Town Talk by BARBARA

THE WOODVILLE SCENE

JIM GRIMES, back from Rome and England, advises that gas in Rome, Italy is $2.69 a gallon and in London, England, it is $1.47 a gallon. . . . JIMMIE WIGLEY greeted WES CHAMBERLAIN with a big hug. WES seems to be a favorite with the ladies. He is one fine person. . . . Understand BILL SPINKS and BECKY are tying the knot. My most sincere condolences to her. . . . TERRI HILL with a darling, shorter hair-do from JUDY MCCOY—it really looks terrific on her. . . . J. W. RAY was reading his envelopes before depositing them in the post office (the rain makes you do strange things). . . . Well, the big news this past week was the formal opening of the Woodville branch office of Jasper Federal Savings & Loan Association. Seems everyone in town came to the grand opening. MISS TYLER COUNTY, DEBBIE DEAN, looked resplendent in white chiffon with a white sequined bodice. SUSIE PLATT was in a terrific mauve and purple paisley print. JANE BEST was greeting the guests at the door in yellow and white stripes, while JUDY WATTS was in a white pant suit with a black and white print blouse. Presiding at the refreshment table was BETTY BURGE in an orange blouse and orange and white stripe jacket and skirt, along with ELSIE GILLYAW in a green top and green and white stripe skirt. DEE HANCOCK was in solid green pants, yellow blouse, and a green and white stripe top. Also spotted in the crowd were GROVER DIE, JACK OGDEN, HELEN CRAVEN and daughter-in-law, LINDA, JOE CASH, CHIEF MATTINGLY, PATROLMAN WALKER, JIM CLARK, JOSIAH WHEAT, CARL NICHOLS, TOBY SPURLOCK, MR. GASSIOT, MRS. MORGAN, FRED SULLIVAN, GRACE BOSTICK, FREDIA CRUSE, RAY JOHN-SON, DON STEVENS, JIMMY ALLISON, JOE BEST, GENE BOYKIN, PAT BROWN, SHERRY SKINNER, BLANCH RISINGER, CINDY MCCLURE and JILL, HARRY STAFFORD, PAUL THOMAS, EDDIE FAIRCLOTH, J. W. RAY, JOE RILEY, ALLEN FORTENBERRY, JIM and JACKIE DILLON, ANN BOWEN, DICK DAVIS, DR. OLHEN, and MARGIE PRYOR in yellow and blue.

Enjoyed a brief visit with ESTHER WOMACK of Warren last Thursday. . . . Had lunch Tuesday at the PILGRIM HOUSE in Kountze. It was delicious—sure wish they would come to Tyler County. . . . SNEAKY SNAKE must get all the exciting calls—he was looking for church mice the other evening.

GRAND OPENING—On hand for the formal opening of the Woodville Branch Office of Jasper Federal Savings & Loan Association at 1008 West Bluff were (L to R) Bertis Best, manager of the Woodville Office; Jane Best, Bill McMillon, Debbie Dean, Carl Nichols, Terry Watts, Nancy Polk, Cynthia Hrychorchuk, Judy Watts, and P. E. Lindsey. A large crowd was on hand for the ribbon-cutting ceremonies which took place at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, April 22.

Dear Editor:

I hear from the "grapevine" that the HERALD is having trouble getting news around Woodville. Well, let me tell you something about Woodville.

The very few who control Woodville are very particular about whom they let get started in any kind of business around Woodville. THEY have, from the beginning of time, kept a very tight rein on Woodville and Tyler County, to the point that it has never grown past a two-traffic light town, or in more common language, a two-horse town. Woodville will never grow past the stagnated stage it has reached until the common, basic people get off their lazy asses and stop letting a few so-called "elites" tell them how to run their lives and their town. I suppose you will not print this, but at least I have gotten some of it off my chest.

Ms. Mann

A Sad Farewell . . .

It is with sincere regrets that we make this announcement, but it is definite now. We are discontinuing the TYLER COUNTY HERALD and/or the WOODVILLE STAR.

We have gained much ground and covered a great distance since August of 1976, but in the final analysis, practicality wins out. Due to lack of advertising revenue and support of the people, we are forced to stop publication of this newspaper with this issue.

There were times when it looked as though we would make it, in spite of all the odds against us. We have lost thousands of dollars in the process and can see no way it could possibly make it in the future.

We wish to thank all the readers and advertisers who have, in any way, helped our paper.

All the subscription monies will be refunded and pro-rated at the ten-cents per issue basis. It has cost us over fifteen-cents to mail each copy each week.

This was an agonizing decision to make. For weeks, we have debated over whether to continue or close publication.

Thanks, again, to the many friends who rallied our cause.

GOODY BYE — AND GOOD LUCK!

