NEW PLAN LIMITS LOCAL SCHOOL TAXES

By BECKY BROWN
The Lufkin News

AUSTIN — A special House committee studying school finance has recommended the state limit local school taxes and enrichment programs while funding 100 per cent of the basic school program costs.

Legislation receiving the panel's final blessing Monday outlines a $1-billion school finance plan for the next biennium that lifts the burden of financing the schools' minimum foundation program from the backs of local property taxpayers.

As previously decided, the panel recommended the state pick up the entire cost of the foundation program instead of the 75 per cent portion now borne by the state.

The committee proposed districts be required to lower property taxes to reflect the savings afforded them by the 100 per cent state funding. Districts could raise additional funds within local enrichment limits, but only after submitting the proposals for local voter approval.

The legislation approved on a 6 to 1 vote will be presented to the 65th Legislature convening January. Gov. Dolph Briscoe has already announced his proposal for an $850 million school finance plan.

The Special House Committee on Alternatives to Public School Finance was appointed by House Speaker Bill Clayton to study an issue that has dominated the last two legislative sessions.

Committee members indicated they believe their bill will answer the question of equality of education opportunity in Texas while aiding local property taxpayers.

"Full state funding of the foundation school program . . . and coupled with local spending limitations, will meet court tests of making a student's educational opportunities a function of the wealth of the state as a whole, not just that of the district in which he resides," read a statement issued by the committee.

Rep. Wilhelmina Delco of Austin tried unsuccessfully to delete the limitation in the bill on local enrichment. "One man's local enrichment is another man's quality education program," she said.

The panel did accept a Delco motion to increase by five per cent the amount districts may spend for so-called enrichment programs. Districts would be allowed under the bill to spend 15 per cent more than spent for enrichment per student during the preceding year.

Delco, a former Austin Independent School District trustee, said she has "no quarrel with the concept of a cap on extras."

But, she said, "I found this limit on local enrichment detrimental to major school districts in the state."

Many of the programs funded in part with "enrichment funds" in such districts as Austin, Houston and Dallas, she said, meet basic needs of disadvantaged children living in the metropolitan areas.

"And most of the black students are in seven districts which under the formula will get very little equalization aid," said Delco, who is a black.

The bill "helps poor students who live in poor districts but does nothing for poor students living in rich districts," Delco said.

Retirees Club Plays Host To Lions Club

The Tyler County Retirees Club played host to the Woodville Lions Club on Tuesday of this week at the Lions Den east of town. Above, left, is A. G. Thomas incoming president and W. E. O'Quinn outgoing president. Installation of new officers will be held at their next meeting on the third Tuesday in January.

Pictured above is a group of the more than 125 that attended the get-together to thank the local Lions Club for their generosity for letting the retirees use the hall for their monthly meetings.

Feed time came suddenly as everyone formed four lines and helped themselves to the many platters of turkey and other fine foods prepared by the wives of the retirees. A good time was had by all and the chow was excellent.

Medicare Bills May Count On '76 and '77 Deductible

Doctor bills for October, November, and December may in some cases count toward the $60 annual deductible for both 1976 and 1977 under the "carryover" provision of Medicare medical insurance, according to social security officials here.

"Medicare medical insurance can't help pay for your covered medical expenses until your record shows you've had $60 in covered medical expenses in a calendar year," a spokesman said. "But people who haven't had $60 in covered expenses before October should be sure to send in all the bills for covered services they receive in October, November, or December.

"Any expenses you have during the last 3 months of the year that can be counted toward your deductible for that year can also be counted toward the deductible for the next year," he said.

The carryover rule helps people who might otherwise have to pay the $60 deductible twice in a short period of time—at the end of one year and at the beginning of the next year, the spokesman explained.

Bills for covered medical services should be attached to a filled-out Request for Medicare Payment form and sent to the health insurance organization that handles Medicare claims in this area. Request for Medicare Payment forms are available at any social security office and at many doctors' offices.

Medicare medical insurance helps pay for doctor bills and many other medical expenses of people 65 and over, of disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for at least 24 consecutive months, and of many people with permanent kidney failure.

Medical insurance is the voluntary part of Medicare, funded by individual premiums and Federal general revenues. Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

You need a chuckle . . .

