Lions Projects For Charity

Seven years ago the Tyler County Lions Rodeo Association was organized. The Lions club of Chester, Dan B. Fred, Spurger and Woodville established the association for the purpose of bringing good clean fun and entertainment to the residents of Tyler County while at the same time raising money to fund their Club projects.

The profits from the annual event are first used for the granting of a $500.00 scholarship to a Tyler County boy or girl just graduated and who enrolls in a Texas College or University with an agricultural major. Since Tyler County participates in the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, Scholarship competition it was determined to choose an alternate for the Houston Livestock show Scholarship and to award that alternate to the Lions Rodeo Scholarship. The recipient this year is Bruce Worthy of Warren, Texas.

After all of the expenses have been paid and the scholarship awarded, a small amount of money is voted to remain in the treasury for expenses during the year and balanced is divided into six shares. The first share is paid to the Tyler County 4-H FFA Arena for the use of that facility, and the other five shares go to each of the five clubs. These individuals clubs then use that money in their many community and Lions Club charitable projects such as the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville, the eye ss program and C.A.R.E.

The 1979 Rodeo, which will be held on Friday and Saturday, August 10th and 11th at 8:00 o'clock p.m., will feature Relay Races by the Lions Clubs, Barback and Saddle Bronc Riding, Bull Riding, Calf Roping, Team Sier, Roping, Steer, Wrestling and the Professional Girls Rodeo Association will have their Barrel Racing event. In addition to the entry fees paid by the participating professional cowboys and cowgirls, the Lions Rodeo Association adds $1,050 to the purse.

For added entertainment there will be the usual Queens, Contest and the traditional kids Goat Scramble with trophies being awarded each night in the three age categories.

The Lions operate their own concession stands and offer fine food and drink and the Lions ask that the wives of Tyler County insist that on Rodeo night they eat their family dinner at the Rodeo Arena. The family will have a good meal and the various projects benefit from the proceeds.

