Runoff Is Saturday

Tyler County Voters will have another chance to express their political opinions in run-off races this Saturday, June 5, which will decide contest for the county sheriff's office, Precinct 1 Commissioner and Constable posts in Precinct 1 and 3.

The election will also help decide the State Railroad Commissioner race between John Newton and Jerry Sadler; the Court of Criminal Appeals - Unexpired term between Carl Dally and W.T. Phillips and the 16th District race between Jim Browder and S.M. (Doc) Elliott.

According to County Clerk Allen Sturrock, a record number of absentee ballots numbering some 330 were cast by noon on Tuesday, a statistic which might indicate a high voter interest in the Saturday election. "If everybody doesn't decide to go off on vacation," Sturrock said.

Election officials say they are hopeful for at least a 60 percent turnout compared to the May 1 primary activities which saw some 4289 Tyler County registered voters participate.

Commissioner race for Precinct 1 has taken on an added dimension of importance following the recent grand jury activity surrounding Kenneth Belt, the former Commissioner of Precinct 3, who resigned his post after being defeated by Leon Fowler, and then pleaded guilty several weeks later, in Clyde Earl Smiths 88th District Court, to charges of mis-handling of funds.

Leon Fowler was appointed to fill the interim vacancy created by Belt, earlier in the May 1 Primary by some 339 votes.

The Precinct 1 run-off race between Dorothy Nettles and Maxie Riley makes Tyler County politics interesting with the first woman candidate running for a county post and earning a run-off position.

The entire Commissioners Court function becomes an important role for the Commissioners also with the announcement by County Judge Tom D. Mann of his possible intent to step down from the top County post to take a job with the Brookeland Independent School District in Jasper County.

Although there has been no contract signed between the district and Judge Mann he said he is definitely "considering" an offer to serve as Assistant District Superintendent for the first year under Jim Gray and then assume the top school office the year following.

The fact that the judge says he's "considering" the post, he says, "Doesn't mean it's final."

"Anything could happen," Judge Mann said.

According to State Constitutional law, the Commissioners Court is the "body politic" which replaces the vacancy of a county judge. County Attorney Jim Allison said he would prepare an opinion of what alternatives exist for the court to replace the possible vacancy.

Other races in the county will see W.B. Bailey challenge A.G. Thomas for the Constable, Precinct 1 race while Charles Edward (Buck) Faircloth will face Harley Crews for the Constable Precinct 3 post.

The Tyler County Sheriff's race will see incumbent Lewis Craven face an attempt by former Deputy Herman Nolen to unseat the current officeholder. Nolen managed to collect some 219 votes more than the incumbent in the May 1 Primary. The vote count was 1,978 to 1,759.

Nolen managed to defeat Craven and earn a runoff spot with wins in the following boxes around the county: Nolen carried Woodville Box 1; Warren Box 4; Chester Box 7; Fred Box 15; Town Bluff Box 14 and Warren Box 16.

Craven forces won in Bethany Box 8; Woodville Box 18; Emilee Box 9; Colmesneil Box 10 and Woodville Box 17.

'Official' County Record Keeping Rooms

At the invitation of the County Auditor's office THE TYLER COUNTY BOOSTER was offered a tour of the existing formal and "official" recordkeeping storage rooms within the Tyler County Courthouse. Earl King, county auditor and Ann Fondren, assistant, said they want BOOSTER readers to be aware of the existing conditions where county documents and paperwork are kept. Indicated concerns about certain chemicals which were stored in the same room as the documents.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Come Back Again

Mr. John P. Morrison
Tyler County Booster
Box 248
Woodville, Texas 75799

Dear Mr. Morrison,
Mrs. Coats and I wish you greetings and we often recall our short but pleasant visit with you and with the community of Woodville. We still believe we would enjoy reuniting and then living in Woodville.

We were quite surprised that there were not readily available more homes in Woodville. Perhaps we just happened to be there at the incorrect time as far as real estate is concerned. We feel that we have much to contribute to a community as we are both believers in doing things. Mrs. Coats has in the past conducted courses in Needlepoint, Microms, and many other crafts. I enjoy rug-making and needlepoint in particular as well as other crafts.

We have spent the past twenty-five years working and living the Canal Zone. Formerly we were from the state of Ohio and have maintained a voting record in that state. We retire at the end of this year and as yet have not fully decided as to where we are going to reside. We have fully enjoyed the Tyler County Booster these past three years. We think that Woodville and Tyler County have so many great things going for them.

Each year I find our check for another year subscription to the Tyler County Booster, but I am not sure if you are going to our lovely family all the best and again we thank you for the moments you shared with us on our visit in Woodville last November.

Sincerely,
Curtis L. Coats

First Impressions

Editor,
Just received your weekly paper, handed to me by my five-year-old son.

Quite an observation. We definitely need a change in our county government.

We encourage everyone to vote.

Sincerely,
Jack H. Burns

Mrs. Robert Fairchild

Miss Jerrin Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Lowe of Dayton, became the bride of Robert F. Fairchild on Saturday, May 8 in the First Baptist Church of Dayton. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fairchild of Center.

Rev. Harvey Neal led the couple in the vows of the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with boxwood and spiral candleabra heavily laden with boxwood and garlands of greenery. Marking the news were garlands of boxwood and greenery.

