Board To Set Election Date For New High School

This Monday Night

The Woodville Independent School District will meet Monday, June 28 in special session at 7 p.m. for the purpose of calling a bond election to be held in September on a date to be determined at the called meeting.

The action comes following an appeal by School Service League member Ed Eastham who met with the board to ask that they set an actual date for the bond vote. Eastham met with the board during their last meeting on June 15.

The trustees apparently feel that since land rights have been secured for a new high school facility in the form of an "attractive" 40-acre site located just off the Chester Highway that the "time was right" to call an election. The site, which is part of a 149.5 acre tract owned by Robert Sutton was signed over to the board on May 4 in the form of an option which expires in December 1977 and has been "walked over" by the school board and their architect who feel it is a good location for a new school.

Eastham met with the board a week ago last Monday to ask that firm action be taken regarding the board's actually setting a bond election date.

The board responded and recorded that intent in the minutes of the meeting which actually will not become "official" until approved at the next meeting of the board.

The School Service League, which considers itself the "helpful arm" of the school board has been in existence for just over one year. The League has been involved in only one bond vote attempt which was unsuccessful by a margin of 91 votes.

The district itself has failed in five previous attempts over a period of 10 years to pass school improvement bonds.

"We've got to try again," said Ann Garner, the League's principal spokeswoman. "The conditions in the school are in great need of repair. The children deserve better than this," she added.

"We're here to assist the board in any way we can and we're ready to go when they are. We hope its soon."

Superintendent Tom Linam said the schools present condition "Offered no room to expand."

"The only space we have left are in closets and utility rooms," Linam said.

At present there is no study hall facility at the school.

The district's bondsman Noel Johnson of Houston will be present at the called meeting on Monday to advice the board as to the best date to call the election.

The school district's architect, Moore, Stansbury and Vaught Inc., of Port Arthur will be represented by Jack Stansbury for questions concerning the schools construction.

Five other landowners who own property adjacent to the tract on which the board holds an option, have granted 50-foot rights of way leading to and from the property. The terms of these options also expire in December 1977.

According to School Superintendent Linam, the best way to pass a bond issue is to mobilize the maximum number in favor and have them all working continuously until the bond is passed.

The School Service League met recently and divided up committee responsibilities regarding voter registration "to get all the positive votes needed to pass the bond."

School officials say they "need to get across the urgency of the situation."

According to Garner, "The School Service League voted to support the same plan for a high school and as a result of that plan all children will be in adequate, comfortable buildings."

As many eyewitnesses already know, our kindergarten through second grade building and part of the high school building, are substandard when compared to other schools in Texas.

"No amount of paint and patchwork can remedy the problem...the young people of the Woodville Independent School District deserve better."

The School Service League member went on to say that "A successful bond election will provide only for necessity's...not luxuries."

"The people of the district depend on the bond election system to see that their basic needs are met," she added.

Commissioners Act On Personnel, Tax Board

WOODVILLE—Meeting in special session Friday and Monday, the Tyler County Commissioners Court moved to correct several personnel irregularities in the Sheriff's Department and organized a Board of Equalization.

First action at the 10 a.m. Monday session was the organization of the Board of Equalization. The commissioners adjourned the court meeting temporarily, came to order as the Board of Equalization and took the oath of office collectively.

Court To Convene Every Monday, 9a.m.

County Judge Tom Dick Mann issued a statement Tuesday that the Commissioners court intends to meet every Monday at 9 a.m. in official session; to try, he said, to tackle the county's business by keeping in better touch with the public and the flow of county finances.

Mann indicated that he felt the decision to meet regularly would influence more public input at the meeting and would allow a greater amount of time to tend to county business.

Judge Mann said "The Commissioners have agreed as a whole to the idea and will meet this Monday, June 28 at 9 a.m. in their first official session."

The meeting will be held in addition to the regular monthly meeting which occurs on each second Monday at 10 a.m.

The Commissioners will meet in the Commission Courtroom located on the first floor of the Courthouse in Woodville.

