Postal Protection Week Set For February 21-26

American consumers lost an estimated $14 million last year as a result of mail fraud and misrepresentation-by-mail schemes, according to Postmaster H.M. Durham.

Accounting for most of the loss were schemes involving stocks and land investments, credit misrepresentation, and false claims against insurance companies.

In a concerted effort to assist consumers, Postmaster General Benjamin F. Fallis has designated February 21-26 as the second annual Postal Consumer Protection Week. This week is designed to alert the public to mail-order schemes and serves to emphasize the consumer protection activities of the Postal Service.

Postmaster Durham said "The Postal Service has been helping consumers since enactment in 1872 of the Mail Fraud Statute."

Investments schemes rank first in dollar value, with a loss to the public of $4,524,240. Failure to furnish merchandise ranked first in the number of complaints received, with more than 19,000 reported, involving a loss of $2,645,326.

The Postmaster stressed that the overwhelming majority of these complaints making up the $60 billion mail-order industry are honest and seek to satisfy their customers. But, as in other industries, there are a few disreputable ones that cause problems.

The Postal Service actively investigates mail fraud and false representation by mail, and assist with mail-order and service problems, through the efforts of the Postal Inspection Service, the Consumer Protection

Office of the Postal Service Law Department, the services Judicial Office, and its Consumer Advocate.

The Consumer Protection activities of these departments include attempts to resolve unsatisfactory mail-order transactions such as failure to furnish ordered merchandise or make promised refunds. Administrative proceeding may be initiated against mail-order firms that falsely advertise their products. In case of mail fraud, the Postal Inspection Service presents investigative results to the appropriate U.S. Attorney for criminal proceedings.

In conjunction with Consumer Protection Week we are re-emphasizing the Consumer Service Card program, to remind consumers of our continuing interest in their mail-service and related problems." Postmaster Durham said.

Consumer Service Cards are available at the post office or from letter carriers and provide the means for attacking problems individually and geographically.

If you have any problems, complete and mail the Consumer Service Card for mail service assistance. Talk with my office or a postal inspector concerning possible false advertising-by-mail or mail fraud. Let's work together for a better postal service.

Blue And Gold Banquet Set For February 24

Dr. Gary C. Baines of Beaumont will be the featured guest speaker at the Blue and Gold Banquet of Cub Scout Pack 37 Woodville.

Dr. Baines has been a dedicated Scouter for many years in the Spindletop District and has served on the District Committee and as an Institutional Representative. For the past five years he has been Scoutmaster of Troop 213 in Beaumont.

He has the Training Award, Scoutmaster Key, Prepared Troop Award and the Medal of Merit Award. His is the first troop of this area to receive the Hornaday Award on a troop level. Besides taking his troop to camp each summer, his troop has made 50 mile trips canoeing on the Neches River and hiking the Kirby Trace Trail.

Dr. Baines is an outstanding leader of boys in his church and the Scouting programs. A Vigil Honor Member in the Order of the Arrow, this Scoutmaster inspires others with his dedication.

All Scouts and friends of Scouting are invited to attend. A special registration for new Cub Scouts will be held at this time and registration of those already belonging.

The dinner will be "Pot Luck" with each family bringing enough for themselves plus one. For further information call Mrs. Joan Lohdice at 283-2402 or Mrs. Peggy Gautreaux at 283-2092.

Commissioners Begin Cleanup Anyway

Jail Debate Continues

Tyler County Commissioners immersed themselves in a barrage of business Monday, mostly concentrating their actions and the majority of their discussion on improving the jail situation which looms over county officials as a cloud of confusion and controversy.

Most of the confusion lies, county officials admit, in not knowing exactly what jail standards they must face up to, and, once that becomes evident, "How are we going to pay for the changes? Controversial aspects of the situation are found in the County's apparent exposure to court suits if state and federal prisoner standards are not met within a period of time which in itself is still to be clarified.

County Judge Allan Sturrock said following the Monday meeting that "He's going to have to lean toward getting the judgement of the people of Tyler County in finding the answer on what's needed in the jail and how to fund it." Sturrock indicated that a formal bond issue which directed the question to the citizens of Tyler County might be the best way to go.

According to Sam Bates of Pringle Patrick and Partners and local architect Don Cole of A/E Project Management Service in Woodville the project is supposed to cost $400,000. That expenditure, Bates said, is really going to be the easy one. The cost of administration and maintenance in the years to follow will prove to be the real expense.

Tyler County Commissioner Leon Fowler and Marie Riley have already initiated clean-up programs by repainting the entire jail. Wiring was installed on Tuesday which now provides lighting. Windows are also to be installed this week and plumbing alterations are underway. Commissioners said. Commissioners Riley traveled to Houston Tuesday to buy surplus mattresses and bedding for the jail. Riley himself was complimentary to Commissioner Fowler for the work that he has already put into the project. Fowler has said constantly that "If the responsibility for maintenance of the jail and upkeep lies with the commissioners court then I think we ought to begin rightaway in that effort and accept the responsibility."

Riley said "The jail looks pretty good to what it looked like a week ago. It doesn't look like the same place."

Following the regular meeting Monday morning and in a combined session with the representatives of the Woodville City Council and members from the law enforcement community the commissioners heard a lengthy report from Bates on what he termed "strictly schematic" illustrations of a proposed jail for Tyler County which would meet LEAA Federal Standards. Figures for the Phase II architecta portion of the planning effort, Bates said, "Would be forthcoming in about two weeks."

Bates detailed the plans and emphasized to the group that possible other funding ideas would be offered by the architect firm.

In an earlier meeting Monday afternoon the commissioners heard an alternative private funding proposal which apparently is allowed by law and which would enable the county to pay for the facility over an arbitrated period of time. County Judge Sturrock said he realized that whatever route the commissioners would take for funding the project if and when it's accepted that "the burden will lie on the people of Tyler County. They are the ones we're obligating."

Sturrock said he was pleased at the numbers of persons from throughout the law enforcement community who were present for the meetings and who have shown a general interest in the project.

Sturrock also said that he expects state jail inspectors to visit the Tyler County facility "within the next 60 days" and he said hopes the inspectors will detail each area that needs correcting. "I hope they'll give us a point-by-point explanation - then I understand," he added. "That we have a year to make the corrections."

Woodville City Now On Weekly Gas Ration

Woodville City Fathers met in regular session Monday and were informed by City manager Walt Davis that Tennessee Gas Company had "put the city on weekly allotment of 9,604,000 cubic feet of gas." Davis, who seemed pleased with the allotment said "That should get us through the cold weather."

Davis, in other official business, announced that there would be three vacancies in the upcoming April 2 City election. Davis said that three at-large seats would be vacant and are now open for candidates to file. Persons may obtain the proper filing papers at the Woodville City Hall, Davis said. The three candidates who's seats are up for reelection are Gordon Anderson, Dr. Jim Jinnette and Webb Ashworth, each picked up their papers after the meeting, Davis said.

The Council heard an appeal from Commissioner Marie Riley for "suggestions" from the city on how to solve the ever present meter parking and violation problems around the county courthouse.

Riley asked if the council would consider restricting the area immediately behind the courthouse and institute permit parking. Riley himself suggested that the permits might be sold on a "first-come-first-served" basis. Councilman Doug Tolbert asked the County Commissioner if the city would be responsible for policing and collecting fines in the restricted area. Riley said he thought they would. The problem apparently stems from a cluttered parking problem which currently exists on the southwest quadrant of the courthouse grounds. Councilman Dr. Jim Jinnette asked the Commissioner why the Commissioner's court hasn't been able to keep persons or employees of the courthouse from parking in that area.