Mrs. Claude Harding accompanied Miss Jan Fairchild on the piano as she sang "Wedding Song." Wedding music was presented by Miss Sonya Johnson, organist, and Claude Harding sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a candlelight gown of silk organza with a chiffon skirt. The bridesmaids were beautifully adorned with tiny seed pearls and re-embroidered alercon lace. The caplet sleeves were also of the same lace and trim. The a-line skirt had a "seaweed" chapel length train. The chapel length veil was of Brussels of Boston and had re-embroidered alercon lace along the entire border. The bridal bouquet was fashioned in a cascade of garlands of Phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, and miniature lily.

Mrs. Jany "Ipsley" of Houston and Mrs. Claude Harding of Dayton, sisters of the bride were her matrons of honor. Misses Jan and Kirby Fairchild of Houston, sisters of the groom and Miss Marsha Nelson of Houston, were bridesmaids. Robert L. Fairchild, father of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were David Fairchild, brother of the groom, Marshall Mason of Houston, Bob Scott of Dallas, and Rob Clifford of Friendswood. Ed McElroy of Naevogoches served as usher. The groom's tuxedo was accented with brown velvet trim and the groomsmen and ushers wore brown tuxedos.

Mrs. Lowe, mother of the bride, chose a classic pink formal dress with chiffon cape sleeves and a chiffon skirt. Her corsage was a pink cymbidium orchid. KHS Valedictory Address

By Kathy Ray

"To be, rather than to seem" is the motto chosen by the graduating class of 1976. This motto was selected for it reflects our ambitions to attain truth and understanding within our own personalities.

Seated here tonight are ninety graduates with ninety different ideas of their future and ninety different hopes for a better tomorrow. How each member obtains his goal is the real test of the person. Our lives differ as environments differ, but in all are the elements of good or bad, fact and fiction, truth and falsehood. We must find that which is good and retain it, recognize the bad and reject it, while striving to eliminate it.

We are beginning a new chapter of our lives. It is not together as we have been for twelve (12) years, but as individuals. We refuse to be mere images of other people and other times. We want to be ourselves, in our own time and in our own places in the sun. We want to be true individuals while being a part of our families, communities and nations.

The experiences we have acquired during our high school years have encouraged us to know ourselves, and when we know ourselves everything will fall into place. Knowing ourselves means to know our capabilities and our limitations. Our year time and the opportunity to make our tomorrows better.

In closing, I would like to read a poem written by an unknown author, which has had special meaning to me:

For yesterday is already a vision But today well-liked, makes every yesterday. A dream of happiness And every tomorrow A vision of hope. Look well therefore to this Day!

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller.

AUSTIN—We are operating highway roadblocks that take us days to get out of Texas. The truckers are paying the filling up their truck tanks 6.5 cents per gallon Texas tax before they cross the border on the diesel fuel used to power their rigs.

The roadblocks are paying off for Texas taxpayers. The first five days we operate the roadblocks, we recorded prices that they would pay 287 violations of motor fuel. Texas fuel dealers who collect tax laws and collected $83,000 in motor fuel taxes that otherwise would have been lost.

Some of the truckers at first didn't want to take us seriously when we asked them to fork over the taxes they are charged with enforcing. We used in Texas. But, after we impounded 28 trucks, their owners got the message. All of those trucks were, of course, released once the taxes owed the state were paid.

I hope the message filters out among out-of-state truck operators that the Comptroller's Office intends to enforce the law, requiring them to pay taxes on fuel used in this state. In case the message isn't clear yet, we are continuing to check trucks.

What we are discovering is that the tax due on each gallon of diesel fuel used in Texas is 6.5 cents. The tax due on the cab involves covering the diesel in his fuel tanks at the time he is stopped for a check - if he is stopped, the invoices should include the truck mileage at the time the vehicle was fueled.

The second alternative, required of truckers who travel in Texas more than three times a year is an "Interstate Trucker Permit." The permit must be obtained from the Fuels Tax Division and a $500.00 bond posted. Under this system a trucker must file quarterly reports with the Fuels Tax Division, paying tax only on fuel used in Texas.

Survey Methods Available

AUSTIN—Detailed instructions for conducting labor market surveys have been developed by the Texas Industrial Commission for use by community leaders.

Danny Choate, economist for the Industrial Commission, said the methodology outlined will enable the collecting of information pertaining to both employment and those not employed and those not attached to the labor force.

"Labor Survey Methodology and Handbook" teaches local communities to gather their own data to accurately project the size of the potential labor force, skill levels and unemployment.

"For communities interested in further economic development, labor force information is vitally important since the availability of labor is crucial to the attraction and expansion of industry," Choate said.

The study details the various accurate methods of surveying labor force, outlines instruction for interviewers and tells how to determine the correct sample size.

The Industrial Commission will assist in these steps, and also has the computer availability and technology to interpret the results for the communities.

The study was developed through an economic development grant administered by the U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Economic Development Administration.

Use Wood For Durability

When the good Lord called Noah to build the Ark, He stipulated gopher wood as the building material. Noah probably didn't know much about wood, but he assumed that if God said it would last, it would last. And it did, from raindrop to raindrop.

Modern studies by earth-quake engineers at the California Institute of Technology show that wooden houses are the most buildings in an earthquake or hurricane. This was proven in the 1964 Alaska Earthquake, the Los Angeles Earthquake of 1971, and hurricane Camille of 1969.

Next time you want to build something, and want it to last, use wood. Noah did.

It is berry season again. It should be tall enough to have space to cover. You can purchase them at a reasonably low price. You can amount of space above the water. The water should be hot but not boiling when you place the filled jars in the canner. Place lid on canner and bring the water to a rolling boil, but reduce the heat just to boiling. This prevents the bubbles from being drawn out of the jars.

