Rodna Sue Connor

Rodna Sue Connor Miss Tyler County

The softly lowered lights of the Kirby High School auditorium did nothing to ease the tension and excitement of nine girls Saturday night as they entered the final phase of their competition for the title of Miss Tyler County, 1975.

For weeks these girls have been busied with their preparations, practicing their talent exhibition and presentation, selecting their evening dress and sash and then working together for the opening number of the program.

When all the excitement was over and the work done the winner was finally announced and the new reigning Miss Tyler County, 1975, Rodna Connor. She is the tenth girl to hold this title and for her this night of pageantry is just the beginning. During the year, she will serve as the official representative of this county at many places; in July, she will be attending the Miss Texas pageant in Fort Worth. Should she win there she will continue to the Miss America competition at Atlantic City. Anyway, there will be many festivals and parades and special where Tyler County will be proud to have such a lovely emissary.

The first runner-up in the pageant, Leeza Griffin, will take the place of Rodna if she should be unable to attend any designated activity. Leasa Cain was the second runner-up, Cynthia Mitchell was the third runner-up and fourth runner up was Robbie Mitchell. They were all presented plaques by Miss Tyler County, 1974, Connie McCants.

But the Miss Tyler County Pageant was not only for the nine contestants, there were young girls eager for the title of Future Miss Tyler County in the age groups of 5-8 and 9-12. The winner of the title of Future Miss 5-8 is Deana Rindy. She was pre-

Farm Bureau Membership Drive Begins This Week

Monday, February 10, County Judge Tom Dick signed a proclamation designating February 13-20 as Brethren, join in imitating me as you have an example in us. For many of whom I have often told you and now tell you even with tears, live as enemies of the cross of Christ.

Philippians 3:17-18

We have had several calls from our readers requesting more information about the aquatic hydrilla plant that was found in Lake Livingston last year and has spread to two other areas.

We are unable to tell you anything more about the plant. However, we will try to get a description and picture of a hydrilla plant and publish them in the BOOSTER. Meanwhile, if you find a new species of plant in a pond or waterway, send a sample to the San Antonio office of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department 134 Braniff, 78216.

We have been reading articles recently about how manure from farm animals could be converted into usable methane gas and used as a substitute for natural gas. There will be a great demand for this new type of heating energy as other sources of energy are exhausted.

The Environmental Protection Agency reports that the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America has agreed to purchase from an Oklahoma firm 540 million cubic feet of methane per year, enough to operate stoves in 55,000 homes. Distribution is scheduled to begin in 1976.

The source of methane gas will be approximately 90,000 tons of cattle manure annually, and a by-product of the operation will be a fertilizer considered more environmentally acceptable than the raw manure.

Farm Bureau Week in this county. A special membership drive will be conducted during this period as part of a statewide effort to excel last year's total of 166,216 member families.

Last year Tyler County ended the membership drive with 199 members and the goal for 1975 is for 300 members. District 9, which includes Tyler County, has led the state for the past two years in the statewide membership drive. The total state goal is set at 175,000 members. Mrs. Ruth Stanford is the membership chairman.

Membership drive area chairmen are: Mrs. Lil Mays, Rockland; Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Castlaw, Wairren; Lawrence Rainey, Camyground and C. J. Ogden for Colmesneil.

In the proclamation Judge Mann said that agriculture is vital to the economy of this county, Texas and the nation. The proclamation pointed out that a large percentage of citizens are dependent upon agriculture, either directly or indirectly, for their livelihood.

Tyler County president, G. D. "Bud" Byram said farmers and ranchers need an organization now more than ever before. "We producers need a stronger organization to help solve problems in marketing, agricultural, public relations, taxation, as well as other matters affecting our net income," he said.

Woodville City Council has called an election to be held April 5 to elect three two-term councilmen and a one-term councilman.

The two-year terms to be filled are currently held by Dr. James Jnette and Webb Ashworth. One two-year position is vacant at the present time because Councilman Clay Miller moved from Woodville.

