'Recreation' Road Paving Requested

BY TRISH BROWNING

Tyler County Commissioners met in regular session on Monday at 10 a.m. and heard a request from Chamber of Commerce President Carl Nichols regarding the development of the road between Hennigan Ball Park and the 4-H and FFA Rodeo arena. Nichols, who was also speaking for the Tyler County Fair Board stated he felt this was "one road that is used by more residents of the county than any other road in Tyler County". Making the request for surfacing "of some sort" for the road along with Nichols was also Jim Clark, president of the Woodville Lions Club and Gary Hennigan, president of the Tyler County Little League Association.

Commissioners feel that "time and money can be saved" by having a way to communicate with the courthouse while out on the road, and at various job sites. Commissioner Riley said that time is wasted by having to return to the courthouse every time a part needs to be ordered and that time is money. "By having two way communication systems in the vehicles, time can be saved by not having to come to the courthouse, when a message can be relayed over the radio to someone who can make a call to the party concerned. This saves on gas expenses also" Commissioners agreed.

Commissioners agreed to proceed with the request for the radio equipment and to advertise for bids. Following that action, Judge Sturrock declared this session of Commissioners Court into Board of Equalization meeting. The commissioners took the oath as administered to them by County Attorney Jim Allison. The Board of Equalization then recessed until June 13 at 10 a.m. when dates will be set for hearings of the Board.

In other business the commissioners: accepted the road in the Pine Groves Subdivision located in Precinct 1, while another road up for acceptance in Precinct 1, located in Warren was tabled until the next meeting until all the papers could be acquired approved the updating of the Deliquent Tax Roll with C.R. Law Tax Records, Inc. The price is $0.18 per line; County Treasurers report was approved; approved Bills for payment by the Auditors Office totaling $18,615.39 for the month of April; approved expenses for Ann Fordren and Jamie Crawford to attend Auditors Conference in Austin, May 11 and 12, and approved Sheriff Lewis Craven to attend Sheriff's Convention in Amarillo in July.

Dedication of a road, property belonging to J. Robert McCombs, to the county approved. The road is located directly across from Dearwood Subdivision on Hwy. 69; Voting box 16 in the First Baptist Church will be moved to Church of Christ in Warren due to the space needed in the church; Jack Whitmeyer's request to purchase the Camera part of the old snow machine was approved; County Extension Service report approved; Cancer Insurance policy for county officials and employees, presented by agent J.W. Ray, representing the Great Southwestern Insurance Company, was approved. Elected officials will pay full premiums for themselves and the county will pay 20 percent of the employee premium.

Commissioners met in regular session on Monday at 10 a.m. and heard a request from Chamber of Commerce President Carl Nichols regarding the development of the road between Hennigan Ball Park and the 4-H and FFA Rodeo arena. Nichols, who was also speaking for the Tyler County Fair Board stated he felt this was "one road that is used by more residents of the county than any other road in Tyler County". Making the request for surfacing "of some sort" for the road along with Nichols was also Jim Clark, president of the Woodville Lions Club and Gary Hennigan, president of the Tyler County Little League Association.

W.I.S.D. Hires Band Leader, Lets $18,533 Electrical Bid

The Woodville Independent School Board of Trustees met in a special called session Wednesday (May 4) and authorized what was characterized as an "extremely attractive" bid for $18,533 for electrical site work needed in preparation for new air conditioning systems which will be installed soon in several buildings within the district.

Board members were pleased with low bid as submitted by Shea-Shea Electric of Lufkin since the range of bids topped out at $43,083.56 as submitted by Cude Electric of Livingston. The total bid "spread" amounted to a total of $24,550.56. Miller Electric Company of Nederland submitted a bid of $26,400 while the Ppk Electric Company of Woodville submitted a bid of $33,986.

The action to accept the bid was initiated by Dr. W.S. Nichols with a second motion by Trustee Bud Allison. The trustees had projected earlier that the site work would have cost $35,000. The bid was awarded after it was "researched" by Architect Jack Stansbury who recommended that the board accept the bid.

