN, TOO

Teddy Glenn Couch, Jr. poses with mother Valby

It took quite a bit of doing but Teddy Glenn Couch, Jr., is a native Texan and a native Tyler County.

Coming from a long line of Texans and mostly Tyler Countians, his parents wanted their second child to be born in Tyler County. The only hitch was that Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Couch, Sr. now live in Cleveland, Ohio.

However, to keep the family

All-Texan, they decided that Mrs. Couch would come to Tyler County for the expected arrival of the newest member of the family. Accordingly, she flew from Cleveland on January 6 and awaited the blessed event at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graham, in Hillister.

The baby arrived last week in Tyler County Hospital, weighing in at 4 Texas-size pounds, 2 ounces.

Teddy's grandmother, Mrs. S. M. Graham, is the former Alice Foxworth and was born in Tyler County to Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Foxworth. Mr. Graham is a native of Polk County but has lived in Tyler County most of his life.

The baby's great-grandmother, Mrs. Addie Foxworth, about 87, was married in Tyler County and reared all five of her children in the county, including Mrs. Graham. A son, James Foxworth, still lives in Hillister and the other sons and daughters own property in the county.

The Grahams reared both their children, including Mrs. Couch, in Tyler County.

The Couches have lived in over 40 states and Mexico as he followed his trade as a pipe welder. They lived in California for 12 years, where Mrs. Couch operated a dress shop before moving to Ohio in May 1968.

Mrs. Couch is a native of Amelia, Texas.

Don Adams Scores Director Of School Committee

Representative Don Adams of Jasper was refused facts recently upon which the controversial Governor's Committee Report is based. Adams requested ad valorem tax information taken from Haggin County records from Glen Ivy, director of John Connally's Public School Education Committee. Mr. Ivy told Adams, in response to his call, "the committee has decided not to release these facts."

Adams said, "The Governor's report on Public Education has been reduced to specific legislation and introduced into the House. It is regrettable that an appointed state official and an appointed state study committee chooses to withhold information necessary to make an informed decision. I for one do not intend to accept Mr. Ivy's conclusions without knowing his supporting facts."

KVLL CORNER

As the time draws closer for the "Blower" to press this week, I find myself very much involved with the crowd of individuals of various music.

One of the new records we received this week was by a new group, the Tillman Franks Singers. It's entitled "Sweet Love" and it promises to be a good one.

The one known to Nashville, Tennessee, now has 10 talent agencies, 32 music publishing houses, a dozen recording studios, four record pressing plants, several hundred resident songwriters, and about 1,200 recorded songs.

Tom T. Hall, says he has been in the music business for about 30 minutes to an hour. He has written and recorded several songs, and he has been in the business for about 30 minutes to an hour.

Don Adams Report

By State Representative DON ADAMS

In my first article to you I wrote about the right to be informed in a democratic government, and we continue to believe this. There is at least one man here in Austin who does not, and that man is the Executive Director of the controversial Governor's Committee on Public School Education. Your Representative asked this man for some of the facts upon which the report of this committee is based, and he refused me access to them. This report has been resolved to Legislation, and I feel the need to examine the conclusions which have a great effect on our rural district.

The Director of this committee has not heard the last of your voice in Austin for this neglected treatment. The Committee's Criminal Jurisprudence is one of my most important obligations. It examines all bills which make specific the actions of the law in this state, and I feel that we can contribute toward the prevention of criminal acts against law-abiding citizens. This committee is also made up of rural members of the Texas House. There are two particular pieces of legislation which would like to mention to you this week. Both of these bills have passed the House and are now in the Senate. LIBRARY BILL: This week we passed a bill which will be very important to our small schools and public libraries. This bill will not cost the taxpayer any money, and will give us access to books where we can read and read for member libraries.

DISRUPTIVE PRACTICES
The House passed what is commonly called the disruptive practices statute. Last week the Federal Courts held us unconstitutional, and this left the void in our criminal statute. The proposed new law will make it a violation to do the following:
(1) Obstruct entrances to schools or to prevent people from attending classes;
(2) Setting control of a school building by force;
(3) Preventing a lawful assembly by violence;
(4) Disrupting a lawful assembly by force or violation;
(5) Preventing the exercise and ingress of students from a school campus to form or join a group.

