Wreck Injures Jasper Man

A two-car mishap on FM 1746 approximately seven miles east of Woodville resulted in minor injuries to a Jasper man Friday night.

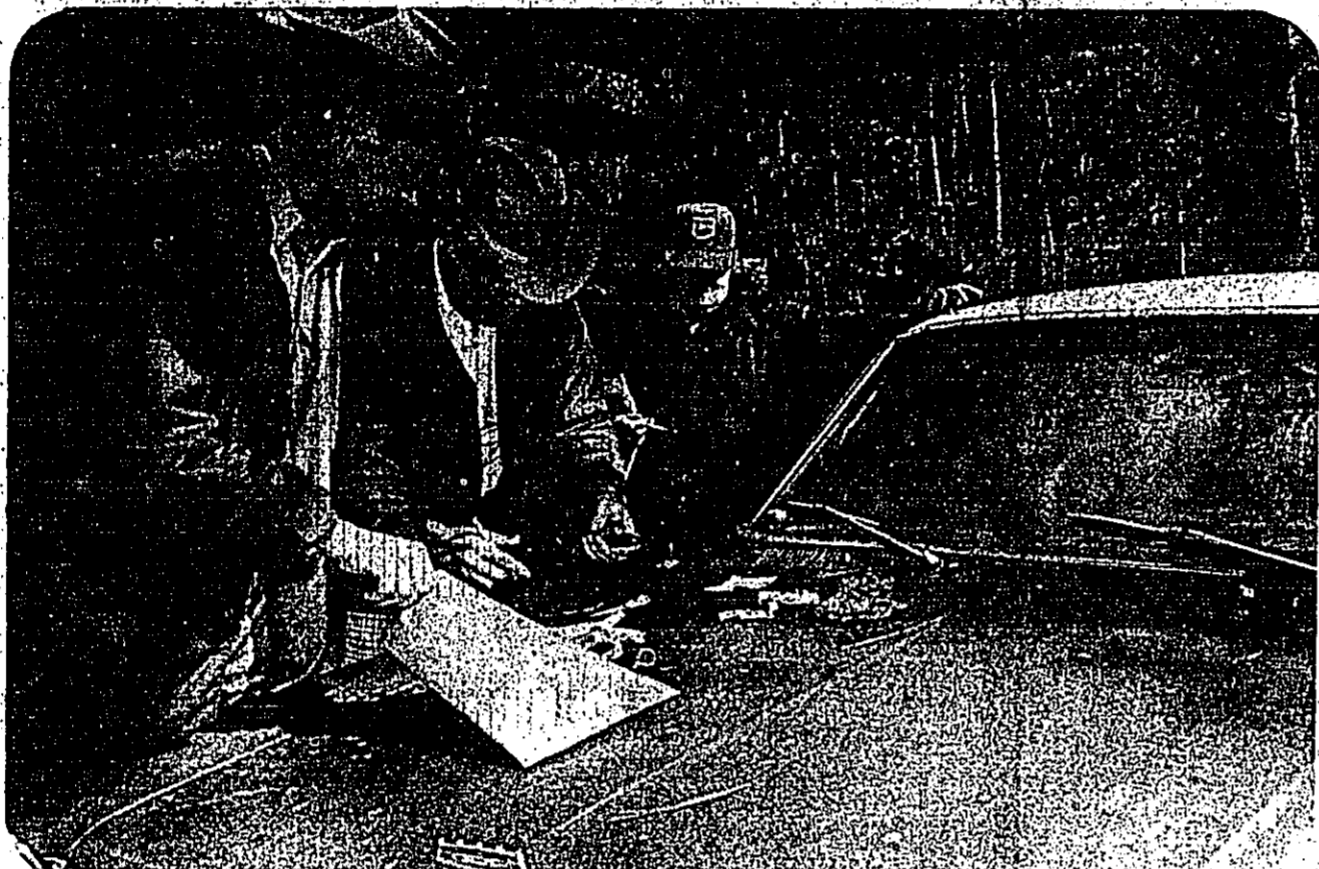

William Newman of Jasper was admitted to Tyler County Hospital after his 1976 Chevrolet Bonanza flipped over after being struck from the rear by a 1976 Dodge driven by Carlton Dewitt Smith of Katy. The accident occurred at 6:25 p.m. as Newman was attempting to make a right turn off FM 1746.

