By RALEIGH LAMB

And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat: But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fall not. And when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren. Luke 22:31-32.

We reviewed Amendment No. 1, in this column last week. This week we take a look at amendment No. 2-H, J.R. No. 7.

(1) (Amending Article XVI, Sections 50 and 51, of the Texas Constitution, to include within the scope of homestead protection the real property of a single adult which meets the other requirements of homestead property, and to provide that a family homestead may not be abandoned without consent of both spouses.)

The proposed amendments to Article XVI, Sections 50 and 51, provide that the real property of a single adult which meets the other requirements of homestead property, and to provide that a family homestead may not be abandoned without consent of both spouses.

The exemption of the homestead from forced sale for debt was a Texas creation. The first homestead exemption law was passed in 1839, during the days of the Republic of Texas. It represented a step in the evolution of social attitudes toward debtors, whereby first the person, then the personal property, and finally the real estate of the debtor were released from the control of the creditor. The Texas Constitution of 1845, 1861, 1866, and 1869 contained provisions similar to the provisions in the present constitution exempting family homesteads, the forced sale for the payment of debts, except for taxes due on the homestead, the purchase money on the homestead, and certain improvements constructed on the homestead. Differences in the provisions of these constitutional sections pertained mostly to the value of type of realty that could be claimed as a homestead.

All of the state constitutions of Texas have provided that once a family homestead has been established, it may be sold only with the consent of wife, and a lien for improvements constructed on the premises may be created only with consent of the wife. There has been no constitutional provision, however, regarding consent of the parties to abandonment of the homestead. Whether a homestead has been abandoned is a question of the intention of the family, and with certain exceptions, it has been held that the consent of both spouses is not required under the present constitution.

The proposed amendment would amend Article XVI, Sections 50 and 51, to provide homestead protection for the real property of a single adult which meets other requirements of homestead property, and to provide that the abandonment, in addition to the sale of family homestead property, must be with consent of both spouses.

(2) Arguments For: The proposed amendments would give single adults with real property the same protection and security from forced sale of their homes as is now given to families and would reduce the chances that single adults could lose all their property and become public charges.

There are an increasing number and proportion of responsible single adults in our society and they need and deserve the same basic protection from creditors that families need and deserve. The proposed amendments would require the consent of both spouses before any major decision concerning an existing family homestead is acted on. This would insure that maximum consideration be given and family harmony be obtained before arriving at a major decision affecting the family such as a decision to abandon a homestead, as well as a decision to sell a homestead on which mutual

Family Planning Clinic Program Expanded

Officials with the Livingston Family Planning Clinic have indicated that they are expanding their program.

Mary Williams, R.N. nurse in charge, expressed appreciation on the part of public health Region 7 for the high degree of local support.

The project is in its second (2nd) grant year, and is continuing to provide the opportunity for individuals to plan their pregnancies. The Livingston clinic is one of 18 in the 36 county area of Public Health Region 7. The Livingston family planning is responsible for Livingston and surrounding counties with nurse clinics in Corrigan, Gochris and Woodville.

Family Planning, as viewed by Public Health Region 7 represents a concept quite apart from population control. It is viewed as a positive health routine that enhances an individual's effort to exert some measure of control over family size and timing of each pregnancy. Despite the advancement in knowledge and medical science, thousands of women continue to experience unplanned pregnancies. Infant and maternal deaths remain with us. Many infant and maternal deaths could be prevented through individuals seeking health care routinely. The family planning project has a basic objective to bring local people to the realization that the local doctors are their best health resource. The local program attempts to demonstrate some of the routine practices that enhance life and happiness, therefore, immunizations are available along with counseling on problems related to child bearing and child rearing.

Interested groups may receive information through the Livingston office. The Livingston office is in the basement of the Polk County courthouse.

Nellie Williams, community service aide, a staff member, works in the Woodville community and is available for information and transportation if needed.

A nurse clinic will be held in Woodville September 14, 1973, at 10 a.m. in the district courtroom. A film will be shown and counseling will be provided in a group or individually.

Monday, September 10 at 10 a.m. in the Heritage Room at the Woodville Inn. Guest speaker for this meeting will be Rev. Joseph L. Bertrand, pastor of Our Lady of the Pines Catholic Church in Woodville. He has planned a very interesting program on his travels during the time he was in Europe while studying at Rome. Father Bertrand is now a resident of Woodville.

President Jesse Adams urges all members to be present and to bring a friend who may be interested in our organization and a potential member. All persons in Tyler County, whether retired or not, 55 years of age or over are eligible to join our chapter.

Warren At Colmesneil IN TYLER COUNTY Cystic Fibrosis Fund Drive Underway

Prices will be $1.25 for adults and 50¢ for students. Colmesneil's homecoming game has been changed from September 21 and will be played against High Island Friday, October 5 at 7:30.

Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is appealing for financial support to expand research and care programs through the Breath of Life Campaign.

Funds raised in the annual campaign help support the C.F. Care, Teaching, and the State Centers across the U.S. where children with this disease are diagnosed and treated with the most advanced techniques and equipment.

Although cystic fibrosis is a hereditary disease, it is still incurable, the average life expectancy of a child with this disease is only 15 to 20 years, and many patients now live into young adulthood. These giant strides in progress are due to further diagnosis and improved methods of treatment which have developed from a better understanding of the disease.

In addition, the treatment programs, which aid C.F. patients are proving very effective in alleviating the suffering and often curing children with severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis and a condition sometimes called childhood emphysema.

Naturally, we know more today than we ever have before, but we still have a long way to go before we've conquered C.F., said Mrs. Whit. Every dollar raised for the Breath of Life Campaign means better health and a brighter future for youngsters struggling for the breath of life.

Say not that what is the cause that the former days were better than today? You do not realize what you are missing. Consider the work of God for you can make that straight. See, 7:10 - 7:12.

A man's children grow up and sometimes follow a path of their own choosing, and quite often the path is the wrong one, in the beginning it appears to be well marked and pointing out a life of adventure. It seems and by degrees the path leads to a life of darkness and struggle through the darkness and strange surroundings.

But eventually a flicker of light appears in the distance and they are made to realize the journey through darkness is over. They have become adults and have put away the childish things. Life has been made more real to them. They have become aware that they cannot see their own destiny, they are their own destiny, they are their own destiny.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Three days later they finally discovered him. He was in the Temple sitting among the teachers of Law, discussing deep questions with them and amazing everyone with his understanding and answers. His parents didn't know what to think. "See? This man is just what we need. Why have you done this to me? Your father and I have been frantic searching for you everywhere. But you need to know that I would be free at the Temple in my father's house. I have been there since I was a child." (John 8:12-19)

Could your child call home if he were lost?

Could he reach you in an emergency? Or, could someone call for him?

Home, Mom and Dad. To a lost or frightened child your voice means security. That's why we're offering the Emergency Phone Call Card. No charge. It's a billfold-size card with your child's name, address and home phone number. And space for the numbers of a trusted friend or relative, and the family doctor.

There's also a small ring to hold your card, or cards - write Southwestern Bell, P. O. Box 872, St. Louis, Mo. 63108.