Riley said the purpose of his visit to the council was simply to "get some suggestions" so that both the commissioners and the city could solve the problem.

In other City Business City Manager reported to council that state traffic safety personnel would be on the job in Woodville beginning next Wednesday following a recent traffic safety survey grant that was obtained from the Lamar office of Traffic Safety.

The council dismissed the meeting following an executive session which concerned itself with personnel matters.

All councilmen were present for the meeting as was City Attorney Josiah Wheat.

The Woodville City Council meets regularly once a month on the second Monday at the City Hall which is located on the corner of South Charlton and Pavillion Streets.

Commissioners Complete Crowded Agenda

Amidst all the concern about the repair of the Tyler County jail, County Commissioners managed to conduct other important business by acting on several other areas of official business on Monday of this week.

The meeting Monday saw the commissioners also appoint and Abport Zoning Committee with Joe Riley as Chairman along with members: Carl Nichols, G. Lane Powers, and Bud Byran.

A motion to table all bids on trucks for each commissioner, made the Feb. 22 meeting was made by Commissioner Bo Jordan and seconded by Commissioner W.O. Lowe.

Commissioner Marie Riley initiated a motion which was seconded by commissioner Bo Jordan to accept the Citizens State Bank as the County Depository for Tyler County and the office of the County School Superintendent. According to Carter Cruise, President of the Citizens State Bank and who represented the bank at the bid acceptance "We are grateful to the county for giving us the opportunity to serve as depository for the county. We do everything we can to serve you and will continue to do so."

Commissioners approved the monthly report from the county extension agents office and bills amounting to $14,641.30 were approved for payment from the County auditor's office.

Commissioners approved the County Treasurers monthly report and, finally, the commissioners court tabled a resolution opposing the Texas Property Taxpayers bill of rights which would increase the county's tax rate.

The County Judge of San Patricio County, Texas, was in attendance at the Monday meeting which was held in the first floor courtroom of the Tyler County Courthouse.

thank you for the opportunity to be of service.

Commissioners agreed to table all bids for dump beds for each commissioner until the Feb. 22 meeting and a bid for the Luffin typewriter company for a typewriter of $612.90 which will be paid out of revenue sharing funds.

Commissioners approved a Texas Aeronautics Commission grant which consists of extending runway lighting, including installation of beacon, refurbishing of lighted wind cone and other items, and Fred Elementary School met in general assembly on Feb. 4, 1977 and Mr. Casey, our principal, presented the Attendance Award for the last nine weeks, to Miss Whitman's third grade class with a 98.11%.

Stewart's fourth graders had second place with 97.25%. These two classes have quite a rivalry going for each nine weeks attendance banner and plaque.

The second grade class still holds the 100% fifth grade had 96.71%, first grade had 96.55%, sixth grade had 96.52%, and kindergarten even had 95.78%.

We realize that attendance will not be as high this coming nine weeks due to so much winter sickness and cold weather but we are still hoping for a percentage as high as possible.

Citizenship Awards were presented to the following:

"Lucky 13" CB Club Elects Officers

The Lucky 13 C.B. Club of Warren held its regular monthly meeting Saturday, February 11th and celebrated its first year anniversary with election of new officers.

Those elected were: president "Cathie", Lavelle Haygood; Vice president "Cat Skinner", John Whildon; Secretary-Treasurer "Silver Bullet", Harold Hinton; program chairman "Wappus Lady", Sandra Hild; Reporter "Lady Bible T", Sadie Green.

The following were elected to serve as "Board of Directors" for the 1977 year: "Double T", Bobby Greer; "Peepicker", Tom Hinton; "Gray Eagle", Gary Duncanson; "White Fox", Clifford Haygood; "C-Byrd", Curly Byrd; "Mud Hen", Glennie Walden; "White Dove", Judy Haygood; and "C-Byrd-Curly Byrd" were elected auditors for the year.

"Lady Peepicker", Linda Hinton; "Lady Byrd", Bea Byrd; and "Mother Eagle", Mildred Duncanson were elected our new refreshment committee.

The meeting was a big success with a large turn out. It was discussed to be more considerate by using channel 13 as a "Break Channel" due to the crowd now assembled there. Every one was asked to limit their conversations to a three-minute limit to give everyone a chance to talk. All club members and visitors on 13 have done this in the past so we feel that this won't be a big problem. If you hear a "Breaker", please notice it, but do remember that only the people who are talking has the right to give the break.

We extend a cordial invitation to anyone who would like to become a member. They are held the first Saturday night of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Woodville High School. New members are new faces next month, as well as all the regular club members.

HAMPTON HALL, built about 1832, features an elliptical staircase spiraling three stories up from its central hall. Located in Woodville, Mississippi, Hampton Hall will be one of eleven homes visited during the 1977 WOODVILLE PILGRIMAGE, March 11-13 and 18-20. For information on the annual Pilgrimage, write the Woodville Civic Club, Box 605, Woodville, MS 39669.

Woodville, Mississippi Is Pilgrimage Point

Woodville, Mississippi, the town Harvard University once selected as best typifying and preserving the traditions, customs and culture of the antebellum South, will hold its annual Pilgrimage to old homes and historic sites on two weekends this year: March 11, 12, and 13 and March 18, 19, and 20.

Eleven homes, including Rosemont Plantation (built in 1810 by Samuel Davis, father of Jefferson Davis), will be featured on four different tours. Two tours are scheduled each weekend. The annual Art Show will be held from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday, March 13, will be completed this year by a Crafts Show on Sunday, March 20.

The dramatic reenactment of "The Burning of the Bowling Green" by Union troops will be performed twice daily throughout the "77 Pilgrimage."

The seat of Wilkinson County, Woodville was settled during the 1700's and was incorporated in 1811. Woodville was home to both Gerald C. Brandon, the first native-born governor of Mississippi, and Jefferson Davis, the only President of the Confederacy. Woodville's many other "first" include the WOODVILLE REPUBLICAN, founded in 1823 and the oldest newspaper in Mississippi, and the Woodville-West Feliciana Railroad, the first standard gauge railroad in the United States. The Railroad's office building, built in 1837, will soon house the Woodville Museum of Southern Decorative Arts.

Morning tours will be conducted from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. each day, and afternoon tours are held from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. Guides are provided at no charge, and visitors will receive a complimentary copy of the 1977 Woodville Pilgrimage, write the Woodville Civic Club, Box 605, Woodville, Mississippi 39669, or call the Civic Club at (601) 888-2611.

County, District Clerks To Hold Seminar

COLLEGE STATION—County and district clerks from throughout Texas will gather here March 1-3 for the 5th annual County and District Clerks Seminar.

The theme of this year's seminar will be "Accurate Records for Today: Perfecting Our Heritage for Tomorrow."

The seminar will be at the Ramada Inn and will officially get under way March 1 at 10 a.m. with a luncheon by Mrs. Dorothy Holland, associate editor with the Extension Service, which is sponsoring the seminar in cooperation with the County and District Clerks Association of Texas.

The first session will feature an address of welcome by Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, Extension Service director; a keynote address by Texas Secretary of State Mark White; and a discussion on communications by Mrs. Dorothy Holland, associate editor with the Extension Service.