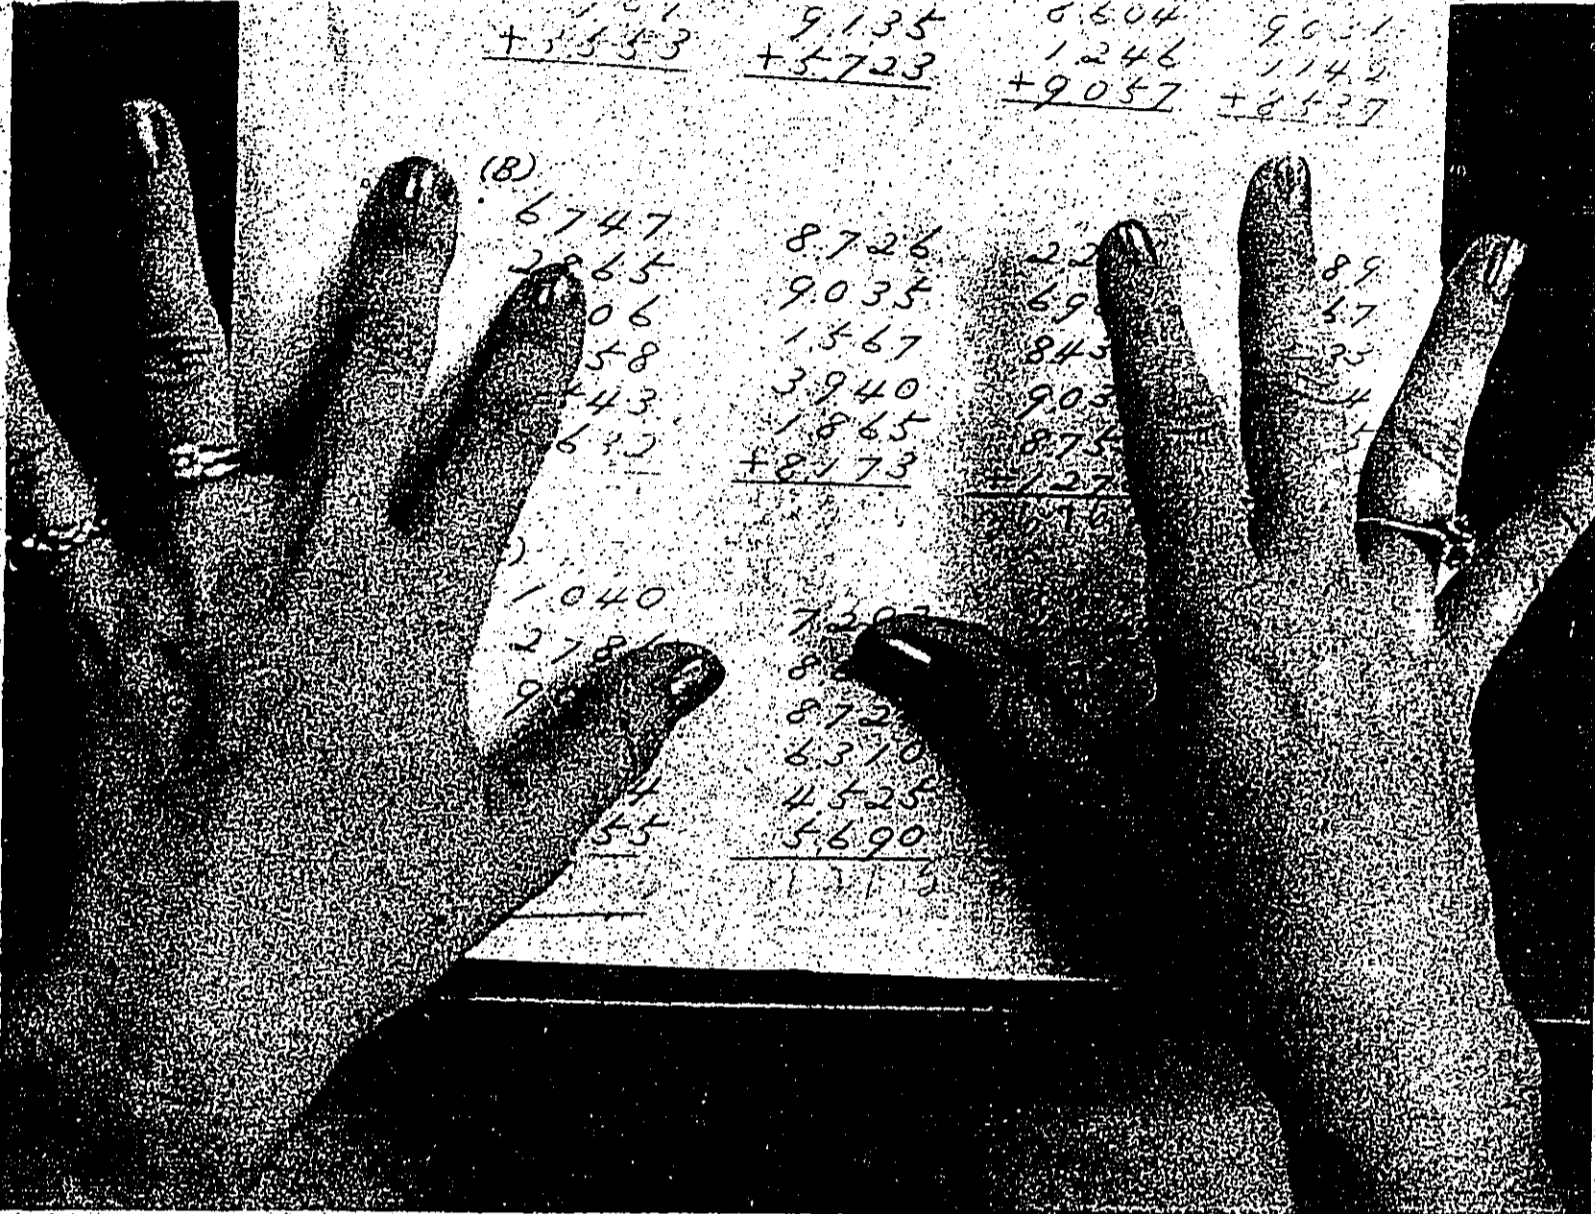

Flood Disaster Relief Offered

AUSTIN, TEXAS - State Comptroller Bob Bullock today said flood-damaged businesses in seven coastal Texas counties can get disaster tax relief.

Chamber To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday, August 6, at 7 p.m. in the Community Room of the Citizens State Bank.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone is welcome to attend. If you would like more information about the local Chamber of Commerce, contact the office at 507 N. Pine Street, any weekday or call 283-2632.

GSU Cancels Nuclear Power Plant; Again

Dr. E. Linn Draper, Jr., a nuclear power authority and official at Gulf States Utilities Co. told members of the Deep East Texas Development Association (DETTA) last Friday that Blue Hills nuclear power project in Newton County was officially cancelled.

Gulf States chose to cancel the project, which would have added an additional 5,000 to 10,000 people into the area during peak plant construction, because of lack of funds. The estimated cost of the facility was $1.6 billion.

"There's simply not enough money to build the power plants that are needed," Draper said. He added that Gulf States had gone ahead with a preliminary site plan for something else at a later date, but did not specify for what. Gulf States has also given the go-ahead for a nuclear power plant to be built in Baton Rouge, La., and plans for another one in the same area are expected to be passed by Gulf States officials in the near future, Draper said.

In other business, it was reported by an official of the Texas Employment Commission that Newton County leads the DETDA area with 7.8 percent unemployment rate. Jasper County had the next highest rate with 6.9 percent, followed by Sabine County with 6.6 percent. Tyler County with 5.0 percent, Angelina with 4.2 percent, and Nacogdoches with the lowest unemployment rate in the area, 3.9 percent.

The official said that the job situation looked pretty good as far as the summer months goes, and employment should pick up in the fall. She said that a tight money market had caused both commercial and residential construction to fall off, but added that the railroads were hiring.

On another matter, a proposed tourist bureau for the deep East Texas region was discussed. The bureau, if built, would be located near Pendragon Bridge on Highway 214 in Sabine County.

More than 50 members of the Deep East Texas Council of Governments appeared before the Highway Commission in Austin last week to seek funds for the project.

One cost estimate for the project was $925,000, but Rex Spencer, president of DETDA, told the group that they are not asking for a $1 million facility. (Continued on page 3)

Accident Report Released

County Budget Hearing Held

In a special meeting held Monday, July 30, the Tyler County Commissioners Court acted on a road resurfacing request, reallocated some revenue sharing funds, held a public hearing on the 1980 budget, and discussed the problem of stray dogs in the county.