Boil pint jars 10 minutes and quart jars 15 minutes. Remove the jars from the water bath and let them cool. The berries may be canned without sugar if you prefer them sweeter. Leave 1/2 inch space at top of the jar. Wipe off the sealing surface of the jar and close according to the type of lid being used following the manufacturer's direction.

If you want to know more about canning, call or write the County Extension Office for a copy of the book "Canning of Fruits and Vegetables."

"Kind of get the feeling that President Ford is trying to shovel water upstream with his nomination of the Congress that we have got to put a halt to the tens of billions in annual deficits we are running up every year."

And perhaps our congressmen, with all their accumulated wisdom have a little concept of what a billion dollars is, an amount that is ordinary hip wallet and it easily accommodates whatever currency I'm able to pull from the better half.

But back to "how big a billion." Somebody recently said the red ink in the Federal Budget this year, some $5 billion, is like a stream of dollar bills, and stacked one on the other would reach 28,000 miles into the stratosphere. Well, since at last I have been no more than 7 miles above the surface of the earth, and a few of us have either, that comparison didn't mean much to me. I guess it also indicated if those dollar bills were laid end to end, they would reach around the earth at the equator several times, but then I haven't been around the earth either.

Then I ran across an address a Mr. Douglas Kenna of the National Association of Manufacturers gave, and he put the billion dollar question in language I could get to begin to comprehend.

One billion seconds ago, we had not yet exploded the atom bomb, so that's a little better than 21 years in the past. A billion minutes ago, Jesus Christ was still alive. A billion minutes equals nearly two thousand years. A billion hours ago, man on this earth had just come down out of the trees. And the mastodons, saber tooth tigers, and Secretary's earliest ancestors were still around.

And a billion dollars ago, a trillion of government spending, was yesterday.

Yep, we are now spending at the federal level, more than a billion dollars every day, and going in debt to the tune of another billion dollars every week.

This fiscal year, the federal budget will exceed 400 billion dollars. Does it seem possible that as recently as 1962, Congress was in an alleged uproar because the budget had passed 100 billion?

In fact, the interest on the debt at 45 billion dollars a year is more than we spent in any one year of the Vietnam War. Interest payment alone is the third highest budget item, and climbing every year.

These billions could be put to better use, stimulating the private economy to provide more jobs for the workers, instead of expanding federal programs that do not contribute to the general economy but rather continue to make it more desirable for many to let Washington do it.

Is there a solution? I doubt it. Not when a program is foisted on the taxpayer, $100,000 a year, can go to Florida and make up the gap during the off-season employment.

Lieutenant Governor's Report
by Bill Hobby

AUSTIN-This week, I will conclude a discussion of the fuel needs of irrigation by surveying possible long term solutions. The information has been provided by John Kelly of the Texas Department of Agriculture. In the long term, the prospects look bright for the irrigation farmer as they do for all energy consumers. Nuclear, solar, and fusion power seem essentially limitless and indeed, there are sufficient quantities of coal, oil from oil shale and others to last for many centuries. The use of these resources and use them in ways that are economical and compatible with the needs of the consumer. There is every reason for optimism that several of these developments will be successful. But, of course, the essential Research and Development (R&D) must be supported now. Programs for the fuel technology to be available in 10, 20 or 25 years. By and large, the federal government and large corporations seem to be doing a creditable amount of this kind of research. The agriculturalists need to follow their R&D programs and make sure the problems of the irrigation farmer are not overlooked.

The development of a solar-powered pump for irrigation is the goal of several current R&D programs. Two that may be of interest are being sponsored by the Sandia Laboratory, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and by Texas Tech in Lubbock, Texas. Both are in the concept study phase and both laboratory studies are in the process of preparing proposals for funding support from the energy division of the federal Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA). The Sandia plan is being developed in conjunction with New Mexico State University. They are proposing that ERDA fund the construction and operation of a model unit. The design concept is that solar energy will be collected and used to heat a working fluid. The heated working fluid will be used to power an engine such as the Rankine cycle. The heated working fluid will be used to drive a rotating positive displacement expander to move the water. Sandia and New Mexico State University are currently preparing their proposal and expect to submit it to ERDA shortly. A copy of the set of studies they've used in presenting their preliminary concept is available in the Texas Department of Agriculture. Their initial estimates are that irrigation by this method may cost in the range of $200 to $300/acre per season.

Texas Tech is presently working with the solar group at the Energy Institute of the University of Houston on a similar project. They are near the end of a study funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF). This program is being transferred from NSF to ERDA, so future support will come from ERDA.

When Texas Tech learned of the critical problem of the natural gas shortage is creating for the irrigation farmer, they realized that a scaled down version, 500 KW vs. 5MW, of their feedlot solar power system would be well suited to irrigation. Thus, they added this to their NSF study. The University of Houston will examine well characteristics, pump schedules, irrigation pumping requirements and other factors needed for the plant design. Texas Tech will design the power transmission, the engine, the pumps, and the water distributing system.

Texas Tech's current but very preliminary estimates of cost are that each plant will require about $100,000 capital investment, but will have very high operating costs. It is not known what this converts to in terms of dollars per acre per season. Such an irrigation system would have a substantial life span, be easy to install, and have low operating costs. LeRoy Davis couldn't believe his eyes last week when he carried an official hole-in-one on the seventh green at the Dogwood Country Club.