The afternoon program will feature separate sessions for county and district clerks. County clerks will hear discussions relating to inventorying county records, collecting inheritance taxes and "woodrums" in probate. District clerks will hear talks dealing with incompetent and insane persons in criminal proceedings, the Family Code and the assessment of criminal costs.

A joint session featuring Sam Clints, executive director of the Texas Association of Counties, will conclude the afternoon program.

Dr. James Blakey of Wharton will speak at a banquet that evening.

On Thursday, county clerks will hear discussions with retirement and secured transactions in the Uniform Commercial Code while district clerks will receive information on the effective use of grand juries and petit juries and the process of getting a defendant into court.

A joint session dealing with retirement and secured transactions in the Uniform Commercial Code will conclude the seminar.

President of the County and District Clerks Association of Texas, District Clerk Ray Hardy of Harris County.

Morris Is Search Winner

John A. Morris has been named Spurger's 1976-77 General Mills Family Leader of Tomorrow. Morris won the honor by competing with other searchers here in a written knowledge and attitude examination on December 7. He will receive a certificate from General Mills, sponsor of the annual educational scholarship program, and becomes eligible for state and national honors.

The State Family Leader of Tomorrow, to be chosen through judging centered on performance in the December 7 test, will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, with the second-ranking participant in the state receiving a $500 grant. The state winner will also earn for his or her school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

In April, the 51 winners representing every state and the District of Columbia will be the guests of General Mills at an expense-paid educational tour of Columbus, Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C. During the tour, the winners will be interviewed by a panel of judges to select the All-American Family Leader of Tomorrow. The winner will receive a $2,000 scholarship, with the second-ranking participant receiving a $500 grant. The state winner will also earn for his or her school a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopaedia Britannica Educational Corporation.

Crackdown On 'Bootleg' Oysters Is Requested

Harvesting of oysters in the coastal waters of Texas is in full swing, and purchasers of the delicacy should have no qualms about eating them, provided the oysters come from certified sources, says the Texas Department of Health Resources.

State health authorities are asking the public to help eliminate the troublesome and dangerous traffic in "bootleg" oysters by buying only those shellfish products known to be produced under the Texas Department of Health Resources' certification program.

The reason for concern is that bootleg oysters may have come from waters of questionable quality, have been opened under unsanitary conditions, stored in unclean containers without adequate refrigeration and peddled by spurious dealers from house to house or at roadside stands.

Consumers are urged to insist on knowing the source on which the oysters are offered for sale and to refuse them if they were not health hazard to the consumer and under the certification program. Legitimately canned or packaged oysters may be quickly identified by a certification number issued by the Department of Health Resources. On gallon cans, the number is embossed in the metal on the side of the can. On smaller containers, such as jars, the certification number is printed on the lid.

Shellfish (oysters, clams and mussels) if contaminated can present a high potential health hazard to the consumer because (1) of the shellfish's ability to filter and concentrate pathogenic microorganisms and toxic substances present in the environment, (2) shellfish are packed whole and alive and are often consumed either raw or only partially cooked, and (3) harmful substances can be introduced into the shocked meats if this operation is done in unclean surroundings.

All water-borne diseases including typhoid fever, to ensure the highest quality possible.

The "Y" mark can be identified by a certification number issued by the Department of Health Resources. On gallon cans, the number is embossed in the metal on the side of the can. On smaller containers, such as jars, the certification number is printed on the lid.

SARATOGA PUSHED FOR BIG THICKET CENTER

WHOLE LOT OF WHISPERING GOING ON.

Attended my first COMMISSIONERS COURT meeting Monday. It's a shame that, with the exception of the Precinct 1 Commissioner, the entire Court seems to have a terrible case of whisperitis.... newest business in town is LINDA'S FLOWERS; a part of LINDA'S BEAUTY SHOP. Only place in town that can beautify you and your yard at one stop. Linda's other half, A.T. DURHAM, has TCT (Tyler County Tractor for your newcomers), so if you need a new tractor to plant your new plants.... 'nuff said. Of course, if you don't need a new tractor, but need a new chain saw, A.T.'s brother V.L. and his lovely RUTH at DURHAM SAW will be glad to help you. This is beginning to sound like All In The Family....NANCY LANE is the new face at LINDA'S BEAUTY SHOP. She not only is a superb hair-styling talent, she gives a darn good manicure, as well....Saw MELODY DAVIS of Warren, hardly recognized her! The last time I saw her was about 25 pounds ago—she is so-o-o svelte now. Also from Warren, JERRY and MARIE FONVILLE in town for the day....HELEN CRAVENS stopped by for a short short, looked lovely, as usual, in a cranberry pant suit....BUMPER STICKER OF THE WEEK—Clean Air Smells Funny....MARLANA COE is in from Baton Rouge, spending a few days with her mother. Marlana is doing graduate work at L.S.U....SONYA SPINKS celebrated her 7th birthday on the 16th. Some-ten-guests enjoyed cake and ice cream. All had a grand time with the possible exception of Sonya's mother and older sister....TROY HENSLEY's a grandpa for the second time. It's a girl born to son Billy and his wife. Congratulations to The Editor....Had a MICHAEL BURGER at STACY'S BURGER BAR (formerly Dogwood Drive Inn). This is a fresh ground meat burger—the idea is good; however the one I had was a bit overcooked and the meat was hard on the edges—but I will try it again.... the homemade hot rolls at the RANCH HOUSE are the best in town. MARY'S rolls just can't be beat.... broke a long-standing "no breakfast" rule and tried the hot cakes at DAIRY QUEEN—they are good.... lunched twice last week at the WOODVILLE INN. I've had better main courses, but their salads are good and the atmosphere very pleasant....stopped by JARROT'S to get an honest-to-goodness real ice cream cone from NANCY ADAMS. RAY JOHNSON and his lovely daughter TINA were among those munching a lunch of lunch....Spotted THELMA CAIN and BELLE EDWARDS fighting the check-out line at BIG STAR....Sorry to see the KENNERLY'S move back to Bridge City....Don't forget to ask BETTY COE why she's afoot these days....Boots-boots-boots, all in front of J.B. WHITE COMPANY. LAWRENCE UPCHURCH and his crew carry them out every morning and in every evening. Thought he knew those "boots were made for walking".... liked BIRDWELL'S red and white Valentine window....Saw JUDY MCCOY walking back to her shop from Grammer's because her car conked out.... LONNIE GRISSOM standing in the doorway of his office watching the rain....FLOYD BOWMAN behind the wheel of that big white Michel Machinery truck.... A brown EL CAMINO with a sleigh and eight reindeer in the back....That CAMOUFLAGED CADILLAC westward bound....SUGAR DADDY heading for D.Q....GOOD NEIGHBOR OF THE WEEK is my neighbor, JESSIE RAY. Jessie is one of those quiet, unassuming persons who is never around unless you need her—truly my idea of the ideal neighbor. She is a person who minds her own business; yet is the first one to offer help when you need it. JESSIE RAY—SALUTE! Let me hear from you about your neighbor....It's strange that no one knows whose responsibility it is to keep the jail clean; yet the domino hall gets cleaned....JOHN MORRISON attended the school board meeting Tuesday night—another first for Woodville!

School Board Election Called For April 2nd

The School Board met Tuesday night, February 15. For a complete run-down on this meeting, see inside of paper.