Sign Proclaims: Saratoga, Capitol Of Big Thicket

The sign, "SARATOGA, THE CAPITOL OF THE BIG THICKET" was officially unveiled recently in ceremonies at the Big Thicket Museum in Saratoga. The sign was designed by Harold Nicholas, a devoted Thicketeer who is also a talented artist. Kountze's own Robert Eife directed the West Hardin band in a number of appropriate selections to set the mood for the day.

Alf Roark, Houston attorney who grew up in Saratoga, was the featured speaker. He is the son of Dr. A. W. Roark, one of the old time country physicians who rode far and wide to minister to the sick, wounded or dying or to bring another baby into the world.

Roark recalled how his father answered calls at any time of the day or night in any kind of weather. Once during a season of flooding he accompanied his father on a call. They went in the car until they came to Menard Creek which was too high to ford. The doctor went on from there on horseback while Alf remained behind in the car. He recalled that the mosquitoes were terrible and he spent the time fighting them. This dampened his enthusiasm for accompanying his father on sick calls somewhat. It must have been an open touring car with the removable rain curtains of that day, or it was too hot to have the windows up.

Many times the doctor was not paid. When he was, it was seldom cash, but chickens, other meat, eggs, preserves, jellies, vegetables and other farm produce. Alf recalled that they always had shelves filled with jelly, jam, etc; but the doctor, as many of his profession in those days, never refused a call for help.

Roark has had a distinguished career—as an attorney, as a state legislator (one of the youngest to ever go to Austin), and as county judge of Hardin County for several terms. He wooed and won the hand of Gladys Furworth of Silsbee where they lived during the early days of their marriage which produced two sons.

Roark received some ribbing from Pat Corley, president of a construction company in Houston "about elections and Roark's political life. Corley, as a high school student, had written an essay on The Development of the Saratoga Oilfield.

Winners in the essay contest related to the dedication ceremonies were Robert Peck, first place, "The Big Thicket"; Melanie Singleton, second place, "The History of the Big Thicket"; and Glenn Edgar, third, "Saratoga/Salt Water Marsh." Awards were presented to the winners and other students who wrote essays on the Big Thicket by area business firms.

A trip to the Big Thicket Museum in Saratoga is well worth your time. The many exhibits are both entertaining as well as educational. There are many books about the Thicket on sale, as well as paintings, color prints of East Texas wild flowers, post cards and miscellaneous items. Much of our rich heritage is recorded there.

BEEF REFERENDUM ON RESEARCH

DISCUSSING FORTHCOMING BEEF REFERENDUM—Hardin County Beef Development Task Force Chairman, Clarence Moeller of Silsbee, District BDT Chairman Leon Locke of Hungerford and State BDT Chairman J. D. Sartwell of Houston and Selby (L to R) discuss plans for the forthcoming national referendum on a proposed Beef Research and Information Order. Before the order can go into effect, eligible producers must vote on it in local elections conducted by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Producers must register in order to vote, and the registration period has been set for June 6-17 at county ASCS offices. The voting period will follow from July 5-15 at the ASCS offices. For approval of the proposed order, at least 50 per cent of those who register must vote, and two-thirds of them must favor the order, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced.

Kountze Citizens Attend Dedication Of Land Grant

The gray skies and lowering clouds withheld their rain, the food was delicious and bountiful, the crowd was enthusiastic and varied, the grounds provided ample seating plus canopies to protect spectators from sun and rain and an air of casual informality provided the ingredients for a very pleasant, memorable occasion when the Roy E. Larsen Sandyland Sanctuary was dedicated April 16.

The 2,000 plus acres adjoining the east bank of Village Creek on Highway 327 was deeded to Nature Conservancy for perpetual protection by Temple-Eastex, Inc. Larsen, an official of Time, Inc. and outstanding conservationist in the New England States area, paid tribute to all who had worked in conservation and environmental projects. A large sign bearing his name was unveiled and installed near the entrance to the land during the ceremonies.

The former First Lady, Lady Bird Johnson, spoke of her appreciation for the gift of the land, of the beauty she has enjoyed across America and the beauty of East Texas. She injected humor into her talk when she recalled a remark of the late Congressman J. M. Combs who was our Congressman and a former Kountze resident, after his arrival in Washington. He commented, "You could throw a pine cone in the woods back home and scare out more brains than in all Washington." (Wonder what he would think now?)

Nathaniel Reed of Nature Conservancy served as master of ceremonies. He introduced Arthur Temple who presented the deed to Pat Noonan of Nature Conservancy who emphasized the value of the ecosystem of the area. Also introduced were former Senator Ralph Yarborough, president of the Big Thicket Association who contributed much to the establishment of the Big Thicket National Preserve, Mr. Nelson, vice-president of Temple-Eastex, Dr. Stillhouse and Geraldine Watson, Silsbee naturalist and artist.

