"Serving Tyler County Since 1930"

Vol. 52 3 Parts Thursday, July 19, 1979
No. 29 18 Pages Woodville, Texas 75979 15¢

FINISHING TOUCHES—Workmen put the finishing touches on the Tyler County Courthouse roof Monday completing a lengthy rehabilitation project which costs nearly $25,000. The project called for a major portion of the old roof system to be torn out and replaced with new roofing material.

Rep. Jim Browder

Rep. Browder Here Thursday, July 26

Representative Jim Browder of Coldspring will come to Tyler County for a public hearing on the fuel crisis on Thursday, July 26, at 1:30 p.m. at the Tyler County Courthouse.

Purpose of the visit according to Staff Assistant Cissy Woomer of Browder's Austin office is the determine the "difficulties being experienced by the citizens of Tyler County especially farmers, gas station owners and businesses.

We want to know what the county fuel problems are so when can bring them to Governor Clements for action.

According to Woomer, Browder plans an early August visit to the governor so a plan can be developed to alleviate the problem.

Representative Browder wants to hear the problems of everyone in Tyler County," Woomer said.

Variety '79' To Be Staged July 28

Keith McCafferty and Nova Rae Harrison Michael are two vocalists who will be featured in the upcoming "VARIETY '79" to be presented by the Woodville Little Theater, Inc. on Saturday, July 28 at the Kirby High School Auditorium.

Curtain time will be 8:13 p.m.

McCafferty is a graduate of Sam Houston State University where he attended on a vocal scholarship. While in college he was church soloist and choir director. He organized a mens chorus at the prison during his senior year. He was choral director at San Jacinto High School in Houston for eight years. While in Houston, he was the lead soloist for the Gilbert Sullivan Opera Company of Houston. Since moving to Woodville, he has appeared in a number of religious concerts with Ruth Houston and she has conducted choral and vocal clinics throughout the south and in foreign countries.

Keith will be singing

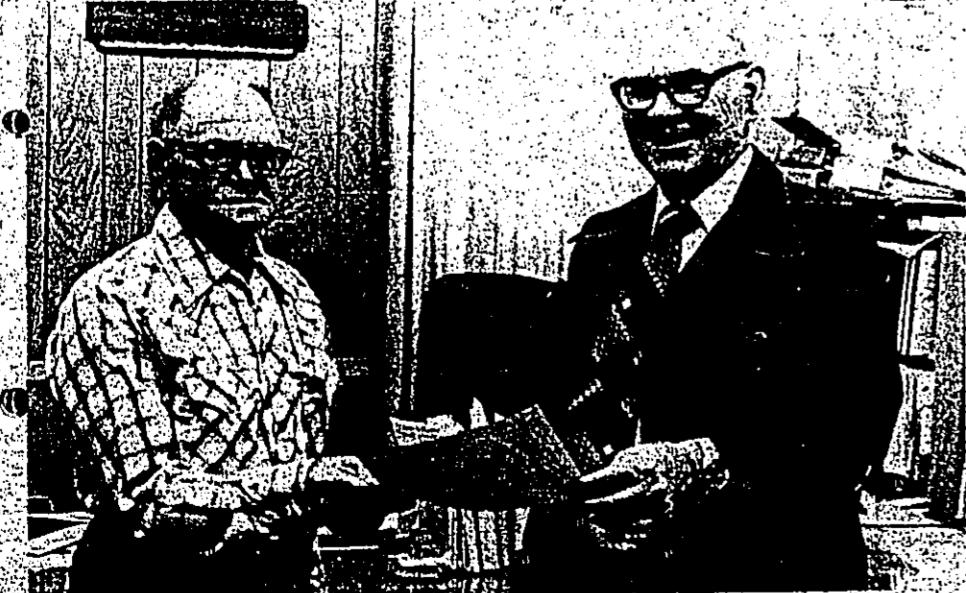

She has taught group guitar lessons for various schools in Illinois for the past five years. She entered into a professional career as a recording artist, country music singer and ASCAP writer in 1976. She has three singles and one album released to the country radio stations. She is presently an active member of the Country Music popular show tunes as well as sacred numbers in the Variety show.