THE HERALD PRESENTS—More pictures of Tyler County's young people. This week, the youths from the Colmesneil-Rockland area are featured. Top row, 1 to 7: Lynnette Bourgeois Knight, 11; James B. and Kayla D. Crews, 8 and 7; Chuck and Shawn Bonner, 9 and 6; Ellison Davis, 3—all of Colmesneil. Center row, 1 to 7: Kyle Russell, 10; Angela, Renee, Dale and Stephen Brantley, 9, 13, 4 and 12—all of Colmesneil; Lonnatta and Donna Brown, 14 and 12, from Rockland; Tina and Dwight Faircloth, 12 and 8, of Colmesneil. Bottom row, 1 to 7: Monique, Michael, Christine Reckart, 12, 11 and 14; Greg, Ronnie and Gina Temple, 13, 8 and 14; Gene and Brenda Nash, 8 and 8; Robert Gardner, 15—all of Colmesneil.

LET'S MAKE AIRPORT PAY OFF

IT'S A LABOR OF LOVE
Festival Flower Fantasy

It's Dogwood Festival Time in Woodville. To a lot of the local men, that means it's time to throw away their razors and see what kind of a beard they can come up with. To the horse set, it means that it is time to get that pony in shape to join one of the many trailrides that will descend on the city. To some, it means two fun-filled weekends of dances, parties, etc. But to Mrs. Sue Brackin and a small group of dedicated ladies, it means producing 189,000 paper flowers by hand.

Since the inception of the Dogwood Festival in 1940, the flowers that adorn the amphitheater have been made by hand. Petal by petal, they are put together by a group of women who meet every day to work on this project. The flowers they produce—Dogwoods, Azaleas in three colors, Whistleria, Magnolias, Yellow Jasmine, etc., are used one night only—the night of the coronation.

Mrs. Brackin cuts all of the petals, using a pattern cut from wood and a hand saw. This takes about three days, to cut out all of the different petals. Then the ladies, among them Lottie Dunlap, Pearl Wright, Ellie Hunt, C. Brooke, Alice McGovern, Rhoda Lewis, and Mrs. A. G. Thomas, get busy putting the petals together to make the flowers. This work will continue until approximately two weeks before the night of the coronation.

Any Tyler County lady who would like to help with this worthy project would be more than welcomed to join the group. Contact Mrs. Brackin at 415 North Reid, or call her at 283-2408.

Garbage Equipment for Sale; Debt On It Exceeds Worth

All Commissioner were present for the regular Monday meeting of Commissioners Court. Judge Allen Sturrock presided.

The appointment of an Airport Zoning Committee which was tabled last week was brought up. Joe Riley stated that the only thing needed was for the Court to bring it up in a meeting and to appoint at least three people to serve on the Committee. Also, the Court would need to approve the air zone—there can be no obstructions or high trees—and it has to be kept that way once it is approved. The court appointed Joe Riley, Chairman, G. L. Powers, Bud Byrum, and Carl Nichols to serve on this committee. It was noted that the committee would serve at no cost to the taxpayers.

Maxie Riley asked this committee to see if they could come up with a way to make a little revenue out of the airport; to see what can be done to make it pay for itself.

Bids on the county depository were opened. There was one bid from Citizens State Bank. The motion was made, seconded, and approved that Citizens State Bank be named the county and school depository for a two-year term, at the following interest rates:

30 - 89 Days	5 1/4 %
90 Days	5 1/2 %
180 Days	6 %
360 Days	6 1/2 %
2 Years	7 %

The bank guarantees this rate, regardless of how low the treasury rate goes; however, if the treasury rate goes up, this rate would automatically be raised.

Mr. Cruse, president of the bank, thanked the

Hardin Group In Call For Action

Beaumont Enterprise

SARATOGA - A group of Hardin County citizens has called for the location of the visitors center headquarters for the Big Thicket National Preserve in Saratoga.

At an informal meeting in Saratoga Sunday, area residents claimed Saratoga had been robbed because it had not been considered for the visitors center.

Several persons attending that meeting noted it was a handful of Saratoga citizens who formed the Big Thicket Association.

Our first membership drive was among alumni of the Saratoga school. Dolly Hoffman told the gathering. We appealed to them for help in saving a part of the Thicket and in establishing a museum in Saratoga in order to bring more folks to our area, she said.

We managed to get a lot of people to join us in support of a preserve, but we always assumed Saratoga would serve as headquarters for whatever preserve was established. Mrs. Hoffman said. That is why we know we've been robbed.

The U.S. Park Service recently released a development plan for the Big Thicket National Preserve that recommends the location of the additional visitor center, according to the park service plan.

The park service proposal is not final though. After comments from anyone who wants to respond are received between now and March 31, and reviewed the plan may be modified before it is adopted sometime this summer.

At the Saratoga meeting Sunday, several residents objected to the park service statement that it would be difficult to direct visitors to other units of the Big Thicket Preserve from Saratoga.

The Texas highway department has a system of well marked highways in Hardin County and all of the state, said Richard Campbell. It doesn't take a compass to find Saratoga. Local folks and the Big Thicket Association have been directing visitor traffic for several years from Saratoga without any trouble. He suggested the park service could use the local talent and experience to handle the job of directing visitors easily.

Rita Peterson said a $1 million water system for Saratoga, Batson Honey Island, Votaw and Thicket is now in progress, removing lack of public water facilities as an item to be considered in the location of the visitors center.

The proposed site does not have such a water system, said Don Moore. nor does it have any sewage facilities, so the lack of sewage facilities in Saratoga should not be held against us. If it is not a problem there, it shouldn't be a problem here, Moore said.

Among those attending Sunday's meeting and calling for the location of the visitors center in Saratoga were residents of Hull, Moss Bluff, Batson, Kountze and other area towns as well as local residents.

Another informal session will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Big Thicket Museum in Saratoga.

The Saratoga group also issued a statement appealing to all our friends who have visited the museum who have attended annual Big Thicket Days for the past 12 years who have participated in pilgrimages held in Saratoga and who have written us for information to join in an appeal to our congressman, Charles Wilson, asking him to support Saratoga's claim to the visitors center.

Mrs. Hoffman also urged people who remember Lanza Rossier and his lifetime dedication to Saratoga and Big Thicket to write an extra letter or two to Sen. Lloyd Henssen and Sen. John Tower.

We're taking volunteers, too, Bill Brett said. We'd rather fight than switch.

MAXIE RILEY SPEARHEADS DRIVE TO CLEAN UP JAIL

"It's 100% better than last week, and we hope next week, it will be 100% better than this week," said Maxie Riley, chairman of the new Jail Committee, with reference to the work now being done on the jail.

Members of the Jail Committee, in addition to Riley, are: Deputy Coward, Chief of Police Mattingly, Walt Davis, B. J. Vardeman, Huey Hancock and Gary Hennigan. The committee membership includes at least one law officer from each different department.

These men have been working hard, trying to get the renovation work on the jail completed. According to Riley, this jail will never completely meet the standards set by the State, because they require sun-decks and libraries. However, it will certainly be brought a lot closer to State standards than it was a month ago.

Presently, the jail is being painted, windows are being put in, and the plumbing worked on. The electrical work is scheduled to begin within the next day or two.

Riley advised that the Committee plans to meet as needed, and they will make a report on the situation at the jail once a month to the County Commissioners.

They have also been charged by County Judge Allen Sturrock with determining whose responsibility it is to see that the jail is kept clean and in a habitable condition.

IT'S NOT THE HOLIDAY INN, BUT

Commissioners . . .

