Food Product Standards
 All food products which are sold in interstate commerce and which are subject to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act must conform to the standards established by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Administration. These standards are designed to protect the health of the consumer and to ensure that the products are safe, effective, and of high quality.

Labeling Requirements
 All food products must be properly labeled with the name of the product, the net weight or volume, and the name and address of the manufacturer, packer, or distributor. The label must also contain any other information that is required by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Administration.

Food Safety
 It is important to follow proper food safety practices to prevent foodborne illness. This includes washing hands thoroughly with soap and water before and after handling food, cleaning the kitchen and eating areas, and cooking food to the proper temperature.