Smith was charged with failure to control the speed of his vehicle.

Another two-car accident in Fred Sunday evening led to charges against Charlie Phillips of Hillister for driving while intoxicated. Phillips' 1965 Mercury Comet hit the rear of a 1976 Ford pickup, driven by Roland McInnis of Silsbee as McInnis was attempting to make a left turn off FM 92.

Last Thursday, a 1965 Ford Galaxie driven by Eddy Joe Connet of Woodville and a 1974 Chevrolet Caprice driven by Claud Diggles of Jasper collided head-on on a county road. Neither was seriously hurt.

A Tuesday morning accident in Colmesneil also resulted in no serious injuries. Charles William Rook Jr. of Liberty, driving south in a 1974 GMC pickup, made a left turn off US 69 in Colmesneil in front of a northbound 1977 Chevrolet pickup driven by Wendell Kirk Brown of Colmesneil. Brown's pickup then struck the Rook pickup in the side. Brown was charged with violating a driver's license restriction, and Rook was charged with unsafe driving.

Tyler County Deputies 'Slim' Cowart (L.), Odis Powell (Center) and Peace Justice E.A. Sturrock Examine Personal Effects of Suicide Victim Monday

South Of Warren Suicide Victim Found Monday

The body of a 43-year-old construction iron worker of Kountze was found three miles south of Warren Monday morning by a Vidor man and his 10-year-old grandson as they were nearing a hunt area where they had planned to hunt squirrels.

A death ruling of "suicide by hanging self inflicted" was issued by Precinct 1 Peace Justice E.A. Sturrock following an extensive inquest held on Monday.

The body was found hanging from a rope under a Texas Forest Service work shed located about 100 yards from the Hyatt Fire lookout tower which is situated in the John Henry Kirby nature trail forest a quarter mile west of Hwy. 96.

The dead man was identified as Edward John Martin, 43, formerly of Warren, but listed a Kountze address at the time of his death.

Vernon Warner of 210 Cedar Lane in Vidor said that he and his grandson were getting ready to try out a Christmas gift rifle when, as they were driving to the hunt area, they spotted the victims car and then the body of the victim beneath the "Number 14" workshed roof.

Evidence at the scene has indicated to authorities that Martin could have died as early as Tuesday Dec. 21 but that was given "As just a guess". The victims watch had stopped at 10:10 on Dec. 24. He was found at approximately 9 a.m. Monday.

Martin, who had formerly lived in Warren, had recently moved to Kountze and was reported to have been working in Port Arthur and Orange. It was reported that Martin was in the midst of divorce proceedings and apparently had a heavy drinking problem.

Funeral services are scheduled for 11 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 29, at the Edwards Funeral home with burial in the Warren cemetery. Bro. Kenneth Cauthen will officiate.

Survivors include a wife: Mrs. Arnette Martin; and three daughters: Jackie, Jamile and Cathy Sue, all of Warren; one brother, Grover Martin and two sisters, Phyllis Cole and Mickey Jean Routh all of Kansas City, Kansas.

Budget Changes Approved

WOODVILLE--The Tyler County Commissioners approved several amendments to the 1977 county budget and the 1977 schedule of salaries for county officials and employees during a Monday morning special session.

Among the changes made in the budget, which was approved in October, were the decreasing of the county judge's annual salary from $15,000 to $13,500, and a $2,200 decrease in salaries for janitors at the courthouse. The biggest increase was a $2,400 for an expense and car allowance for the county judge.

The salary schedule adopted by the commissioners set all elected county-wide officials' salaries at $13,500. Paul Pickard, a retired school teacher from Warren told the commissioners that he thought the raises were "excessive" considering the conditions of the county's roads, which he said were "like in T-Model days."

Pickard also mentioned the money spent on the county airport, "which very few people in the county use." He concluded by saying that he thought the money "should be spent where it does the most people the most good."

Constable Harley Crews of Precinct 3 then addressed the commissioners, reminding them that he had twice recommended the hiring of an ex-Department of Public Safety patrolman as a deputy constable for the Dam B area. Crews asked the commissioners to reconsider his request "down the line."

Constable Crews added that he hoped that the past could be forgotten and that "we can get the peace officers of Tyler County back in harmony; let's work together."