The need to resurface the County road leading to the Livingston Shipbuilding facility was the first agenda item. According to Tyler County Judge Allen Sturrock, the County originally agreed to oil the road only, not to do the resurfacing work. Someone else was supposed to do the resurfacing work.

"We oiled the road," Sturrock said, "but it was never surfaced." As a result of the recent rain, the road is again in need of repair. After discussion, the commissioners moved to re-oil the road upon notification from the Industrial Foundation that someone is willing to top it. The motion was adopted unanimously. Sturrock emphasized that the county would not surface the road.

The court then took up the re-allocation of $5,000 in Revenue Sharing Funds that were in the budget but would not be needed for the designated purpose this year. Commissioner Maxey Riley moved that the money be budgeted to the Committee on Aging to provide meals for the elderly in the County. The motion passed.

A discussion concerning the large number of stray dogs and unvaccinated pets prompted the court to initiate a study to consider alternatives in dealing with the problem. Action was tabled until the Monday, August 13 meeting.

The court next considered the redistribution of special road and bridge funds (10 percent) among the precincts. The problem with the present system, according to Commissioner Riley, is that the taxes that are paid by some people for their road upkeep are going to a different precinct. After a lengthy discussion, the commissioners voted that the 10 cent tax be divided on a percentage basis according to road mileage, and that the road mileage in each precinct to be re-checked and the percentages re-figured.

The commissioners then held a workshop on voting Box 11, which is the Rockland Box. The court voted to reinstate the box pending the submission of the field notes. Because no bids had been received on three wooden bridges to be constructed in Precincts III and IV, the bidding time was extended until Monday, August 13 at 10 a.m.

Bids were opened on two typewriters for the county tax office, with only one bid being received by the deadline. Lufkin Typewriter Company bid $743.40 on each of the typewriters. For a total bid of $1486.80. The bid was accepted.

The commissioners also voted to go out for bids to sell a used maintainer for Precinct III, which bids are to be opened on Friday, August 17.

The commissioners finished up the meeting with a public hearing on the 1980 County Budget. No one attended the hearing and there was no discussion.

Rotary Club To Hear Energy Head

G. Paul Pepper

The United States has considerable proved energy resources, and there is more to be found if governmental and regulatory practices would permit. Texas has a special place in this country's energy balance and it is important that we understand what citizens of Texas need to do about it.

That will be the theme of a talk by G. P. Pepper, Manager, Complex Plant, of Mobil Oil Corporation, Beaumont, when he addresses the Woodville Rotary Club at The Woodville Inn at 12 noon on August 8th.

Pepper will discuss the energy situation as it exists today, some of the forecasts concerning energy supplies with particular reference to the Iranian interruption, and some additional steps that could help alleviate America's energy problems. He will also emphasize the importance of citizen participation in the national energy policy, now being debated in Congress.

Despite the nation's deteriorating energy situation, the U.S. Geological Survey estimates that America has sufficient total domestic oil reserves -- discovered and undiscovered -- to last nearly to the next century. The Geological Survey puts total potential U.S. gas reserves at 920 trillion cubic feet, or a 45-year supply at current consumption rates.

Pepper has been engaged with Mobil's public affairs program for the past four years and a member of the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent since mid-1975. For the past year, he has been Chairman of the Southeast Texas Section of the Oil Information Committee.

A native of Marshall, Texas, he is a 1954 graduate of Texas A&M University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering. He has held a variety of management assignments with Mobil including a four-year stint at Mobil's New York Headquarters. He is a member of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

GM QUALITY SERVICE/PARTS

Ramblin Round Rockland

By Aloha Freeland

Sorry we weren't able to provide you with our usual column, last week, but you're truly attending a school in the new "finger" calculation method and couldn't get to Woodville with the news. We apologize!

Recent visitors with Mrs. Inez Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown of Pineand and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Murphy of Silsbee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dykes celebrated their double 70th birthdays on Sunday, July 22 with a dinner and family gathering at their home. Among those present were Mrs. Ina Goodman and Mrs. Eula Brown of Kountze; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Durham and family of San Augustine; Mrs. Baver Dykes and family of Houston.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson were Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Wilson of Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beauchamp and children of Corrigan; Mrs. Donna Dickens and Darla and Patrick Dickens of Livingston.

The Rockland Round Center held their annual homecoming July 22 with a service of worship, morning and dinner on the grounds at noon. The afternoon was enjoyed with singing and fellowship. The Rev. Edwin Morgan of Lamberton was the guest speaker both morning and afternoon.

At the close of the morning services on Sunday, July 22, Rockland Baptist Church held special dedication services for the new steeple which has recently been erected on the church. The pastor, church deacons, and other members took part in the ceremony after which the congregation posed for a picture to be placed in the BOOSTER.

Altha wrote and performed a song especially for this dedication service. Our special guests on Sunday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Powers, photographers for the BOOSTER. Mr. Powers took the beautiful picture which appeared in last week's BOOSTER under which the caption read "Rocky Springs Baptist Church" and so on. Needless to say, somebody needed the picture of the Rockland Baptist Church.

On Friday evening July 27, a creative production enjoyed a puppet show at the Baptist Church. This program was under the direction of Bro. Rusty Sher, a member of Friendship Baptist Church in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Foster of Orange were recent visitors with his grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Jeanes.

The Rockland Round Center entire community was saddened Sunday morning at the passing of Mrs. Sally Buckley. She was a long-time resident of this area and will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Acks and children, Dan and Arsy, of Houston were week-end visitors with Mrs. Jimmie Brown and Mrs. Jo Lange.