DAM "B" NEWSNOTES

By MRS. G. B. BICE

Oh, you just should not have missed the Fairview Church dedication to our nice new building and to all the people who have no way of estimating the number of folks. If you had seen that great long table set out in the shade at the back of the old building, with food so close together you could scarcely find room for the hand-dishes which came in. And the crowd of people, it was a joy to see. After lunch they began to come into the new church and as large as it is there was not room for the multitude. Some eighteen people were represented. The program was so beautiful, just filled our hearts with joy. No, there is not a space to give the program which lasted some 45 minutes, but no one realizes the time, all was so interesting. We thanked our Lord and all went home with hearts joyful. Marvin West and his grand-son Larry Johnson of Houston spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Black were in Rusk Saturday to visit with his mother, Mrs. Lottie Black who is ill in the Rusk Memorial Hospital.

We were glad to hear that Mrs. Maggie Lloyd is now living in Dallas with her daughter, Dorothy Hawley, but formerly one of our old-timers of Dam B. She is here for a few days and attended the dedication of our new church building.

By MRS. G. B. BICE

Oh, you just should not have missed the Fairview Church dedication to our nice new building and to all the people who have no way of estimating the number of folks. If you had seen that great long table set out in the shade at the back of the old building, with food so close together you could scarcely find room for the hand-dishes which came in. And the crowd of people, it was a joy to see. After lunch they began to come into the new church and as large as it is there was not room for the multitude. Some eighteen people were represented. The program was so beautiful, just filled our hearts with joy. No, there is not a space to give the program which lasted some 45 minutes, but no one realizes the time, all was so interesting. We thanked our Lord and all went home with hearts joyful. Marvin West and his grand-son Larry Johnson of Houston spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Black were in Rusk Saturday to visit with his mother, Mrs. Lottie Black who is ill in the Rusk Memorial Hospital.

We were glad to hear that Mrs. Maggie Lloyd is now living in Dallas with her daughter, Dorothy Hawley, but formerly one of our old-timers of Dam B. She is here for a few days and attended the dedication of our new church building.

TRACK SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Coach Bill Clinton announces the track schedule for 1969. The district meet will be held at Woodville this year. There are 28 boys working out for track this year. April 11-12.

SMYLY'S TAKES SECOND PLACE.....

LUFKIN TAKES LIONS CLUB TOURNAMENT

Lufkin Timber Harvesters captured first place in the Lions Club tournament by defeating Smyly's Jesters in the final game. The Lufkin team, coached by Ardie Dixon, had reached the final by defeating Universal Electric in the opening round. The second round found the Lufkin crew defeating America's Greatest 100 lb. of Houston, and then Franklin Sporting Goods in the semi-finals in a tough close match that went into overtime. Smyly's won second place in the tournament, paced by Mike Minter and Lionel Reese. The Jesters defeated U. S. Plywood in the opening game and defeated the favored Lowery Brothers in the semi-finals to advance to the championship. Third place was won by Franklin's as they defeated Lowery Brothers. Franklins, of course, hardly missed the finals as they lost to the Harvesters in overtime of their game. Lowery's did not lose to Smyly's in their semi-finals.

THE SPORTS LINE

America has ended. The retirement of Mickey Mantle has ended an era much like the ones you heard your dad, uncle and granddad talked about. They spoke of such stars as Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Jimmy Fox and Roger Hornsby to name a few. There are others they told of fantastic facts about. Of the way they always hit or pitched and stole second base. Now then you have someone you can tell your son, nephew or grandchild about. The Mickey was not a "gold bricker" and he was not a "show boat" even though the Yankees wanted him as a drawing card. Mantle was a great hitter, a borrowed time. The borrowed time was just how long his osteomyelitis sickened legs would hold up to the strain. Any other ball player would have called it quits long ago. Mantle won the Triple Crown of Baseball in 1956 and claimed three more home run titles. He finished with a lifetime average of .286, but that was due primarily to the past three years when his average has not been like it was in the past. Mantle holds the record for most homers in the World Series and that record should be around for a long time. He finished third on the all-time home run list with 526 behind Babe Ruth and another great Willie Mays. It comes somewhat as a shock when you learn that the Mick had called it quits. His retirement may end his dynasty, but it is certain that someone will take his place. But deep in the hearts of the youngsters that worshiped Mantle and the fans that booed him, a little thought comes to their minds. What would it have been like with a healthy Mantle? But only the one above knows that answer and it is in the past for us now. An era has ended.

Lions Club Sweetheart Joy Marsh presents the "Most Valuable Player" trophy to Ardie Dixon of the Lufkin Timber Harvesters. Dixon won the honor by leading his team to the finals and led them in their victory over Smyly's Jesters to take first place. Trophies were given for first, second and third places and also consolation. Trophies were presented to each member of the winning team and all tournament team plus the MVP award. Miss Marsh made all presentations.