The court then set the dates for the Board to convene, as follows: August 9-10, for individuals; August 11, for timber companies; and August 12, for oil, gas and railroad companies. All meetings are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m.

Board member, Leon Fowler told the group that he would be in favor of pay raises for county employees. County Auditor, Earl King added that "next to Newton County" Tyler County had the lowest employee salaries. A person in the audience volunteered the statement that Newton County has passed Tyler County, due to taxes from liquor sales.

The Board of Equalization was recessed and the Commissioners' Court meeting was resumed. Discussion of the personnel problem in the Sheriff's Department stopped until Sheriff Lewis Craven could be summoned to the courtroom.

While waiting for Craven, the commissioners heard Mrs. Frances Howell of Dam B explain that Mariandale Odom said he would not drive his school bus down the Mount Neches Road until it was resurfaced. According to Mrs. Howell, Odom's bus was damaged while traveling over the road during the last week of school in May.

Mrs. Howell then asked the court what she should do to get the road repaired. Commissioner Bo Jordan replied that the road was not completely county-owned, and that some dirt had been spread on the county's portion.

Commissioner H.M. Parks added that Mrs. Howell was probably paying a road tax to the owners of the subdivision, so they were the ones who should be repairing the road.

In other discussion, Mary Jack Crawford of Colmesneil asked the court if the county was going to furnish trash bags for residents to carry their garbage to the county dump during the 90-day period that the solid waste pick-ups are discontinued.

County Judge Tom Dick Mann answered that "each individual will have to handle their own" until the program can be reorganized.

Craven entered the courtroom and the discussion of the personnel matter resumed. Jaller Robert Jones had been hired as an extra dispatcher by the court at its April 12 meeting, "providing that it does not interfere with the present hour and wage laws."

Jones duties, however, were described by Craven during the Monday meeting as serving papers and performing duties around the jail. Judge Mann said that Jones was hired as "dispatcher" to get around the hour and wage law. The law states that a sheriff's department comes under the law if it has five or more deputies.

King told the court, "In my opinion there have been some illegal purchases made. As a dispatcher he (Jones) did not have a gas allowance." Records show that Jones filled his gas tank twice in one day on one occasion and purchased gas at Village Mills in Hardin County on another.

A remedy to the situation was asked by Judge Mann. "If he's a dispatcher he'll be a dispatcher; if he's a deputy, he'll be a deputy," said Mann.

"I never did suggest that you (the court) give him the title," said Craven. Judge Mann agreed, replying that he wished to change it now.

Commissioner Parks moved that the court rescind the April 12 action which authorized Craven to hire an additional dispatcher. Commissioner Joe Best seconded the motion and it passed unanimously.

Commissioner Fowler stated that he was opposed to paying any expenses made by Jones while serving as "dispatcher." Commissioner Parks agreed, saying, "I think he's misused it some."

A total of $223.30 was charged to the county by Jones during the two months of his employment as dispatcher.

Craven finally agreed to "take care of it myself." Craven then asked the court to reconsider the purchase of a new sheriff's car. He listed problems with the present car including the transmission, air conditioning and lights. He said the car has approximately 140,000 miles on it now, and "it would not be good business to fix it."

Commissioner Parks replied that the court was considering hiring a county mechanic to try and reduce repair costs. He added that he (Parks) needed a new truck, too, but "There's no way" the county could buy it now. The commissioner went on to ask Craven about the use of the departments' car.

The discussion ended and Judge Mann told Craven to get several bids for repairs to his current car.

A motion was made by Commissioner Fowler requiring repair bills and gas purchases to be signed by the person making the bill and to have the license number of the automobile on each bill. Commissioner Jordan seconded the motion and it passed unanimously.

Commissioner Fowler then told the court that if King had stopped the Jones matter two months ago, "We wouldn't be doing this today."

"It's my responsibility," replied King, "...but its everybody's responsibility, too."