The other council seat to be voted on is one-year term currently held by Terry Watts who was appointed by the council to fill the unexpired term of Jim Allison. Allison resigned the position when he was appointed County Attorney.

March 5 is the deadline to file for the council position, according to City Manager Walt Davis. Application for the position may be made at the city office.

Dogwood Festival Preparations Must Begin Months In Advance

It's almost Dogwood Time in Tyler County and for the next two months the citizens of Tyler County will busy themselves in getting ready for the largest annual event for Tyler County, The Tyler County Dogwood Festival.

In three decades the Dogwood Festival has grown from a small one day occasion to two week-ends of endless activities and pleasures against the background of East Texas springtime.

Plans begin long before festival time and preparations get into full swing during January. Each year volunteers from all over the County cut and make 150,000 artificial dogwood, azalea, and wisteria blossoms by hand. This job represents one of the most ambitious endeavors of the association. The blossoms are used to decorate the amphitheatre area where the Queen's Coronation and Historical Pageant are held.

Any Tyler County senior high school girl may compete for Queen, Five Princesses of Tyler County are selected by judging by the Kingman, one from each of the Tyler County schools. The Queen is selected from these Princesses and her identity revealed on stage. Approximately 40 duchesses from surrounding towns are presented as members of the Royal Court. All are seated on an elaborately decorated

An Investment In Your Future ... ATTEND CHURCH

It is no secret... One of the great joys that children have is in telling a secret. This is one way that secrets have been known.

However, it is no secret what God can do for you. This was never intended to be a secret. For God wants all to know the good news.

Isaiah said: "The Lord hath revealed an ear to me, and I have heard and seen." Attend church regularly and hear God's word preached.

Congressman WILSON REPORT

Medicare Discussed
When Congress passed the legislation that created the Medicare program, it overlooked a serious shortcoming of the law. Many elderly persons suffer from chronic diseases that require continued prescription drug use.

The program would be financed through the payroll tax portion of Medicare, meaning that an individual would pay for his drug insurance during his working years, rather than later when his income is sharply reduced, due to retirement and his chances of needing maintenance drugs are much higher.

This type of payment program, where working men and women pay now for the drugs they will need in their retirement years, is disadvantageous to any program—such as national health insurance—which would require taxpayers to finance medical care for all of society.

It has been my experience that many East Texans have alling elderly parents who require maintenance drugs for their health. These working men and women devote substantial amounts of their incomes to the purchase of those drugs. I believe they would welcome the opportunity to pay aside now a small sum each payday to make sure their own children were not saddled with the burden of their parents' medical expenses in the future.

THE SCIENTISTS TELL ME

By Robert E. Peary, Extension Director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

We Can Have Better Landscape Plants for Texas

A new "Landscape Plants" project points out to find, select, screen, propagate and introduce new ornamental plants and fruit and nut trees that are adapted to one or more Texas regions.

More than 100 different ornamental plants are presently being evaluated for adaptability and ornamental value at five Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations under the direction of a team of scientists led by Edward McWilliams.

New and healthy ornamental plants to grace the landscape and more use of fruit and nut trees for home grounds is one of the results of this research.

At the center at Dallas, ornamental plants in other Texas plants, as well as those being received at various Agricultural Experiment Stations, are being screened. Several native plants are being cultivated in the Dallas area.

It is hoped that this project will result in the introduction of new ornamental plants to Texas.

IMMUNIZABLE DISEASES TAKE UNBELIEVABLE DECLINE

By Robert E. Peary, Extension Director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

One of the most heartening success stories in public health is the unbelievable decline of immunizable diseases. In 1947, 177 cases of measles were reported in Texas. In 1950, only 27 cases were reported. In 1951, only 17 cases were reported. In 1952, only 11 cases were reported. In 1953, only 7 cases were reported. In 1954, only 4 cases were reported. In 1955, only 3 cases were reported. In 1956, only 2 cases were reported. In 1957, only 1 case was reported.