Both the salary schedule and budget amendments were passed by unanimous 4-0 votes.

Following a motion by Precinct 1 Commissioner Joe I. Best, the commissioners unanimously approved the dedication of a road in the Woodland Hills subdivision to the county.

The commissioners also approved the re-appointment of Dr. John Gilchrist of Woodville as county health officer for another two years.

A bid of $20 for a one-year service contract on county office equipment from Lufkin Typewriter was accepted by the commissioners after a motion by Precinct 4 Commissioner Bo Jordan was seconded by Commissioner Best.

In additional business, the commissioners approved the payment of bills already approved by the county auditor's office.

The commissioners tabled the only bid received on a new boiler for the courthouse after County Judge Allen Sturrock told them that there was the possibility that the city of Woodville might have to discontinue natural gas service to the courthouse during the winter. Judge Sturrock told the commissioners that they might want to look into a boiler which would use alternate energy sources, and that a new boiler might not be needed, at all if the old one continues to operate sufficiently.

In a final bit of business, the commissioners approved a bond for County Tax Assessor-Collector Barbara Tolbert.

Earlier in the meeting, a plaque was presented to Brad Smith by the Deep East Texas Mental Health-Mental Retardation Association in appreciation for the volunteer work he has done for the organization.

The commissioners will meet next on Monday, Jan. 3, 1977, at 10 a.m. A swearing in for new county officials is scheduled for 8:30 a.m.; that same morning in the county courtroom.

A Resolution

No one will ever get out of this world alive. Resolve therefore to maintain a sense of values.

Take care of yourself. Good health is everyone's major source of wealth. Without it, happiness is almost impossible.

Resolve to be cheerful and helpful. People will repay you in kind. Avoid angry, abrasive persons. They are generally vengeful. Avoid zealots, they are generally humorless.

Resolve to listen more and to talk less. No one ever learns anything by talking. Be chary of giving advice. Wise men don't need it, and fools won't heed it.

Resolve to be kinder with the young, compassionate with the aged, sympathetic with the striving, tolerant of the weak and the wrong. Sometime in life you will have been all of these.

Do not equate money with success. There are many successful money-makers who are miserable failures as human beings. What counts most about success is how a man achieves it.

Some reflections on the year just past.

The dashed aspirations of men like Jackson, Wallace, et al as they quested for the nomination for the Presidency, only to fall by the wayside, as a peanut farmer-scientist-governor of Georgia took their measure in the primaries, and with a superbly run organization grabbed the brass ring, and took it all in November.

A very personable man, Gerry Ford can look forward to an academic career. There are those who will say he was an appropriate caretaker President after the Watergate fiasco, and the strains that episode put on our political system. History will perhaps be a better judge of that.

The old bugaboo, energy or oil, is still around. The OPEC nations have raised the price again, but seem not to be totally unanimous in their actions. And then Texas Power and Light has requested a whopping increase which made us suck in our breath in anticipation of even higher energy bills in 1977. President-to-be Carter has named a new energy czar, so maybe we'll see some action on that long-neglected front.

The sports man, exhibitor, mumbler "Walt Till Next Year."

The always frustrating Boston Red Sox let the Texas Rangers put it to 'em early in the season, and never returned. That great club Cincinnati took it to the New York Yankees, humiliating them in their brand new ball yard, and the National League again proved to the satisfaction at least, that they have the better talent in the All Star game. The rich club will probably get richer, as many were throwing money around like confetti as they pursued the free agents.

The Northwest Conference saw upstart freshman entry Houston take it all with the longhorns and Darrel Royal just despite a losing season. Even the usually tough Arkansas Razorbacks went nowhere. Well, down if you prefer, after their heady season last year. In fact, both Royal and Frank Broyles will not be coaching in the conference next year.

Business-wise, things were better in 1976 than any of us expected at the beginning of the year.

Costs continued to climb, inflation was still with us, but the Sun Belt, including Texas out-performed the rest of the country, and expected to do as well or better in 1977.

The Northeast is bracing for one of the coldest winters in years. The ski buffs are wondering if it is ever going to snow in the Rockies, and a sleet storm raged across East Texas in November, if you can believe it.

There were some fun times. The spectacle of our Bicentennial Celebration, and the breathtaking Tall Ships under full sail.