EAGLES COP SECOND IN CINDER MEET

The Woodville Eagles opened their track season in a fine way by capturing second in a four school meet held in Woodville last Friday. Those participating in the meet were Woodville, Jasper, Newton and Wraygaw. Jasper finished first, Newton second and Woodville third. Some highlights of the meet came in the 330 intermediate hurdles which was won by M. Miller with a time of 43.3. The 440 yard dash was won by Jasper as they placed first with a time of 1:07.4. Simmonds finished second, second behind Prusty King of Newton in the 100 yard dash. Wayne Simmonds high hurdles with a time of 1:04.4. Wayne Simmonds high hurdles with a time of 1:04.4.

Citizenship

(Entry in Booster's Citizenship Essay Contest)

By SHERI LYNN HALL
Spurger Junior High

It is hard to say whether good citizenship starts in the home or within a person.

In the home a start to good citizenship is taught by the parents. Obedience, responsibility, and a will to work and help others is a root to good citizenship.

And when it comes to the person, it is up to the individual whether he will be a good citizen or a poor one, whether he will obey rules or ignore them, and last, but not least, whether he will take part in civic duties or just fuss about the outcome of them.

A good citizen should be proud of his town, city, and country. He should encourage growth in his town, not try to discourage it. He should welcome new business into his community, new people into his school, and new ideas.

Good citizens should not form cliques against all the things mentioned above, for then they would not be good citizens. They should try hard to improve their town.

A good citizen should not be a disgrace to his town. Hippies are not fit to be called a citizen. Their dress, ways, and actions are a disgrace to their city, their country, and the people around them.

A good citizen should not only obey city and state rules but God's rules also.

A good citizen should stand up for what he believes right, not leave it to the other man. He should vote for the person he thinks most qualified, not just because he knows him.

A good citizen is a benefit to his town and his country. The citizens of today are designing America of tomorrow.

By MIKE NICHOLS
Kirby High Freshman

Citizenship refers to the rights and duties that belong to an inhabitant of a nation. All persons born in this country are automatically citizens. However, to people foreign to this nation, the road to citizenship is long and rough. These persons must acquire much knowledge about this nation before they can adopt it as their own.

The makings of a good citizen begins in the home. It then continues, through life, on a larger scale in the community and in the nation.

In the home the child is first introduced to citizenship. He begins to realize that the burdens of the family must be shared, but also learns that life in a united group is enjoyable. The young citizen discovers that each member of the family has certain rights.

As the child becomes older he hears of another group. Here the citizenship he has learned about in his family is carried out on a larger scale. This group is his community.

Later the young person realizes that his community is only a small part of a larger area called a state, and that this state is only one of fifty that make up a great nation, the United States of America.

Just as the person has duties in his family, he also has responsibilities as a citizen of a nation. Of these responsibilities, perhaps the most important is to inform himself of the rights and duties granted him in the constitution, and of the changes in the government made in amendments to this famous document.

The citizen has a responsibility to help support his government by paying taxes, obeying laws, and by giving physical service to his country if needed.

These responsibilities have corresponding rights. The inhabitant of the nation receives benefits from the government in the form of a free education and freedom of speech and the press. Religious tolerance is also practiced here. The citizens have the right to vote on the men who will lead them and to vote directly on many other matters that will affect them.

Citizenship which should be a treasured prize to all men has come to be taken for granted by many. Until all citizens of this country can learn to work together in harmony, the country will not entirely rid itself of turmoil and the complete meaning of the word citizenship will not have been fulfilled.

New New York Salt Mine Set

A new rock salt mine is being constructed in New York state, which when completed in 1972 may represent an investment of as much as $20 million.

To be known as the Seneca Lake Mine, it will be located 1 1/2 miles west of the lake in the vicinity of Himrod, Yates County, midway between Geneva and Watkins Glen.

According to President Herbert R. Stratford of the Morton Salt Company, it will be one of the most advanced operations in the nation, as well as the largest and deepest.

"The Seneca Lake operation will be extremely clean in compliance with Morton's long-standing policy of being a good citizen in any area where it locates," Mr. Stratford noted. "Dust collectors will be installed so there will be no air pollution from salt dust, and if any refuse brine is produced thereby it will be disposed of by pumping it down deep disposal wells."

Success comes to him who hustles while he waits.—George J. Melvin, The Claysville (Penn.) Record.

Any more deductions in our take-home pay and some of us won't have a home to take it to.—Dale Holdridge, The Langford (S. D.) Bugle.