The feat was attested by four other members of the foursome he was playing with at the time. Friends said Davis "was afraid to look" and shouted "Oh my" when he saw what was about to happen.

Search On For World's Largest Egg

COLLEGE STATION, June 3 (AP)—Some egg producers are being challenged to prove that everything is bigger in Texas. The state of Maine has thrown the gauntlet squarely at the feet of Texas eggmen, as the Central Maine Egg Festival seeks to find the world's largest chicken egg. To be eligible, eggs must have been produced by the species Gallus domesticus (a domestic chicken) on or after August 1, 1975.

Any individual or egg association in the world may submit a chicken egg to be judged at the Central Maine Egg Festival on July 31, points out Dr. William O. Cawley, poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The winning entry will be gold plated and mounted on a base featuring a plaque denoting all pertinent information. Eggs must be shipped Bills recently introduced with little fanfare in both houses of Congress would decide the future of telephone service. In Spurger and throughout the country.

Gary Fischer, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said recent decisions by federal regulators will have significant adverse impact on the cost and quality of service to the average consumer.

These decisions by the Federal Communications Commission were designed to inject competition into two markets: communications equipment and later private line business services. Fischer said, "What has developed instead is a government imposed division of responsibility for service and a pricing structure that will hurt 'the little guy'."

Bills were introduced in the U.S. Senate and House last month to protect the interests of the average telecommunications user. These measures are also supported by a wide cross-section of the telephone industry labor unions, independent telephone companies and the Bell System.

The legislation would reaffirm the principles of the Communications Act of 1934 and ensure that decisions made on national telecommunications policy are in the public interest.

To that end, this is clearly a consumer interest issue that deserves full and wide public debate.

He said the American public is largely unaware of the economic and service consequences of decisions now being made.

"For example, telephone companies are being forced to invest in new equipment to provide service to rural areas, which customers and calling routes to serve," he explained.

In contrast, telephone companies, according to Fischer are obligated to serve all customers, regardless of where they are or what it costs to provide them service.

"We average our rates regardless of our costs, so everyone can afford a telephone. But the new competitors have been permitted to concentrate their efforts on just the high-profit routes. Since costs on those routes are lower they can undercut prices of existing carriers."

great decided long ago that one company should have total responsibility for service in a given area. That concept has worked well.

Dividing that responsibility can only lead to a deterioration in the quality of service. At the same time, telephone company losses in revenues from specialized equipment and services will eventually result in higher rates for basic service. Again, the average consumer loses.

Fischer acknowledged that not everyone will agree with the telephone industry viewpoint. "But we strongly believe that the public — through their elected representatives — should have a chance to decide what the future direction of our national telecommunications policy will be."

Each entry must be accompanied by a label indicating the name and address of the owner, date the egg was produced and by what breed of chicken.

All entries will become the property of the festival unless prior arrangements have been made with contest officials notes Cawley.

Sandy's Notebook
By Susan Howard

This will be the last time I'll write about this summer. I'll be writing feature stories about the citizens and clubs of Warren. I'll also be writing on anything that is of interest to the people of Tyler County.

There are some students from the resource athletics and the Warrior Band that are going to State this summer. We all wish you the very best of luck.

I would like to congratulate late seniors who graduated this year. Good luck in the future. I hope everyone has more than their share of fun this summer.

If anyone has any ideas about a feature story to be published each week please call me at 247-2628. We'll be 10-10 and listening in until next week kids!

Piano Recital Presented May 24
Piano students of Mrs. Lionel Reese presented their Spring recital May 24, 1976, at First Baptist Church, Warren. Students participating were: Randa Gillespie, Ginger McPherson, Robert Gillespie, Eric Samford, Cindy Reese, Candace Read, Cindy Swiney, Tonya Samford, Linda Smiley, Jess Grimes and Keith Reese.

History: Jill Crawford: Homecoming. Kathy Ray: Mathematics. David Sterling: Music and Twirlers for the band. Kathy Anderson: Spanish. David Sterling: Spanish. The Drum Major for the 1976 school year is Kim Shane Thompson. Vocational Education: Jill Crawford. The Historian of the class is Jill Crawford. Kathy Ray gave the Valedictory address and they Mr. Jim Linam introduced the speaker for the evening. Senator Don Adams of Jasper. Before the diplomas were presented, the class of 1976 stood and sang the school song: Jim Gaine presented the diplomas in the absence of Dr. Swearingen. The benediction was given by John Scroggins. There were lots of tears and smiles, and it is really hard to realize that 12 years have gone by so quickly. As the seniors go their many different ways, I know KHS Hudson and Frank Hanna and all the friends and teachers we left behind will have a very special place in our hearts. Thanks to all who helped make last Friday, May 28, 1976, a day that '90 seniors will never forget.

LET'S LOCK UP THE HORSE THIEVES

Dear Mother:
When my horse (Big Red) was stolen from Lake Ivanhoe, in November of 1975. Why didn't Mr. Herman Nolen and Mr. W.B. Bailey, who did the investigating turn in the report to the Sheriff's office? They told me for two months they had looked everywhere and had even reported it to Mr. Hardichuck, the investigator for the cattlemans association for this district. Yet when Mr. Hardichuck was called, he had never received the report. When Sheriff Craven was asked about it, he said that there had been no report put in his file by Mr. Nolen who was the Deputy assigned to this area.

When I found this out three months after my horse was stolen, it made me sick inside. Why Mother? I loved Big Red. I believed them when they said they were doing everything they could to find my horse for me. Could we trust Mr. Nolen to lock up the Horse Thieves and Drug Pushers?