Mrs. Eunice Henderson, Mrs. Nena Robinette, and Michelle Moffitt returned home Saturday after a week's visit in Houston with relatives.

Our prayers and God's love go to Kimmie Henderson, who had surgery in Mrs. Dickerson's hospital in Jasper one day last week. Our prayers continue as well for Bro. Manfred Lawson and his family as he continues as a patient in a Houston hospital entering his eighth month of care following an automobile accident in January.

Happily birthday to Paul Lawson on the 3rd and Ida Gunn on the 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Bowen attended a surprise birthday dinner given for her father on his 87th birthday at Rockland Hill Baptist Church, where Rev. Claude Reid is full-time pastor.

Until later, keep well and God bless.

They were missed at the service at their home church, Rocky Springs Baptist, but are happy for them.

Until later, keep well and God bless.

County Agent To Attend Home-Ec Meet

Liz Rackley, Tyler County Extension Agent, will attend the 36th Annual Meeting of the Texas Association of Extension Home-Economists, August 1-3 in Temple.

Dimensions in Creativity will set the tone of the three-day meet, as County Extension Agents and home economists from throughout Texas gather for the annual conference.

Professional improvement—searching for creative, dynamic ways to help people help themselves—will be at the heart of the conference, Liz said.

Conference workshops and speakers will focus on new ways to help the Texas public we serve with consumer problems, inflation fighting, housing issues, food and nutrition, clothing, family living, health and recreation needs.

Meeting activities will zero in on strengthening the educational programs in home economics and related areas that agents implement as part of their extension service, she explained.

Keynote speakers for the conference include Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, assistant director for home economics with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who will address

Cystic Fibrosis Appoints Chairman

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Texas Gulf Coast Chapter, announced this week the appointment of Mrs. Beverly Moses as chairman of New Year's 1979 CF "Kiss Your Baby" Campaign.

Cystic Fibrosis, second only to cancer in taking children's lives, strikes the lungs and digestive system of its young victims.

"Since one in 1,500 American babies is born with Cystic Fibrosis, CF, we want everyone to be aware that a salty taste to the skin is a sign of this horrifying disease," said Mrs. Moses. "Therefore, we ask that if you kiss your baby and his skin tastes salty, consult your pediatrician about running the diagnostic sweat test. Early diagnosis and prompt medical treatment help prolong CF lives," the new "Kiss Your Baby" Chairman continued.

Make Freezer Purchase With Caution

COLLEGE STATION. Consumers should carefully consider costs and benefits before determining which freezer option best suits their needs, advises Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Many consumers probably buy larger freezers than they need, she says. "One rule of thumb suggests that about two and one-half cubic feet of freezer space is adequate per family member. That would mean that a family of four would need only about 10 cubic feet. "The typical 17 cubic foot refrigerator freezer has approximately four cubic feet, so the remaining space would be for about seven cubic feet.

What's Happening At Mount Olivet

Fred, Texas and Mount Nebé this coming month. We started the month of July off with a bang. Our midweek service was held outside on Tuesday evening July 3rd. We had an all night campout to celebrate the Fourth of July. There was plenty to eat and a good time was had by all. The evening started, those who were unable to be there missed a good time and blessing. This has been a busy month for the young people at our church. They have enjoyed an over night campout at Hen House Ridge camp and a good camp at Newton, Texas. Our youth workers have been staying busy on Sunday night singing our volley ball players with all kinds of treats and attention to honor the team. With these kind of rewards to look forward to, we want to get out and try to play the game. If you can't play you can give support, help, and watching. We are looking for other churches in our area to challenge. We are looking forward to playing Warren

Hefner Is FBMFI Guest

The featured speaker for the Saturday, August 4, 1979, Business Men's Fellowship, International, of Woodville, will be Wayne Hefner of Lubbock who will offer testimony about his earlier life as an alcoholic.

Whisperings From Holiday Pines

By Ruby L. Marrero

The day and weeks at Holiday Pines have been filled with many things. Time seems so short and unavailable to fulfill all our desires for our family here at Holiday Pines.

The resident council is once again active and the knowledge that the staff gains from the interchange is invaluable. Sharing is beautiful only when it is given and received. It would be a sure, totally amazing an observer unfamiliar with life in a Nursing Home like or this, could just drop by, attend a council meeting and get the feeling that our residents have for their home, and how important it is to them to be able to put their thoughts forth and that someone takes the time to listen to them and their problems. Privacy is strictly attached by time and the staff really know about the meaning and feeling injected into a Long Term Care Facility by the Staff who really cares" could be removed. Many sit on the outside and make their judgments and criticize. Take a minute or two, drop by and see for yourself. The residents at Holiday Pines take great pride in their home and each accomplishment the home, or an employee, attains, you can feel sadness within the walls when we lose one of our own to a life beyond the proud dignity with which the residents and staff welcome each resident. There is always someone ready to take them under their wing and make the first adjustment easier. With the maze of halls at Holiday Pines, it is easy to get lost. Helping one another has become a way of life for both the residents and employees at Holiday Pines and I personally comment them.

My personal delight was felt very deeply yesterday when one of our new residents, a deeply religious man, called me into his room to compliment one of our aides. He said, "I do not know her name, but I told her that the bible taught us that we always prayed before we partake of our food, and the young lady said a blessing with him before his breakfast and before his lunch". I highly commend our aide for this display of her feelings, interchanged with the desire of a new resident. Aides like this one are hard to find, and again going back to our motto "we really care" was evident in this case.