Nova Rae has recently moved back to Woodville from Byron, Illinois. She was owner and operator of Nova's Guitar School and Store, Byron, Illinois from 1972-1978.

TYLER COUNTY JUDGE ALLEN STURROCK (R) has proclaimed July 25-31 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Tyler County at the request of Milton Durham, Tyler County Farm Bureau president. The theme for the week is "Personal Protection-A Defense Against Injury."

Chamber OK's Tourist Bureau

At a meeting held July 10, 1979, the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce officially endorsed construction of a State Tourist Bureau on Highway 21 (El Camino Real Road). This site was selected because of its historical background, and because land is available through the U.S. Forest Service and Sabine River Authority.

A delegation spearheaded by the Deep East Texas Development Association and Deep East Texas Council of Governments will attend the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation Commission's Hearing on July 24, 1979. Anyone interested in attending can contact the local Chamber of Commerce or Judge Allen Sturrock.

In other business, the Yim Yam Factory was voted to receive the Beautification Award for this month.

The Chamber of Commerce has distributed over 2000 Woodville brochures in a direct mail program offered by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. At this meeting, it was voted to increase this number by another 6000. These brochures are then sent all over the U.S. in response to requests received at ETCC.

These Woodville brochures are available for local merchants who wish to have them available for their customers. They can be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce office at 507 N. Pine Street any weekday from 8:12 and 1:45. It is important that these brochures are available to visitors in our area.

Chamber Office Now At 507 N. Pine

The Tyler County Chamber of Commerce office has been moved from its old location at 118 W. Pavilion to 507 North Pine Street. The new office is located in a building also occupied by the National Park Service. Both offices are open for a full day of service from 8:12 and 1:45. Western Union Service to receive messages and money orders is still available at the new location.

The telephone number of the Chamber of Commerce remains the same, 283-2632. The number for the National Park Service is 283-5824.

County Tax Office

To Close Temporarily

The Tyler County tax office will be closed beginning Friday, July 20 through Wednesday, July 25, due to renovation and expansion of the present tax office.

According to courthouse officials, the County Treasurers office will, however, provide one clerk only for the purpose of processing car registrations.

When her hand grabbed his to help him in the door she realized from all the blood that he had been seriously hurt.

"Everybody who knows him picks him up," said Ed Mays, who sees him frequently as he travels between Colmesneil and Rockland.

Mitchell struggled to his step-sister Eleonora Williams' house between 1:30 and 2:30 a.m. Tuesday morning and tapped on the window to let her know he needed help.

'Workin' For My Wheels'

Robert Williams thought he had a pretty good plan till someone came along and stole his shiny new English racer bike only one week after he had made a down payment on it.

store had put together an intricate plan to pay back store owner Roy Goodwin for advancing him the $90 he needed to purchase the shiny new speed bike.

Robert had managed to save up $25 for the down payment at B & K Variety and promised Goodwin many weeks of hard work to follow to pay the bike off.

Then someone came along and decided to obtain the bike for free.

According to the industrious youth he had left his bike at the rear entrance of the store and had left on foot to go purchase some cleaning fluids and towels to begin his daily chores at the store. When he returned he noticed the bike was missing.

He immediately called the police who listened to his story and said they'd look.

Robert first said he thought the missing bike was a joke. Then he indicated that it seemed as if he was going to have to work for 14 days for the rest of his life to pay back the bike. Savon owner Goodwin who says that he thinks a lot of Robert "Caused he's one of those kids today who don't give you any lip."

Robert and Roy get along real well. "We always talk baseball," the youngster says and Roy is taking me to an Astros-Dodgers game on July 20.

After the ladies who work at B & K Variety heard of Roberts dilemma they teamed up with the folks at Savon and offered Robert an attractive discount to get the youngster another set of wheels. Assisting by contributing to the effort were Goodwin, Mrs. Anna Gaye Riley, Kathy Lanclos, Allen Hightower and Eva Carruth.

"I just wanna say thanks to all those fine folks," Robert said after he was presented his new bike all wrapped in a big ribbon.

The bike now has a special bike lock mechanism on it as Robert has a better understanding of ownership and the meaning of friends.