IS THIS THE WAY TO RUN TYLER COUNTY? MAY GOD GUIDE YOUR CHOICE.

I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my supporters and voters in the May 1st election

Jerry Mahan

TO THE CITIZENS OF TYLER COUNTY

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every voter in Tyler County who placed their confidence and their vote for me in the May 1st primary.

I would also like to take this opportunity to answer the lies that were told concerning my campaign for sheriff. I state here, unequivocally, that Sheriff Craven did not at any time furnish any funds for my campaign; did not at any time pay me a salary after Oct. 27th, 1975, the date I resigned from the job of Chief Deputy; did not promise me any future employment nor any favors. He did not approach me concerning any deal for future employment that has been offered was offered by Herman Nolen. Mr. Nolen approached me the first time approximately two months before the May 1st primary, the last time on Monday morning at approximately 9 A.M., May 3rd, 1976, in front of my place of business, Woodrome's Grocery in Chester, Texas. This last conversation was carried on in the presence of my wife, Sidie. I did not and will not enter into any agreement with Mr. Nolen.

I feel that after I refused to accept any financing for my campaign from any special interest group; this group used me without my knowledge or consent in the effort to defeat Sheriff Craven.

I want to state and go on record at this time that I will do everything possible to help re-elect Sheriff Craven, not for promises nor for monetary consideration; but I have worked closely with both men and I feel that Sheriff Craven is the best of the two candidates for the job.

I would appreciate it if every one who cast his vote for me in the primary would vote for Sheriff Lewis E. Craven on June 5th.

Sincerely yours

Don Woodrome

The Speaker Reports

AUSTIN—Even before $5,500 through direct and hidden taxes. To make matters worse, government regulation amounts to $1,800 per family and inflation has changed my mind one bit about that. I have a bureau-stuffed and inflation-happy government. I have a government that has changed my mind one bit about that. I have a government that has changed my mind one bit about that.

We in Texas are in something of a unique situation. We have a projected budget surplus approaching 30 percent of our current spending levels. We have the opportunity at this juncture in our state's history to reverse the free-spending syndrome and at the same time cut taxes.

Government is the leading consumer, employer and customer in our whole economy and the money squeezed out to operate comes from the pockets of the 130,000,000 Americans known as the middle class. The Texas families earning between $10,000 and $35,000 a year who buy the most automobiles, account for most travel and entertainment costs and pay more than half of the federal income tax collected in this state, are those most heavily taxed.

The dollars these families held in 1970 are worth only 70 cents today. At the present rate, in ten years, they will have to earn twice as much as they do now just to remain in their present level. Add to that the fact that our standard of living has dropped 3 percent since a year ago.

AN INVITATION

Join Me In My Concern

The right to know is one of the most precious rights the Citizens of the United States of America have, and as a concerned citizen and voter of District 16, I ask the voters of this District to consider the following:

Did you know that Doc Elliott's campaign contributions amounted to $720.49 through April 19, 1976? This is public information available to all citizens in the Secretary of State's Office in Austin, and I am attaching back-up sheets to this effect.

Of those contributions, only 1838.50 (23 percent) came from within the 16th District. The remaining 77 percent were contributions from outside the district. They amounted to 6,881.99.

A Houston Telephone directory showed that of the first 11 names checked with Houston addresses, ten of them were chiropractors. Now I'm not against chiropractors, I use them occasionally myself; however, it concerns me that many other chiropractors, besides those in Houston, are also listed from such far away places as Killeen, San Antonio, Amarillo, Beeville, etc. and my question to the voter's of District-16 is this: "Why would a chiropractor, say in San Antonio (or any of the other far away cities outside this District) be concerned in political affairs in District 16?" How many of the other out of district contributors were chiropractors, or groups of chiropractors? I would like to know!

Does Elliott plan to represent the people of this district in Austin, or contributing chiropractors from throughout the state? Is it our responsibility to send a man to Austin whose outstanding financial obligation is to the chiropractic fraternity... a man who may represent us if he has the time?

We as concerned citizens must realize that the office of State Representative is as important to us as any in the State, for who else knows our needs and feelings... or for that matter cares about them?

To The Citizens of Tyler County:

I would like to take this time and space to answer a question that I have been asked many times by many of my friends that I have known and lived with all my life. I don't believe in changing anything unless it would be better for the people of this county. I have my lifetime of work invested in Tyler County and intend to spend the rest of my life here. I don't like to see my time and money misused by any person or group of people.

The Sheriff's Department cannot and never will be able to solve everybody's problems. It is not my responsibility to carry a case before the courts and have it die in the Judge's office when he finds out who the Defendant's friends and relatives are.

Before a man can be anything, he has to be a man first. I have known Lewis E. Craven for about 22 years and he has been just that.

There are several things that can be improved upon, but even so, right now we are getting a little more than we are paying him for.

I have known Mr. Nolen for about 35 years, far better than Mr. Craven. To my personal knowledge, he never did a very good job of keeping his own business straight. When I see a situation like this, I don't want this person trying to handle any business of mine.

There has been a lot of pro and con concerning outside interests and sources of income of different people who work as law enforcement officers. If a man doesn't have some other source of income, it is beyond me to see how he can support a family on a Deputy Sheriff's wages.

There are stacks of untried cases of all kinds that could be tried in County and Justice Court, if there were ever any court held. This would be quite an income for the County. Everyone needs to come to the Judge's and Sheriff's office and ask more questions and see for themselves just what they are getting for their money.

