Officers Score In Drug Raid

A team of two city officers, two sheriffs deputies and a constable made a surprise raid on a residence at 520 Elm Street in Woodville at approximately 3 a.m. Saturday morning, apprehending one man and confiscating assorted pills and bags of marijuana, according to city police officer Don Woodrome. Officers Woodrome and J.C. Coon, assisted by Sheriff's deputies Gordon Tolar and Hubert Unsworth, along with Constable W.B. Bailey, made the raid on the house after the police department received information that pills and marijuana were being peddled in Woodville. According to Woodrome, some investigated work led them to the house on Elm Street and the suspect, Richard Taylor, 29, of Woodville.

Twelve bags of marijuana and a number of pills were confiscated in the raid. Woodrome said that no value had yet been placed on the drugs, but the current value of a bag of marijuana "is about $20."

Taylor is presently free on $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Joe Cash.

Woodrome stated that the police department appreciates the help and cooperation of the county officers in the successful execution of the raid.

Wal-Mart To Construct 43,800 Square Foot Store

BENTONVILLE, AR., Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Sam Walton recently announced plans to open a 43,800 square foot Wal-Mart Discount City in Woodville, Texas, to be located on U.S. 69 South.

The Wal-Mart Shopping Center will be conveniently located next to a supermarket and drugstore.

All Wal-Mart Discount Cities are designed as one-stop family shopping centers, featuring a variety of merchandise in 36 departments, including: Housewares, Automobiles, Sporting Goods, Jewelry, Electronics, Horticulture and Health and Beauty Aids, Wearing apparel for every member of the family and a full-line Fabric and Accessory Department called "Baby World" are also featured in the stores. Customers may choose to take advantage of the Visa, MasterCard and American Express.

Construction completion date of the new Wal-Mart Store is not yet certain according to officials from the Bentonville, Ark., head offices. However, water and sewer line installation is expected to begin shortly.

The first Wal-Mart Discount City was opened in Rogers, Ar. in 1962 by co-founders Sam and J.L. "Bud" Walton. The original goals of offering quantity, name brand merchandise at everyday low discount prices are still the basis for Wal-Mart's operation today. Friendly customer service and "Guaranteed Customer Satisfaction" have helped Wal-Mart achieve the "Number One" position among today's regional discount store chains.

Jack Shewmaker, president of the company, said the Woodville store will employ approximately 60 area residents. Additional help will be hired during peak seasons. Prior to the store's opening, interview dates and locations will be announced by the local media.

Wal-Mart is headquartered in Bentonville, Ar., where General Offices and two of the company's distribution centers are located. A third distribution center opened in Searcy, Ar., in 1978, adding 391,000 square feet of additional warehouse space to accommodate the company's growing trade area.

UPGRADE Object Is Improved County

The recently formed interest group "UPGRADE" (Upgrade Progress, Growth, Creation and Develop East Texas) met on Thursday, April 12, at the Dogwood Country Club to discuss ways to improve Tyler County.

Phoebe Armstrong emphasized the need for a Clean Up and Beautification Campaign in Tyler County, particularly in view of the potential for tourism in our area. Bud Byram, President of Tyler County Chamber of Commerce, stated he would contact Chamber of Commerce Board Members and ask the entire Chamber to sponsor certain "Upgrade" projects, which best can be handled by the Chamber.

Members of "Upgrade" discussed planting dogwood and crepe myrtle trees in conspicuous places in Tyler County and will contact Garden Clubs for support of the beautification project. Bud Byram will request the Chamber of Commerce to sponsor a month long "Cleanup" campaign each year.

Bertis Best indicated that tourism generated through the Big Thicket National Preserve (to be partially in operation later this year) will have an enormous impact on Tyler County. Traffic, Population, Retail Business and Lifestyles in Tyler County will be greatly affected in the near future. Photographic slides and a taped commentary of flowers and scenery in Tyler County will be prepared by Phoebe Armstrong, Dorothy Lefkowitz and Bob Boykin for help in attracting people to Tyler County and use by the Deep East Texas Development Association. David Lefkowitz will be contacting the National Park Service to get input regarding community needs as the Gateway to the Big Thicket and the number of people we should expect during the first five years of the National Preserve operations.

Discussion as to Medical Diagnostic personnel and facility needs for Tyler County resulted in an "Upgrade" request to contact the Health Groups here and see what is being done to meet these needs.

Nova Rae recently moved here from a once passive community of 2500 people, which had a rapid growth to 5000 people and outlined to "Upgrade" how local merit.

Rangerider Funds Asked By Sheriff

A request from Sheriff Lewis Craven asking that the county compensate Gordon Tolar for his truck expenses in his job as ranger-ider for the Sheriff's office was the principal item on the agenda of the Tyler County Commissioners Court special meeting held on Thursday, April 12, at the Tyler County Courthouse.

Tolar's responsibility as ranger-ider is to round up cattle that has gotten out of pastures and onto the roads. Although he is paid for his work, he receives no compensation for his truck expenses.

Sheriff Craven recommended that he be compensated in the amount of $300 per month. This compensation would cover the truck and its upkeep, but would not include gas.

Craven stated that the additional expense could be handled without going over his budget for this year. "We will have an over-run of several thousand dollars this year," he said.

The commissioners went into executive session to consider the request, returning in about 20 minutes with the motion that Tolar be compensated at a rate of $200 per month, beginning on April 15 and lasting for the rest of the year. The motion was carried unanimously.