The above action on behalf of an employee made me aware once again of the many rewards of being a Nursing Home Administrator.

Also since our last article Mr. William Hendrix has gone to Houston and been fitted for his "artificial leg" and the happy look on his face and that of his son when he came and picked him up to take him for the first fitting gave each of us a spiritual life. From the depths of despair to being whole again has been a long road for Mr. Hendrix and we all feel his accomplishment and determination. It will be a sad but yet happy day when we can tell him goodbye and he can return home to function again as a whole man on his own or with very little assistance. Congratulations Mr. Hendrix, we know now that it will not be long and we are happy for you.

Cheryl Eaves, our Activity Director, finished her 80 hour course at Lamar and is now certified. Congratulations Cheryl! We, here at Holiday Pines Lodge invited all of the girls in the graduating class, and the Administrators of the homes where they are employed, and the instructors to attend a luncheon at Our Lady of the Pines Catholic Church on Thursday, July 26, 1979. Unfortunately too many could not attend due to the heavy rains and flooding in the various areas. However, those who did attend were

Annette Gillroy, Burmont Nursing Home, Silsbee, Betty Richardson, Silsbee Convalescent Center, Silsbee, Sybil Midkiff, Buna Nursing Home, Buna, Linda Gill, Pinewood Nursing Home, Jasper. We are sorry that the rest of you could not make it because we had a delicious meal prepared by Holiday Pines bookkeeper, Mrs. Alice Fredericks of chicken and spaghetti, home made peach cobbler, and from our good cooks in the kitchen, homemade rolls and a tossed salad. Our thanks to Mrs. Fredericks, Lila Kirkland and the whole kitchen staff at Holiday Pines Lodge. Father Mudd was unable to attend due to a prior commitment however, he sent his blessings to us. Thanks to the Our

Lady of the pines for letting us use the wonderful facilities at the Church. We appreciate it very much; also our thanks to the Woodville Florist for furnishing the table decorations for us. It made the setting perfect.

On Thursday, the Ladies from Warren Methodist Church came and called bingo and then as a special treat served big juicy watermelon donated by Albert Burnstead, Jr. We wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Billy Pate and Minnie Collier for making this afternoon a happy one for our residents after a week of rain.

We extend a hearty welcome to our two new residents, Erna Hart, a transfer from Vidor and a beautiful gentleman in his nineties, in welcoming Mr. Hart to the facility we noticed my name tag and started speaking to me in Spanish. I responded in Spanish and we now communicate in Spanish when we desire. Come by and visit a beautiful man who has given much to life, expects little in return but proper care and friendship, you will understand what a Nursing Home is really meant to accomplish.

Our second new resident is Johnny Bell. We welcome Johnny to our facility and pray that we can be of some help and comfort to him and his family.

IF WE LEARN HOW TO GIVE OURSELVES, TO FORGIVE OTHERS, AND TO LIVE WITH THANKSGIVING, WE NEED NOT SEEK HAPPINESS IT WILL SEEK US.

WOODVILLE TEACHERS MARY NELL RAINEY, Mary Ann Findley, Lois Stryker, and Thelma Minyard rediscover the difficulty of learning as they listen intently to the teachers instructions.

Teachers Prepare For Chisanbop Classes

JASPER CLAYBAR, INSTRUCTOR FOR THE JULY CHISANBOP WORKSHOP in Jasper, a participant in a pilot program in West Orange-Cove initiated by TSTA through the V. Educational Service Center to evaluate the benefits of Chisanbop in the elementary grades.

"Press, ten, clear two. This strange sounding language is not a new form of Greek, but the language of Chisanbop, a different way to solve math problems.

Thirty three teachers from the Woodville Independent School District, representing grades Kindergarten through eighth, attended a week long workshop from July 23-27 to learn to teach this new math method which, according to Woodville Independent School District reading coordinator Mary Nell Rainey, will be taught as a supplement to the traditional math programs this year.

Chisanbop, which can be loosely translated from Korean to mean "finger calculation method" was created about thirty years ago by mathematician Sung Jin Pai. The system of calculation, which was not originally designed for children, was simplified for their use by Pai's son.

Chisanbop is a system of teaching math that combines the sensory systems of touch, sight, and sound to help reduce the abstract concepts of math to concrete ideas that the child can understand.

According to Rainey, Chisanbop is not in conflict with any currently used method of teaching math. "It cannot, and will not, replace the way math is taught in the Woodville schools, now," she said. "It will be used, she added, as a supplement to present programs and will assist the average student with basic computation skills, intrigue the gifted students, and help the slow learners because of the touch stimuli.

In the Chisanbop system, the fingers become a form of calculator that enables the student to work problems mentally that would require pencil and paper in more traditional systems. The right hand becomes the "ones" and the left hand the "tens." By alternately "pressing" and "clearing" numbers on the two hands, one can learn to solve surprisingly complex problems in addition, subtraction, and multiplication with no more equipment than the two hands. This is, according to Mary Nell Rainey, one of the best parts of the system. No expensive equipment is required.

Chisanbop is taught in four stages, all of which will be completed by the third grade. Those who have not previously learned, Chisanbop may begin in any grade, however.

Chisanbop may not make an Einstein out of a second grader, however, according to a number of experts in the field of elementary math, it should give the student a new understanding and enjoyment of math that will cause him to want to learn more.