In other board action following an executive session held for "personnel" reasons the board accepted the resignations of two school teachers; Band Leader Jerry Brown and Sarah Sears a Special Ed teacher. The board praised Browns tenure in Woodville and Superintendent Tom Linnam said "We hate to see him go. He is one of the outstanding Band Directors in Texas in our class and he's been in Woodville 11 years winning a Sweepstakes award for 10 of those years." Hired to assume the new Band Directors position Barry Johnson, 34, the band director of Hillsboro High School for the past five years. Hillsboro is a class 2-A school which is located north of Waco.

According to Jerry Brown, "I feel like Barry is one of the top band directors in the state. Four out of his past five years in Hillsboro he received the "sweepstakes" award for his region. I think were lucky to have him come to Woodville." Also hired following the executive session meeting was Sandrus Lynn Traylor who will be Special Education teacher for the district.

'New Beginning' Has Good Start

"A fantastic day" is how "recovered alcoholic" Jack Primm sums up the first "New Beginning" picking and grinning music festival held last Saturday on the Town Hall road.

According to Primm approximately 300 people of all ages came out and enjoyed a variety of music from "rock to gospel".

Many area residents and organizations are taking an interest in the "New Beginning". The First Baptist Church of Jasper has donated a piano to be used during these concerts, which will be held the first Saturday of each month. Primm said: "Our best friends have also offered to bake pies and cakes to be sold along with the other funds available. Primm noted that "Many talented musicians came out and helped to make the day a success."

One of the musicians who performed is 70 year old "Shogun" Sledge, an old time fiddler who promises to come again. His music is almost extinct and hearing him play that fiddle "takes us back in time a bit" he said. Proceeds totaling $23.00 will all be put back into the "New Beginning" for the construction of a bunkhouse and ball diamond for area boys. Primm sums up the idea behind the "New Beginning" by saying that "I'm just an ex-drunk who went to seek God, gave me back my life and now I'm trying to pay back some of what was given me." He added "The New Beginning" is a place where families can come to have a good outing. We are people interested in helping people."

Noah Loved God

God loved Noah, who "found grace in the eyes of the Lord" (Gen. 6:8). "Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations," and Noah walked with God" (Gen. 6:9). In contrast: "God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth" (Gen. 6:5). "And God said unto Noah: The end of all flesh is come before me; make thee an ark of gopher wood;...I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh: but with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee" (Gen. 6:13, 14, 17, 18). Noah was instructed to take certain animals and food for them (Gen. 6:19, 20). "Thus did Noah, according to all that God commanded him, so did he" (Gen. 6:22). "And the Lord said unto Noah: Come thou, and all thy household into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation" (Gen. 7:1). "And Noah did according unto all that the Lord commanded him" (Gen. 7:5). "Noah went in" (Gen. 7:7). The flood came: "And all flesh died that moved upon the earth; and every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth; and Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark" (Gen. 7:12, 13). "And God remembered Noah, and the ark rested...and God spake unto Noah, saying, Go forth of the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee. Noah went forth...and builded an altar unto the Lord...the Lord smelled a sweet savour" (Gen. 8:1, 4, 15, 16, 18, 20, 21). "Does the Bible say that Noah loved God? How do you know that Noah loved God? This is the love of God, that we keep His commandments: and His commandments are not grievous" (1 John 5:2). "By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house" (Heb. 11:7)—manifesting great love for God. Our love for God is determined in the same way. Jesus is the author of eternal salvation to all those who obey Him (Heb. 5:8, 9). Those who obey Him are the ones loving Him (John 14:15). The faith that works by love (Gal. 5:6). Noah loved God, do you? Learn His will, then obey it. Send your Bible questions or comments to Glenn Melton, 306 N. Beach, Woodville, TX 75797, ph. 283-5407.