Readying for the hospital auxiliary's annual Golf Tournament on Sunday, April 29th, are Judge Allen Sturrock, Tyler County Hospital Board member (R), Dick Cordes, hospital administrator, and Mrs. DeDe Cordes, president of the hospital auxiliary. Tournament tickets may be obtained from any auxiliary member for a twenty dollar donation. Ticket stubs will be utilized in a door prize drawing for the 1st displayed above. For further information, contact Barbara Cole at the Dogwood Country Club, 283-2033 or DeDe Cordes at 283-3665.

FOLLOW THE SIGNS

in a world where faster, bigger, higher and longer regulations, we have learned to rely on signs for direction. Sometimes, however, the signs aren't pointing in the right direction.

How often we have heard a political candidate point out his way, while the whole audience is in the only way. His opponent, meanwhile, diligently attempts to convince us that success lies in the opposite direction. The most confusing factor is that they aren't in the same degree. Before we can make a choice, we must compare the signs and utilize them in reaching our conclusions.

The decision maker when we cast our vote is vital to our future. Let us examine the lowest of the great ones. Review our own judgment. And most important, let us be sure we follow "our sign" without falling for the sign that says "VOTE."

As most readers of this column are aware, the writer is a avid sports fan. One of millions of "over-the-hill" fans who played at the age of all kinds, but was privileged to broadcast some of the really great baseball games during the 1940's and 50's.

Because the networks are turning up for their latest rating war, the time when they drop the big blockbusters into the schedule. Each hoping for higher ratings, as they can boost their commercial ad rates to the advertisers, and attract better audiences.

The last time this happened was in February, when tens of millions of dollars were invested to attract you to watch first run movies, as well as re-runs of, Laverne and Shirley.

So all sports has been junked, until the latest rating war is over. In the meantime, you will see a rejuvenated "Supertrain", which was a miserable flop earlier in the season. Not to mention the other turkeys that came and went with the speed of light since the "new season" through the regular season.

Easter Sunday was a glorious day in Colmesneil. The weatherman brought just the right kind of weather, sunny and bright and not too cold for outdoors activities. The activities began at 6:00 when all Baptist churches in this area joined in a sunrise service at nearby "Lovers' Look-out." This led into the regular program of the day with attendees in New flocks, scarfs and gay ties accompanied by little guests in straw hats or with cuddly Easter bunnies.

There was Sammie Rivers of Newton with her new little son holding a tight grip on a new pacifier. These were spending Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rivers.

Across the aisle sat Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cross, with their daughters, Kelly and Staci, of Victoria. They were spending Easter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Crews and their aunt, Betty Phil Tucker of Beaumont during the weekend.

During her visit, these enjoyed a outing on the beach, returning by way of Houston where the daughter left by plane for her return to Birmingham.

Easter came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker with many happy surprises in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Her niece, Ruth Ellen Snowden and Jullia Ann Covington of Houston came with plans in mind. The table was laid, a lovely wedding cake and punch were ready to serve and neighbors and friends began to arrive with lovely pot plants and other beautiful gifts, bringing a joyous afternoon to all.

Years of our community have been made heavy, even through the happy Easter season, as four from our community have been taken in death. Neighbors and friends of the families of these loved ones extend their sympathy in these hours of bereavement.

To Mrs. J.E. Dean and her son, J.P. and the members of his family, in the recent death of J.E. "Bill" Dean. To his sister, J.E. Also, to niece and nephew, Hattie Joe Tippett of Lumberton, Charles Reese Shillings of Orange and Arthur Ray Shillings of Port Arthur.

To Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Davis and their sons, and also to members of her family, is extended the warmest of sympathy in the recent death of her father, Brod's Davis of DeQuincy, La. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have proved of great value to our church and community life since their coming and we share their sorrow.