"PRESS TEN, CLEAR TWO: ADD EIGHT." Izene Sheffield and Mertis Martindale show the techniques of adding with Chisanbop. The system is not as complicated as it appears and can readily be learned even by Kindergarten-age children.

CONCENTRATION CAN BE SEEN ON THEIR FACES, as Woodville Independent School District teachers Lois Stryker, Thelma Minyard, Malee Tucker, Audrey Durham, Freddie Lois Smith, Izene Sheffield, and Mertis Martindale await instruction as to what to "press" next.

CHISANBOP CAN BE USED TO SOLVE PROBLEMS in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division as well as fractions and complex math equations. Shirley Shird, Freddie Lois Smith, and Izene Sheffield are shown "clearing" numbers in the search for the right answer.

Flood Losses May Be Tax Deductible

AUSTIN, TEXAS - Southeast Texans who suffered flood damage to personal or business property this week may be eligible to deduct uninsured losses on their federal income tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service said today.
If you're forced to evacuate, or if you sustain heavy damage, it's important to preserve any papers or records which may help you substantiate a tax loss.

Newcomer News

It seems that summer is flying by because everyone is staying so busy, and Tyler County has been an especially busy place, because new newcomers have been pouring in.
Tyler County is becoming a melting pot.

Decide Now On Winter Pasture

Clinton R. Currie, County Extension Agent, should be grazed heavily or cut for hay in September or October.
An early decision on winter pasture allows time for soil testing. This gives the best basis for a suitable fertilizer program.

Justin Wilson At Lufkin

It will be a first for the East Texas area when the Justin Wilson Show comes to the Lufkin Civic Center on August 10th. A five album recording from the program which will be distributed nationally by Delta Records of Nacogdoches.

The program will consist of two and one-half hours of music featuring Justin's band "The Wilsonville Symphony Orchestra" and his unique style of Cajun humor. David Stallings of time Lufkin is also a master chef with a syndicated TV (Lufkin Show) "meanwhile vocalizing a luring ballad in his mellow baritone or articulating his views on the state of the Union, as he does so convincingly in his radio commentary. Or if that is insufficient, delivering a scholarly and hard-hitting lecture on safety at the drop of a guard.

Justin Wilson's chuckle-some jokes never depend entirely upon the punning to evoke laughter. He has added a new stratum to the fine art of humor with the homespun language and odd situations he paints as he approaches the story's climax. One of his admirers commented to a friend: "Justin is the greatest em-bellisher I ever knew." Mervell of the friends "You don't mean to tell me I never fought the aver stole a nickel in his life."

He does not imitate, impersonate or patronize his subjects. He literally steps into their shoes and minds and thinks, speaks, acts as they do. Thus, he achieves through his intense sympathy for the Cajuns, as well as the fact he has grown up in their midst (he is part Louisiana French himself) until he has absorbed their speech, philosophy and even their personality. His stories are freshly devoid of smut or appeal to prurient interests.

The public is invited to come and be a part of this album recording session in the Lufkin Civic Center. Justin will be available at intermission for autographs, pictures, etc. It will be an evening of clean, entertaining fun for the entire family. Tickets are available in Lufkin and Newburgh at The Record Rack and will also be on sale at the door on the night of the performance.

Cut Firewood Now For Winter Use

HYVENSION Although the Texas A&M University System's "because green wood cut later on and then burned without proper curing has a built up creosote that can create a fire hazard in the fireplace."

The cutting of green and spring harvested wood, states Don Staples, district forester with the Texas Forest Service, a part of the cleaner wood cut now has time to cure and can be utilized more efficiently."

The Texas Forest Service through a recent survey also finds that most timber companies allow private citizens to cut wood on company lands without charge. One of the only requirements is that permits desiring to cut firewood contact the timber company and either obtain verbal permission or a firewood permit. All timber companies allow no cutting of firewood without first obtaining permission.

The federal government also allows cutting of firewood on national forest lands. However, permission must be obtained from one of the eight U.S. Forest Service ranger districts which will issue permits.

It should also be noted that any cutting of firewood on national forest lands can only be done on a "cut and carry" basis. Firewood is not to be stored on property so that it will cause the slightest dryness. For best results, stack all freshly cut wood under a shelter or cover with both ends of the firewood stacks exposed to the air.

Expecting a fall fire season, firewood is all the more important to help cut fuel costs. Last year, many who have ordered a good burning stove or the utilized in the historic dwelling to help save energy.

Now is the time to act and plan for your firewood needs for winter use. Careful planning of what quantities you will need and proper selection of the type of wood will keep the firewood user in firewood all through the winter.

Rural Areas Have Many Unmet Health Needs

WASHINGTON, July 20 (UPI)—Rural areas continue to have fewer health care facilities than any other area of the United States, says a report by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The report, "Health Care in Rural America," says that in 1975, there were 100,000 fewer hospital beds in rural areas than in urban areas. It also says that rural areas have fewer health care facilities per capita than urban areas.

Best Food Buys This Week

COLLEGE STATION Best buys at Texas grocery markets this week include: fryer chickens, eggs, pork, frozen fish and some fresh produce.

Also, "specials" appear on lamb, canned and frozen items, says Goodwin Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas A&M University System.

POULTRY Fryer chickens have high quality and low prices.

Egg prices dropped recently, but don't expect that to last long.