County Clerk Allen Sturrock reported that Commissioner Fowler turned in 11 credit cards from his precinct. (Continued On Page 3-A)

Deborah Cockrell Recognizes New Queen

Spurlock Is Farm Bureau Queen

CHESTER—Phyllis Spurlock of Hillister was selected Tyler County Farm Bureau Queen for 1976 at the bureau's quarterly meeting Sunday, June 19.

Barney and Sharon Bryant, who entertained the audience with singing and guitar playing, were named the winners of the Talent Fund, also held during the evening.

First runner-up in the Queen Contest was Cynthia Mitchon of Colmesneil.

During the business meeting, which followed, the members voted to raise the annual dues to $20, effective August 1.

Miss Spurlock will advance to the District 9 Queen Contest scheduled for August 3 in Liberty. She was valedictorian of the Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar last summer and is planning to enter Baylor University as a pre-med major in the fall. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elton Spurlock.

Rhonda Fowler, Miss Tyler County 1976, attended as a visiting queen.

Judges for the Queen Contest were Mrs. Jean Yarborough of Livingston, Mr. Sidney Hill of Raywood and Mrs. Wanda Whittington of Liberty. Tally clerk was Mrs. Maggie Pryor of Woodville.

Bullock Issues Tax Warning

AUSTIN—Comptroller Bob Bullock warned last week that many Texas businesses are ignoring the use tax and may run into costly problems when visited by his auditors.

"It's called the sales AND use tax," said Bullock. "But too many people don't understand what the second part of that means."

The Comptroller said the biggest part of the problem is with businesses that do not sell retail goods, have no sales and use tax permit, and never think about the tax when they buy equipment from outside the state.

"A bank, television or radio station, or any business requiring specialized equipment may buy that equipment from out-of-state without paying the Texas sales tax," he said. "In all those cases, however, they owe the Texas use tax on the total cost of the purchase."

In fact, said Bullock, the use tax is due on any goods bought from out-of-state and then put to business or personal use, without being resold.

Also, last week, Bullock mailed checks totaling $48.9 million to 846 cities and towns as the June rebate of the one-cent city sales tax they collect.

Rebate totals of Tyler County cities, according to the Comptroller's office, were as follows: Chester, $547.23; Colmesneil, $760.40 and Woodville, $13,198.14.

Lions Set Dinner

Members of Magnolia Lodge No. 495, A.F. & A.M. and their guests from the Texas Lodge of Research plant a symbolic "Liberty Tree" in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The event took place Saturday in front of the Masonic Temple in Woodville.

Accent on Health

Statistics may never cure a cancer, but they can enable physicians from throughout Texas to make decisions affecting the outcome of cases, reports the Texas Department of Health Resources.

The Cancer Information Services of the Department is compiling information about different cancer treatments, their locations in the body and treatment procedures which can cure cancer or extend the lives of the victims.

Information can be used by physicians in determining survival rates and end results on cancer patients. It can be used in cancer investigations and research, as well as in professional education. Different physicians can compare therapy results to find the best treatment procedure.

At present, Texas has 180 hospitals with more than 100 beds. Currently, 52 hospitals participate in the Cancer Information Service and 17 others have indicated an interest in joining the system. Goal is to have all hospitals with more than 100 beds participating. The expanded service would pick up more than 90 percent of new cancer cases and establish a method for closer follow-up with cancer patients who are receiving treatment or who have been treated.

"Any hospital with a cancer program which desires approval by the American College of Surgeons must have a 90 percent follow-up on cancer patients," says Amelia Menchetti, with the Chronic Disease Division of the Department.

The Department of Health Resources system is an adjunct to the hospital and provides the base for their tumor registry program, she said. Objectives of a Cancer Information Center are:

1. To support existing tumor registry programs in Texas with centralized computer capabilities;
2. To encourage continuing care of cancer patients through a systematic follow-up system;
3. To provide accurate cancer data in each hospital as well as in each Public Health Region of the state;
4. To provide cancer morbidity and survival information which can be used in evaluating, education programs and;
5. To provide an information base for more detailed epidemiological studies on the causes and treatment of cancer.