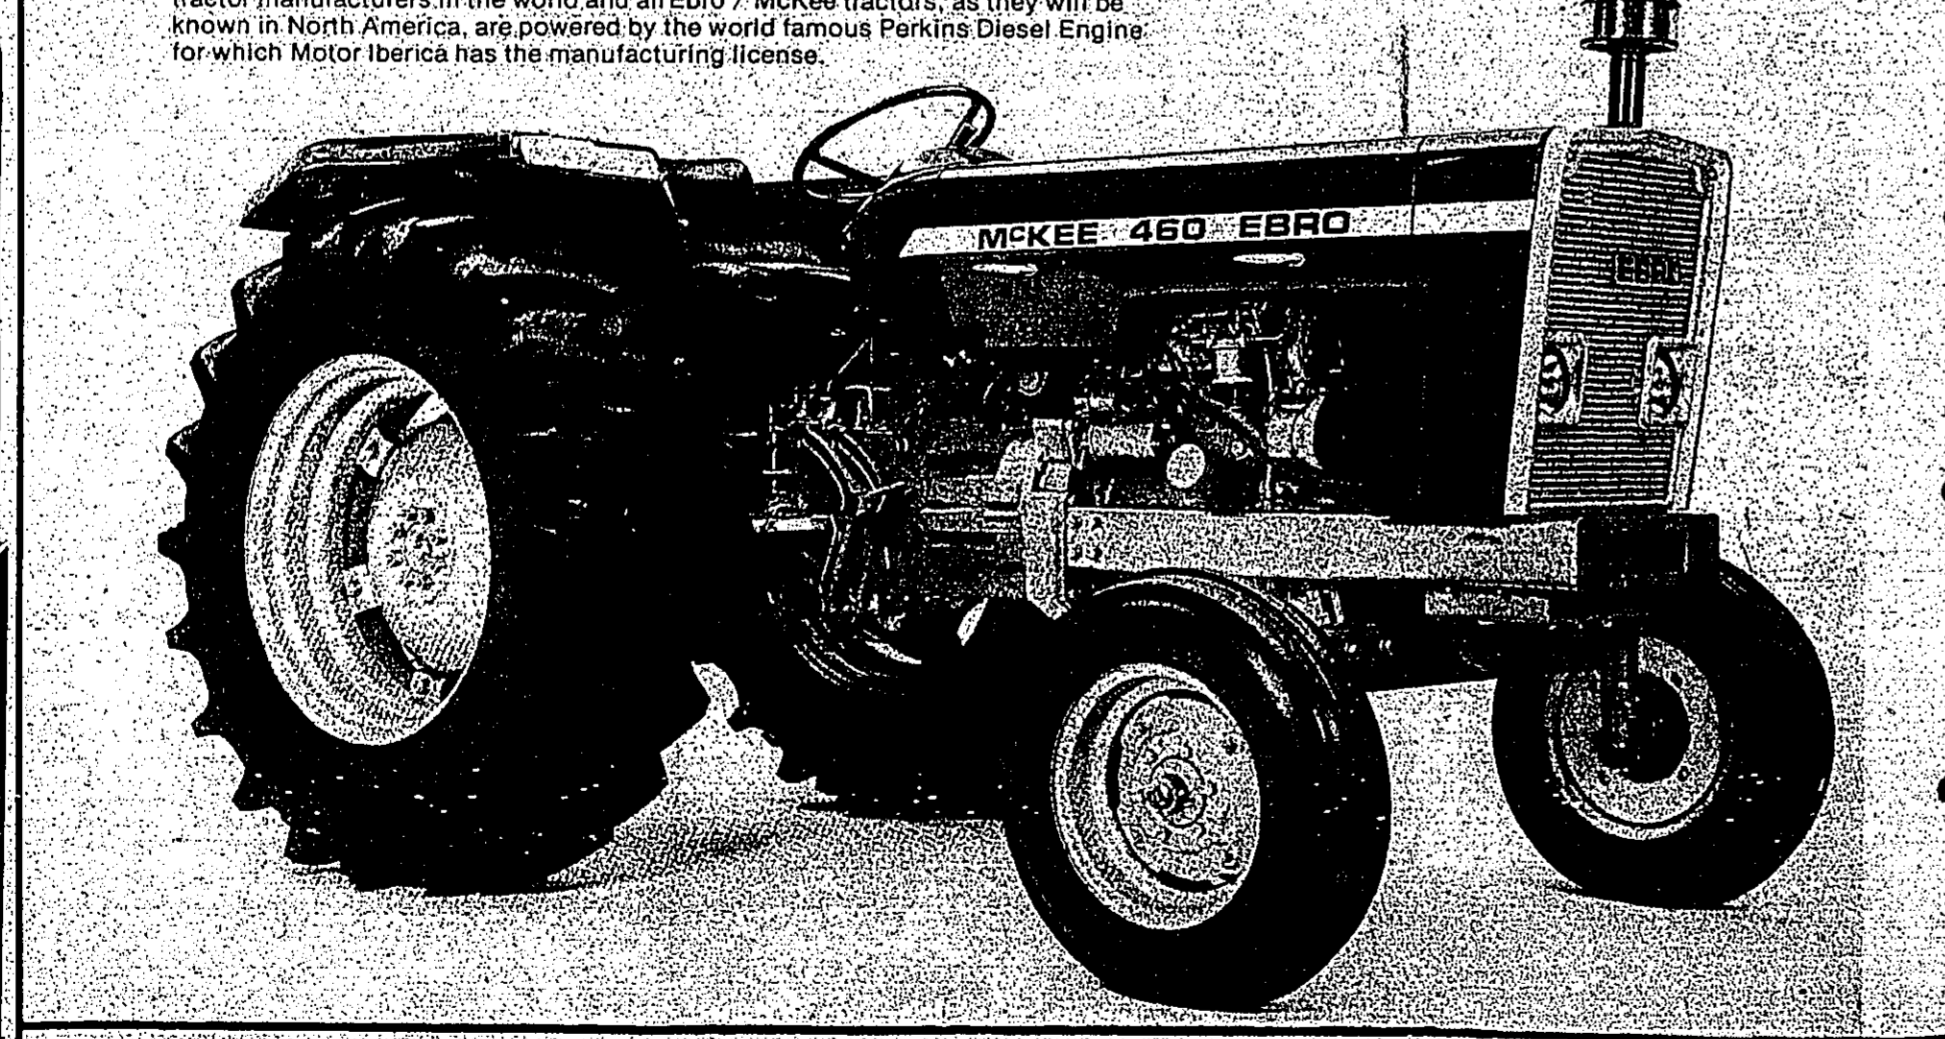

To members of the Biggers family of the lakes region, sincere sympathy is also given. Coming to Colmesneil from Port Arthur recently, the family had already made many friends here who grieve to lose her from our community. And also to the members of the DeCordova family: the husband and two daughters and their families; and to those of her brother and church and Eastern Star groups as well as her neighbors and many friends who love her dearly and have a deep feeling of grief at her going.

Leroy McGovney

"Bringing It All Back Home"

Text & Photos By D. Morey Sitton

The colors of fall -- reds, oranges, gold -- shimmer across the canvas, forming a rich contrast against the gray and brown tones of the house. The house, having seen the season nearly 100 times, is central in the painting. Trimmed with decorative hand-work, captured by the artist in delicate white detail, it reflects an era long past, but not forgotten.