For the first time in decades, American boys were not shooting, or being shot at overseas.

The FBI reported the violent crime rate down for the year.

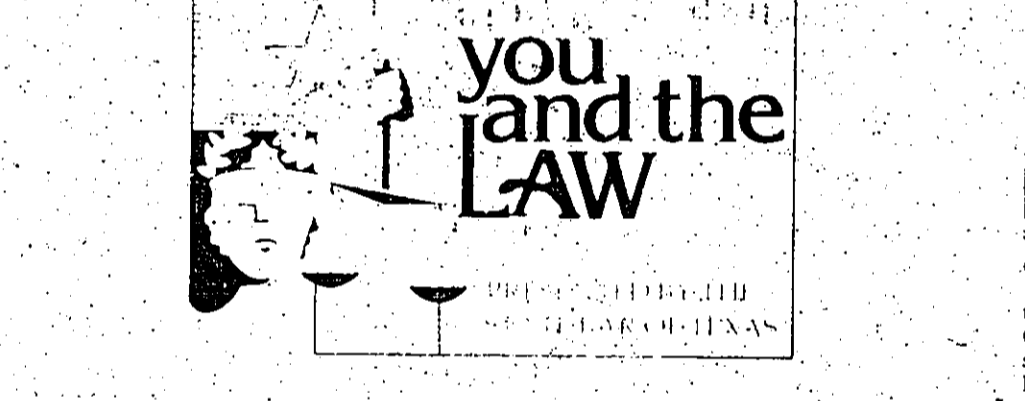

Happy '77 everybody. And load up if you prefer, after their heady season last year. In fact, both Royal and

A: The trial judge who hears a divorce case has full discretion in deciding how to divide the couple's property, including the option to consider "legal separation" agreement executed by the couple. The judge would not be bound by any such separation agreement, but the husband and wife, and therefore would be free to award any or all of the couple's community property to either spouse.

Q: I own money on several charge accounts, and I want to know what effect my divorce will have when it becomes final. Can these charge accounts be closed and the balance be requested immediately?

A: Your divorce cannot affect your charge accounts, unless there is some evidence to indicate you will not be able to pay your bills. The new Equal Credit Opportunity Act prohibits a merchant, or any other lender, from closing an account or requiring people to reapply for new accounts just because there is a change in their marital status.

The great Christian of many years ago, Paul, who was imprisoned in Rome wrote a letter to the Philippians in which he admonishes us to do those things which are behind, and reach forth unto those things which are before.

As we approach the New Year, these are words that should mean much to us. The things of yesterday can and will keep us from advancing and forwarding the work of God. Do the threshold of another year, let's forget about the things that would hold us up and press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

We can know that "by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving we can let our requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding shall keep our hearts and minds through Christ Jesus."

Tax Advisor Due Here

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative to the Tyler County Office in Woodville on Tuesday, January 4, 1977, to answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer John E. Phillips will meet with local taxpayers at the Tyler County Court-house from 10 a.m. to noon.

"If Woodville-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to bring their representative on Jan. 4 that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

The Beaumont office, headed by Joe Vogel, serves Jefferson, Hardin, Tyler, Fannin, Liberty, Chambers, Jasper, Newton and Orange counties.

Alligator Census Complete

BEAUMONT—An estimated 20,000 alligators are holed up for a long winter's sleep in the East Texas marshlands of Jefferson, Orange and Chambers Counties.

An alligator census of nesting sites conducted this summer by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department shows that Jefferson County has the largest collection of alligators in the three-county area, with an estimated population of 51 alligators per square mile in some 200 square miles of marshes.

The survey conducted by P&WD biologists flying aerial transects is part of an effort to monitor changes in the alligator population in the marshes.

The aerial survey, covering approximately 300 square miles, was limited to marshes lying south of Interstate 10.

Purpose of the three-county census is to give wildlife biologists an idea of what the overall population is doing. It will take two more years of census work, however, before enough data is gathered to determine population dynamics of the alligators.

Despite the apparent high concentration of alligators in some marsh areas, P&WD officials say East Texas need not worry for their safety, as unprovoked attacks by wild alligators upon humans are extremely rare.

INSUR-MATION

Farm-Bureau Insurance-Livingston

Isn't term insurance much less expensive than permanent insurance?