The basic goal of the program is the continuing care of the cancer patient to stimulate follow-up treatment. "If doctors and patients know that we have basic information and are interested in a follow-up, it will help in getting the patient back into the doctor's office," said Ms. Menchetti.

By having all the information and drawing it from a large population, physicians can determine what modality of treatment is best for their individual patients, she said. "Doctors can look at the broad picture over a period of years or by using case histories of many patients to determine a treatment regimen," said Ms. Menchetti.

Variations in cancer not only by nationality but by areas of the state may become more apparent when the registry is extended.

It is known, for example, that there is more skin cancer in certain areas than elsewhere. Statistics may show, for example, whether there is a higher incidence of liver or kidney and bladder cancers in metropolitan areas or more carcinogens in the atmosphere.

Clear trends in some cancers have been found. For instance, the overall incidence of lung cancer among men is increasing. But, among black men the incidence is substantially higher. The most common cancer in the male is cancer of the lungs, and about 95 percent of patients die in the first year since few cases are diagnosed in the early stages.

With detailed information from each patient in every hospital, comparisons can be made. Comprehensive studies are being made, and statistical data will enable researchers to do further epidemiological studies.

The end result will be better treatment and a better survival rate, but Ms. Menchetti emphasizes one point: "Continuing treatment for cancer is continuing."

Folklife Festival Seeks Old Schoolhouse

SAN ANTONIO-The Texas Folklife Festival is looking for an authentic, old and small Texas schoolhouse to be restored on the grounds of the Institute of Texas Cultures during the festival August 5-6. Heading up the search are O.T. Baker, manager of the Festival, Bartlett Cooke, chairman of the board of Bartlett Cooke Associates, Inc., Architects, and Jack R. Maguire, executive director of the Institute. The Institute is part of The University of Texas at San Antonio.

Bentsen Speaks On Estate Taxes

WASHINGTON D.C.-Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Friday June 23 said changes in the estate tax approved by the Senate Finance Committee will strengthen the family farm and ranch and the family owned business in Texas.

Bentsen, a member of the Finance Committee, had previously urged the Committee to favorably consider his legislation increasing the estate tax exemption to $200,000. He warned that excessive estate taxes are breaking up family farms and businesses in Texas by forcing the widows and children to sell their property.

The measure approved by the Committee includes portions of the bill offered by Bentsen and portions of measures proposed by other Senators.

It would replace the existing estate tax exemption with a $200,000 credit against the estate tax which would gradually increase to a $500,000 credit by 1981. This would be the equivalent of a $200,000 exemption as compared to the current exemption of $60,000.

"This very significant change would substantially ease the burden currently imposed by the estate tax," Senator Bentsen said.

"From all evidence the Federal inheritance tax is helping break up the family farm, ranch and business and I am pleased that the Finance Committee has acted to remedy this problem."

The Committee bill includes provisions by Bentsen against artificially high land valuations that drive up the estate tax. It prohibits an existing Internal Revenue Service practice of assessing some farm land as its commercial rather than its agricultural value for estate tax purposes.

IRS Suggests Good Tax Record Keeping

AUSTIN-A tax refund check is the mail, does not mean your income tax return has been accepted as filed.

Robert M. McKeever, District Director for IRS in southern Texas said, "A refund only indicates that the initial processing of the return has been completed." He added that some taxpayers who have received refunds are surprised when notified their returns have been selected for audit.

The tax official explained that it takes several weeks to process such large numbers of returns and an audit may not take place until months after the refund check arrives.

Generally, the law provides that IRS can audit a tax return up to three years from the time the return is due or filed. This time period also applied to keeping records. Taxpayers are required to keep their records until the three year statute of limitations runs out, according to the director.

Although the law does not specify the type of records the taxpayer should keep, McKeever suggested the receipts, cancelled checks, bills, and other written documents are helpful during audits.

Some records should be held even longer than the required three years. For example, property records should be kept for as long as they are useful in determining the basis of the original or replacement property.