The painting, one of many commissioned by local residents, is the work of Leroy McGovney, McGovney, & Woodville resident for the past 10 years ago. The high prices of oil paintings prompted his first project, he says. With the help of books from the library and a lot of natural talent, McGovney tackled his first work: a scene depicting a morning from 4:00 - 6:00 a.m. in addition to holding down a full time job. These early hours, he says, "separate those people that want to paint from the ones who think they do." According to McGovney, he's maintained this schedule for the past 12 years.

Leroy McGovney began painting 15 years ago, prompted by the high prices of original oil paintings. Once commissioned for a picture, McGovney goes to the location and does a pastel drawing. The final painting is done at home from the roadside sketch. McGovney (above) is shown rendering a house in Spurger, Texas.

McGovney who became interested in painting old houses while working around them, says that most follow a standard floorplan: dog-trot, high ceilings, big living room and large front porch. The oil painting above, recently completed by McGovney, is representative of that style. The house stands in Emily, Texas.

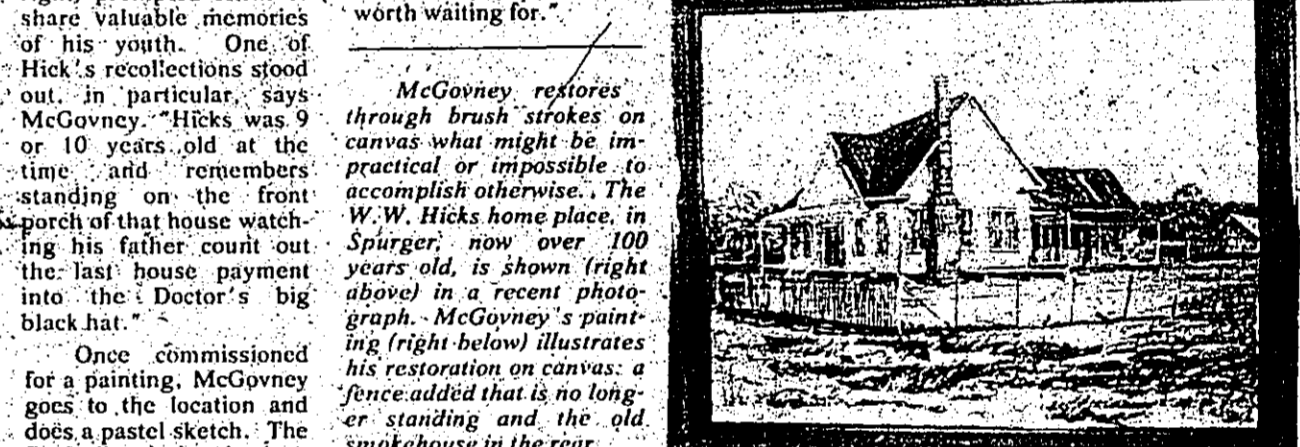

In many cases, as when a building is no longer standing or when distance prohibits a personal viewing from McGovney, he paints from photographs. The painting (as yet unfinished) of the barn above, was done in this manner. The barn stands in Edna, Texas.

houses and lived in them all their lives... its the old home place." In addition, McGovney can restore on canvas what might otherwise be too expensive or impractical to accomplish.

In addition to restoration, McGovney's paintings revive old memories. They have become a valuable tool, he says, in learning the history and lifestyle of people in this area.

According to McGovney, his painting of the W.W. Hicks homeplace in Spurger, now over 100 years old (see photos right) prompted Hicks to share valuable memories of his youth. One of Hicks' recollections stood out, in particular, says McGovney. Hicks was 9 or 10 years old at the time and remembers standing on the front porch of that house watching his father count out the last house payment into the Doctor's big black hat.

Once commissioned for a painting, McGovney goes to the location and does a pastel sketch. The final oil painting is done at home from the roadside drawing. Often, from descriptions by the owner, fences which are no longer up or chimneys which have fallen, are restored by McGovney on the canvas.

McGovney restores through brush strokes on canvas what might be impractical or impossible to accomplish otherwise. The W.W. Hicks homeplace, in Spurger, now over 100 years old, is shown (right above) in a recent photograph. McGovney's painting (right below) illustrates his restoration on canvas: a fence added that is no longer standing and the old smokehouse in the rear.

McGovney (above) shown stretching a canvas, paints each morning from 4:00 a.m. - 6:00 a.m. in addition to holding down a full time job. He's maintained this schedule for the past 12 years.

April Is Canning Month For Texas Greens

BY LIZ RACKLEY
County Extension Agent

Greens growers can't wait until April harvest month for Texas greens. "Remember, the beginning quality of the food determines the end result of the processed food."

"Summer greens in a covered sausage or kettle, with a small amount of water, five minutes or until wilted. Pack (the hot greens loosely one-half inch from the top of the jar or one-fourth inch from the top of the can. Cut through the greens with a sharp knife to remove air bubbles. Air is a poor conductor of heat and harbors bacteria that make it harder to destroy the bacteria."

Add boiling water, leaving one-half inch space at the top of the jar. The greens will expand during the processing. The headspace allows the space needed for this expansion.

"Select fresh, tender

the top of the jars and threads with a clean, damp cloth.

Put on flat metal with the sealing compound next to the glass and tighten the screwband. Screw metal band according to the manufacturer's directions.

No further tightening is required after removing jars from the canner. Screw bands can be reused, but never use the metal lids more than once as the sealing compound will not work again.

Close and process the greens in the pressure canner or sausage pan for 10 minutes pressure.

Process pint jars in the pressure canner for 70 minutes and in the pressure sausage pan for 90 minutes.

The pressure sausage pan time is more because of its size. The rate of heat loss is more rapid in the smaller

Guard Against Fraudulent Telephone Solicitation

COLLEGE STATION. Guard against fraudulent telephone solicitation, Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist, recommends.