The decline of immunizable diseases is a result of the widespread use of immunization. The Texas Health Department has been instrumental in the development of a comprehensive immunization program. This program has been successful in reducing the incidence of many of the most common immunizable diseases.

The Texas Health Department is continuing its efforts to reduce the incidence of immunizable diseases. It is hoped that this program will result in the elimination of many of these diseases.

Annual Report

The most interesting reading annual report we've seen in a long time is the current issue of TAES.

It's done in newspaper style, with color pictures, and gives fascinating glimpses of the world of scientific research in agriculture.

Though the scientific findings are often quite complex, the writers do a very good job of making them understandable. You will learn what problem prompted the research, the results, and how they will better our lives.

If you would like a copy of this report, write me.

Various Expenses Deductible For Farmers & Ranchers

With the March 3 income tax deadline for farmers and ranchers rapidly approaching, particular attention should be given to various deductible expenses.

"Each year agricultural producers pay extra income taxes because they fail to deduct certain legitimate business expenses," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Every dollar of business expense not deducted will result in a higher income tax bill."

The Texas A&M University System specialist lists a number of commonly overlooked expense items:

1. Allowance for space in a home used as an office.
2. Items in the home used for a good record-keeping system, paper and recordbooks, to name a few.
3. Postage.
4. Meals for hired labor.
5. Bank charges and interest on charge accounts.
6. Tax preparation fees.
7. Bookkeeping fees.
8. Cost of purchased livestock, or that of lost, stolen or accidents occur in rural areas.
9. Auto and truck expenses, such as licenses and insurance, are deductible.
10. Costs of utilities, telephone, and other charges that pertain to the farming and ranching business.
11. Subscriptions to farm and ranch and related magazines.
12. Farm organization dues.
13. Expenses incurred on business trips, and that portion of vacation travel that relates to business.
14. The key to preparing an income tax return that most cowboys fail to use is the "home" use of a farm or ranching operation is to have a good record-keeping system," emphasizes Hayenga. "Such records should indicate all items purchased for business. These items should be paid by check whenever possible to have a record of payment."

LEGISLATION ON AMBULANCE PERSONNEL STANDARDS

Senator Jack Ogg, D-Houston, has introduced legislation establishing minimum standards for ambulance personnel. The Ogg proposal charges the Emergency Medical Services Division of the State Health Department with the responsibility of training attendants and drivers in emergency first aid and defensive driving.

"Every week over 300 persons are injured on Texas highways. Close to 80% of these accidents occur in rural areas. There is no guarantee that the ambulance attendants will have any training at all in emergency first aid. The odds are that these victims will never live to see the nearest doctor," Senator Ogg said.

Today only 35% of the ambulance attendants have just the emergency medical technician course currently offered by the E.M.S. Division. Ogg's bill will allow for the training of attendants throughout the State over the next three years.

"At the present time, the E.M.S. Division trains attendants, but only on a voluntary basis. Only in the larger cities are ambulance personnel required to have any training. Texas requires mandatory training and certification for ambulance attendants, but requires no training at all for ambulance attendants," Senator Ogg stated.

The bill also requires that all ambulance attendants have specific design and construction standards for their ambulances, but will not be able to enforce their standards on ambulances that are outside their jurisdiction.

"Statewide uniformity is the eventual goal of this legislation. Everyone in the state has the right to expect qualified personnel on ambulances. This proposal will change the ambulance attendants' and drivers' job into a profession, instead of a part-time, unskilled job," Ogg concluded.

The Ogg proposal took six months to research and draft.

GREEN GRASS NOT ENOUGH

Cows need help. Grass cannot supply their nutrient needs. Cows must produce milk and build another calf for next year. They cannot consume enough grass to meet nutrient needs, even when enough grass is available. Cows require additional sources of energy... phosphorus... calcium... vitamin A... and trace minerals to utilize the grass they consume.

Your cow's nutrient needs almost DOUBLE the day she calves... she must feed her calf... rebuild body condition... and reblood.