Mt. Nebo Baptist Church, located on the F.M. Road, 1943, this Sunday, July 22, 1979, will have their annual homecoming Sunday, July 22, 1979, School at 10:00 a.m., services at 1:00 p.m., Rev. Claude Read, former pastor will bring the morning message. Dinner in the grounds will follow the service. Rev. W.C. Hayes, pastor of Mt. Nebo Baptist Church, invited you to come worship with them and bring a basket lunch.

The secretive beauty and the mystery of this pocket of wilderness lying between the two East Texas forest areas is a sight for all to see. The immense natural beauty which this area is known for good. Although a several book have been written on this patch of wilderness, few people know the true beauty which it holds so delectably.

Many stories evolve from time such as this mysterious patch of woods. Some say it is a place where the Devil himself lives. A man may see in the shape of a bear or deer, if he dares to wonder deep enough into those woods. The Devil's lair is easily found when he is walking deeper into the Thicket. The Big Thicket was not destroyed on its edges. It was merely cut off at the edges. By the 1800's

Face Food Facts And Fight Inflation

COLLEGE STATION
"We're going to have to face facts and accept them." That is what we're going to do to keep our financial heads above water in these days of inflated costs for everyone," says Gwendolyn Cray, a consumer marketing information specialist.

Mrs. Cray is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Texas A&M University System.

FACT 1 - Food prices were going up slower than prices for other things in the past.

Now they are going up at about the same rate.

FACT 2 - All grocery stores are in business to make money.

There is no "bad" thing, because it encourages stores to offer more kinds and varieties of food products and kinds and cuts of meats and services that we, the consumers, want to buy.

Grocery stores stay in business only if they provide us with what we want at the best possible prices.

FACT 3 - Roughly one-third of food costs go for meat, so when there are "specials" on meat, we're likely to save more money per pound than we would on most other items.

FACT 4 - Cuts of meat in the least demand are almost always the cheapest. So, it may take a little more time to cook and a bit more attention on the cook's part to make them tender and delicious, but it can be done and the results are well worth the effort.

Flea Control Outlined

By Clinton R. Currie
County Extension Agent
Please Please Please
Please Please Please this spring due to prolonged cool wet conditions.

Flea problems are widespread throughout the home landscapes. And a dedicated effort is necessary to get rid of flea infestations.

Fleas are blood feeders in their adult stage and can become a health problem. In the immature stage, fleas feed on organic matter in the soil.
The female flea can lay 500
flea hatches from a small egg into a pearly white worm about one-sixteenth of an inch long.
Fleas produce a new generation every two weeks, up to two months, depending on weather conditions.

Successful control procedures will include both population reduction and continuing preventive measures.
This two-phase control program will provide good minimization and chemical applications as follows:

1. Chemical control of adult fleas on pets and in and around the home is the first order of business. This all must take place at the same time.
Wash pets with a medicated
soap or dip them with an approved flea preparation.
Extend residual kill with a flea collar. It may be desirable to cover a pet's entire body with an insecticide or dip on infected carpets, use propicon (Baygon), or spot sprays in the home. Use rotenone as an area spray.

2. Treat infested yard
areas with carbaryl (Sevin), propicon (Baygon), rotenone or diazinon. Be sure not to contaminate food stuffs or pet feed.

3. Give special attention to treating resting or bedding areas with carbaryl. Replace old bedding material.

4. To rid fleas from the home, begin with a good cleaning before applying in-secticides. Vacuum carpet and remove any debris from cracks and crevices. Be sure to properly discard trash collections in the vacuuming process.

5. Retreatment of infested premises is extremely important to keep the infestation under control. Retreat at 10-14 day intervals until flea problems have been eliminated.
A thorough effort will result in better control if these steps are followed.

As with all chemicals, it is important to read and follow
all label directions.

Adults Can Help In Bike Safety

Summer brings hordes of kids on bicycles streaming into the streets at all hours.
To help children and adults
cope with potential problems,
the Texas Medical Association
offers some suggestions:

Summer drivers have learned to slow down when they see school zones.
But summer means slowing down in lots of areas. Swimming pools and playgrounds attract youngsters in summer so drivers should slow down when driving near them. There are warning signs or lights. Bike lanes, bike crossings also require extra attention.