DOING A MAN SIZED JOB

Head-sweat, fatigue, and blisters are some of the things that go along with doing a man sized job. It's also a lot of fun. It's important that I look for provisions for the present and near future. He believes that it is even more important because I am preparing for the days ahead when I am a full grown man. Sometimes I think that my dad has the wisdom of Solomon, that's the thing that I learned about at church, and that's another thing that I find so important, that I go to church regularly, so that I can learn about God, and prepare my spiritual life for the future. You know, Dad must think it's important. He goes to church, too.

The Church is God's appointed organ in this world for imparting the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by living by His light. Without the grounding in the love of God, no attainment of unity or any of His will, and peace, and the freedom, which we had and will continue to have, is possible. We are a part of a world of sin, and should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of humankind and to honor. Beyond that, however, every person should realize and partake in the Church because it is the best place to go to for help, strength and healing, the truth which we need and we have tried to live by in a world of God.

Shilo Sets Cemetery Working

Concession Stand Ready For Rush of Hungry Swimmers

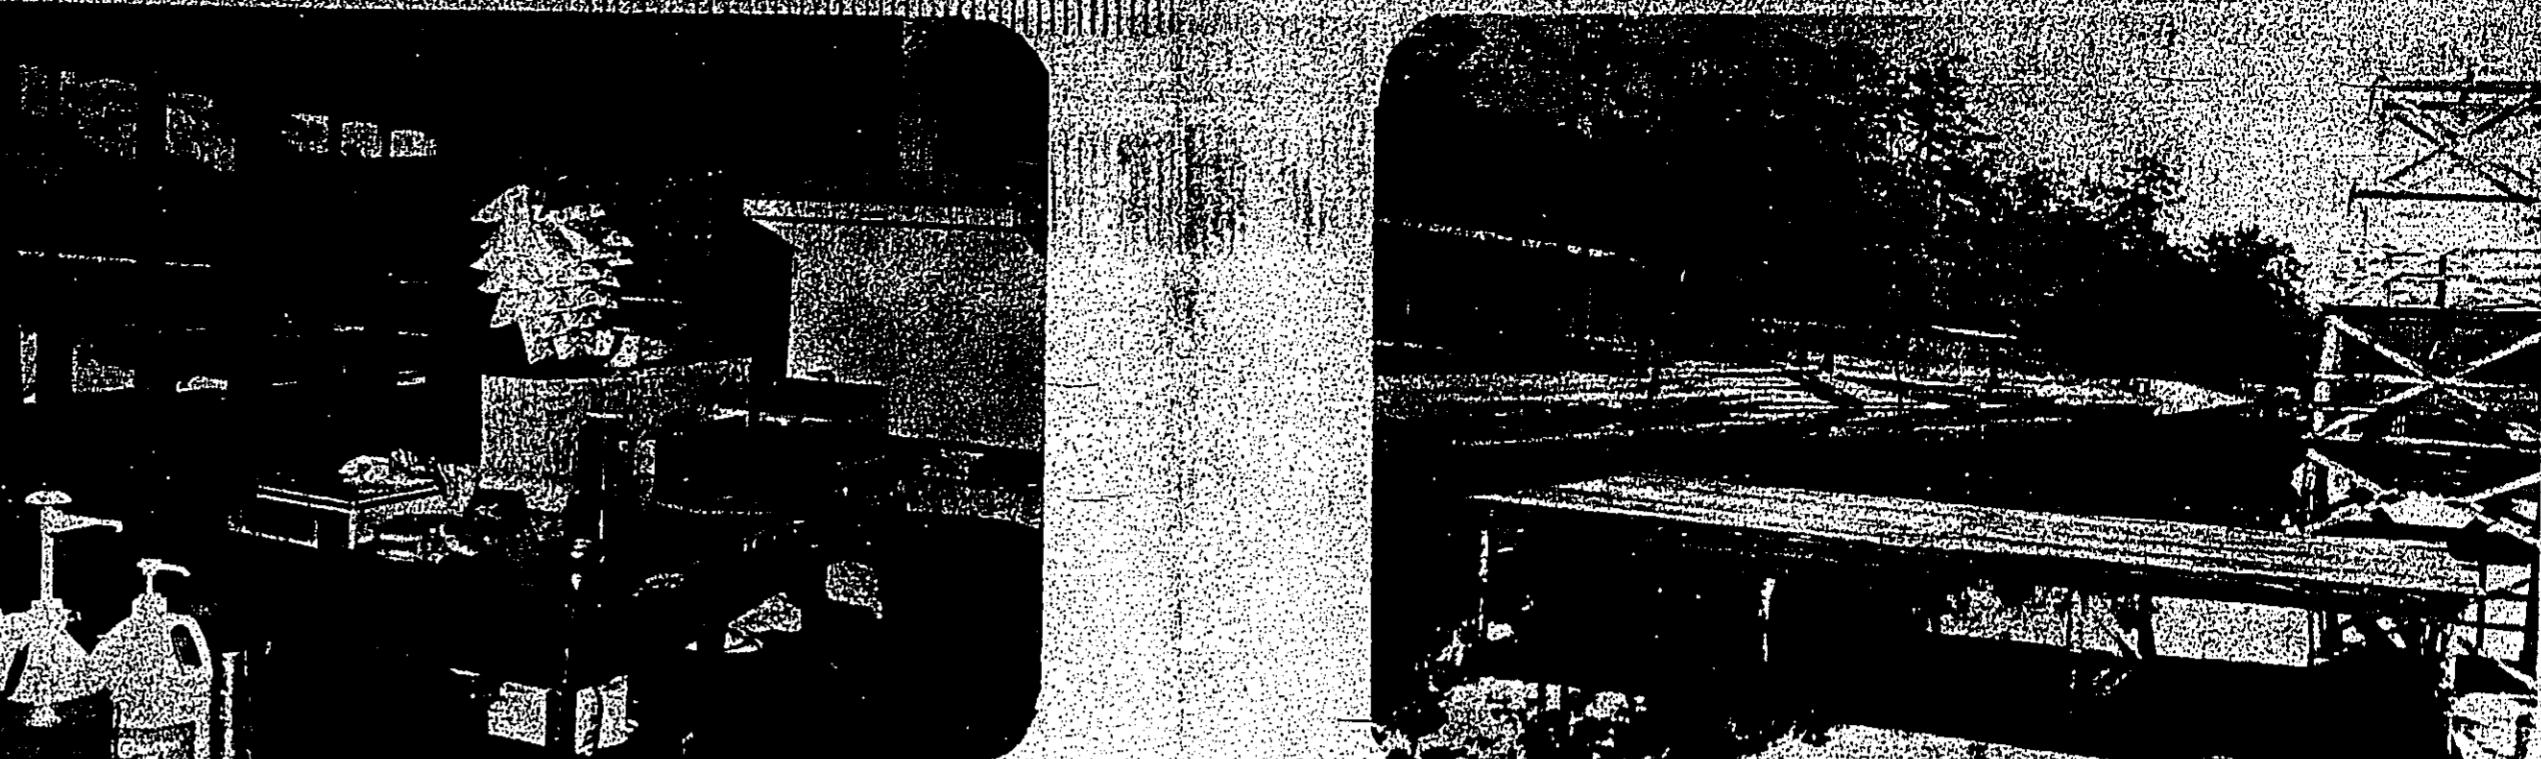

White sandy beaches, bright summer sunshine, and cool, clear waters. Add to this a diving tower, slides, floating wooden rafts and inner tubes and you have found the perfect way to spend a hot summer day in Tyler County. With another summer season upon us, the kids will soon be out of school and with nothing to do, Lake Tejas, located on FM 255 east of Colmesneil, is the place to go. Lake Tejas is owned by the Colmesneil ISD and is leased to Allen Williams who has been terraced and white sand has been brought in to fill them. A new fiberglass slide leading to the coolness of the inviting water is being installed this week. Concession stand offerings include everything from fruit pie to sun tan lotion. The juke box is near so all can hear the music. The summer season opens June 1, but the lake is open on weekends during the month of May. Also, schools and other organizations can reserve the lake for a day during