WELCOME WESTERN WEEK END VISITORS AND TRAIL RIDERS

Top of the Morning

By RALEIGH LAMB

If a man walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, saying I will prophesy unto thee of wife and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

There's going to be a lot of fun and excitement at the Western Week End Rodeo Saturday afternoon, and highlight of the event will be the beard growing contest. Terry Watts, chairman of the contest says there will be three categories; stagiest, neatest, and scrawniest. After seeing Terry with the hirsute adornment on his chin, we asked him to have a fourth category, one for the ugliest beard.

A heated debate has been going on in the Texas Legislature over the proposed presidential preference primary. This is a bill sponsored by Rep. Tom Schieffer of Fort Worth in an effort to help United States Senator Lloyd Bentsen in his bid for the Democratic party's presidential nomination. This is a winner-take-all plan. Another bill before the legislature is a proportional representative plan. After studying the two plans, we believe the Schieffer proposal is not the best. It will probably result in a floor fight over the failure of the Texas delegation to fairly represent the people of the state. We would like to see Senator Bentsen get the Democratic party presidential nomination, but we should send a delegation to the national convention that will be seated without a floor fight.

Flower Flags

The Kirby High school art class of Mrs. Dorothy Rayburn display the flags they made for the Dogwood Festival. These will be placed on parking motors about the courthouse square Thursday, alternating with United States and Texas flags. These special flags were designed by the art class and silk-screened on green material blocks which were cut and hemmed by the Home-making classes of Mrs. Linda Jones.

The Big Thicket

Ecologically unique, is what men of science have called Hardin County's Big Thicket. Once it was a sweeping expanse of 3.5 million acres of virgin forest.

Only seldom-seen game trails wound through this green wonderland. Impenetrable, it was once the haven for wild beasts of every kind.

The Big Thicket nested more than 300 species of birds, including a scattered few of the once-thought extinct ivory-billed woodpecker.

Once its animal family included black bear and the white-tailed deer. There are many to say that an occasional panther still stalks this concealing range. The Thicket still abounds with lesser game, from whitetail deer to armadillo.

Its reptilian family includes the silent marauder of the marsh lands - the alligator.

Indians were the first man to possess the Thicket. There was no intrusion of the white man to this forbidding ground until the 1820's.

It was finally penetrated by a handful of hardy pioneers seeking new lands. As they ran from the restrictions of rugged society, they found here a refuge into which few, if any, would pursue them. Some penetrated deep into the Thicket. Others were content with safe hideaways where they stepped with one foot into the light of free men, yet with the other foot could step into the oblivion of a protecting thicket wall.

The Civil War turned the Thicket into a hiding place for draft evaders and deserters. Confederate Army search parties scoured the Thicket, hunting these deserters, but were frustrated at every turn. The Thicket has been slow to divulge her stories in fact all of them will never be revealed.

As time passed, the swamps and the old fields invaded and their paths turned a thicket involute, into a charred wilderness. Even so, men became lost in its snarl of vegetation and few dared step off its beaten trails.

The virgin timber fell, but quickly there were new trees to take its place. In the days before mechanization, the tree cutters with saw and ax, and horse or oxen power could not outpace regrowth. But when the chain saw began to whine and the moaning power

...ATTEND CHURCH

DOOR OPENERS

Keys and churches are door openers. In both cases, each requires you to put forth some effort. The key you must insert in the lock and turn. Our Lord made the way to heaven even easier, for all that you have to do is present yourself and believe.

For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works lest any man should boast: For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

Ernie Holmes To Be Honored At Burkeville

BURKEVILLE -- The two roughest, meanest quarterback and center in professional football will be in Burkeville Saturday, March 29, for "Ernie Holmes Day". Holmes, a native of nearby Jamestown, is a defensive tackle for the Pittsburgh Steelers and the center for the Baltimore Colts.