Long summer days mean many children may be playing in the streets after school. Even cautious drivers have trouble seeing during this time of day.
Parents should make sure children have reflectors on their bicycles. Children wearing light-colored or reflective clothing. For riding at night, the law requires that bikes have reflectors. Headlights in front and a red reflector in back.
Optional equipment such as red lights in back, reflective tape on fenders and reflectors on arms and hands can increase visibility.

Even under favorable conditions, children have little chance of avoiding accidents if their bicycles are in the shape. A quick maintenance check including sure major nuts and bolts are tight, especially the ones for handlebars, pedals, wheels and seats, making sure children can't fall off and injure themselves.
Inspecting tires for cracks and adequate tread, checking the brakes for wear, oiling the axles, doing a basic safety check along with necessary reflectors, are minimum steps to insure safety.

After giving a child the needful information about bike riding, about the only other insurance from accidents is education. Most children are not fully aware of what that means. Since bicycles have to follow the same laws
as cars, one of the best ways to teach children is to discuss traffic situations with them while you're driving.
These talks can give them a confidence that they may face on their bicycles.

Chickens

COLLEGE STATION
Time's at hand for some lip-smacking barbecue chicken.
Texas weather is right for barbecuing, and barbecue chicken
is one of the most popular meats to barbecue, says Dr. David B. Mellor, marketing specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas
A&M University.

Taste-bud-tantalizing chicken barbecue cook slowly over charcoal or wood fire, basting
the meat frequently and basting often to keep it moist, emphasizes Mellor.

Barbecue whole birds
on a rotisserie or place halves,
quarters or parts on a grill;
charcoal or wood fire, open pit or small patio griddle.
Meat that is barbecued
slowly over an open fire,
says Mellor.

According to Mellor, each American consumed 47.6
pounds of chicken last year,
most of this being broiled.
And barbecue is very popular this year, with production expected to increase 10 percent.
Buy stock at your favorite supermarket and get ready for some chicken barbecue, urges Mellor. It's right for a big social gathering
as well as for a family event.

Helping Children

Cope With Death

LIFE'S TEACHINGS

These days we are getting accustomed to death in the news. These children rights to be told about death and many see it as something to be afraid of. They begin to see some causes of death and they wonder what causes death.

But death, in them, is still distant and far off.

Most teenagers realize that death is a natural part of every life and death as part of the natural process of aging, sickness or general physical deterioration.

TALK TO CHILDREN

Be objective in talking to children about death and dying. Be frank, being technical, but not too much.

Being technical could confuse the child, she says.

Attempts to answer the most direct and truthful response possible.

SHARING FEELINGS

Parents need to help children express their feelings about death, because sharing each other's hurt, helps.

If a child does not articulate his feelings, something is hidden.

Express your feelings, because tears, grieving and crying are normal reactions.

They often share their reality of death in several ways, based on their social and emotional development.

Young children may have difficulty establishing realistic memory of the person who has died with pictures and spoken memories.

Death is an important basic part of his life and of each family's life.

Children love to hear stories of life and death, as well as stories of death.

DISTINGUISHED CONSERVATION SERVICE AWARD Yal Blanchette (r), Chairman of the Long Leaf Soil and Water Conservation District, presenting Distinguished Service Award to P.F. (Fred) Sanderson. Sanderson along with his wife received the award at their home in Warren. Sanderson was cited for 14 years of dedicated service as a director of the conservation district.

Christmas In July?

COLLEGE STATION — "It's Christmas in July." Yes, if you want a tight inflation plan for holiday gift giving, says Stacey Granovsky, a family resource management specialist.

Start shopping for "Sales items now, and don't wait until inflation shows up."

Mrs. Granovsky is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

First, make a list of people you want to remember with gifts at Christmastime.

Then save some of those "hot summer days" for studying ads and shopping.

Many stores have "Clearance sales" after the Fourth of July and other sales in August and more sales in the fall to make room for fall and winter merchandise.

You can save substantial amounts of money if you shop carefully but "careful shopping is the key," Mrs. Granovsky stresses.

Remember that sale items are usually "final" with no exchange or refund privileges.

Be sure you have the right size and color and make sure there are no defects in the merchandise, she cautions.

Use the "Sale" guide below to plan your shopping.