the week. Life guards are on duty at all times. They have completed the Red Cross Life Saving Course. Besides Williams, other life guards are Jeff Moffett and Jo Lynn Moffett. And you can't beat the admission price, 50 cents for age 11 and under and one dollar for 12 and up. You come at 10 a.m. and stay until closing at 8 p.m. After paying the admission price your arm is stamped which allows you to come and go through out the day as you please. Williams urges all swimmers to abide by the rules and keep the lake a safe place to enjoy the pleasures of summer. Rule and regulations: no wrestling on the wooden rafts, no swimming past the red barrels, no climbing the side of the tower, use steps provided, no sand throwing, no littering, no pets in swimming area and only in park on leash, do observe signs stating where swimming and fishing can be done. And, for gosh sakes have a good time!

Texas Faces Cancer Question

Desperate cancer victims are turning to the Texas Legislature to help them obtain an illegal drug they falsely hope will cure them, the Texas Medical Association says.

The House of Representatives passed a bill legalizing manufacture and use of Laetrile, an extract of apricot pits. The bill now goes to the Senate. Human Resources Committee.

Cancer is a terrifying disease and many people understandably want to try anything to get well. The trouble with Laetrile is that it is totally unproven as a cancer cure, TMA says. People should stick to proven therapy and not abandon it for a drug that has no effect.

Several people presented emotional testimonies at a House committee hearing. They all claimed Laetrile had slowed down their cancer. Some of these people had undergone traditional cancer therapy as well as taking the unproven Laetrile so it is hard to credit the cure to Laetrile. Others had taken Laetrile alone and were still alive after a few years. Of course the testimonials all were favorable because many patients who took Laetrile and died could not testify that it failed.

Nobody ever ignores cancer like the common cold. No one knows how many times cancer slows down or goes away by itself without treatment. People always treat it with something. These Laetrile takers may be cases where the disease slowed down by itself. This may be true because Laetrile was discovered more than 20 years ago and extensive scientific tests repeatedly have shown Laetrile does not cure cancer. The prestigious Sloan-Kettering Cancer Institute in New York recently has completed the most extensive animal tests ever done on the drug. In a paper to be formally published soon, the research declares Laetrile has no effect on cancer.