Mrs. Watson, who has executed some beautiful color prints of East Texas wildflowers, spoke on the geological history of Village Creek and its flood plain. Reed quoted from comments of the late A. L. Bevil, Kountze attorney, who often found relaxation and beauty as he rode his horse through the woods.

Rev. Glen Dringoope of Saur Lake who is also the chairman of the finance committee for the Big Thicket Museum at Saratoga, gave the invocation. Rev. Payne gave the benediction. The Cardinal Singers of Lamar University in Beaumont presented a super concert prior to and during the dedication ceremonies.

The barbecue was also super—barbecue chicken, ribs, hot links, beans, fancy rice, corn on the cob with real butter, Mexican cornbread, plain bread, various fruit cobblers, all sorts of pickles and relishes, soft drinks and coffee. A veritable feast.

Among those seen were County Judge and Mrs. Emmett Lack of Kountze, Mae Nichols, administrative assistant to Jack, from Silsbee, Pat and Marian Pace of Kountze, Elton and Jo Ellen Spary of Kountze, Bruce Latouias, Kountze postmaster; Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Henley of Liberty, Edna Jagoe of Buna, Lige and Dollie Hoffman of Saratoga, Frank Smith, purchasing agent for Sage Department Stores in Houston, Wilma Townsend

Okay, Mom and Pop—now's your chance to show off your little darlings to the whole wide world. So, get out your prize photos of your kids and enter 'em in our baby contest! We will print all photos as they are entered from week to week and the winner's picture will be enlarged and published at the close of the judging.

Speaking of judging... guess who our judges will be. Our new subscribers, that's who. Everyone who subscribes to the HERALD during the next six weeks will get to vote on the entries. For each $5.00 subscription, they will be allowed to cast 500 votes for the baby of their choice. How's that for getting our readers into the act? And, how's that for getting the back off our back and keeping the mamas and papas from getting mad at us. Anyway, let's get it! Get those pictures of the kids in as soon as possible—you've got three weeks!

We will return all photos unharmed. Special care will be taken with them. We prefer 5 x 7's, but any size or snap will qualify. Age limit—six years. No wetclenching and no fibs, please. Let's all be honest 'bout it.

If you want the HERALD to be a great newspaper, then subscribe now while our baby contest is on.

Mom and Pop—get with it! Get their picture printed in the HERALD! They may be chosen by our subscribers as the winner. You may bring them by our office or mail them. We will handle them with care and return them as soon as the contest is over.

COMPANY MEALS COME TO LIFE WITH VEGETABLES

Do you often find that when you entertain, you spend more time with the stove than with your guests? This can easily happen when you are trying to put a dazzling meal on the table.

Peas Fiminto and Cauliflower-Tomato Bake are two vegetable dishes that add color and elegance to your company table. Both provide a delicious and economical way to get vitamins A and C into your friends and family.

Peas Fiminto
Makes 6 servings
2 packages (10-ounce each) frozen peas
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Blue Bonnet Spread
1/4 cup minced onion
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
1/4 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon ground thyme
Generous dash pepper

CAULIFLOWER-TOMATO BAKE
Makes 8 to 10 servings
2 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 medium head (about 6 cups) cauliflower broken into florets
2 large tomatoes
1 cup (4-ounce) grated Swiss cheese
Cut tomatoes into eighths. Arrange tomatoes and cauliflower in a shallow 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Combine melted spread, bread crumbs and seasoned salt until well blended. Sprinkle crumb mixture over cauliflower. Bake at 375°F. about 20 minutes or until done.

Try a Mini-garden

There is no excuse for anyone who likes homegrown vegetables to go without, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service horticulturist.

For those without outdoor space, a "mini-garden" can be put on your windowsill, patio, balcony, rooftop, or almost anywhere the sun shines, points out Sam Cotner.

Mini-gardening, or growing vegetables in containers, offers an advantage to the backyard plot. These little gardens can be moved to the sun, placed out in the rain without being flooded, and are almost resistant to soil insects, weeds and diseases, explains the Texas A & M University System horticulturist.

NEWS from the Wildwood

by MRS. T. C. MERRIMAN

The golden garlands of Carolina jessamine all along the paths and roads of the woodlands of East Texas and Louisiana have been so beautiful this spring. Some people know this attractive evergreen vine as yellow jessamine or jessamine or trumpet flower. Whatever it is called, it is an old favorite with everyone. It is an early spring bloomer, flowering from February until April.

COOL IT DURING THE SUMMER

Summer can be a very uncomfortable time for us. It is not only hot, but it is also a time when we are more susceptible to heat-related ailments. Heatstroke is a serious condition that can occur when the body's temperature rises above 104 degrees Fahrenheit.

FRUITED TAPIOCA PUDDING

1 can (8-3/4 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 can (8-1/4 oz.) crushed pineapple in syrup
1 package (8-1/4 oz.) vanilla tapioca pudding
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Drain fruits, measuring syrup. Add water to syrup to make 2 cups. Prepare pudding mix as directed on package, substituting measured liquid for the milk. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and fruit. Chill. Careful with prepared whipped topping, if desired. Makes about 8-1/2 cups or 6 servings.