Watch out for unscrupulous dealers who may try to trick consumers into a purchase or into making a contribution to a phony charity.

Ms. Kerbel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Remember these tips:

- Never agree to buy a product, let a salesperson come to your home or make a "variable contribution" during the first phone call.
- Tell the salesperson you'll call him back if you decide to buy or let someone come to your home, gift, find out what you have to do.
- Often the prize is one given if you buy something, and you may be overcharged when they're selling.
- If it's a charitable organization, ask them to send you information about the charity.
- If the company represents itself as helping the handicapped, ask how many

Lamar University Open House Set April 21

BEAUMONT. Lamar University will host an open house for high school students Saturday, April 21, beginning at 9 a.m.

The purpose of the free event is to introduce high school students to Lamar University, its educational opportunities, academic and career training programs, facilities and social life. Registration will be held in the Setzer Student Center, located on the main campus in Beaumont.

"We are offering high school students a preview of college life," said David Metz, Lamar's assistant director of recruitment. "We're coming to the schools and view the campus, get acquainted with us and see first-hand what we have to offer."

University students, staff and faculty members will be available to show the high school students around and answer their questions. Students are asked to check in at Setzer Student Center. At that time, they can pick up tickets for lunch and an afternoon movie. An orientation of the day's activities will follow, then students will be invited to visit exhibits of the academic and technical arts programs offered at Lamar. Spectacular tours of the campus will be arranged.

Questions will be answered about admissions and financial aid. Information on student organizations, including fraternities and sororities, will have members at the open house to discuss the extracurricular aspects of college life.

At 12:30 p.m., free lunch will be served. Displays will continue after lunch. At 1:30 p.m., the movie "Smoky and the Bandit" will be shown.

Students are asked to make reservations by April 14. They should send name, address, telephone number, name of high school and probable major field of study or career choice to: Office of School Relations, Lamar University, Box 10007, Beaumont, Texas 77710. Additional information may be obtained by calling (713) 838-7516.

Winter Pastures Indicate Good Growth In Most Areas

Dr. James Robinson, Extension area entomologist, has "insect traps" in two peach orchards in East Texas to monitor insect movements. He says that the adult moth of the "leaves" peach tree borer is being caught in these traps. This indicates that producers should inspect their orchards for infestations and start control measures within a short time.

Also, scale and gall insects are attacking numerous oaks and ornamentals in the area. Publications can be obtained from the local county Extension office to help homeowners and producers recognize and control these insects and diseases.

Robinson also indicates that several samples of armyworms have been received for identification. These armyworms are being found primarily in a cool season forest but will possibly move to bermudagrass pastures as the bermuda begins to grow.

Clover, head weevils are infesting legumes in some areas. These are normally seen in small green larvae about one-half inch long. The larvae eat the leaves and the bud of the legume plant.

This may be a year of heavy insect and disease infestation if warm humid weather continues, Robinson says.

Veterans May Utilize Free Claims Service

Veterans who want help in pressing claims for veterans benefits now have a wider range of free services as a result of a new Veterans Administration policy.

For the first time in 32 years, VA has opened the doors to claims representatives of organizations not chartered by Congress.

Under new rules adopted by VA Administrator Max Cleland, a major barrier has been removed that effectively limited VA accreditation to 12 chartered national organizations and 14 other groups with long-established positions in representing veterans.

Cleland emphasized that veterans who want to deal directly with VA benefits counselors are welcomed, within VA benefits counseling are obligated to represent a veteran's best interests in processing his claims," Cleland said.

"But the new policies open the doors for more groups, both large and small, to represent veterans in the preparation, presentation and prosecution of claims for benefits," Cleland said.

"Any organization that demonstrate a substantial service commitment to veterans will be welcomed by VA," he said.

Two additional organizations: The Polish Legion of American Veterans, USA and Swords to Plowshares, have been accredited under the policies adopted in October.

May - 'Older Texans Month'

AUSTIN. Gov. William P. Clements has designated May as Older Texans Month. "By acknowledging their contributions of the past, we can encourage their continued service," he added.

The Governor signed a memorandum urging Texas communities to pay special tribute to senior citizens during the month of May.

"So that we may continue to benefit from the wisdom and experience of our matured Texas citizens, of whom there are more than 1 million, it is important that we provide opportunities for them to remain active," Governor Clements said.

"By acknowledging their contributions of the past, we can encourage their continued service," he added.

Ceremonies honoring Outstanding Older Texans are being planned by Area Agencies on Aging and nutrition projects for the elderly throughout the state.

Ceremonies signed by Governor Clements will be awarded to seniors who have provided outstanding services to their communities.

These awards will be presented at luncheons, picnics and other festivities scheduled by regional and local agencies providing services for the elderly.

The calendar of special events for Older Texans Month also includes arts and crafts exhibits, talent shows, dances, domino tournaments, senior olympics and free health screenings.

The screenings will focus on common infirmities of the aging, such as glaucoma, diabetes, hypertension and hearing impairments. They will be conducted at local health fairs, organized in cooperation with health officials and medical professionals.

Sponsoring Area Agencies on Aging and nutrition projects serve as focal points for the statewide network of aging services, administered through the Governor's Committee on Aging.

Ticks Are Warm Weather Health Hazard

COLLEGE STATION, Texas—Tick populations increased dramatically with warmer weather, causing inconvenience and health hazards for hunters, owners and pets.

Ticks are biting blood-sucking parasites and their bites may become inflamed and infected due to toxic secretions, points out Dr. Cliff Hoelscher of Stephenville, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Service. Tick paralysis, tularemia and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever may be transmitted through tick bites.