In the past the center has done animal tests on other treatments. The animal tests showed good effects and the drug or radiation techniques then produced good results in humans. Laetrile cannot get past the animal test stage because it has no effect.

One big argument for legalizing Laetrile is that a terminally ill patient should have every opportunity to get well and certainly the drug could have that effect.

Doctors agree patients should have every opportunity to get well. But there is no way to tell if Laetrile is terminally ill patients. The big danger of legalizing Laetrile is that thousands of people not terminally ill at first could die because they would give up other methods for Laetrile. "No worthless drug is without harm," the Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) says.

Another danger of the pro-Laetrile bill is that manufacturing the potentially dangerous drug could be virtually unregulated in Texas. Laetrile contains cyanide, a deadly poison, and unregulated manufacture could let many badly drugged patients die. Dangerous products already have appeared and the Federal Food and Drug Administration had to ban two Laetrile products falsely advertised as "dietary supplements." Five of the "vitamin" capsules could kill a child and 20 could kill an adult.

Petticoat Politics

by Jerry Wilson

In all of the Washington, D.C. area, what is called Capitol Hill is undergoing the most rapidly changing scene since the famous Georgetown became popular twenty years ago, and today its narrow streets are bumper to bumper. Very few houses are ever for sale and there are no new work and permits. They fight changes of zoning from residential to commercial constantly.

So that leaves the third oldest section of the Capitol City-Capitol Hill. With the energy concerns of the workers are moving back into the city. And Capitol Hill houses an interesting scene booming. The Capitol Hill Restoration Society keeps a vigilant watch on new work and permits. They fight changes of zoning from residential to commercial constantly.