PORK Attractive buys appear on ham, picnic shoulder roasts and cured meats. Fresh cuts at reasonable prices are Boston butts, chops, loin roasts and livers.

FROZEN FOODS Fish has low prices, along with frozen processed potatoes, such as frozen french fries. Other specialties include frozen dough, pot pies, tamales and apple pie.

GROCERY MARKETS Feature items are:

- canned vegetables and fruits—brown and confectioner's sugar, honey, peanut butter and ripe olives.
- FRESH FRUITS—Those with the most pleasing prices are bananas, grapes, peaches, nectarines, cantaloupe, watermelons, plums and pineapples.
- FRESH VEGETABLES—Best buys include soft-shell and zucchini squash, corn, several types of lettuce, blackeye and purple hull peas, potatoes, green onions and radishes.
- Also, new potatoes have reasonable prices.
- Prices are higher on these items: cabbage, carrots and dry beans.
- MONEY SAVING features on lamb mean tender, nutritious menu items.
- DAILY SPECIALS include ham, ground beef, hamburger, sour cream, yogurt, cheese slices, cottage cheese and extra sharp Cheddar cheese.
- CONSUMER WATCH—WORDS: don't buy any vegetable just because it's cheap. Know quality and buy accordingly.

Keep Canned Goods Cool

COLLEGE STATION Don't store canned goods in a hot place, cautions Mary K. Sweeten, a good and nutritious specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas A&M University System.

Whether moving, going on vacation or having just too many canned goods on hand, storing them in temperatures between 5 and 50 degrees F. (8.3 to 13.9 degrees C.) is recommended.

The best storage for all canned goods is a moderately cool, dry place.

The increase in temperature caused by "storage" in warm places may permit thermophilic organisms to grow. They grow best at temperatures between 5 and 50 degrees F. (8.3 to 13.9 degrees C.).

Look For Tire Grade Before Purchase

COLLEGE STATION Look for a tire's "grade" before buying it for your car, says a Texas A&M University researcher. Passenger car tires will soon have "grades" to tell consumers about their wear, traction and temperature resistance, says Claudia Kerbel, a consumer information specialist.

By April 1, 1980, all car tires will have "grades," she says.

Ms. Kerbel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

TREAD WEAR GRADES To let consumers compare a tire's tread wear future, grades will be in numerical form with the higher number indicating the longest wear expected.

Since different drivers and roads affect a tire's life expectancy, the grades simply compare one tire to another, assuming all are driven under the same conditions.

So, to "read" the tread wear grade, just compare the numbers. Ms. Kerbel says a "grade" of 160 will have twice the life as a tire with a grade of 80.

TRACTION GRADES Traction grades use the letter "A," "B" and "C." They represent the tire's ability to stop on wet pavement as measured under controlled conditions on a specified government test surface.

At the grade "A" offers the best traction, while one graded "C" may have poor resistance on wet roads.

TEMPERATURE RESISTANCE GRADES Temperature resistance grades help consumers know how well a tire will hold up under excessively high temperatures.

Grades "A" and "B" represent the higher levels of performance—the tires that will withstand the highest temperatures.

However, all passenger car tires must at least meet the grade "C" standard.

Current Ag Decisions Critical

According to Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists at the Texas A&M University, Agriculture Research and Extension Center at Overton, decisions made in the next four to six weeks are critical to the agricultural economy for the next year.

To be considered are weather markets, oil imports, consumer buying habits, energy and government policy. Any of these factors are important to the outlook for agricultural commodities.

Wayne Taylor, Extension area economist, management, says that small grain and soybean pastures this winter will cost in excess of 100 per acre. The amount of gain a producer is able to put on steers will greatly determine profits from grazing calves on winter pastures. Also, the prices paid to purchase the calves and the project sale prices next spring must be taken into account.

Taylor indicates that the supply of calves to go on winter pastures may be short. The situation could be further complicated this year because the calves being weaned are heavier due to better forage conditions during the spring and summer.

To avoid buying these heavier calves, buyers might want to consider an earlier or October to purchase calves. Generally, calves weaned during the two months are lighter and not carrying as much flesh as earlier weaned calves. If buyers wait too long, however, the supply of calves could be a problem.

"As a producer, it may be best to sell calves that are being weaned in August and early September at 500 pounds or more. These calves will lose considerable weight before winter pastures are ready for grazing, thus they will be required to regain that weight. The final decision depends on the individual producer's situation and desires."

Ear Problems And Air Travels

COLLEGE STATION Ear problems can travel together, but there are helpful "do's" for unblocking ears, says Carla Shearer, a health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

1) Swallow to equalize pressure. Chew gum or eat mints so you'll swallow more often.

2) Yawn for the same reason.

3) A more powerful way to equalize pressure is yawning or yawning with a work-a-health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

4) If you still have problems after landing—or if the pain persists, you may need to ask the help of a physician experienced in the care of ear disorders.

Blake Reports On Fuel Situation

We are all in one way or another suffering from the shortage of energy, but the ones who are suffering most are those who depend on fuel to earn a livelihood.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Gulf States Utilities Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to implement new rate schedules for electric service in areas served by the Company within the State of Texas, effective August 8, 1979, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The new schedules will result in a 19.92 percent increase in the gross revenue of the company.

A complete copy of the new rate schedules is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality. Copies are also available for inspection at each of the company's public business offices.