Not necessarily! Insurance is a constantly less, but there are other factors you probably don't consider. Term insurance is protection for a certain limited period of time which usually may be renewed for another period of time or converted to permanent insurance. It is a valuable asset and your estate will benefit from it as long as you want it and will accumulate cash value and will be ready to pay when you need it. Although term insurance costs less in premiums the policy will expire after its term, unless renewed. Since term does not accumulate cash value or paid-up value, many feel, while cheaper in the short run, it is more expensive in the long run and when possible conditions should be made to convert it to permanent insurance.

The Christmas Holidays at Holiday Pines Lodge were filled with gifts and special programs. Santa Claus, the elves were sent by the ladies of Calvary Baptist and Bethel Baptist Churches. The Warren Masonic Lodge brought bags filled with fruit, candy and nuts. Mrs. Deloach Sunday School Class delivered cactus plants for each of our residents apartments. Pigeon Post Baptist sent a box of oranges and handmade Christmas Cards. Ellender Ambulance sent a dozen quilted lap robes and the Woodville Home Demonstration Club made each resident a lap robe. Mrs. Zelma Kalesia decorated candy canes for each of our people and made corsages for some of the ladies. The Gama Phi Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa decorated caskets of Christmas candies and Teddy Kinney made a corsage for everyone. Special corsages were given to the oldest resident, Robin Bean, and the person who has been selected for the Home. The Woodville Garden Club sent several gifts for residents that have no families. Most of the gifts were given to residents on Christmas Eve to keep the atmosphere of cheer and good will that such a day brings.

Several friends and relatives came to join in the Christmas festivities. At the Holiday Pines Lodge Christmas Party the residents received a gift from the Home and many people exchanged gifts. Santa Claus spent the evening with us, handing out gifts with his little helpers. We sang songs, drank eggnog and ate Christmas cookies and cake. For the entertainment the residents enjoyed "Miss Tinsel" who sang, "I saw Mommy Kissin Santa Claus."

Allen Shivers Library provided us with Christmas films shown by Wana Whitson. Triana Lee brought her Fairview Baptist GA's to the Home to sing. The Fairview citizens under the direction of Debby Loving were also here to visit with their adopted grandmothers. The brought gifts and handmade decorations for their rooms. Charles Brittman and his family came out for Christmas Eve night and presented a melody

Devil's Resolutions

- What New Year's resolutions do you think the devil might make? Here are a few suggestions:
1. To increase sports activities (especially on Sunday) to get people's mind off spiritual things. (Mt. 6:33; Col. 3:1,2).
  2. To increase the number of people who believe atheistic evolution. (Gen. 1).
  3. To persuade children they should be allowed to determine for themselves what is right and wrong. (Eph. 6:1-4; Gal. 4:1-4).
  4. To get more preachers to preach smooth things (II Tim. 4:1-4).
  5. To convince people that sin is not so bad—that a little won't hurt (I John 3:4; I John 1:8-10; Rom. 6:23).
  6. To turn more churches into humanistic social clubs—eat, drink and entertain (I Cor. 11:34).
  7. To convince more people that they can SAFELY put off serving God till tomorrow. (I Cor. 6:2).
  8. Cause dissension among Christians (Prov. 6:19; I John 5:1-3).
  9. Convince women that their subjective role in life is degrading, enslaving and a reflection upon womanhood (Gen. 3:16; I Tim. 2:12; Col. 3:18; I Pet. 3:7).
  10. Convince mother she ought to work for the public so that she can neglect her children and husband, and the divorce rate can skyrocket. (Titus 2:3-5). The devil knows that a virtuous mother has tremendous influence for good in "guiding the house" (I Tim. 5:14).
  11. Convince people that God is the cause of all the misery in the world. How many times have you heard someone say, "Why did God do this to me?" (Rom. 8:28,32; James 1:17). Remember Paul's thorn in the flesh was a messenger of Satan.
  12. Persuade men that anyone who stands for strict Bible teaching and morality is a religious fanatic and puritan. (I Pet. 4:11; Rom. 12:1,2).
  13. Convince the citizens of Tyler County that the county ought to be wet.
- Let us "resist the devil" lest we aid him in carrying out any resolution he might make.
- Send your Bible questions or comments to Glenn Melton, 306 N. Beach, Woodville, TX 75979, ph. 283-5402.