And on Capitol Hill, there are only three areas of commercial business in this small town atmosphere. Along Pennsylvania Avenue from the U.S. Capitol past the Library of Congress to the east are several blocks of shops, banks, restaurants and sidewalk vendors. Further out on Eleventh Street, a fringe shopping section is just beginning.

But the overnight change has been on Eighth Street, S.E. One couple named Don and Betty Thomas, who really due the credit. For in the fall of 1975, they walked by the boarded-up storefronts and the sleek bars and decided that here was something "sleeping."

"We looked across the street at the trees, lawn and the Commandant's House of the Marine Barracks, and I was though we were looking at a street in Savannah," Thomas said recently. "On the side street, Betty and I had been remodeling, but this strip was sitting here in deterioration."

What happened to 8th Street were the ill-effects of the 1968 rioting, looting and burning. These three blocks were one of the riot corridors that year.

So the Thomases bought number 721, renovated it and turned it into the elegant Ademas Tiki Shop. Within a year, they were joined by the Barracks Row Film Market, El Mercado, an interior design shop, Poetry on the Hill, Bedpost Gallery and some soon-to-open restaurants.

It still isn't Georgetown yet. But the quick and dramatic change is what is exciting. Especially that one couple was adventurous. And led others to see what could be done.

Along with people moving back into the city, another plus for Capitol Hill is due July 6th. And that is the long awaited opening of the Metro station. Already running from Union Station through the downtown area, the subway stop called "Eastern Market" is just one block away from 8th Street.

Gradually, the streets and avenues around the Capitol are changing. Or, as I should say, returning to the original idea of people, homes and businesses surrounding our Capitol.

Holiday Pinings

by Kathy Kinton

This has been a week of gift giving to Holiday Pinings. Nearly every day someone has come by with boxes of different items for the residents use. The family of Esther Brisben brought a box of good clothing. Mrs. Hettie Jarrott brought a sack full of egg cartons for our craft work. Mrs. M. E. Luper gave us several boxes of clothes, curtains, magazines, material, remittances, and other items. Mrs. E. N. Schoviller and Mrs. Bea Foster brought in a lot of remnants for our quilting. Bee and Mrs. Grace Kinney (John Kinney's mother) gave us a year's subscription to "Guidposts," their Big Print edition. Dr. Raymond Parker took out his carpenter tools and did some work on our nurses station to make it a safer area for the patients.

We have several new residents that are well known in the community. Mrs. Easter Collier is recuperating from an illness. Mr. Alfred Matthews has moved out of his home and is still a very active retired school teacher. Mr. John Lee is a retired sawmill worker from Hillister and Merlie Green (better known as "Momma Mert") is here recovering from a stroke. We're enjoying our new residents and they have already found new friends and run into old ones.

By unanimous request we had Fruit Baskets for Bingo prizes again this week.

What Happens When Someone Seeks Counseling?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a three part series on mental health prepared by The Deep East Texas Regional Mental Health Services as part of the observance of National Mental Health Month. The first article dealt with the question of who might need counseling and what signals the need for counseling.

When the need for counseling has been established and a person contacts the Mental Health Mental Retardation outpatient clinic, a counseling program is designed for his problem.

The outpatient clinics are located in Groveton, Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Woodville and Newton and serve the 13 county area.

The counseling program is developed by interviews during the first or second sessions. This is when the problems are identified.

The counseling plan is a solution of the problem. The plan also serves as a guideline that is followed during the counseling sessions.

Counseling sessions can be for one person or two or entire families.

This allows individuals who are seeking help to receive counseling that is designed to meet the individual's needs.

A typical counseling situation involving a married couple would follow a pattern much like this: the husband and wife would meet with the counselor and discuss what problem they might have.

"Most cases do not have just one problem but an accumulation of many problems that have developed over a period of time," Martin said.

The counseling involves each person talking about what he or she expects of the other person and why the person's needs are in the marriage.

During the counseling sessions other possible problem areas are discussed. These could be the couple's financial status and what pressures they might have in that area. The type of work in which a person is involved could be causing problems or interfering with the marriage.

"The counseling sessions also deal with decision making. This is a very difficult task."