Ice cream and Jell-O

Disolve 1 package (1oz.) JELL-O Brand Gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add 1 pint vanilla ice cream with sprinkles. Stir until ice cream is melted. Chill 1 hour for setting. Add 1/2 cup Jell-O. The New Joy of Jell-O! Recipe Book, Free Offer Box 36A, Karakase, Illinois 60901.

For and about Teenagers

BY PATRICK EDWARD

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I have a problem that I need help on. I have a girlfriend that I like very much. She's moving soon and when she does I know I'll feel lonely and sad. Should I go with her and leave my job or stay right where I am? She said it would be alright if I did go with her—and her parents. If I do go, I would live at their house and I would have to find another job. We're both 19. Please help me make a decision.

OUR REPLY: Rather than move and try and live with her parents, why not wait and see how lonely and sad you actually feel. It just sounds pretty difficult for you to move with them. Let her get settled, you do the same, and see how you both feel after a little time away from each other. (Because of the volume of mail, requests for personal replies cannot be accommodated. Editorial panel selects for weekly use, letters which best represent questions and/or comments from readers. FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, BOX 639, FRANKFORT, KY. 5001.)

CANCER ANSWER LINE American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A woman writes: "I have a condition called endometriosis and I am worried because I am afraid that it will lead to cancer. Am I right?"
ANSWERLINE: The endometrium is a mucous membrane which forms the interlining of the uterus or womb. Sometimes this tissue grows outside of the womb, and this condition is called endometriosis. While it can cause internal bleeding, and it can sometimes be painful, endometriosis is not cancer, nor does it lead to cancer. Naturally, you should be under the care of a physician.

A worried father writes: "My son is 17 and he recently put himself on a Zen diet of some sort. He is practically living on cereal alone. He tells me that if my father, his grandfather, had followed that kind of diet, he would not have died of cancer last year. What can you tell me?"
ANSWERLINE: The Zen Macrobiotic Diet is one of the most dangerous your son could have chosen. It has been condemned by the American Medical Association and leading experts on nutrition as a serious health hazard. A woman in New Jersey died of starvation after following this diet for nine months. You might tell your son that after careful review, the American Cancer Society has published a statement noting that this diet, "is not beneficial in treating cancer." It is a cruel deception to suggest that such a harmful diet could have saved his grandfather.

A college student writes: "I am interested in behavior modification, and I think it could be of help to people who want to quit smoking cigarettes. Has it been tried?"
ANSWERLINE: Behavior modification is one of the techniques used in smoking withdrawal groups including those sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

A union member asks: "Is there any way of estimating how many workers will get cancer? I am trying to convince my membership to try some preventive health measures, and this information would help."
ANSWERLINE: In terms of a rough estimate, 21 million of the more than 85 million Americans in the work force today will develop cancer sometime in their lives. However, there are some preventive measures, such as regular medical checkups and heeding the seven warning signals, to find cancer early when it is most curable. Your American Cancer Society Unit would be glad to help you plan a program to help safeguard the health of your union membership and their families. The ACS can provide such programs free of charge.

Do you have further questions? Call your local unit of the American Cancer Society or call M. D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute's Cancer Information Service, 1-800-392-2040 toll-free in Texas, 792-3245 in the Houston area.

Your Child's Sight

Don't expect a child to tell you if he has vision problems. Even if his seeing is blurred, double, or through only one eye, without any point of comparison he has no way of knowing that what he sees should be any different.

Look for such clues as excessive eye rubbing, shutting one eye, difficulty with close work, blinking, squinting, frowning, sensitivity to light, inflamed or watery eyes, recurring sties or itching and burning, say experts at The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness. For a free booklet called "Your Child's Sight," write to: The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, SN, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016.

OUR GREATEST LEADERS HAVE BEEN GUIDED BY FAITH

THE EYE OF THE NEEDLE
Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter the kingdom of heaven.
And again I say unto you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.
When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?
But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.
St. Matthew 19: 23-26

THE GOOD WORD from the Bible
Sometimes, when we consider the words of Jesus, it is necessary that we look for the message that is always there. If the rich man believed that he had no more chance to reach heaven than the chances of a camel passing through the eye of a needle, what hope, what incentive would there be for a fruitful existence?
To be rich is not to be evil. Evil lies in the love of riches; above goodness, above God. Jesus did not say it was impossible for a rich man to enter heaven; only that it was not easy. We must believe the truth that sometimes riches possess the man rather than the man possessing the riches.
We know, all of us who believe as Christians, that what really counts is not what we have, but what we are. If we follow the teachings and the example Christ put forth for us, we shall be saved.