Another year has passed, and things gone by, we cannot change. So ring out the old year and ring in the new with high resolutions. These bells, which have long been used by churches as a call to worship, are ringing an opportunity for you to begin the new year at worship with the Lord in His house. Start now and be faithful throughout this year. Attend Church regularly.

EVENING IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVENING

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for conveying the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long prosper and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Serious Crime Increases

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Serious crime in the United States rose two percent during the first nine months of 1976 over the same period of 1975. Attorney General Edward H. Levi announced today. But he noted that violent crimes continued to decrease.

Mr. Levi said that the overall rise of two percent compares with an increase of 11 percent during the first nine months of 1975 over 1974. The latest nine-month figures represent the lowest increase nationally since 1973 when reported serious criminal offenses rose only one percent over 1972.

Violent crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault, as a group, decreased five percent during the first nine months. Murder and robbery each decreased 10 percent, while forcible rape and aggravated assault showed no change.

Larceny-theft was the only crime index offense to show an increase for the nine-month reporting period. Larceny-theft was up eight percent, while burglary decreased five percent and motor vehicle theft was down six percent.

Mr. Levi noted, "There has been a steady slowing in the percent of increase for the last nine months and it is, of course, gratifying that violent crimes as a group, continue to show an absolute decrease. But, the basic fact we mustn't forget is that crime still remains an urgent national problem."

The nine-month figures were contained in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports released today by FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley. Director Kelley noted the overall crime picture for the period was significantly influenced by the large number of larceny-theft crimes reported to law enforcement.

Mr. Kelley pointed out that thefts from motor vehicles and theft of motor vehicle parts and accessories, particularly, comprised 49 percent of all reported larceny-thefts. This was an increase of 31 percent for these two categories of larceny-theft as compared to the 1975 figures.

"The slowed growth of Crime Index offenses for the first three quarters of 1976 should, in no way, slacken our efforts in the constant struggle against crime," said Mr. Kelley. "It is too soon to determine if we have a long-term trend developing with these figures."

Director Kelley said the crime figures, released today are based upon the number of Crime Index offenses reported to law enforcement. The Crime Index is made up of offenses of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny-theft, and motor vehicle theft. These offenses are considered serious because of their nature or frequency of occurrence.

According to these latest figures, suburban and rural law enforcement agencies reported increases in serious crime of one percent, while cities with 100,000 or more inhabitants had a two percent rise in reported Crime Index offenses.

Geographically, the Northeastern States reported an eight percent increase in crime. The Western States were up two percent, and the Southern States increased one percent. Crime in the North Central States decreased one percent.

Seventy-six cities of over 100,000 inhabitants reported decreases in serious crime during the first nine months of 1976.

Record Catfish Caught

AUSTIN—What probably will be certified as a Texas record catfish caught has been caught on a trotline by Houston angler Charles Booth.

The big flathead, also known as a yellow or opelousas catfish, weighed 14 pounds and measured 56 1/2 inches long.

Booth caught the fish in October on a 300-pound-test trotline in Lake Livingston at White Rock Creek. He used live brine shiners as bait.

Present Texas State Record for flathead catfish in the unrestricted category weighs 104 pounds, taken by trotline from Lake McQuay in 1964.

Safety Devices Still Needed

AUSTIN—The question of air bags is settled for the time being, but the question of the traffic fatality and injury rate is far from being settled, said Hugh L. Scott, President of the Texas Safety Association.

"Texas motorists should utilize the restraint systems currently provided in their automobiles if they do not want to purchase air bags," said Scott following Transportation Secretary Coleman's decision that air bags will not be required equipment.

Coleman's decision, after several months of delay and study of the public comment he invited, was that auto manufacturers would not have to equip auto with air bags Coleman called instead for a two-year demonstration project by at least two auto mobile manufacturers for producing 250,000 air bag equipped cars each of the two years.

Scott said, "There is no question that using restraint systems, whether they be belts or air bags, can reduce injury and fatality.

The National Safety Council and the Highway Users Federation have estimated that between ten and fifteen thousand lives could be saved annually if auto occupants would use their belts at all times. The estimate is based on current information on the life saving potential of safety belts for preventing ejection from the vehicle and reducing the occupant contact with the interior of the auto and other occupants.