According to the entomologist, brown dog ticks and American dog ticks are the most common in Texas home landscapes. Brown dog ticks are reddish-brown while American dog ticks are yellowish-brown when unfed and slate gray when engorged. The brown dog tick rarely occurs in rural areas; instead, it hides in crevices around buildings. American dog ticks are most often found along roads and trails.

A female tick may lay several thousand eggs, beginning a two- to four-month life cycle. Remaining stages include eggs, nymphs and adults. Generally, nymphs and adults develop on separate host animals. After each feeding, the tick drops off the host and temporarily hides until the next developmental stage.

Regardless of the species, control is basically the same for all ticks, says Hoelscher. Heavy infestations in the home may require treatment by professionals. Household sprays containing 0.5 percent diazinon or ronnel will control light infestations.

Outside the home where vegetation is thin, use 5 percent carbaryl (Dursol) dust at 20-25 pounds per acre. Increase the rate as vegetation thickens, advises Hoelscher. If using a spray, mix five tablespoons of 25 percent diazinon, emulsifiable concentrate (EC) in one gallon of water. Apply one gallon of spray per 1,000 square feet. Carbaryl gives the best residual control. When spraying, pay particular attention to roadsides, animal trails and paths.

Most species of ticks can't survive in cleared areas where there are exposed to excessive sunlight and predators; points out the entomologist. "Keeping areas clear is important in tick control."

Hikers and campers may want to use repellent materials on their jacket cuffs or the bottoms of their trousers. Slices of citronella and tucking trousers into the tops of socks or boots. Sleeves buttoned tight will also aid in protection.

The entomologist advises pet owners to examine their animals frequently. Light infestations can be controlled by rubbing carbaryl dust into the pet's hair. Also, treat the animal's sleeping quarters every week.

If a tick becomes attached to the skin, remove it with a slow, steady pull. Do not try to break off its mouthparts. A drop of chloroform, isopropyl alcohol, ether, acetone or fingernail polish rubbed over the tick may help remove it. If not removed, the oxygen supply is cut off, says Hoelscher.

Always apply an antiseptic to tick bites, adds the entomologist. If your hands touched the tick, wash them thoroughly with soap and water to reduce the risk of spreading disease.

Instead of merely taking a weekend drive thru the countryside, why not stop at some public park, wooded ridge or meadow and take a brisk hike. The beauty of nature, close at hand, will do wonders for your spirit—and the stimulating walk will be most physically healthful. Live a little—it doesn't require a two week vacation. Stream Sample Team In Area To Assess Nations Uranium Resources

OAK RIDGE, Tenn.—A groundwater and stream sediment sampling survey team is in the Beaumont, Bryan, Houston and Huntsville, Texas area as part of a national effort to assess United States uranium resources. The data collected from 17 Texas counties also will be useful to local and state officials in understanding the hydrological environment in the state.

The survey is being carried out by the Nuclear Division, Union Carbide Corporation at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and the Department of Energy (DOE). David Witt is the Union Carbide survey team leader for this phase of the work.

L.E. Garner of the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas, Austin, recently provided Witt's survey team with an orientation of area geology. The objective of the National Uranium Resource Evaluation program is to complete a systematic survey of the nation's surface waters, groundwaters and stream sediment by 1983. Uranium is a very mobile element geochimically, and commonly is disseminated in varying degrees in rocks surrounding an occurrence. Groundwaters and streams redistribute the uranium, which frequently results in high concentrations in water and in fine stream sediments outward and downstream for some distance from the source. The systematic sampling of the nation's streams is expected to provide evidence of uranium occurrences not currently known.

Overall management of the program is the responsibility of the Grand Junction Office of the Department of Energy. Union Carbide is responsible for surveys in 12 Central Plains states. Surveys in other states are being conducted by the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory and the Savannah River Laboratory.

Groundwater and stream sediment samples are being collected at various locations throughout the nation. The samples will be analyzed and the data plotted on maps. These maps will be available for public inspection at several locations, including the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas, Austin.

The hydrogeological survey is only one phase of the contract work already under way in Texas by the National Uranium Resource Evaluation program. Contracts and agreements have been made by DOE with universities, private companies and state agencies to conduct other investigations pertaining to the uranium assessment program. The types of work include airborne radiometric surveys, geological and geochemical investigations and the development of geophysical techniques.

Texas counties to be surveyed include: Grimes, Hardin, Harris, Houston, Jasper, Jefferson, Liberty, Madison, Montgomery, Newton, Orange, Polk, San Jacinto, Trinity, Tyler, Walker and Waller.

Research Pet Shops Carefully

Careful research of the pet shop or breeder should be made before purchasing a family pet, reminds the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

"Don't just pick a cute puppy out of a cage," advises Dr. Jack R. Collins, small animal practitioner in Houston. "Remember that you're selecting a new member of the family and take some time to make a few careful inquiries about where the pup came from."

Dr. Collins suggested contacting a veterinarian who could recommend a breeder of pet shop. There are breed clubs in many major cities that are also sources of information about breeders. He also reminded that some breeds usually have their tails docked or ears cropped and to make sure these things have been done if customary for the breed.

"I find that many people don't make much effort to check the reputation of a pet shop or breeder," Dr. Collins commented. "They just go to one source instead of taking the time to check out several kennels or pet shops to see what is available. Many reputable breeders and pet shops offer a health guarantee or a pre-purchase examination may be made. Having the animal examined immediately after purchase so it may be returned if problems are found, may save the owner a lot of expense and heartache from congenital deformities or acquired diseases."