Court and expressed the bank's willingness to work with them in any way. Bids were opened on the purchase of four trucks for the Commissioners. There were three bids: A & M Motors, Jack Lane Ford, Ogen Chevrolet. These bids were tabled, however, until the February 21 meeting, because the bid from Jack Lane Ford was not presented correctly. This bid was made on the total four trucks and not broken down individually. Since there are only to be two trucks traded-in, the Commissioners wanted individual bids on the new trucks. Jack Lane was asked to redo his bid on this basis and resubmit it.

The dump-truck bed bids were opened. The two submitted were from Child's Trucks of Houston and Alex Fagleston. These bids, also, were tabled until the 21st. A bid from Lufkin Typewriter for a new Royal typewriter for the County Clerk in the amount of $612.90 was approved.

The monthly bills were submitted to the Commissioners, and they were approved for payment. It was brought up by Judge Sturrock that the Court needed to advertise for the sale of some of the garage equipment the County has. It was noted that close to $80,000 is still owed on this equipment, which consists of trucks and containers. The reason given for selling this equipment is the County doesn't think there is a chance of its going back into the pickup business within the next year or two. If this is the case, it is felt that the trucks and other equipment would sit idle, going to rust and ruin. If the equipment is sold, the proceeds would be applied against the note on this equipment at the bank.

It was brought up, that should the County ever go back into the garage business, a different system, larger containers, smaller trucks, dumps in various locations over the County, would be used. The Texas Aeronautics Commission contract was presented to be signed. This contract covers work being done at the airport. This work includes extending the runway lighting, including installation of a beacon and refurbishing the wind cone, etc. It was mentioned that this work is just about completed. The Commissioners accepted the County Extension report.

In accepting the County Treasurer's report, it was noted that Precinct 2 needs to spend their right-of-way money. Judge Sturrock said this would probably be accomplished by the need to move a pipeline to Precinct 2.

An official letter opposing the Texas Taxpayers' Bill of Rights was read from San Patricio County. No action was taken, and it was tabled until the next meeting.

The need for a public hearing, under the New Revenue Sharing Act, was brought up. The Judge said it was advertised in the newspaper for this meeting. The amount involved is around $55,000 in uncommitted funds. However, the Commissioners stated that some of it was needed on the renovations to the jail, new boiler, solid waste. According to the County Treasurer's secretary, "It seems to be pretty well committed, even though it is uncommitted."

Maxie Riley brought up the work that is being done on the jail. (See related news story.) He also asked for and received permission to go to a surplus store in Houston and purchase mattresses for the jail at $4 each.

In line with the work being done on the jail, Leon Fowler posed the question, "Whose responsibility is it to keep the jail clean?" Fowler added, "Eight years ago, when I was in office, it was the sheriff's responsibility to clean the jail." Leon also brought up the fact that four pickup loads of trash were hauled from the jail, including "chicken bones that had to be at least two years old."

Since no one had an answer to Mr. Fowler's question, Judge Sturrock suggested to Maxie Riley that the Jail Committee come up with the answer. On this note, the Court was adjourned.

Children learn from father's example

COLLEGE STATION — "Just being a man" is the most important aspect of fatherhood. Mrs. Irene Miller, a family life education specialist, says. "From their dad's example children learn what it means to be masculine. Watching and listening to their father helps children perceive how men should behave. They learn that men are more than just fathers—they're husbands, career men, citizens and individuals with varied interests and talents," she added.

Mrs. Miller is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "The best gift a father can give a son or daughter is himself—spending time working and playing with his children."

"Fathers also help their children become more socially and behave acceptably as they interpret the codes of society. They show and tell children what is right and wrong—what they can and cannot do, and why."

Fathers are one of the children's prime links with the wider world of the community. Through his convictions, interests and activities, a father influences his child's attitudes about the community," she said.

Being a good father is a self-learned skill. A good husband, the specialist added.

"Children benefit from family situations whether father and mother share their work, friends and interests along with their joys, too. The child's attitudes about home and parental roles are shaped by these early contacts with both father and mother and remain with him all his life," she said.

Fathers' roles have changed over the past 20 years. They are becoming more involved with home affairs and child rearing and realizing that fathering is a full-time position beginning with the baby's birth, she said.

"Young couples may be pressured into parenthood to fill an emptiness in their lives or to make them feel more feminine. For other women, pregnancy provides an opportunity for others to take care of them and provide the extra attention they seek."

"All these immature, selfish reasons for having a baby may result in frustration and dissatisfaction when the couple realizes they alone are responsible for the baby—who is totally dependent on them," she said.

"Pregnancy and parenthood are times of crisis—times when old patterns of coping with stress and change are no longer sufficient. Pregnancy and parenthood necessitate role changes as the couple assume new responsibilities for the emotional and physical well-being of their child, the specialist said.

"For other couples, the baby may fill an empty marriage or provide a playmate for an only child—or themselves."

"LOGAN'S RUN" IS A MOVIE WORTH SEEING

FARRAH FAWCETT-MAJORS HER FIRST MOVIE

Farah Fawcett-Majors, a gray-eyed star roles on many TV dramatic series, is the heroine of the new movie "Logan's Run." The film was directed by Michael Anderson from a screenplay by David Newman and George Clayton Johnson.

HOLOGRAMS AND LASERS

For a Hologram First For 'Logan's Run' Michael York became the first film star in history to perform in a hologram when he portrayed the Multiple Company Laboratories in San Francisco for this unique production.

This revolutionary screen technique being introduced in "Logan's Run" would be the forerunner of the movies and TV entertainment of the future.

In addition, Chris Outwater, one of America's leading scientists in the field of holograms and co-author of a definitive textbook on the subject, was hired as a consultant on the laser beam holography and to produce unusual light and image techniques that were incorporated in the futuristic door of the 23rd century story. Laser photography is an important part of "Logan's Run" special effects.

Carter's Amnesty Won't Be Forgotten or Forgiven by Many

By SMITH HEMPSTONE

President Carter can, as he has done, grant "a full, complete and unconditional pardon" to those light-footed thousands who fought the Vietnam War from the safety of Canadian bunkers. But the President lacks the authority to bestow upon those who violated the Selective Service Act the gratitude of their country, the respect of their peers or that sense of honor they sacrificed in the pell-mell pursuit of their own comfort and safety.

These, to paraphrase President Kennedy, were willing to pay any price, employ any loophole, flout any distance, shirk any responsibility to assure their own survival and success.

One can, and must, respect a man who refuses to kill. There is a place for him—and 30,000 found it during the Vietnam War—in the non-combatant medical corps.

It is possible to esteem those 35,000 who said they would not under any circumstances don a uniform, and dignified that stance by their willingness to go to jail or to perform alternate civilian service.

But it is not possible to admire a person whose most profound statement of belief is a "stodoludie" from graduate school. It is not possible to respect a man who refuses to dignify his principles with a sacrifice more severe than having to make do with the Canadian edition of Time for a few years.

Wives have been widowed, children left fatherless and parents deprived of their sons because someone had to go in place of those who fled to Canada. That is the burden of the draft-dodgers, and it is a measure of their morality that they bear it lightly.

John Stuart Mill, the 19th Century British philosopher and economist, put it this way: "A man who has nothing for which he is willing to fight, nothing which he cares about more than his personal safety, is a miserable creature who has no chance of being free, unless made and kept so by the exertions of better men than himself."

Condensed From Human Events

Q. I'm going into hospital next month for surgery. How much of the bill will my Medicare hospital insurance pay? A. It will pay for all covered expenses during the first 60 days of each benefit period except for the first $124. You are responsible for that. Should you be confined for a longer period, your hospital insurance would pay for all covered expenses for the next 30 days except for $31 a day.