Since each month usually marks special sales on various items:

JULY—marks sales on women's shoes, appliances, air conditioners, floor coverings.

AUGUST—marks sales on children's play clothes, white sales, furniture, back-to-school specials.

SEPTEMBER—marks

sales on housewares, Labor Day specials, flower and vegetable seeds.

OCTOBER—sales on lingerie, fabrics, fur-trimmed winter clothing, and toys (pre-Christmas rush).

NOVEMBER—ladies coats and dresses, table linens, blankets, nursery plants.

DECEMBER—toys, winter clothing.

For more information about saving money at sales, contact your County Extension Office.

Oil, Gas Highs-Lows Disturbing

DALLAS — Increased values for Texas oil and natural gas last year resulted in substantial boost to the state's economy but a sharp drop in Texas reserves marks a disturbing trend, according to report published by Texas Mid Continent Oil and Gas Association.

In the new edition of its annual facts series, "9 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas," which is distributed free to the public, the Association points out that Texas' oil and gas reserves stopped significantly in one year. The 1977-78 decline for natural gas was 72.3%, for crude oil, 9.2%.

Reversal of this trend would require additional drilling, application of sophisticated and expensive recovery techniques to older fields, economic incentive and the productive forces of free enterprise, the report says.

According to "9 Facts," all Texans last year shared in rising values for Texas crude oil and natural gas, which pumped $1 billion in tax revenues into the state's treasury, provided more income for royalty owners, including state government, and resulted in additional jobs and $2 billion in wages for industry employees.

Spelling out key elements of Texas oil and gas industry operations, "9 Facts" offers facts and figures covering several performance categories, including production, refining, offshore drilling, employment, economics, and taxation.

"9 Facts" may be obtained free on request to the Association, 1341 W. Mockingbird Lane, Dallas, Texas 75247.

Earned Income Credit

May Affect Small Businesses

COLLEGE STATION — Earned Income Credit (EIC), as spelled out in the Revenue Act of 1978, may affect many small businesses.

According to the tax law, all employers must make advance payments toward EIC to eligible employees who request the payments after June 30. Prior to the 1978 Act, employees could obtain EIC only by filing FORM 1040, explains Dr. Richard Edwards, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Employees choosing not to receive advance payment may receive credit on their annual tax return.

EIC requires the payment up to $500 a year even if you owe no tax, Edwards pointed out. These payments, based on weekly earnings, are not subject to income, social security or payroll taxes.

EIC is extended to married employees' earnings combined annual income of less than $10,000 and supporting a dependent child or full-time student, or to a surviving spouse or head of a household.

Employers must determine their eligibility and file Form W-5 to request these payments, emphasizes the economist. They must also notify their employer of any status change causing loss of eligibility.

Employers failing to make requested advance payments are subject to penalties, warns Edwards.

Complete details on EIC are provided in "A Supplement to Circular E" available from the Internal Revenue Service.

A tiny parasite the size of a pinhead can infest large number of catfish in Texas ponds if left unattended.

The parasite, called Ichthyophthirius, or "Ich," is mainly a problem in the spring and fall of the year and can wipe out entire stocks of catfish.

According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, the Ich parasite lodges just beneath the surface of the fish's skin and appears as a whitish to brownish spot. "Hundreds" of parasites will cause the fish's outer skin to swell and slough off. "Infested fish will lie motionless in shallow water along the pond shore or will swim about slowly at the water surface."

What can be done about Ich infestations?

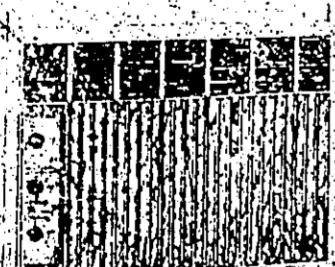

"With a few precautions a pond can be kept Ich free. The key thing is to avoid introducing the parasite into a pond."

Since the parasite is passed from fish to fish, live minnows or perch should not be used as bait in catfish ponds. Also, precautions should be taken to avoid introducing wild fish into a pond from creeks and up spillways. A spillway with a four-foot drop will keep wild fish from entering a pond via this route.

Check fingerlings or seed fish for Ich infestations at stocking time.