Your nose and eyes are good investigative tools when examining a kennel or pet shop. Make sure the premises are clean and well-ventilated. See if the pup's mother or father is available so you can get an idea of how the pup will look when he reaches adulthood.

Chit Chat At WCC

BY DONNA IRVINE
All of the different activities this week has kept the residents here at WCC very busy.

We would like to congratulate Judy McKee for doing so well on all of her test this far and we know she will come through with flying colors on her next test and therefore will be our full-fledged administrator.

Our MHRM group met Tuesday and broke the ground for the garden they are going to start. They already have some tomatoe and pepper plants ready to set out.

Tuesday afternoon we had our birthday party for all the residents that was born in April. Those that celebrated their birthdays were: Tabitha Watts, Dacia Williams, Ruth Hughes, Aurea Quinn, Lillie Simpson, and Ida Martin. We had some very special entertainment. Mr. Mahan and Kurt Garner presented a grandfather-grandson duet. Then Margaret Birdwell told us an Easter story. We enjoyed both of them. We would like to thank the kitchen for baking the cake and making the punch for our party. Also thanks goes to Johnnie Lee Harrison and Jessie Sheffield for serving.

Some of the women came in the Arts and Crafts room Wednesday afternoon and worked real hard making Easter baskets for our Easter Egg Hunt. The baskets turned out real pretty.

We would like to thank the women from Charvy Baptist Church for coming and fixing the ladies hair Thursday morning.

Thursday afternoon some of the residents took a tour of Dam B and Town Bluff on the Main Highway. Those that went were: Ruth Ashworth, Manue Fortner, Hattie Owens, Lila Motes, Clara Vinson, Vinson Goodbee, Aurea Cole, Phoebe Johnson and Inez Hanes. We would like to thank Mr. Barnes for driving the bus and Mrs. Dean for taking us along and helping with the residents.

Our dance Thursday night went real well. Our thanks goes to the band for providing the music and to Ida Dell, Stanfield, Edna Collier and Sallie Hyde who brought cookies, chocolate balls and lemonade. Our next dance will be the 26th of April.

B.D. Simpson brought a very good message at our church service Friday morning. We all enjoyed it.

Friday afternoon the residents had an Easter Egg Hunt. We had a tie for 1st place by Lola Motley and Paul Scarborough. Gladys Black won the prize by finding the prize egg.

We would like to thank Jessie Walters, Edna Wichita Falls who gave four decorated sugar eggs to our home for the oldest man and woman and for the youngest man and woman. Our oldest man is Lewis Davis who is 98 years old. Our oldest woman is May Bradshaw who is 87 years old. The youngest man is William Martin who is 59 years old and our youngest woman is Ruby Hanes who is 68 years old.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mary Gynn who past away. She will be missed here at our home. We would like to welcome two new residents to our home. They are Luther Serpigns and William Martin. We hope you enjoy it here.

Don't Over Withhold!

COLLEGE STATION
Consumers waste money by over-withholding, says Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
In other words, the money given to the government each payday in the form of payroll withholding tax goes into a holding account pending settlement of the annual tax bill, she explains.
If, over the course of the year, a consumer deposited too much into the account, the deposits in excess of the tax bill are refunded.
While the surplus was lying in a "dead" non-interest-bearing account, it could have been earning six to ten percent a year in a savings account, she says. The specialist says that withholding tax is a method of forced savings, but an expensive one, she adds.

Shoplifting Said On Increase

COLLEGE STATION—Teenage shoplifting, "ripping off" and "just-for-jicks swiping" present an increasing menace to society and a test for law enforcement officials, Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist says.

Teen thefts amounted to more than $6.5 billion in the United States in 1978. These losses caused merchants to mark up prices about 15 percent to cover losses from theft, the specialist points out.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

SHOPPING FACTS

The National Retail Merchants Association found these facts about shoplifting:

—Many people don't see shoplifting as a crime and don't believe they will be punished—but hundreds are every day.

—One out of 12 shoppers is a shoplifter.

—Shoplifters come from all income levels and are both male and female—but women shoplift more than men.

—The average shoplifter is female and 14-18 years old with a family income over $10,000.

WHY SHOPLIFT?

Reasons for shoplifting are varied as shoplifters, Miss Taylor continues:

—Compulsion: desire for attention, kicks, peer acceptance, revenge against the establishment, drug habit, support, psychological problems, or because they don't think it's a crime are some reasons.

—Need is rarely an actual reason for shoplifting, the specialist points out.

—In fact, 99 percent of shoplifters have more than enough money on them to pay for the stolen item.

OTHER CRIMES

However, shoplifting is not the only crime. Changing labels or switching price tags is also theft.

In addition, buying shoplifted or stolen items from friends is, against the law, possession of stolen goods, too, is a crime, she adds.

WHO'S RESPONSIBLE?

Parents of minors are responsible for shoplifted goods.

Also, when a teen is over 16 years old, he can be arrested, prosecuted and have the crime on his permanent record.

Report Head

Lice Incidence

COLLEGE STATION—Despite the highest living standards in history, head lice appear to be increasing in the United States.

Dr. Carl Patrick and Dr. Phil Vanden, entomologists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, say head lice problems in schools, Texas urban areas during late winter and early spring. The "itty" pests suck blood, causing itchy skin, irritation and itching. Continuous scratching may cause skin abrasions that could lead to bacterial infection.

Head lice are grayish, flattened, wingless insects about 3 millimeters long. The adult female attaches 50-100 eggs or nits to the hair near the scalp. They spread easily by physical contact. Even under the best sanitary conditions, infestations may occur among school children who are in close, daily contact, points out the entomologist.

