The Christmas Story

And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree of Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenus was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed every one into his own city. And Joseph also went in from Galilee, out of Nazareth, into Judea, into the city of David, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being thus called. So it was that while they were there, the time came that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in that country certain shepherds, which were watching their flock about the fields, and behold, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shined round about them, and they were afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not, for I have brought you good tidings, as hath come to pass this day. Behold, I have brought you good tidings of great joy, which shall be unto all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord. And they were gathered about the manger, and saw the babe, and saw with him Mary, and the angels departed from them. And they returned and glorified and praised God together for all that they had seen and heard, as it was said by the prophets, that there should be a Saviour born in the city of David.

hundreds of pieces of fitted glass were used to make the stained glass windows. Today's artists don't have to make their own glass, leads and patterns. That's one advantage they enjoy. They use the ready-made stained glass windows from the beginning of a scale through the development of actual-size paper patterns and on to such final steps as fitting, glazing and setting. What it shows is the art of stained glass windows reflects nearly every artistic style and movement of the past, several centuries including Romanesque, Byzantine, Gothic, Renaissance, Romantic and modern.

Stained Glass

Why It Began: The "why" of using stained glass windows in churches and weather buildings, too, is simple and logical. Like all windows, they are intended to admit light and keep out wind and weather. Colored glass helps in controlling both the amount and the quality of light admitted to buildings. And the combination of light and color is a naturally appealing and relaxing to the eye.

How It Continues: A relatively small band of artists keeps the art of the stained glass window alive. In a discussion of stained glass art in North and South America, the American Historical Society, Washington, D.C., states that stained glass windows complement the architectural design of the building where they appear.

How It Began: The "how" of creating stained glass windows is complex and time-consuming. It was in the Middle Ages that some respect and methods and equipment do exist today's stained glass artists enjoy certain advantages. The rainbow-like effect of the windows comes from pieces of glass, sometimes

And all kinds of punches are introduced. And eating is a special favorite. Food is fast, plays an enormous part in the celebration of Christmas. When you think of it, what was it that gave even the pioneer Christmas celebrations their special flavor? There had to be a Christmas tree, of course. With ornaments of some kind. And gifts. And prayers in recognition that it is primarily a religious event. But then food was important. And so it remains today, a time when friends and relatives gather over a table laden with goodies and talk and sharing, and good food all blend together to warm our hearts and strengthen our ties.