E. K. ("Foxy") Wilcox of Valdosta, Ga., is noted throughout the standardized outdoor advertising industry for his colorful Georgia humor. We didn't hear this story from him; somehow we were never around when he told it. But we did catch up with it last month in a conversation at the Junior Panel Outdoor Advertising Assn. convention. We heard it from Jim Connolly of Donnelly in Boston, who is equally known for his appreciation of a good story and his ability to pass it along without losing any of the flavor.

As Wilcox tells it, via Jim Connolly: He was driving along a back road near Valdosta one day. It was a one-lane affair, and when he caught up with a truck he was unable to pass it.

Suddenly, the lurching truck screeched to a halt. The driver jumped out and scrambled around the truck, beating on the sides and back with a club, setting up quite a racket. Then he jumped back into the driver's seat and drove forward again.

They had not proceeded far when the truck stopped again, and again the driver got out and bent on the sides and back with the club. And again he jumped back in and took off with a lurch.

The process had been repeated several times when Wilcox's curiosity got the upper hand. Next time the truck stopped, he quickly braked his car, jumped out and met the driver alongside the truck. He asked the fellow what all this beating against the sides and back could be about.

"Oh, that," exclaimed the truck driver, as he paused to catch his breath. "Mister, this truck is rated to hold only 2½ tons, and I've got nigh on to 5 tons of chickens in there."

"I've got to keep half of 'em flying 'til I get home, or I'll be apt to have a breakdown."

HOW'S THIS FOR A NICE CATCH?

Just a stone's throw from downtown Dam B there's a place called Hill's Hollow. And Mae Hill, proprietor, caters to the needs of fishermen and sportsmen in the area as well as to the permanent and weekenders in the area. She took this photo recently of a prize catch by Poston White of Nederland and Gerald Lee of Houston. It is just a sample of the many photos she has in her store. These were caught at the river bridge at Dam B. Thanks, Mrs. Hill, for the photo and patronage.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill, Attorney General

Austin—According to the skillful experience of job-hunters with those required for available jobs, that's the service provided by reputable private employment agencies. They have to be fairly successful at it, too, or they wouldn't stay in business for long. Because they obtain most of their profile from a percentage of salaries of the applicants they place with firms. But some consumers have run into problems with private employment agencies. Our Consumer Protection Division advises that it usually happens when applicants fail to check on the agency's reputation before doing business there. What types of complaints do we have? About 75 percent of consumers have complained that unscrupulous agencies advertise jobs that don't really exist, just to get prospective clients in the door. Others have said that employment agency "counselors" have failed to match applicants and jobs accurately. This can result in an overqualified person who quickly becomes dissatisfied with the requirements of the job, or an underqualified person with whom the company quickly becomes dissatisfied.

The Attorney General's Labor Division represents the interests of consumers in the job market. The State agency has jurisdiction over private employment agencies. Our Labor Division lawyers point out that Texas law covers persons who are placed, in a job by an employment agency if the job lasts less than 90 days. Such a job is considered "temporary employment" and the agency cannot charge more than 20 percent of gross earnings if the applicant terminates the job for "good cause" within the first 30 days. "Good cause" means that salary, working hours or shifts, type of work, or location of the job are different than agreed upon; the agency placed the applicant in a job requiring skills or physical ability beyond his or her capabilities; the job is eliminated because of strike, layoff, or workforce reduction; or because of immoral or illegal activities of the employer.

If an applicant thinks a refund or adjustment is due because of any of the above, a request should be made to the employment agency within 30 days of termination. The agency then must make the

Hints on laundry problems

COLLEGE STATION—Even when care label instructions are followed perfectly, consumers may find problems occurring with home laundry. Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist, says:

Some of these problems are shrinking, tearing, fading, loss of fabric body, and mysterious spots appearing on the clothes, she added. Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Many troubles often relate to fabric quality and performance, rather than clothing care practices, but proper laundry procedures can lengthen the life of garments and produce cleaner clothes."

To reduce garment shrinkage, look for shrinkage control guarantees on labels when buying clothes and avoid using hot water and high-drying temperatures, she advises. "Shape may be restored to some garments by blocking them while wet. But when garments have not been properly preshrunk by the manufacturer, little can be done to prevent shrinkage with the first wash. Some fabrics, especially knit, have a progressive shrink which causes them to shrink with subsequent washings," she said. Tearing may be caused by over use of chlorine bleach, overloading machine, too low water level, garments not mended before washing, and hooks and zippers not properly closed or fastened. Pading problems can be reduced by checking labels for colorfastness information when buying and by avoiding use of chlorine bleach and hot water on noncolorfast clothes. "Loss of fabric body is usually a fabric performance problem. Finishes which are applied to garments by manufacturers are sometimes only temporary and are removed by the first washing."