Personal hygiene and not using another person's comb, brush or hat are the keys to preventing lice infestations. Shampooing with soap and water normally will not remove nits from hair since they are attached by a "cement," explain Patrick and Hamman.

Thorough laundering in hot, soapy water (125 degrees F or more for at least 10 minutes) or dry cleaning kills lice and nits in clothing and bedding. "Personal items, such as combs, hairbrushes, wigs) can be heat sterilized."

Infested persons should see a physician to emphasize the entomologists. Medicated lotions or shampoos can be prescribed for effective control.

Also, report suspected infestations to a physician, local public health authorities or school officials so the source can be located. "The vent is the most important control of head lice, emphasize Patrick and Hamman."

COLLEGE STATION—Best buys at Texas grocery markets this week include carrots, potatoes, eggs and turkey, according to Gwen Dolynne Ciyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist.

Also, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables may offer budget prices, she says.

Miss Ciyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This week's price-quality trends are the following: FRESH VEGETABLES—Low prices appear on carrots, potatoes and onions.

Price drops on broccoli and cabbage make them better buys. Also, prices on head lettuce are down and quality has improved.

POULTRY—Buy fryers on special for use later in the summer. Also, turkey offers attractive prices, and eggs are available at bargain prices.

GROCERY MARKET ASSES—In vegetable buying, consumers may find that canned and frozen vegetables are more economical than fresh.

Grocery features include canned applesauce, peas, vegetable oil, cake mixes, tuna fish and peanut butter.

FROZEN FOOD CHEISTS—Specials include vegetables, dinners and ice cream.

FISH—Fresh fish is uppriced but frozen packs have attractive prices.

DAIRY—Specials include milk, sour cream, yogurt and several cheeses.

BEEF—Prices are rising, but some features appear on blade chuck roasts, round and chuck steaks, ground beef and beef liver.

PORK—Prices are see-sawing, but features do appear on Boston butt roasts, end chops, semi-boneless hams and smoked picnics.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS—Read labels before buying. First item on the ingredient list is main item in the package as a rule.

For example, in comparing hash, notice that some labels read "meat and potatoes," while others say "potatoes and meat." hash is mainly potatoes and meat, and the price is much lower than "meat and potatoes" hash.

Bentzen Makes Travel Propose

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator Lloyd Bentzen joined Thursday in proposing legislation to cut travel expenses of the federal government by $500 million in fiscal 1980.

"Strong evidence has been brought out that major reductions in government travel expenses are possible and desirable. The General Accounting Office reports that 15 percent of the trips it sampled should not have been taken, based on standards proposed by the Office of Management and Budget," Bentzen said in Senate remarks.

"Hearings have disclosed that one government program—the Consumer Cooperative Bank-Self-Help Development—increased its annual travel budget from $150,000 in 1979 to a proposed $512,000 in 1980. It has been estimated that this burden on the taxpayers would provide an average $7,000 in travel expenses for every member of the permanent staff, including secretaries. This is simply unacceptable at a time of austerity."

Bentzen joined Senator Jim Sasser (D-Tenn.) and other colleagues in cosponsoring the "travel reduction bill."

Even with the proposed $500 million cutback, $7.4 billion remains in the federal budget for travel during fiscal 1980.

"Each year there are some 8 million government-financed trips by government officials, plus a multitude of additional journeys by federal consultants and recipients of grants. This means that on every day of the year—every single day—there may be 20,000 and more federal employees in the air. I believe the federal government can sum up the creativity, the energy and the will to conduct its business without such a staggering amount of travel," Bentzen said.

"The American people are rightfully demanding an end to wasteful government spending. They demand a reduction in total federal spending and this is a good place to make a reduction," Bentzen said.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WALKERS/RIDERS

BEFORE YOU WALK OR RIDE

1. Take your registration and pledge forms to your neighbor, relative, business man or friends you will be asking to sponsor you.
2. Explain to each person you talk to why you are participating, how the Walk/Ride is organized, and how their pledge will help mentally retarded people in their community.
3. Ask each sponsor to pledge whatever amount he wishes, on a per mile Walk/Ride basis; for example, your neighbor may pledge $1.00 per mile. If you walk a total of 15 miles, your neighbor will then owe $15.00 for the Walk/Ride. All paid pledges are tax deductible.
4. Obtain as many pledges as possible. Each pledge form has room for fifteen (15) pledges. If you need more than one form, ask the Walk/Ride Coordinator in your school for additional forms.
5. Be sure to tell each of your sponsors that you will be returning shortly after the Walk/Ride (within one week) to collect his pledge. Also, be sure to thank the sponsor for making the pledge.

DAY OF THE WALK OR RIDE

1. Take your pledge forms with you when you go to begin the Walk/Ride. The pink copy must be turned in to the Walk/Ride Coordinator prior to your starting the Walk/Ride. THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT!
2. The route you will Walk/Ride has been planned very carefully. Follow the route, and if you have to drop out for some reason, do so at a check-point. Your route will have specific check-points, and the people manning them should be your resource for any difficulties you may encounter, as well as for verifying the miles you Walk/Ride.
3. After completing your Walk or Ride, be sure a check-off authenticates how far you have walked or ridden. This is done by signing the bottom of your pledge form.
4. Go home. Soak your weary feet, and get a good night's rest. You have earned it.

AFTER THE WALK OR RIDE

1. As soon after the Walk or Ride as possible, go to each person who pledged to you, tell them how far you walked or rode and collect the pledge.
2. Put the amount collected from each of the sponsors on the pledge form.
3. If you have collected the full amount of your pledge, you may turn in the amount and turn in the white copy of the pledge form to the pledge collection at the sponsor's home.