I believe we have too many good sound-minded people in Tyler County to sit around and base their opinions on coffee shop stories about who did what.

When you hear an officer for some reason, don't think for one minute that you have the only problem in the County. When you stretch the Sheriff and four(4) Deputies over Tyler County and consider all the detail and paper work that has to be done 7 days a week, 24 hours a day, you will have some very thin places at times. The Sheriff has a pretty good day's work at the office so you won't get him out on every call, but he is always available to aid his Deputies when needed.

I don't think a new Sheriff will solve very many problems, because he will spend his first two or three years training new people and establishing his contacts and informants and his last year campaigning. It seems to me it will be a lot better to pitch in and help the one we have than to keep going around in circles all the time.

I would like to ask every civic and sound-minded voter to get off by themselves and not listen to anyone else and do some real thinking before they cast their ballot.

Increases In Food Stamps Possible

Households receiving rental or mortgage supplements from the Department of Housing and Urban Development may be entitled to increased food stamp benefits.

The State Department of Public Welfare made this announcement today in revealing that the housing supplements paid under the provisions of the Housing Act of 1937 will no longer be considered as income for food stamp purposes.

Texas To Host Festival

Texas will again be the host state for the sixth annual session of the ALL-AMERICAN GOSPEL QUARTET FESTIVAL when it meets in Woodville this month, on June 18-20.

Gospel quartets from many states have been invited to participate in the three days of concerts from June 18 through June 20, 1976. Many of these invitations have already been accepted, this indicates that gospel music lovers by the hundreds will for the sixth time attend the SHOWCASE OF GOSPEL TALENT.

Quartets from Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, and Texas have already returned their acceptance cards, and plans are already complete to present at least twelve groups in FREE concerts. The groups will be singing free concerts for the public in the Woodville High School Auditorium on Friday night, June 18; Saturday night, June 19; and Sunday afternoon, June 20. THERE IS NO ADMISSION CHARGE FOR THESE CONCERTS - a free will offering will be taken.

During the day on Saturday, June 19, the group will be singing on the Woodville Courthouse lawn and at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation between Woodville and Livingston.

E. W. "Woody" Woodrome, who teaches at Nederland High School, is the founder and coordinator of the Festival.

ATTENTION:

Do you know Dorothy Nettles? She is much more than a lady. She has grit to stand up to anyone when she knows she is right. She has a deep feeling for our county and our people and as a citizen of this County.

She feels a need to go forward with industry, something for our young people to look forward to, so they can live and work in Tyler County, instead of having to leave and find employment elsewhere.

If we make Dorothy Nettles a leader of our community, by 1980 I feel she will work toward something that really shows in our County. We would have a worker in our County Court, not one to sweep things under the rug, but bring it out in the open to the citizens.

She would not spend radically but wisely. She would investigate thoroughly before making a move to spending the citizens tax dollars. Vote for Dorothy Nettles for Commissioner of Precinct 1, Saturday, June 5th.

Episcopal Church To Hold Classes

Classes involving the church, Rev. Floyd explained that attendance at the class in no way obligates an individual to join the church. It just informs them about its meetings and its workings. Rev. Floyd indicated that he would be teaching the Inquirers class and that The Right Reverend J. Milton Texas, will visit the church in the fall to confirm those who have decided to join the Episcopal Church in Woodville.

Larry Wilson's PETTICOAT POLITICS

With the usual luck of Texas, a bright sunny morning greeted "Texas Day" last week. And after all the rainy, 50 degree weather, that was a small miracle in itself. So at 10:30 on Thursday morning the Cleveland Texas High School band started playing The National Anthem. And as I walked down the hundred of steps of the terraces of the beautiful west side of the U.S. Capitol, the music was so powerful that it could have been a 200 and 75 piece band playing. For the town of Cleveland, Texas, and for the Cleveland High School band, this day climaxed a year of work. A leading booster of the project was Mrs. Wanda Galloway, President of the Band Booster's Club, but an entire city participated in raising over $20,000 for such an endeavor. For it was the Cleveland High School band that represented our entire state for Texas Day of the Bicentennial Celebration. One of the continuing series of the District of Columbia's Bicentennial Salute to each state, the programs are jointly sponsored by the D.C. Bicentennial Office with the cooperation of the National Park Service. D.C. Mayor Walter E. Washington reviewed our country's beginnings. Both "Texas Senators made remarks and our district's Congressman praised the cooperative effort of a small East Texas town to raise so much money so that their youth could participate in the Elliott Fills Bill For House Seat Concerned! Involved! Honest!

"Too many people don't care about the workings of our government, as long as their own wants and needs are taken care of," said S.M. Elliott at a recent gathering. Elliott is seeking the District 16 Texas House Seat, representing Liberty, Polk, Trinity, Tyler and San Jacinto counties.

The needs and goals of every constituent living in District 16 are important to Doc Elliott. How well we take care of our children still determines the future of District 16, the State of Texas, and our Nation. And Elliott is only too aware of how important it is to be a father of three.

"People should be interested and involved in our government, just as elected officials should be interested and honestly concerned about every person they represent," the 23 year resident of Dayton said. "Elected officials are responsible for things which affect and influence us every day."

Elliott feels he has the background to understand and represent every citizen in District 16. "I will accept the responsibilities of the office and dedicate myself to good government. My goal will be to serve the needs and interests of people in this district," Elliott said.