Only one half a sack behind Holmes was his defensive tackle L. C. Greenwood, who shared the sack with Holmes on the last play of the season with 14 and a half to go.

Only one half a sack behind Holmes was his defensive tackle L. C. Greenwood, who shared the sack with Holmes on the last play of the season with 14 and a half to go.

General Chairman R. L. Hobbs of Burkeville has extended an open invitation to area coaches and athletes to take part in the "rap" session with the pros at Burkeville High school.

A press conference, one of the first with pro athletes for most weekly newspaper editors, will follow the "rap" session and like the "rap" session will part of the two-hour long program.

Plantation Ranch Plans Big Thicket Celebration

Although his devotion to law practice and statesmanship are not neglected, Daniel is also known worldwide as a stage and movie performer and producer in several epic films including "The Long Walk Home" and "The Towering Inferno".

His Thicket Day will be a massive victory party and a celebration of the U.S. Congress creation of the Big Thicket National Preserve.

Miss Johnston said, "All of us are greatly pleased that Governor Daniel accepted our request for the privilege of holding our great celebration at his famous Plantation Ranch. Itself a mass of rare Texas which is open to the public only on special occasions such as this," she added.

In this setting, the former Governor of Guam and his family have hosted up to 10,000 each year at their Annual Orphaned Children's Parties, an annual Easter Egg Hunt with 85,000 eggs, Boy Scouts, U.S. Marine maneuvers, visiting Russian Cosmonauts; church, school, historical groups, and an array of U.S. Foreign dignitaries and show business celebrities.

"Gov. Daniel was a member of the early East Texas Big Thicket Association of the 1930s," Miss Johnston said, "and was active in the formation of the present organization, which has maintained special interest and effective results in publicizing and preserving the area. Since boyhood, Daniel has hunted, explored and camped in the Thicket and for 15 years annually produced the Big Thicket Trip, a wagon train from Plantation Ranch through the Thicket to Beaumont."

He has led U.S. Marines, firefighters, Boy Scouts, hunters, and others across the Thicket for over 40 years.

Hanging Baskets Gain Popularity As Decorations

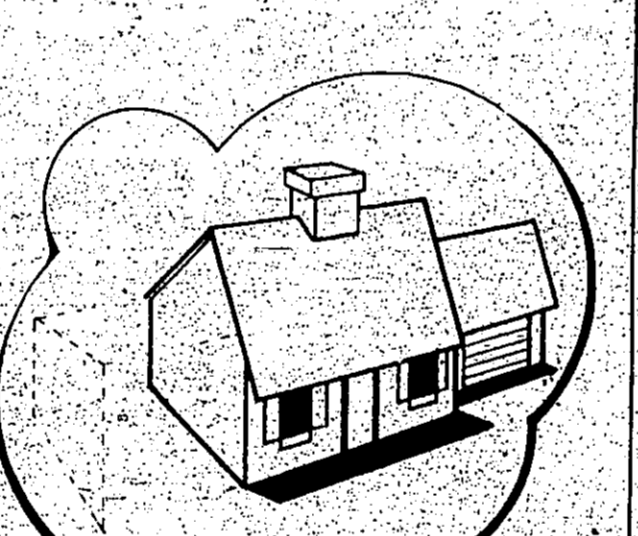

During spring and early summer, hanging baskets continue to gain in popularity, adding a touch of nature to many surroundings.

According to Dr. William Welch, horticulture instructor for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, hanging baskets can be hung in porches, terraces, porches, under trees or inside the home.

"Many plants with drooping foliage such as ferns are excellent for hanging baskets," Welch says.

"Asparagus sprengeri ferns are popular because they can tolerate a lot of direct sun and some cold, but Boston type ferns need high humidity and partial shade to do well."

Also, use a water soluble fertilizer once or twice a month, advise the horticulturist. By snipping off dead flowers, stem pods or leaves and pruning back vines plants to encourage branching, hanging baskets can be attractive throughout the growing season, adds Welch.
