Warren Opens With Garrison Bulldogs

Warren Warriors will start their 1971 campaign with the Garrison Bulldogs this Friday night.

Coach R. K. Worthing and his assistants will hit their opponent against the tough Bulldogs. Coach Worthing has nine returning starters on his squad.

But one of his best, Rocky Ard, is out with a knee injury that has limited his practicing this fall. Ard had the knee hurt last season.

But the Warriors plan to line up like this: At quarterback there is a tie-up. This was one position that had Coach Worthing worried at the outset of the season and he was

On the offensive line the Warriors plan to use Dale Freeman, a 170 pound junior, at center. At the guard slots there and Joe Carrell will round out the remainder of the backfield with Flebbe being counted on the heavy lift.

At the guard slots there will be Lynn Johnson and Gary Watts. Johnson is only 237 and 140, but pound for pound he is one of the best at that position.

Charles Parker and Alton Campbell, both veterans, will start at the tackle posts. Both boys were members of last year's starting offensive and are counted on for their experience. An old hand at the end position returns. He is Ronnie Moses, a 185 pound senior. He is led by another senior, Ray Beough. Defensively the Warriors have had to shuffle their people see action will be Bruce Flebbe, Alton Campbell, Charles Parker, Wayne White, Roger Ray, Lynn Johnson, Ronnie Moses and Ray Beough. Warren's coaching staff will shuffle them to his lineup the way he wants them.

It will be Garrison Friday night for the Warriors. Kick-off will be 8:00 p.m. in Warren.

"TERRIBLE ILLNESS"

By LEE CEDARS

Well here it is again that time of year, and I know from previous years I will feel my heart speed up, my blood pressure rise and a light hearted feeling in my head. Did you think it was heart attack time? No, according to my doctor it comes over me three times a year, during the hunting season, fishing season and best of all, football season.

To be a real illness and to enjoy this illness to its fullest, you must start to equip yourself around the first of July or the middle of August. The young man who works at the grocery store who carried out your groceries all summer, and who you had only thought about needing prominently with this scene. Now suddenly, comes to mind as a possible future Don Meredith or Joe Namath. You suddenly find yourself over coffee at the drugstore, starting conversation about the new coach, who did we lose from the roster last year, and many a cup of coffee has been "lost to win-lose lists." After a month or so of this talk, due to the rising fever within me, the illness blooms out on the second weekend in September and is as obvious as the mumps or the measles. What brought the illness to its full strength? The opening game of your favorite high school. The pros are great on TV and you know it and it is near perfect skill against perfect skill. Then of course, your college is playing and you know this is footballers striving for the most perfection of the pros. But in the open bleachers with no SKY boxes, TV cameras or high price abilities to stage a show. No sir, this illness requires the game where anything can happen where cheerleaders still cry or laugh, depending on the way the game is going for their team. Where men and children rush to the field when their little one just got decked, I still like the goal post wrapped and die sight of a $1.00 num corsage. I like to walk in the gates and buy my program from the wife of my doctor and have

I will see you at the game, my hot dog made by the tender hands of the wife of my doctor who is a PTA member. And as I sit in the bleacher I can see Joe Blow and his wife who I dated in high school. Well this is my illness. I wish you would join me and maybe for a small sum we can cure my illness by supporting one of our favorite local high school teams.

LIBRARY NOTES By Eloise Maynard

It is about this time of the year that librarians hear a yearning voice ask the much repeated question, "Where do you keep the classics, please?" Now that the school has begun and assignments have been given out, the "literature rush" is on, and we have been helpful to the young people. Generally most people feel that the classics are just for the young people, but give the more mature person who finds the classics enjoyable and understands such books as A Tale of Two Cities, War and Peace, and Anna Karenina, much more now than he is able to. Try reading a classic to a child. You may find it is just what he needs to help him understand the world around him.

ECHOES FROM EBENEZER

Before you read any more, get your red pencil and mark your calendar on September 19. Why? It's such an important day! Why, no other than that great homecoming for the Ebenezer church. We will be expecting you that special day. Don't forget, that will be only a week from Sunday. Just how much we do look forward to that day. But there will be a much greater homecoming one of these days. Are we preparing to meet you that day with our Lord and Savior? How is it with you?

It was a wonderful day at Ebenezer Sunday. When you miss that day at Ebenezer you've missed a great feast for yourself. There was a nice crowd and just what did we do? We sang "Happy Birthdays" to Sister M. L. Smith. Birthdays are the gift of God and Sister Smith wears hers well. Do you? Then to the great Sunday School classes, because we are teaching the great blessing and great love of our Lord and Savior. It was a wonderful home service too. That great feast home service was something else Sunday. The title was "One Man, God and Revival" taken from I Kings 18:18. You really missed a great blessing if you missed this.