More information on recordkeeping requirements can be found in the IRS Publication 552, "Recordkeeping - A Guide to Tax Publications," available at IRS offices.

The great fishing may not materialize, but the possibility certainly exists.

Numerous anglers are expected to be on hand for the opening of the lake, according to Leroy Williamson, P&WD information officer in Tyler.

Fishermen should be prepared for long lines at the boat ramp, Williamson advised, will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The park site and boat ramp is located off Hwy. 43 several miles west of Tatum in Rusk County.

No fee will be charged to use the boat ramp until permanent park facilities are constructed.

The lake is reported to have a lot of shoreline for its size.

In addition to what is expected to be an excellent supply of native fish, Martin Creek has been stocked over the past two years with Florida bass, walleye, catfish and a hybrid cross of the striped bass and white bass.

In ideal conditions, both Florida bass and the hybrid white/striped bass have been known to attain growth rates of three pounds per year.

Walleye are beginning to have an impact on the total Rayburn fish population.

P&WD fisheries workers were surprised at the number of white and spotted (Kentucky) bass netted in the net samples, with 52 percent of the catch and both seem to be increasing.

Seine samples at Rayburn also picked up large amounts of young largemouth bass.

Particularly encouraging was the number of walleye netted - some two percent of the total catch.

Seidensticker said a percentage could mean the introduced species are beginning to take in the upper, middle and lower regions of the lake.

Applications are now being accepted for funds from the 1976 Forestry Incentives Program (FIP).

The program is a nationwide cost-sharing program to help private landowners increase the production of forest products on their land.

Since the majority of funds allocated to Texas will be committed by local committees within three months after appropriation, landowners should not wait to submit an application.

Although the national program remains the same, some changes have been made in the Texas guidelines for this year.

One-fourth of the Texas funds have been allocated for long-term agreements (3 to 8 years), and the enrollment will be the month of August.

Under a long-term agreement, a cooperator is guaranteed cost-shares each year for the period of the agreement.

The Texas Forestry Service serves in the state as technical adviser for the program. Service foresters inspect every site and prepare forest management plans tailored to site productivity and owner objectives.

Some consultants foresters have been authorized to perform these services, but their fees are not included in the cost-shares.

Since funds are not adequate, a priority rating system has been set up. It gives first priority to sites which have the best potential for fiber production.

Marginal sites will be considered only if they are large enough to provide an economic return.

The Forestry Incentives Program is not a loan program for farmers. It incentives the goal of the Forestry Commission on Timber and the Environment.

To encourage timber production on private, non-industrial lands, landowners or leased by companies already are intensively managed for wood fiber production.

Despite short-term restrictions on timber harvesting, long-range trends indicate the value of timber will continue to increase.

Rather than a regulatory approach requiring landowners to plant trees, this program applies a cash incentive approach.

Because two-thirds of the forest land in the South is in tracts smaller than 500 acres, a significant increase in timber production on these lands is essential.

Public funds to avoid an inflationary increase in housing costs, paper, and other wood products.

Aside from furthering our national goals, what are the advantages to an individual landowner? Obviously, the Forestry Incentives Program can provide important capital improvements for a small investment.

The long-range goals depend on the individual.

Colorado Fish Is Not Piranha

BRADY-What was first thought to be a piranha found on a routine in the upper Colorado River in the state of Colorado.

The fish was found to be a harmless plant-eating fish.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department inland fisheries biologist Roger McCabe had identified the fish as a "pacu," a South American species similar to the piranha.

The piranha-like fish was first discovered by a Brownsville fisherman on the Colorado River near Brady.

It weighed 1 3/4 pounds and measured 13 inches in length.

Parks and Wildlife Commissioners in 1974 named piranhas and other groups of potentially harmful fish from importation into Texas.

The fish was found to be a harmless plant-eating fish.

By ALAN MILLER, Director, Public Information Temple-Eastex Incorporated

I have come to the reluctant conclusion that constant widening exposure by the country's newspapers, radio and television commentators is the only possible solution to the pervasiveness and intrigue that pervades present-day Washington D.C.