Q. My wife recently entered a psychiatric hospital for an indefinite stay. Will her Medicare help pay the bill? A. Medicare hospital insurance can help pay for 190 days during her lifetime for care in a psychiatric hospital participating in Medicare.

Q. How much more of my wages will go for social security contributions in 1977, compared with 1976? A. If you earn $15,300 or less in 1977, your social security contribution will be at the same rate as in 1976. If you earn over $15,300, you will pay a little more because the taxable base is $16,500 for 1977. A worker with wages of $16,500 or more will pay $76.20 a year more in contributions.

Washington Spotlight

★ According to the Justice Department, Sol Linowitz, President Carter's chief negotiator for a new Panama Canal treaty, was registered as a foreign agent for the government of Chile from June 1972 through December 1972—at the same time that government was ruled by Marxist-Leninist Salvador Allende.

★ The appointment of six new Democrats—all down-the-line liberals—to the House Ways and Means Committee has put that committee under solid liberal domination. And the implications are grim for businessmen and upper-income taxpayers. Committee members are likely, for instance, to modify President Carter's tax rebate plan—cutting, or even denying altogether, the $50-per-person rebate to families making more than $20,000. Rep. Jim Guy Tucker (D-Ark.), a freshman member of the panel, says he "can't justify giving so much" to families making $20,000 or more. And Rep. William R. Cotton (D-Conn.) speaks for other liberals on the committee when he says it would be a "waste" to give rebates to upper-middle-income taxpayers because they would be likely to save the money!

★ U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young flew last week to Africa to assure black leaders that President Carter favors "majority rule" throughout southern Africa. His first stop was Tanzania, a rigid, one-party dictatorship that is actively working to overthrow neighboring white-ruled Rhodesia. Intelligence reports that Tanzania has welcomed Cuban troops who are training guerrilla bands for forays into Rhodesia.

★ NBC has won the bidding battle to televise the 1980 Olympics from Moscow. The network will shell out $80 million for the right to carry the proceedings. As the Chicago Tribune's highly respected TV writer, Gary Deeb, reported last week: "The greatest fear among people who have done business with the Soviet Union over the years is that NBC, from a journalistic and philosophical standpoint, could get taken to the cleaners by the Russians. Will televised coverage of the Moscow Olympics include thinly veiled Soviet propaganda? If persecuted Soviet dissidents clamor themselves to the Olympic gates, will the TV cameras look the other way? Will we be treated to fifty little travagles on those misunderstood Russian salt mines?"

★ The Administration is backing off its criticism of the Kremlin on the human rights issue. Both President Carter and Secretary of State Vance have gone out of their way to announce they had no advance knowledge that the State Department would voice support of Soviet dissident Andrei Sakharov. Carter spokesmen stress that expressions of sympathy for dissidents "do not constitute criticism" of Soviet leaders. And Vance indicates that the Administration will not raise the moral issue very often. "We will not be speaking openly in every case. We will speak out when we believe it is advisable to do so." And when will that be? asked newsmen Vance declined to answer.

★ President Carter will have a sweeping impact on the federal judiciary. An analysis published in the Washington Post shows that by the end of his first year in office, Carter will have appointed 20 per cent of the nation's federal judges, who enjoy lifetime tenure. By the end of his first term, Carter may well have appointed a solid majority of the federal bench.

★ The National Right to Work Committee charged last week that the AFL-CIO and its affiliates were guilty of repeated violations of the law in raiding union treasuries to support the Carter-Mondale ticket last year. In a complaint to the Federal Election Commission, the committee accused Big Labor of manipulating the election laws for its own convenience. "Organized labor has great political influence," noted the committee. "If the Commission fails to act on this complaint it will have done what the League of Nations did when Mussolini invaded Ethiopia. It will have ignored its own sacred mission of enforcing the law, and signed its death warrant into irrelevancy."

"Good war makes quick markets." Nicholas Breton

OPINION

OURS - YOURS - THEIRS

Football coaches can bite back

GUEST EDITORIAL From The Beaumont Enterprise

The April 3 school board elections in Vidor and Kountze should be more spirited than in years past. As a matter of fact, record turnouts in both elections are possible.

The reason is that certain officials in both districts are making an effort to run off highly successful coaches—Cliff Patton in Vidor and Ted Tate in Kountze. If both boards don't already know it, they're about to discover that dismissing a popular football coach is dangerous as kissing a rattlesnake.

The Vidor school board voted 5-2 Tuesday night not to renew Patton's contract. The Vidor coach had been accused in an earlier board meeting of spending unauthorized money on athletic improvements and giving part of the work to a distant relative without asking bids.

Three members of the Vidor board who voted to oust Patton—Louis Sarver, Bob Alverson and Alice Womack—are up for reelection April 2 and Coach Patton has thrown down the gauntlet in an effort to get them voted out of office. Patton obviously thinks a new board will extend his contract. Patton's current pact runs through June 30, 1979.

Tate's situation is similar to that of Patton's except that his current doghouse standing appears to have been created by personality conflicts with various board members. And the Kountze board actually has not voted to relieve Tate of his job yet. "The problem [with Tate]," according to Kountze Supt. Rodney Leboeuf, "is his administrative procedure."

Large crowds of Patton and Tate supporters attended recent Vidor and Kountze board meetings to support the respective coaches. But that's to be expected in an area like ours where football is more popular than seafood or pretty girls.

It would be fortunate if the citizens in the Golden Triangle could get up as much interest in a school's math or music programs as they do in the football team. Unfortunately, that's a pipe dream.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Architect Presents Plans for School

The Woodville School Board held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, February 15, at 7:00 p.m. Mr. Jack Stansbury, school architect, presented plans on the new Woodville High School, as well as the plans for air conditioning the present buildings. In line with these plans, Mr. Stansbury advised the Board that they would have to decide before too long whether to go all-electric; gas and electric, or natural gas only on the new school building. The minutes of the Board meeting of January 18, were approved and accepted. The financial statement for the month of January, 1977, was presented. It was noted that the District would probably reach their budget figure by April or May. It was moved that the financial statement be accepted; and the motion carried. With regard to the monthly tax report, mention was made that the collection of taxes was normal for this time of the year. The Board issued the order, calling for a school trustee election for the filling of Place 6 and Place 7. This election will take place on Saturday, April 2, 1977, at the Kirby High School Annex. The cut-off date for filing in this election is March 2. Jimmy Brown was named Election Judge, with Elton Spurlock as the alternate. A letter from John A. Bell of the Civil Rights Division, Dallas office, was presented to the Board for study, along with Mr. Linsam's proposed reply. This is in connection with charges filed with HEW by Mrs. Barlow about a year ago. The matter has not been resolved, with both factions still requesting additional data about these charges. The Board then adjourned their public meeting and went into Executive Session.

Numbers Down, Value Up... Feed Grain Stocks...

While the number of sheep and goats in Texas is about the same now as a year ago, the number of sheep farms in the state dropped 1,000 compared to a year ago and 2,500 compared to two years ago. All sheep and lambs in the state totaled 3,200,000 head, about the same as a year ago. The number of sheep farms in Texas is estimated at 12,500, compared to 13,500 a year ago and 14,500 two years ago. The number of goats and kids on Texas farms and ranches as of January 1 was 1,350,000, down 16 per cent from a year ago. Nationwide, the inventory of all sheep and lambs is down seven per cent from a year ago. Texas has about 20 per cent of all sheep and lambs in the nation. The total value of all sheep and lambs at $32.70 per head means a combined value of more than half a billion dollars. A year ago, the value was $468,000,000, or an average of $26.40 per head.