ANOTHER BIG ONE—With all the big rattlesnakes they've been killing around here it's a good thing it's winter time. And, thank goodness, their critters are cold blooded and can't crawl. Any way, this 'n was killed by Daniel R Crosby Sr. out FM 2992 way. His squirrel dog discovered it south of Deer Train near the Smith Hardin Club. Of course, Mr Crosby moved in with his 22 rifle and shot it's head off. One shot did it and the varmint had twelve rattlers. —Staff Photo

Elderly among high fire risks
COLLEGE STATION—People over 65 represent a high risk group in burn injuries, according to a report by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist, reported recently. "However, since it's hard to differentiate clothing for this group from other adults, no strict standards for flame resistant clothing for flame resistant clothing for adults have been set," she said. The specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Beverly Rhoades, said. Progress is being made to provide protection from death or injury due to burning clothing. And this high risk group can exercise certain safety precautions to help avoid serious or fatal accidents, she said. "Close fitting garments are less hazardous. Avoid flares in clothes such as flaring skirts or pants and flowing robes. Other potential hazards are ties, sashes or tie belts and ruffles." The specialist advised older adults to exercise extreme caution when using flame heaters. Be the source of heat in the home. Be careful not to get too close and watch that clothing is not brushed by the flame. In cooking, avoid loose fitting clothes, particularly long, full sleeves, that can easily be ignited by a surface unit or gas burner. When smoking, remember that smoking in bed when asleep or smoking around medical equipment with oxygen creates serious fire hazards," Miss Rhoades said. She reminded that some fibers, such as wool and modacrylic, are inherently flame retardant. Other fibers, such as rayon, acetate, polyester and nylon, can be treated to make them flame retardant. ### Tax-exempt income guide offered AUSTIN—A guide to cover reporting of unrelated business income by religious, philanthropic, and other organizations exempt from federal income taxes, is now available. The Internal Revenue Service said. The Publication 598, "Taxes on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations," may be obtained free of charge at many local IRS offices. Exempt organizations are not required to pay taxes on income from business activities related to their tax-exempt purposes. They may be liable for income taxes on unrelated business activities, and are required to file Form 990-B, "Exempt Organization Business Income Return," the IRS said. For example, religious organizations may own a factory manufacturing popular styles of men's shirts. Because the factory's operations are not related to Organization "A's" tax-exempt purposes, any profit from the shoe manufacturing business is taxable. The IRS publication covers rates and computation of tax on unrelated business income, the date for filing returns, obtaining extensions of time to file, and exclusions and exceptions relating to certain sources and types of income. Publication 598 also includes examples of taxable unrelated business income and non-taxable income, and discusses defuncted property transactions.

WHO WAS THAT LADY?
Akin to the Revolution, the new American judicial system had to make its own laws about divorce, whereas previous to the separation of the colonies from England, the British system was enforced on the colonists. It provided divorce only by special act of Parliament. There were a few exceptions, however. The first and most famous one was in 1772, when the Pennsylvania Assembly granted a divorce to the wife of a barber. Who was that lady, the first to receive a divorce given in America? She was Elizabeth Keckley.

Free World Oil Drilling Declines

The Houston Chronicle Oil and gas well drilling in the Free World outside the United States and Canada declined during the third quarter of the year. Hughes Tool Co. in a report for the quarter, said 958 rotary drilling rigs were in operation in the area on Sept. 30. This is a drop of 42 rigs from the 1,000 rigs that were in use on June 30. But it is a gain of 32 rigs over the total for the comparable period of 1975. At that time 828 rigs were in operation in the area. Hughes Tool reported 153 active rigs in Asia, reflecting a slowdown from 170 rigs in use, and from 180 rigs in use a year ago when 180 rigs were in operation. Six rigs were active in Australia and New Zealand. In the quarter ended June 30 five rigs were in use. A year ago nine rigs were in operation in the area. # Washington Whirl

As a result of the Washington whirl, John T. Dunlop will be back as secretary of labor. Dunlop, a Harvard professor, quit the Ford Cabinet earlier this year in protest over the President's veto of the common situs picketing bill. Now Mackay is pressing Carter to put Dunlop back in his old post at Labor.