As if the shortage were not bad enough, the rules for distributing and allocating fuel can not be described as fair. There are accusations, some at the giant oil companies, some at the President, some at O.P.E.C., and others at the U.S. Department of Energy.

We have all heard countless explanations of the reasons for the shortage and we probably all have many different opinions. I do not pretend to know the complete reason for the shortage, but I do know who makes the rules, and the great rule and regulation maker is the Department of Energy.

The regulations regarding the allocation of fuel are about as distressing as the shortage itself. Regulations change daily and the comments I made to you in an earlier column are no longer accurate. I will try to bring you up to date on recent changes.

AGRICULTURAL USERS
Agricultural use includes anything from the production of food and forest products to transportation of the same. As many of you know, the D.O.E. developed Rule 9 which gave priority to Agricultural users. After the trucker protest, the priority was lifted on diesel fuel but the gasoline priority remained. In other words, a farmer could go to his supplier to complete a farm, and receive gasoline but not diesel.

As if this were not difficult and confusing enough, D.O.E. comes along with a real "kicker" effective August 1. In August, agricultural users can purchase from their distributors the same amount of gasoline that they bought in August of 1978.

As you recall, in August 1978 farmers were suffering from a drought and didn't need much fuel whereas this year they have had rain and abundant crops. I have voiced my displeasure to D.O.E. on this matter but they have one more form to add to the multitude.

ERA 99

This form can be obtained from the U.S. Department of Energy by calling 214-749-7705. By completing this form and getting it approved, if you are an agricultural user you can be awarded an annual allocation which would eliminate the monthly certification requirement.

D.O.E. officials state that this form can be handled at the State Level by the Governor's Office. If this is done the time lag can be reduced from several months to a week or so. I have requested that Ed Vetter, the Governor's Energy Advisor, take steps to implement this plan. A decision should be forthcoming in the next few days.

GOVERNOR'S EMERGENCY FUEL SET ASIDE PROGRAM
As you know, the companies that deliver gasoline and diesel fuel in Texas are required to set aside 4% of gasoline and 5% of diesel to be allocated by the Governor's Office on the basis of emergency need.

If you are in need and you can prove your case, you can apply for an emergency allocation from this office. To obtain the necessary forms, you may call 512-475-5491 or write them at their new address, 411 W. 13th St., Austin, Texas 78711.

When you submit your request, make your gasoline application Attention John Hagler, and your diesel application Attention Nicholas Murphey.

I know many have applied for emergency fuel and have not received it. There is simply not enough fuel to satisfy the requests. The Governor's Office is trying to honor the requests of agricultural users requesting less than 5000 gallons of fuel.

I regret that there are no immediate solutions but will continue to try to keep you informed, and will use what influence I have to assure fair and equitable administration of the state program. Should you need more information, please feel free to call.

'Parity' Is Burning Issue In Farm Circles

COLLEGE STATION
'Parity' continues to be a "burning issue" in farming circles, but there are some alternatives, believe a pair of economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Parity, a major farm policy focal point, refers to prices which would give agricultural products the same purchasing power per unit for goods and services used in production and family living as the products had in an earlier time period.

The theory of parity came about this way, according to Dr. William E. Black and Ron Knutson.

Following World War I, farm prices fell relative to all commodity prices. During the 1920s, an agricultural economist at Cornell University conceived the theory, basing it on August 1909-July 1914 prices because farm commodity prices were relatively stable then.

The 1933 Agricultural Adjustment Act formally named parity as a federal policy goal. All agricultural commodities, except tobacco had the specified five-year base period.

Black and Knutson believe parity has one main fault: it doesn't consider agricultural technological advancement. They say there is no comparison between the 1910 one-bottom plow and today's six-bottom plow with hydraulic lifts. As a result, parity price is not a measure of cost production per bushel of wheat or per pound of cotton.

Policy makers consistently reject 100 percent parity because it is difficult, if not impossible, to maintain as a basis for pricing farm commodities, point out Black and Knutson. Congress realized that the ultimate result of maintaining price supports at or near 100 percent parity was surplus production. Strict control policies proposed by the Kennedy Administration were rejected by producers. Efforts to bring production in line with demand through land retirement were unsuccessful.

The Food and Agricultural Act of 1977, virtually wrote parity out of current farm policy, note Black and Knutson. Today, parity only applies to dairy products and tobacco, and commodities covered by marketing orders.

Parity's current substitute is the U.S. average cost of production. Initial 1977 target prices set by Congress were based on U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates of the average cost as provided for in the 1973 farm bill. These target prices are the basis for farmers' deficiency payments.

The economists see several alternatives when considering policy for the 1981 farm bill. The 1969-74 base could be updated. However, over time this new production base would go out of date as technology changes.

Black and Knutson say a parity index for each commodity could be developed. Inputs would be weighed according to their production use. For example, pesticides would weigh more in cotton while nitrogen would have greater weight in corn. However, adjustments due to technology would still be necessary.

Current target price levels would be acceptable if higher returns to land were allowed in the initial target price computation and if land price increases were used in yearly target price adjustments, say Knutson and Black. However, policymakers would object to this alternative, saying it would contribute to continuous spiraling inflation in farm products and land prices.

Establishing target prices for different regions would help solve the problems of high cost production regions, note the economists. However, within a region, production costs differ substantially, further adding to the dilemma.

Black and Knutson note that parity undoubtedly will be debated once again in the 1981 farm bill. None of its alternatives are perfect, but each is more acceptable than the present parity concept, they contend.