Close to home, Texas fatality statistics, collected and reported by the Department of Public Safety, indicate a significant difference in the number of auto occupants killed using or not using restraints, while only 31 using seat belts and 28 using seat and shoulder belts were killed.

"The number of drivers injured also makes a good life saving case for using belts," Scott said. According to DPS records, 59,202 drivers not using restraints were injured while only 3,508 using belts and shoulder straps were injured.

Said Scott, "The entire evolution of restraint systems has caused mixed feelings. As has the 55 mile per hour speed limit. Voluntary compliance with life saving elements—utilization of lap and shoulder belts, restricting speeds to the 55 miles per hour limit—should not be a part of any controversy when the facts continue to prove their effectiveness in reducing death and injury."

"Regardless of Secretary Coleman's decision about air bags, there are still options available to save lives, and all Texans should exercise these options," urged the TSA President.

AUSTIN—Many successful deer hunters who are proud of their buck's big set of antlers may not be as satisfied with the wild taste of his steaks.

"There are many ways to improve the taste of venison, but one of the simpler methods is to make venison sausage."

Take about 15 pounds of lean venison with absolutely no fat on it at all. Use the same amount of lean, fresh pork as you have of venison. Your mixture should be half and half to be really good.

Now mix your seasonings: one and one-half ounces of paprika, two teaspoons of garlic powder, three ounces of salt, and one-half pound of dried milk.

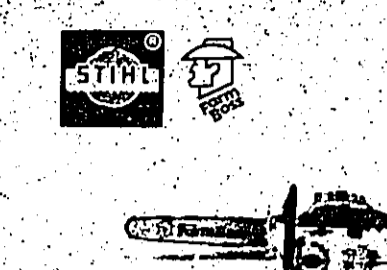

At this point it is a good idea to cook a little of the sausage mixture and taste it. At this point it is a good idea to cook a little of the sausage mixture and taste it.

Now, the sausage is ready to be molded into patties and wrapped in aluminum foil. Or, stuff the meat in casings, keeping the links about six to eight inches long.

When things are plentiful, they are usually less valuable. The trouble is that everything seems to be in short supply these days, and this may mean trouble for you.

Sawmill operators have always been faced with a perplexing "scarcity" problem. How do you cut irregular lumber, a cylindrical log with the least waste?

According to the U.S. Forest Service, only 40-50 percent of a log (with bark removed) is converted to lumber in the average sawmill today. The remainder is sawdust, shavings, planed wood, and other products. And chips removed in squaring the log in trimming the boards to the correct length. But wood in these forms is generally not as valuable as a separate plan.

With the demand for lumber projected to double in the next 25 years, we can't afford this waste.

Improved sawmill efficiency is the target of the Sawmill Improvement Program. Developed and funded by the State and Private Branch of the U.S. Forest Service, the program is operating in 32 states. Evaluations of mill operations are made to determine the most efficient sawmill operators how to get more lumber out of the logs they process. The program in Texas is conducted by personnel of the Texas Forest Products Laboratory in Lufkin.

At the mill owner's request, a team of Texas Forest Service wood technologists will visit the mill and make a study of its lumber conversion efficiency. From the analysis of this data and the study team's observations of the operation, recommendations are made to the owner. There is no charge for this service.

Dave Patterson, wood technologist in charge of the study, coordinates the study teams, and prepares and discusses the recommendations with the mill owners.

"We're not mill engineers," says Patterson. "We just point out to the mill owner where he can make improvements that will increase his lumber output. He knows his mill better than we do, and we can supply a list of consulting engineers that can assist him with major changes."

Many sawmills are under economic stress, and if you can help a guy stay in business, we're doing our job. Each sawmill has a payroll. The more people are kept at work, the more this economic "plus" benefits everyone.

What specifically does a study entail? The basic parameter Patterson and his crew are looking for is each mill's Lumber Recovery Factor (LRF). LRF is the ratio of the volume of lumber produced (in board feet) from each cubic foot of log put through the mill.

As the logs are being sawn, Patterson observes closely, noting ways the operator could improve his efficiency.

"Almost every mill studied so far could increase its lumber recovery by 3 percent simply by having its logs cut to the correct length in the forest. Many logs are too long, and wood is wasted when it's trimmed off the ends. When a log is cut short, not allowing for trim, the sawyer has to saw shorter boards."