Another top union leader predicts that Carter will move swiftly to implement the promises he made to Big Labor. W. Howard McClennan, president of the AFL-CIO Public Employees Department, says that Carter assured him of support for a proposed national collective bargaining law for state and local government workers, and liberalization of the Hatch Act, which prohibits federal employees from partisan political activities. "Organized labor provided all-out support to the Carter-Mondale candidates on the basis of their endorsement of these programs," McClennan told the Associated Press.

The National Education Association is jubilant over the results of the election. NEA backed 349 candidates for the House, electing 84 per cent, 272 congressmen and 19 senators. NEA also entered the presidential arena for the first time, putting its vast resources behind the Carter-Mandate ticket. Says Carter campaign manager Hamilton Jordan: "The massive support from teachers was critical to our winning. All over the nation, we turned to the NEA for assistance. We asked for their help, and they delivered."

Like it or not, Arlington, Va., taxpayers helped pay for liberal Rep. Joseph Fisher's re-election campaign. Fisher, who is amassing an impressive record for his pro-spending, anti-defense stands in the House, thanked more than 100 Arlington teachers for working on his behalf at the polls on election day. The teachers had taken what the unions call their one day of "civil leave," which is paid for by the taxpayers. The unions pulled out the stops to defeat Fisher's opponent, State Assemblyman Vince Callahan, a staunch proponent of right-to-work laws.

Philadelphia Mayor Frank Rizzo, whose machine turned out a 250,000-vote margin for Carter, has passed the word to the President-elect that he wants something in return—a massive transfusion of federal aid. Rizzo talks in terms of $3 billion to bail out his financially troubled city.

A group of hard-line Democrats has banded together to fight any cuts in defense spending. The group, called the Committee on the Present Danger, will challenge Jimmy Carter and any congressional leaders who try to reduce the Pentagon budget. Leaders of the group include Paul H. Nitze, former deputy defense secretary, former Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler, Eugene V. Rosow, former under secretary of state and Lane Kirkland, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO.

