Big Game Tonight

LIONS, ROTARIANS TO TANGLE

The big ball game of the year will be played live tonight (Thursday) at Little League Park when the Woodville Lions and Rotary Clubs engage in a show ball softball contest. The first ball will be lobbed at 7:30. The battle of wits died down this week as members of each club labored to get in top physical condition for the game. Each rookie on each squad was shown a softball and a bat along with verbal instruction about which was used for what. Later they were shown a glove and taken to the ball park to put them on. A baseball diamond, needless to say, most of them had seen parts of. A ball park on television and the coaches said the rookies caught on real quick. If one of them should happen to connect with a ball while at bat both coaches feel sure he will know to run to the base on his right just like a pro.

Countywide Sanitary Landfill In Operation, Public Urged To Cooperate

Crawler-loader shown at landfill site—now busy covering solid waste.

County Judge Tom D. Mann said Tuesday that the landfill site east of Woodville off Highway 190 is operating and that the truck packer is making progress in picking up garbage from those containers which have been put on location. Mann said that those using the containers are urged to place the lids on them and to bring them to the landfill. Mann also pointed out that dead animals should not be dumped at the containers, but should be brought to the landfill site. A special pit has been dug there into which dead animals can be placed and will be covered by the county. Joe Marshall is at the landfill each day, Judge Mann said, and will direct persons with dead animals to the special pit.

The landfill is located about six miles east of Woodville.