Sawing variation is another common problem. One mill made a 7 percent improvement by removing much of its sawing variation.

Projecting these figures to Texas' 45 pine mills currently operating, Texas could add the equivalent production of 4 or 5 new mills without cutting any more trees.

The Sawmill Improvement Program won't relieve all the sawmillers' problems. Sourcing expenses, labor turnover, and a lack of trained sawyers are still a hindrance to maintaining efficiency. It is, however, a major service in helping operators and the state get the most value from Texas trees.

Accent On Health Help Yourself

Good health isn't something to envy in other people. You can do many things to maintain your own, or better it. And now is the time to come to grips with yourself by making some good-health resolutions for the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Texas would be a much healthier state if every one worked toward these goals: making sure your family can contribute to your own well-being and that of your community.

Promise during 1977 to give your body at least as good a workout as you give your car. Periodic examinations are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully. It might be considered preventive maintenance. So let your doctor look you over thoroughly once a year, whether you're ailing or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle-aged. Your physician can give you the proper schedule.

Dental troubles may not kill you, but sometimes they can make you wish you were dead. Check in once yearly with your dentist to make certain your teeth and gums are in good shape, and let him teach you the proper way to maintain your dental health every day.

Do your clothes seem to fit a little more snugly these days? It could mean you're putting on weight, which is a lot harder to take than it is to put on. It's difficult during the holiday season to pass up the goodies which come your way. But if you've overdone it, resolve to start passing up the candied yams, gravies and cream-filled dishes which almost invariably spell extra pounds and perhaps an early grave.

There are many pursuits which people of all ages may undertake in order to get needed exercise. While jogging might be all right for some people, it is too strenuous for others. Walking or other forms of exercise may be recommended for others.

Statistics linking smoking to cancer and heart disease are in pile up, and it is tougher and tougher to quit. If you're a smoker, you should consider the possibility of giving up the habit. If you're still thinking about it, you should talk to your doctor. Quitting now could be a habit you'll never regret.

Drive and walk defensively, and you'll be less apt to wind up as one of the state's traffic statistics. And don't forget that the 55 mile-an-hour speed limit saves gas, saves lives, and applies to everyone.

While disease in Texas continues to be relatively low, the threat of epidemics hasn't subsided. Check the immunization records of your entire family—not just the children—as a safeguard against diseases and their complications.

Getting plenty of sleep is another resolution which will be of benefit—especially during the cold winter months when the body's defenses should be at their peak.

Nutrition goes hand in hand with proper rest. To provide your body with the essential nutrients to make it function properly, proper diet is necessary. Resolve to put tasty and nutritious foods to work for your body. Don't overlook fresh fruits and vegetables.

People living in towns and cities owe it to themselves and their neighbors to obey local and state laws pertaining to health protection. For example, if your town has a dog leash law, adhere to it. Keep your animals in good health and protected from rabies, which is still a threat—especially in rural areas.

There's another good resolution you can make. Resolve to give an occasional "shout-out" to some awesome problems at water conservation, pollution abatement, juvenile delinquency, drug abuse and the growing number of elderly people in our society. Lend your support as a responsible citizen to community efforts to solve them. After all, they affect you, too.

Your health should be of great concern to you. So get the good health habit by putting some healthful resolutions to work.

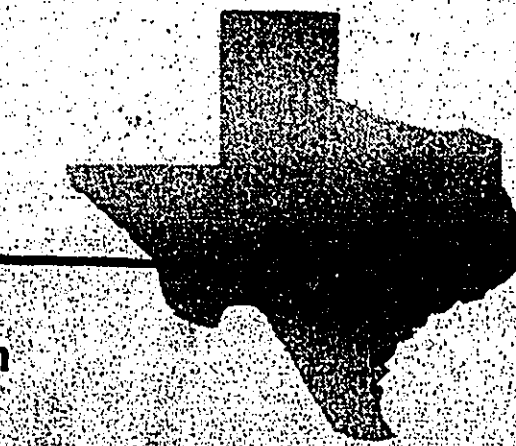

You'll live longer and enjoy life more, believes the Department of Health Resources, which wishes you a happy ending to 1976 and a healthy year ahead.