STOCKS of the four feed grains—corn, barley, oats, and grain sorghum—totaled 288,000,000 bushels in Texas, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. Wheat stocks held in all positions are estimated at 53,000,000 bushels compared with 67,000,000 bushels a year ago. Grain sorghum stocks are set at 233,000,000 bushels, down 242,000 bushels from a year ago. Corn stocks at 37,800,000 bushels compared with 25,000,000 bushels a year ago. Nationwide, January 1 stocks of all grains except grain sorghum and soybeans were below year earlier levels. Stocks of the four feed grains were seven per cent below those of a year ago.FORTY-FOUR are approved for use of the M-44 cyanide chemical control device. Livestock producers in 44 Texas counties can use the M-44 provided they meet certain qualifications. Producers in the 44 counties can use the M-44 provided they attend a training school on use of the M-44, and then provide records of experience with use of the device. Counties which are approved for the experimental predator control program are Cottle, King, Dickens, Borden, Scurry, Mitchell, Taylor, Callahan, Midland, Glasscock, Coleman, Crane, Upton, Jeff Davis, Pecos, Presidio, Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, McCulloch, San Saba, Mills, Stephens, Erath, Brown, Comanche, Hamilton, Bosque, Correll, Lampasas, Bell, McLennan, Burnet, Williamson, Hood, Milam, Jim Wells, Nueces, Kleberg, Kenedy, Brooks, and Wilcox.

Deputies quitting 'under pressure'

By ELLEN DEBENPORT
Beaumont Enterprise

KOUNTZE — Two sheriff's deputies are resigning from the Hardin County Sheriff's Department with one of them charging Sheriff Billy Paine with pressuring both men to leave because they pose a political threat to Paine in the 1980 election. Chief Deputy Mike Holzapfel said Tuesday Paine forced him and Deputy Ted Theford to resign because of Holzapfel's political aspirations and Theford's help. Paine, Holzapfel said, has given up on being appointed federal marshal of the Eastern District of Texas — a position he applied for in January — and is looking toward keeping his job in Hardin County. "The sooner I get out of the public eye, the sooner people will forget about me," Holzapfel said. The chief deputy of 2 1/2 years said he had actually had no plans to resign until Paine forced him to. But asked Tuesday if he will resign, Holzapfel said, "Certainly I will now, since he's let me go." Paine, sheriff since 1970, would not be interviewed about the men's resignations. He said on the telephone he had been dissatisfied with their work but believes personnel problems should be kept private. "We've had some working problems up here," he said, but he specifically denied pressuring either man to resign. Holzapfel said he had originally insisted the sheriff fire him if he were to be forced out. But Paine, the chief deputy said, told him if he was fired, he "Paine would also have Holzapfel's law enforcement certification revoked. "I guess you call it blackmail."

Prices About Steady... More Cattle... Less Sheep.

If there is any good news in the latest Texas farm and livestock price report, it is this: partly remained steady and overall farm prices are about steady to somewhat higher in a few categories. Crop prices declined four per cent but livestock prices increased one per cent during the past month, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. A big exception in the crop price picture is cotton. That commodity has been showing gains in recent months, but for the period ending Jan. 15, cotton declined 3.5 cents to average $8.5 cents per pound. Parity for cotton is $1.62 cent per pound. Wheat, grain sorghum, and corn all showed increases. Wheat averaged $2.43 compared to $2.40 a month ago. Corn averaged $2.40 compared to $2.34, and grain sorghum averaged $3.66 per hundredweight compared to $3.50 a month ago. Most livestock prices showed slight gains. The price for wool was unchanged at 93 cents, and the price for mohair was also steady at $3.85 per pound.

THE STATE'S CATTLE AND CALF

 population increased in 1977, even though nationwide there was a marked reduction. All cattle and calves on Texas farms and ranches totaled 15,800,000 head; this is up one per cent from a year ago. These included 6,800,000 cows that have calved (unchanged from a year ago), 1,710,000 head of cattle on feed (down nine per cent from a year ago), 5,740,000 stocker cattle (up nine per cent from a year ago). The 1976 calf crop was estimated at 5,800,000 head; this is down three per cent from the 1975 crop. The average value per head of cattle in Texas for 1977 is $170 compared to $155 last year. Nationwide, cattle and calf numbers were down four per cent from a year ago. This is the sharpest percentage decline since 1948 and represents the second consecutive year of herd reduction in the current cattle cycle. All cows and heifers that have calved are down four per cent nationwide; beef cows are down five per cent; milk cows are down one per cent.

SHEEP NUMBERS IN TEXAS

 continue to decline. All sheep and lambs as of Jan. 1 are estimated at 2,520,000. This is the lowest total since 1918. It is a three per cent decline from the previous year, and is the sixth consecutive year of decline. The average value per head is $37 compared with $31.50 a year ago. The number of sheep operations in Texas is estimated at 9,000; this is down five per cent from a year ago. The inventory of all goats and kids in Texas shows an increase of 16 per cent from a year ago. This was the first year to year increase since 1923. Average value of all goats and kids is $25 compared to $19 a year ago. "Wherever there is a human being there is a chance for kindness." Seneca

UT EXES OF TYLER COUNTY TO HOLD ROUND-UP

The University of Texas Exes living in Tyler County, their spouses and the parents of students now in the University of Texas are invited to attend the annual Exes Round-up on March 1, at 7:30 P.M., at 124 Kelley Boulevard, according to Dr. J.S. Jinnette, president of the group. Dr. and Mrs. Jinnette will host a pick-up supper and an informal program is being arranged. New residents of the County who attended the University or any other who need more information are invited to call 283-5058.

$10,000 Gift To Drama Group

GALVESTON — Jerry Allen, Business Manager for Lone Star Historical Drama Association in Galveston, Texas announced today that the Atlantic Richfield Foundation has contributed $10,000 to LSMDA, to be used for the specified purpose of landscaping the Amphitheatre grounds. The Amphitheatre, now under construction on the grounds of the State Park, West Galveston Island, is slated to open June 30 with the premiere performance of Pulitzer Playwright Paul Green's newest epic drama, THE LONG STRA. Dean D. Baxter, Senior Representative, Public Affairs Division of Atlantic Richfield, was in Galveston Saturday, February 5, to present the $10,000 check to Robert Nesbitt, Chairman of the LSMDA Steering Committee. Said Mr. Baxter, "The Atlantic Richfield Foundation is happy to fund the landscaping of the Amphitheatre in Galveston Island State Park to improve the environment and the beauty of Galveston Island." The word "cattle" comes from the Latin capsule meaning wealth or property. At one time it meant all domestic animals. Now it is used only for bovines.

WHERE THERE IS NO VISION, THE PEOPLE PERISH - PROVERBS

In the past few weeks it has seemed like I have been in the throes of an amateur columnist.

Many, many citizens of Tyler County have responded to my questions, subject, and suggestions for discussion in a news column. Their interest and vision was manifestly for the good of society and was the voice of reason.

This attitude of the public is very rewarding, as my only purpose is to promote involvement of all citizens in their community and to start people thinking. All suggestions were received with a great degree of appreciation, because every person who contacted me revealed the real temper and thoughts of our people.

This revelation adds up to the success of an impartial news media, dedicated to public service. There is so much "C.I.E.A.P." pressure foisted upon our citizens. When a piece of sane, unobtrusive appeal and information comes along, it is an appreciated relief and welcomed.