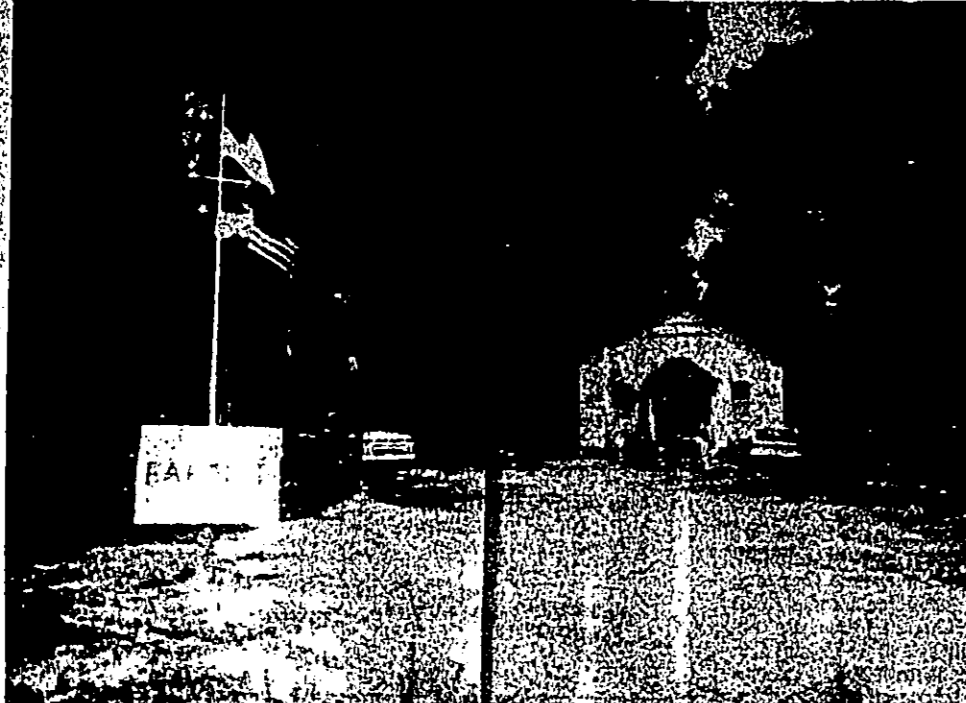

Bella Abzug—who gave up her House seat to run unsuccessfully for the Democratic senatorial nomination—will certainly not be missed by the elevator operators, policemen and other minions on Capitol Hill. Bella's reputation as a tyrant was well-earned. The Washington Post recounted a story last week told by former members of her staff. Abzug telephoned an aide at 6:30 announcing that she would be in the office by 8:15 and wanted breakfast ready. The aide ordered Abzug's usual breakfast—two eggs over, bacon, toast, sweet roll and coffee—and had it on her desk when she walked in. Abzug took one look at the meal, swore, swept the tray to the floor, and said, "I told you I was on a diet!"

Sen. William L. Scott (R-Va.) announced last week that he would not seek re-election in 1978. His true touching of a potential battle royal in both parties. Possible GOP nominees include Gov. Mills Godwin, Representatives Paul Trible, Caldwell Butler, William Whitehurst and Kenneth Robinson, former Rep. Joe Brownell and former GOP State Chairman Richard Obenshain. On the Democratic side, potential candidates include former Lt. Gov. Henry Howell, Atty. Gen. Andrew P. Miller, Rep. Herb Harris, former Sen. William Sprang and retired Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, who ran unsuccessfully for the Senate this year.

Communist Laos is being turned into a vast concentration camp. The New York Times reported last week that tens of thousands of non-Communist Laotians are being confined in forced labor camps, living on minimal food and medical rations. The death rate is high and the penalty for attempted escape is execution. Conditions are similar in North Vietnam, the Times reported, where from 100,000 to 300,000 Vietnamese are locked in "re-education" camps. Here, too, the death rate is steep because of inadequate food and an absence of medical care.

The "Can-you-believe-it?" department. News-week reports that at a sports awards affair in New York, Alger Hiss, convicted of perjury in 1950 after denying he had been an espionage agent for the Soviets, presented a portable typewriter to New York Times columnist Red Smith. (Hiss' own portable typewriter became a key piece of evidence in his case, but Hiss has suggested that damning evidence that presumably came from his typewriter actually came from another machine.) Hiss, a self-described Smith fan, said it was a "sight gag."

While Hiss' action was strange, what some found appalling was that the number of people in the audience rose to give Hiss a hand—the biggest hand of the day, even bigger than that accorded Johnny Bench, the Most Valuable Player of the 1976 World Series. Afterwards, Hiss' Newswatch of the guests at the Sports magazine luncheon lined up to get Hiss' autograph on souvenir baseballs.

questions and answers

Q. I'm 68 and have a chance to earn about $600 in December as a department store Santa. But since I already earned $2,400 the first 6 months of 1976, how would this second job affect my social security benefits?
A. You can earn as much as $2,760 for 1976 and still get your full social security benefit. Over $2,760, $1 in benefits is deducted for each $2 earned. If you took the Santa job, your earnings for the year would be $3,000, and the deduction from your social security benefits would be $120 (half of your earnings over $2,760).

Q. I retired from a State government job at 55 and have been paying income tax on my pension ever since I got back what I paid into the pension fund. Now I'm 62 and will soon be applying for social security. When do I start paying income tax on social security benefits?
A. Social security benefits are tax-free.

FAITH MUST REMAIN FIRM IN THE FACE OF MISFORTUNE

We all have times when things go wrong. And Fortune's in reverse. Yet we're expected to be strong. Though things could not get worse... A strength of which the Scriptures name Examples plain to see:

Like Job, whose faith remained the same Throughout adversity. So why not go to Church this week, whichever one you choose, And listen to the Bible speak; There's not a thing to lose! Then, what those passages command You'll follow to the letter; And let God take your life in hand, To change it for the better! —Gloria Nowak

Colmesneil Girls Lose Opener

The Lufkin News
BROADDUS — The Broaddus girls started off the season in winning fashion here last night, as the Bulldogs B team won over Colmesneil 45-14, and the A team whipped Colmesneil 52-28. Last night's game marked the opening of the season for Broaddus basketball.

Lisa Carrell and Gigi Nell provided most of the offensive punch for the Broaddus A team, as Carrell hit for 22 points and Nell scored 17. Carolyn Edgings also hit in double figures with 10 points, while Rhonda Baker added three.

