VOLUME 46 NUMBER 1 WOODVILLE, TEXAS SEPTEMBER 12, 1975

Top Of The Morning BY RALPH LAMU

Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth in me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do because I go unto my Father. John 14:12

There's good news from Austin this week. Governor Dolph Briscoe says he will recommend that the 1976 Texas legislature eliminate the 4-per cent sales tax on utility bills, thereby reducing taxes $40 million a year. The governor said the tax could be possible because of a prospective $1.6 billion surplus in general state revenue for the 1976-77 fiscal year. Utility rates have been rising in Texas and it would be entirely appropriate to abolish the 4-per cent sales tax on utility bills, the governor added. Briscoe noted that he has made good on his pledge of two years ago that there would be no new tax levied during his first administration. Now, not only will there be no new taxes, there will be an $80 million tax cut. In the 1976 legislature follows his recommendations.

Briscoe warned that a surplus also poses a great challenge to the leadership of Texas. He said an even greater degree of responsibility, especially at a time when inflation is threatening our economy.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON, D.C. — As the legislative process moves forward, it is clear that the House and Senate are working to resolve the differences between their respective bills. The House bill, H.R. 1000, and the Senate bill, S. 1000, both aim to address the same issues, but with different provisions. The House bill is more comprehensive, while the Senate bill is more focused. The two bills are expected to be reconciled in the near future.

STATE TOURIST DEVELOPMENT AID TO ECONOMY

...the state's income tax was worth that year.

That year also put Texas in the exclusive company of Hawaii, Florida, California, and New York as the only states to attract more than $1 billion in tourist spending.

Last year tourists paid $197 million in direct state taxes. This is a return of $113 in taxes for every dollar the state invested in tourist development during the year.

During its first decade of operations, the Tourist Development Agency has consistently realized a return of at least 100-to-1 on the state's investment in attracting visitors.

The dramatic change of direction in our state's tourist industry since 1963 is attributable in large measure to the close cooperation between the public and private sectors and their growing investments in tourist development.

With prospects of continuing gasoline shortages, the TDA recently began emphasizing package tours featuring fly-drive trips.

Last year, the Tourist Development Agency published 100,000 copies of its "Tours of Texas" pamphlet, describing 40 package tours. Armed with something tangible that travel agents could offer clients, the TDA last year intensified its efforts to reach the foreign market. For the first time, the agency had a travel agent in Mexico, a trip that already is paying dividends in more visits from our South-of-the-border neighbors.

NEWS OF SAFETY

Here's a hot tip for people who like a light at the flick of their fingers: Some lighters are safer than others. Unless the cap of a lighter is securely locked to the base, for instance, there is a danger that the gas will get out.

In addition, the material in the base of the lighter must be able to take the heavy pressure that light igniters bring.

Fortunately, researchers at the National Institute of Standards and Technology, Gaithersburg, Md., have created a plastic called Lexan that can take the heat and shock to beat the heat, and also has a high impact resistance for that extra margin of safety. Since the plastic doesn't melt, the lighter lighter company as much as other plastics might, the same amount is safe.

It would certainly seem as if this Lexan plastic that lets you see how full of fuel the lighter is, would be a match to which you can easily give a warm complexion.