You have taught me that my personal experiences are never complete and there is much more room for more and more of your wisdom and knowledge. I can say, without hesitation, that your suggestions were most inspiring. I certainly hope that the flow of your help and information will continue.

Some of your information has already been helpful and is serving mankind well. When a few men will play group against group in any community, the people lose their freedom. The citizens of Tyler County are not indifferent; they have been poorly informed. Our governmental agencies plan behind closed doors to give the public soothing stories which mask the whole truth and purpose.

We must not allow our vision to become clouded. The time has come to examine and take stock in the actual economic and political trends in our county and school districts. Stock taking must be based upon a very thorough examination of daily simple realities and not in the soothing voices of misrepresentation and white wash.

Our governmental agencies seem to be stuck with the incredible tradition of the past. The story of public servants seems to be "We will do things as instructed by special interests—the way it always has been done. It makes no difference if the taxpayer likes it or not."

MR. BIG at all. By his acceptance of a public trust, will he give his time, ability and authority willingly to his community? He will not withhold justice from the people. He will either sustain his trust with fidelity or resign the office. These are the men who are big enough to restore integrity and dignity to our community.

Sometimes it is good to look backward in history, as the past does contribute to the future. The following bit of history has a moral lesson for a good many of our citizens.

Over four hundred years ago, the strongest man in all Europe was Charles V, who for many years was Emperor of the vast Holy Roman Empire which encompassed within its far flung boundaries most of the continent of Europe.

In his old age, Charles V relinquished his power and retired to the quietude of a monastery to rest his shattered nerves and to spend his remaining days in peace. As his hobby, he amused himself with clocks and had a large room filled with dozens of fine specimens of the clockmaker's art. The former strong man of Europe attempted to regulate all these clocks so that all would strike precisely the same instant, but he never was successful in accomplishing his purpose.

Near the end of his life, Charles V philosophized in this manner, as a result of his experiences. "I was a fool, trying to make all my subjects think alike on everything when I can't even make these clocks strike alike."

—Paid Opinion by Mrs. W. A. (Emma) Drake

THE CONSUMER ALERT
By John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—What does it mean if a friend or acquaintance asks you to co-sign a note so he or she can get a loan? Our Consumer Protection Division and Insurance, Banking and Securities Division attorneys say that if you don't know, you probably would be better off if you refused.

Because co-signing, co-making or co-endorsing a note essentially means that you are agreeing to repay the loan if the borrower fails to do so according to the terms agreed upon.

Many loan officers at banks, credit unions, and other financial institutions report that co-signers often think they are merely attesting to their opinion of the borrower as a good credit risk, or endorsing him or her as being generally trustworthy—something like giving a reference.

Some loan officers try to discourage co-signing by pointing out all of the liabilities it can create. In addition to the possibility of having to pay off somebody else's loan, you likely will be reducing your own capacity to borrow by co-signing. If you should later need a loan for an emergency, this might be a problem.

Loan experts point out, though, that there is one special case in which co-signing is not only not frowned upon, but even approved of. That's when a young person with no credit record or experience wants to make a major purchase, perhaps a car, for which a loan is needed. Financial institutions almost always will require a co-signer in such cases. Most often, the co-signer will be a parent or other relative. In the majority of cases, the young borrower pays off the note with no difficulty. After a few loans in which a co-signer is required, the young person usually finds that he or she has built up a satisfactory credit history, and the lending institution will approve future loans without a co-signer.

Our attorneys say that in other instances in which you are asked to co-sign a note, you should keep a few things in mind. The main one is to be absolutely sure that you could pay the note if it became necessary. Remember, that means you must be able to meet the monthly loan payments in addition to your other bills, or be able to sell the loan off in a lump sum. If you can't guarantee all of the loan amount, perhaps you will want to co-sign for only part.

You should know the borrower's real financial status, as well as character. This may mean asking some rather pointed questions and demanding proof of salary, current outstanding debts, and collateral. You should also know exactly why the loan is needed. If it's a frivolous reason, or if the person hesitates to tell you, watch out. And don't be embarrassed to make such inquiries either. Anyone who wants you to co-sign a note is asking a big favor, and perhaps you will be willing to provide answers.

If you decide to co-sign, find out the terms of repayment and the total amount that will be borrowed. Experts suggest two other steps to take to protect yourself: (1) If the amount you are co-signing for is substantial, or if repaying it will be burdensome to you, require that the borrower get credit life and disability insurance. This will protect you in case the borrower dies or is disabled and cannot repay the loan. (2) Talk with the lending institution and ask to be notified if the borrower is ever late with payments, or if he or she is having trouble meeting the payments. That way at least you can try to head off a default on the loan, or can prepare yourself for having to pay it yourself.

HELEN HELP US!
by Helen Bottel

Dear Helen:
Please tell people over and over again: Don't drink and drive! If I could only reach out and tell everyone the dangers—that it might happen to them!

We had all been to a big wedding, a happy reception. Liquor, naturally. Then, the drive home. A relative of ours lost control of his car. Two people died.

Picture the scene at the police station. The guilt, the fear, the horror, the knowledge that this young man could never forget that awful moment, or the misery he has caused.

Picture if you can this man being imprisoned while his business was lost and his wife and children scraped by on nearly nothing.

He is back home now, but he'll never be the same, nor will his family. The ghosts of two dead people follow him everywhere.

I wish that all kids (grown-ups too) would go to court and see for themselves the penalties of drunk driving. Perhaps then they might sleep it off first, or call a taxi. —AUNT

Dear Helen:
You aren't alone! Read on:

I'm writing this with tears in my eyes, begging you to print it.

I am 15. Today I went to a funeral for an 18-year-old boy who was my neighbor. He had been walking home. A classmate and friend of his was drunk and ran him down.

Six months ago two other friends of mine were also killed in an automobile accident. The driver was high on something. Last July, a boy in my grade at school lost his leg. He was all smashed and tangled up in the bumper of a car driven by a drunk.

Helen, I'm begging all people not to drink to the extent that it blows their minds. If they can't do this, then, please ask them not to drink, because I don't think I can stand another friend or relative—or me—dying because of a bad habit. —IN MOURNING

Dear Helen:
Five teen-agers, coming home from a dance. Now there are four graves, and a boy permanently crippled.

There'd been a contest at the parking lot. The driver of the car won—he took the last drink. It was the last drink he ever took. He and three others.

But maybe they were luckier than the boy left behind. He can't move. He doesn't talk. He's completely paralyzed. —WILL NEVER DRINK AGAIN

After you've drained the milk from a coconut by puncturing the "eyes" with a 350 degree F. oven to get the meat from the shell, it'll crack easily and the flesh will have separated.

OUR GREATEST LEADERS HAVE BEEN GUIDED BY FAITH

The leaders and founding fathers of free nations who are remembered and honored throughout their country's history have all had several things in common, despite their differences in personality and temperament. Without exception, they have been men of strong character, with an unselfish devotion to duty, a determination to overcome every obstacle and a complete subordination of all personal glory to the best interests of their country. They were men with a kind of principle that is hard to find today, and this was largely a result of their faith, upon which they depended for guidance during the dark hours of adversity. Attend the Church of your choice and learn some of this faith with which our revered leaders gave us our priceless heritage of freedom.

One language held his heart and lip.
Straight onward to his goal he trod.
And proved the highest statementship
Obedience to the voice of God.