The Bulldogs broke out to a 6-0 lead in the first period, but saw the early lead vanish as the Colmesneil girls rallied to a 10-4 lead at the end of the opening quarter. Carrell hit a bomb with 3:23 left in the half to give the lead back to Broaddus, and the home team never trailed following the shot. A couple of baskets by Nell and another by Edgings gave Broaddus a narrow 17-15 lead at the half.

The Bulldogs began to get their offensive machine cranked up in the third quarter, as they scored 14 points to pull ahead 31-25 after three periods. Nell, 5-4, and the only senior on the team, poured the nine points to highlight the Broaddus surge.

Carrell then took over in the fourth quarter to score 15 of her game high 32 points, and combined with stiff defense provided by Terry Davenport and Gigi Nell.

Lisa Gilder led Colmesneil in scoring in the A game with 18 points, 12 coming from the free throw line. Gina Pickens scored seven, while Barbara Benton hit two points, and Debbie Rivers added one.

The Broaddus girls will return to action Friday night in Broaddus, for a game with arch rival Zavalla. The girls' dog team, scored 17 points for the evening in Broaddus. (By Bob Kellam)

Eagles Tromp Wolves CB Club, Warren In Final Game 25-14

Woodville's Kirby Eagles managed to get things rolling early to swamp the San Augustine Wolves by a final score of 25-14 in Friday's play.

The swamping came in the first half where they held the Wolves to 25-0. At the end of the first quarter the score stood at 19-0. The Wolves ran only four offensive plays in the first period. They fought back hard but just couldn't overcome the early lead for the Eagles.

San Augustine seemed to be in trouble from the start and lost the ball on Woodville's first punt. Billy Goodman ran 25 yards on the following play for a touchdown. Then Ricky Dumesnel's kick gave the Kirby team a fast 7-0 advantage.

The Eagles then added to their lead when San Augustine fumbled again. Woodville later got the ball on their opponent's 13 which touched off a run of plays which allowed Goodman to run in from one for another score.

The Wolves plight continued for a series of downs. The Eagles took command as a 30-yard pass from Rainey to Blackmon increased the Kirby lead to 19-0. Ricky hadn't took advantage of the next seven point score before the half time ended.

San Augustine couldn't seem to get enough steam going until the last quarter. Woodville wound up in third place with 5-2 in District 17-2A standings.

PIRATES PRIDE

by Denise Lindsey and Paul Ramer

HOMECOMING

The homecoming festivities started Saturday morning with a barbecue sponsored by the Senior Class. The parade began at 2:30 and immediately following there was an Ex-Students Assembly at the High School. The crowning of the queen began at 6:30 p.m. There was a girls and boys game against the Leggett Pirates at 8:30. The cheerleaders did a special routine at halftime. A bonfire was held later Friday night. It was a successful homecoming. Welcome back, ex-students of Spurger High School.

ZAVALLA EDGES PIRATES

The girls basketball team made its best showing of the season thus far last Friday night in a close contest with the Zavalla Eagles in their gym. The Pirates trailed the home team throughout most of the game but settled back to win by one point of the Eagles, before Zavalla's sharpshooting forward Reela Edmonds dropped in six fourth quarter free throws to put the game out of reach as Zavalla gained a 52-47 victory. Edmonds was the game's high scorer with 31 points. Jackie Hattiff led the Pirate scoring with 25 points while Tina Friesley, dividing playing time at forward and guard, scored 10 points and led in rebounding with 4.

LEGGETT WINS 36 - 32

Poor shooting combined with an error prone defense led to the downfall of the Spurger girls basketball team Tuesday night as they were beaten by the Leggett Pirates 36-32. Spurger forwards were able to connect on only 1 or 1.5 from the free throw line and 14 of 59 from the field. It was the third loss for the Pirates, all on the road. Spurger returns to its home court for a Saturday night homecoming encounter against Leggett and a Tuesday night contest with Burkewille. The Junior High Pirates open their season against Lumberton here.

BOYS LOSE TO LEGGETT

The Spurger boys were totally outclassed by the Leggett Pirates and lost to the tune of 83-23. Leggett ran the score to 38-4 at the end of the first quarter and then coasted in for an easy win. Leading the scoring for Spurger was Marcus Hale with 17 points. Spurger returns home for a homecoming game with Leggett Saturday night and Tuesday night game with Burkewille.
