Just A Minute

By GREGORY CLARK
 The Chinese joined championship polo-pool team recently made a little publicized but most significant shift in their view. It was at the instance of a United Church of Christ minister, John A. Page, that the "People's Republic of China" was now the focus of their attention. It is not unusual that a minister's home should receive so much interest at a time when the Christian religion is being downgraded. By way of explanation, this means to the birthplace of Dr. Norman Thelmer, a medical missionary to China whose memory is honored in the "People's Republic."