We have no one to blame but ourselves for letting it happen, but the fact seems patently apparent that none of our elected representatives are going to act, not when they have feathered their nests so extravagantly the past twenty years or so.

Twenty years ago, you and I could support Congressional activities, excluding salaries for about 70 million dollars a year. Today, that same Congress costs us a billion dollars a year, and no end in sight to the fringe benefits you and I never hear about.

Twenty years ago, 5,000 men and women were all the staff that was required to support office and committee activities. Today, there are 20,000 people performing the same jobs, none of whom can cope with the myriad of bad legislation that has gotten on the books in the intervening years.

And still, the huge budget deficits continue, and not one candidate for President, Republican or Democrat has offered a solution to that problem. But of course, in their eyes, if you aren't specific, who can get mad at you, and vote for the other guy. Better to not rock the boat, promise everybody something and after the election, do as you darn well please.

I suppose you should feel sorry for those legislators who have allegedly been caught in corrupt situations, or padding expense accounts, or hiring

Holiday Pinings
By Kathy Kinneop

Holiday Pines Lodge had a Flag Day program. Janie Ashworth and Mary Hicks of the Spurger Home Demonstration Club gave a well-planned presentation of the history and construction of our flag. They assembled the flag on a 3 by 5 inch frame and explained the symbolism of every part of it. All of the residents applauded as the flag was completed. The program revived our patriotism and reminded us of how lucky we are to be a part of these United States.

Last week we took a ride out between Hillister and Warren - nearby Reverend Claude Read's home and the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church. We checked out the old swimming hole at Theviums Creek (flooded, to most of us). We're really anxious to go wading when we're at the beach.

Mrs. DeLoach brought some of the young people belonging to Woodville First Baptist Church folk singing group to celebrate our June birthdays. They are called "The Revelation" and Jeff Fretschberg is their director. Jill Crawford and Cherisa Sherrod sang several numbers accompanied by Cherisa and Becky Sherrod on the piano. We were celebrating the birthdays of George Carr, John Edgings, Annie McCall, Mamie Ogden and Joe Vinson.

Church Identity (3)

Salvation is through the blood of Christ but not conditionally.

On what terms did Jesus intend that salvation be offered to men? Speaking to the apostles in Mark 16:16 He said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." In Luke 24:47 Jesus adds "repentance" to the requirements. Paul informs us that confession of Christ as Lord precedes salvation (Rom. 10:9,10).

In Acts 2:36-38 inquiring sinners asked what they must do (they had killed the Son of God). Peter said, "...repent and be baptized...for the remission of sins..." Would you say he was following the instructions of Christ?

In Acts 8:12 the Samaritans "...believed...and were baptized..." The eunuch confessed Christ and was baptized (Acts 8:35-40). The jailer (Acts 16:30-33) believed and was baptized. Saul of Tarsus was baptized washing away his sins (Acts 22:16).

When these first century people were baptized, they passed from the service of the devil to the service of God. They "rose to walk in newness of life" (Romans 6:3-5). Baptism put one into Christ where salvation is (Gal. 3:27; II Tim. 2:10). Baptism is in order to remit man's sins (Acts 2:38). Baptism is to put one into the body of Christ which is His church (I Cor. 12:13; Eph. 1:22,23). NOTE: salvation and church membership came at the same time.

Summarizing you can see that men believed on Christ as God's Son, turned from their sins in repentance, confessed their faith in Christ and were baptized for the remission of their sins.

Does the church of which you are a member conform to this identifying feature of the New Testament church? Send your Bible questions or comments to Glenn Melton, 305 N. Beach, Woodville, Texas 75797, Phone: 283-5402.

GOD LOOKS ON THE HEART

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man's first reactions to another is based on outward appearances, and only time will help him to know the heart of another. God knows, immediately, every attitude of the heart, whether it is good or bad.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

There are many rewards for those that follow the Lord. "Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

Colossian 4:13