His experience as a successful businessman and community leader give him a firm foundation for conscientious, knowledgeable representation. Elliott, a Dayton chiropractor, grew up on a farm in Wild Cherry, Arkansas, was educated at Paducah Community College and Logan College of St. Louis, Missouri. He is a veteran of the U.S. Navy.

Mrs. S.M. Elliott, Betty, teaches school in Liberty. Two of their three sons—Steve and Terry, are in college, and the youngest, Vance, is a senior in High School. The family are members of the First Baptist Church.

"Doc" Elliott was elected to the Dayton School Board, for three terms, and served as president in 1973. He was instrumental in the $3,000,000 Homestead Exemption measure aimed at aiding senior citizens.

Elliott has made numerous contributions to the community and his neighbors through service and civic organizations. Elliott is past president of the Dayton Rotary Club. He's a charter member and current Commander of the Dayton American Legion, Post No. 512. He's a member of the Dayton Chamber of Commerce and active in the Dayton Athletic Club, East County Health Director, Boy Scouts of America and an annual sponsor for Pee Wee Baseball, he also served as president of the Baytown Community Orchestra and of the Liberty County Crippled Children's Society. He is also a member of the Texas Farm Bureau.

"Doc" Elliott has held every state level office. In his professional field. For his dedication and service to the profession, he has been recognized by the Texas Chiropractic Association with the Keeler Plaque, the group's highest and most esteemed honor.

Recognized as Dayton's "Leading Citizen" in 1969, Elliott is a Democrat and has tackled the responsibilities of precinct chairman for three terms.

"Doc Elliott is concerned about the needs of farmers and ranchers. He understands most of the problems, like when it rains too much and there's not enough feed on hand to see the stock through the winter, or when the bugs take the rice. He was born and raised on a farm. "We grew up knowing America and Texas as "The Land of Plenty". But we're running into shortages in this day and age. It's more important now than ever that every resource be utilized in the best and most proper possible way. "Doc" Elliott is very concerned about our resources, and what is done with them.

"Doc" Elliott Urges All Voters To Return To The Polls On June 5th

On May 15th, 42.1 percent of the voters in District 16 demonstrated their belief that "Doc" Elliott was their choice to represent their governmental needs and interests. He carried four out of the five counties. A family man and community leader, neighbors describe Elliott as a "man man" who will give "effective representation to District 16."

S.M. "Doc" Elliott announced his candidacy for the District 16 Texas House seat.

"I believe in the future of this country and of this state. I especially believe in the future of this district. My program is straight forward. My approach direct. The people I've met and the friendships I've made are the most valuable part of campaigning for State Representative."

In asking for votes and friendship, he pledges an "effective, fair term of office," working for "good government."

We're told that our educational system isn't as effective as it used to be. And that we're told that children today are much more advanced than they were 10 years ago. As a former School Board member, parent, Pee Wee Baseball sponsor, and community leader, "Doc" Elliott is genuinely concerned about the kind of education our kids receive.

- ELLIOTT WILL WORK FOR:
- QUALITY EDUCATION
 - BETTER BUSINESS CLIMATE FOR THE FARMER AND CATTLEMAN
 - CRIMINAL CONTROL, NOT GUN CONTROL
 - REASONABLE ENERGY AND INSURANCE RATES
 - PROTECTION OF HUNTING, FISHING, AND RECREATIONAL RIGHTS.

Elliott has just concluded his 9th year as a School Board Member. He worked hard to get the new Dayton Public School built, so when he joined in the dedication, and presentation of a Texas and American Flag, it was a very significant moment for him.

"Doc" Elliott grew up on a farm. He can remember the days when a horse was his only transportation. He can remember riding horseback to the mill to have corn ground into meal for his family's supper. Some of his fondest childhood memories are of his adventures on an old sorrel mare, so gentle she wouldn't hurt a fly. Elliott still enjoys riding.

JON NEWTON

The Railroad Commission is one of the most powerful regulatory and conservation agencies in America. Two candidates are in the June 5th Democratic runoff election:

JERRY SADLER, 68, who entered politics in the 1930's, was defeated as Land Commissioner in 1970 after an official reprimand from the Texas House for refusal to cooperate in an investigation. . . . had absentee record in public office. . . . investigated by a grand jury for using a state employee to run his private motel. . . . sued for civil tax fraud by the IRS. . . . In 1969 the Dallas Times Herald declared "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision," and in 1976 the San Angelo Standard-echoed, "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

JON NEWTON, 34, three-term House member with solid record of public service. . . . authored the law regulating strip mining. . . . fought for a Public Utility Commission. . . . serves on Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Mining Council of Texas, Governor's Energy Advisory Council, House Energy Resources Committee (vice chairman). . . . endorsed by major newspapers throughout Texas. . . . described by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as "the resident expert on energy matters in the State Legislature". In the first Democratic primary his Bee County neighbors gave him an 85% majority over his seven opponents.

Texas' energy and utility rate problems can be solved only by vigorous, responsible leadership and fresh approaches.

Holiday Pinings

by Kathy Kinnon

A big moment for Holiday Pinings was using tickets donated by John Noreiga and Temple Industries to attend the "Christmas Generation" production at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation last week. This group was made up of talented Brigham Young University students from various Indian tribes in North America and Hawaii. There was music, dancing, comedy, singing and all of it done in a very interesting evening. The Cobb Mill Baptist Church furnished transportation for the twenty five of us. Volunteers Harry Shaw, Reverend and Mrs. Charles Hayes, Pat Bristol, Pat Parvik, the Department of Welfare, Social Worker, Lon Felps and our Administrator Claude Kremer helped with the trip. . . .

elect CARL DALLY

Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals

"Carl Dally has been a commissioner in and to the court of criminal appeals for half a decade. He has extensive experience in both the criminal and civil branches of the law. His opponent is a man with no judicial or appellate experience in criminal law. We urge every Democrat eligible to vote in the June 5 runoffs to inform themselves of the qualifications of the candidates in this and all races. We urge them not to vote for a vaguely familiar name, but to vote in the best man. In the case of the runoff for the criminal appeals court, the best candidate is clearly Carl Dally."