Purina Range Breeder-Checkers let you help your cows produce stronger calves ready to grow... for more return. Ask us how you can help your cows wean heavier calves. Come in or call today... it's not too late to help your cows.

The five finalists in the 1975 Miss Tyler County Pageant are from left, Cynthia Mitchell, 3rd runner up; Robbie Mitchell, 4th runner up; Miss Tyler County Rodna Connor; Leesa Griffin, 1st runner up and Leesa Cain, 2nd runner up. Rodna also was given the highest award.

Continued from page 1: Mrs. Lois Smith Cartwright was the emcee for the evening, she will be the title of Miss Tyler County in 1976. Jim Gahmy, president of the Rotary Club gave the welcome to the pageant.

The opening number, performed by all the Miss Tyler County contestants, was a salute to the tenth pageant anniversary theme, "You've Come A Long Way." The girls, all dressed in green and white striped bathing suits of the 1920s, danced and threw bouquets to the music of "The Entertainer." Their bathing dresses were completed with long bloomers and white socks.

Each contestant was then introduced to the audience and their sponsors named. The girls who had been Miss Tyler County in previous years were then introduced. A special introduction was accorded Connie McCants who relinquished her title last night.

This was followed by the presentation of the 21 girls in the Future Miss Tyler County pageant. The girls were introduced in a 5-8 competition. When the final selection was made, Jill Crawford, Shannon Morrell and presented her with a trophy.

While the girls changed for their next stage of the competition, the audience was entertained by Connie McCants. She performed a tap dance to the music of "Fascinating Rhythm." For this dance she selected a short black costume dress elaborately studded with rhinestones that twinkled with her dance movements.

The contestants were then brought before the audience for their competition in the swim suit division. Each girl wearing her pageant number, walked the runway and paraded about the stage. People in the audience were encouraged to pick their own contestant winner in this section by marking in their program book.

Future Miss Tyler County entrants in the 9-12 grade were then presented. One of the contestants was Leesa Cain. Her costume was one of black satin, trimmed with white tulle, and decorated with sequins and rhinestones.

The fourth contestant was Janet Yawn with her monochromatic "Little Consuelo" suit. She wore an old fashioned, pink and white gingham dress with a white collar and a white bow in her hair.

An original tap dance to the music of "Limbohouse Blues" was the talent entry of Rodna Connor. Her costume was one of black satin, trimmed with white tulle, and decorated with sequins and rhinestones.

Then it was time to see the contestants in their beautiful evening gowns. The first number one was Brigidette Waldron, selecting again a white evening dress, this time with an embellished bodice of French ribbon, embroidery and rhinestones. Jane Smith wore a dress of pink velvet trimmed with white sequins on the skirt and sleeves.

Debra Mitchell chose a dress of floating orange chiffon. The skirt was full and fluted, and she wore a light blue dress trimmed with white lace inserts and completed with full, pointed leaves. Leesa Cain selected an emerald green silk chiffon evening dress. The high neckline was emphasized by rhinestones. The bodice was complimented by rhinestone decorations and inset rhinestones. Back interest was created with two stiletto, rhinestone trimmed straps extending from the halter neck.

Leesa Griffin chose a royal purple evening dress. The skirt was enhanced by a wide ruffle at the hem. Her top was of multicolored tulle material which repeated the vivid color of the purple skirt.

Rodna Connor selected a green evening dress of green and gold brocade. The dress featured a draped neckline and an empire waist. She wore a pink and white striped dress with a white collar and a white bow in her hair.

Debra Mitchell was the second runner up and her costume was a pink and white striped dress with a white collar and a white bow in her hair. She wore a pink and white striped dress with a white collar and a white bow in her hair.

Proclamation Of Farm Bureau Week

Farming and ranching are important to the economy of Tyler County, our State and Nation. Many of our citizens are dependent directly or indirectly upon agriculture for their livelihood. Wild hogs are not as common in this area of Texas as they once were, but now they are being found in the woods.