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls Carl Dally "eminently qualified" and the Houston Chronicle says he is "uniquely suited to serve on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. Dally is also endorsed by newspapers in Dallas, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Victoria and Wichita Falls.

Ask your lawyer, your district attorney, any judge, or informed friend about the candidates in this important race. Then vote for the best man.

Bluegrass Music Association Forming

The fiddle and bluegrass music have been here for years but just in the last three years it is becoming more and more popular. All over our country there are bluegrass festivals being held almost every weekend. This is a great fun and entertainment for the entire family. There are also contests being held from time to time for the fiddle, banjo, and guitar players. With this great love for this type of music a group of bluegrass fans are forming the Southeast Texas Bluegrass Music Association. Membership fee will be $5.00 per year which will be for publishing the monthly newsletter. If you are interested in joining please send your name, address and fee to Mrs. Eddy Mathews, 7110 Lewis Drive, Beaumont, Texas 77708 or Mr. Lee Roy Tatum, Rt. 1, Box 87-A, Kountze, Texas 77625. Lee Roy Tatum of Sour Lake is the organizations first president.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The present state of our armed forces is disturbing. While recent debates on Capitol Hill have centered on our arms procurement programs and on Soviet advances in strategic systems and naval power, these problems are not as threatening as the uncertain situation facing our military manpower supply. Contrary to everyone's fears, one of the most anti-military Congresses in history almost effortlessly passed one of our nation's largest arms budgets. The House last month approved a $33.3 billion authorization—$29 million more than the Administration had requested for fiscal year 1977. The President's entire 1977 defense program was broader and more consistent support in Congress than any defense program in recent memory. It was accepted or enlarged by each committee with jurisdiction over the military budget. Evidently, most Congressmen are belatedly realizing the dangers that continued cuts in our defense budgets have wrought on our national defense. Studies by both the CIA and Library of Congress have concluded that "the quantitative military balance since 1965 has shifted considerably in favor of the Soviet Union." The danger is real. As important as the fact that it is being perceived as real by those in charge of defense policy and funds, so that something is being done to correct past neglect. Less obvious, but no less disturbing, are our manpower problems. Bigger and better arms do no use any good without the personnel to operate and support them. The Soviet Union has a considerably larger manpower supply than we do, and yet we are already devoting 57% of our defense budget to personnel costs. The Defense Department is forced to spend increasing amounts for fewer men, primarily because the costs of maintaining an all-volunteer force are so high and are continuing to rise. I have always contended that the volunteer army could never succeed; recently published reports only strengthen that conviction. The Defense Manpower Commission, a special commission created by Congress to study military manpower problems, came to the frightening conclusion that "in the event of sudden major hostilities, our volunteer force...in time would be unable to conduct sustained operations and could be annihilated." The Commission also expressed concern over the ability of the armed forces to attract quality recruits in times of economic prosperity without further increasing inducements and thus taking an even bigger chunk out of the defense budget. Many of the armed services have had difficulties attracting qualified recruits even in times of high civilian unemployment and have accepted too many youths who should never have been admitted. The case of Lynn McClure is one tragic example of this failure. Something needs to be done. In my view, the only ultimate answer is to reinstate the draft, and my bill to do so is still pending in Congress. Legislation to reinstate at least a standby draft for reserves should be supported. The issue is too critical to continue to be ignored.

"Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? And in thy name have cast out devils? And in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity." Mt. 7:21-23. "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men" Mt. 15:9.

From these verses we learn IT IS NOT ENOUGH TO BE RELIGIOUS! Many think that being religious is enough to assure them of a mansion above in the next life.

Consider the subjects of conversion in the book of Acts. The Jews who "gladly received his word were baptized." (Ac. 2:41) and were added to the church (Ac. 2:47). These Jews were "devout men, out of every nation under heaven" (Acts 2: 5). Therefore, prior to their salvation through Christ, they were religious people, but unsaved -- they and their rulers had crucified the Son of God.

"The eunuch" had come to Jerusalem for worship, was returning -- when Philip found him (Ac. 8:27, 28). Philip "began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus." (Ac. 8:35). Later Philip baptized this religious man (Ac. 8:36-40). Why was he baptized? To be saved (Mt. 16:16).

These and numerous other examples of the conversion of religious folk show that it is indeed not enough to be religious. ONE MUST BE RELIGIOUSLY RIGHT! Send your Bible questions or comments to Glenn Melton, 306 N. Beach, Woodville, Tx. 75979 Phone: 283-5402.

Eternal Vigil

Salt air, the beating of heavy waves and rains -- these are just a few of the elements that a ship must face constantly. With all of these things, it is little wonder that the crew must be alert, looking for rust and other damage. New paint to protect the ship must be applied regularly.

An individual faces many things in this world, that would rust and corrupt his life, therefore it is good to begin each week with a renewing of spirit; that can be obtained only through worship in the Lord's house.

THE CHURCH IS GOD'S appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
