Ain't It Great!
By MIKE BURROW

Maybe the situation reflects the growth of Tyler County. Maybe not. But, one thing is for certain. It is obvious that Tyler County needs another medical doctor.

At first I thought the difficulties associated with obtaining medical treatment in Tyler County were only confronted by newcomers here. But, after discussing the problem with several persons who have lived here for a number of years, I have ascertained that this is really not the problem at all.

Everyone knows that some medicines leave a bad taste in your mouth. Well, getting medical treatment in Tyler County is apparently leaving a bad taste of a different sort. Tyler County is a beautiful place, full of beautiful people and a good place to live and raise one's family. I am sorry to note that it is not a good place in which to get sick.

The problem does apparently center around a "doctor shortage" - too few doctors and too many patients. Dick Cordes, administrator of the Tyler County Hospital, told me this week that the county definitely does need another physician. He said the situation had developed because of the recent growth in Tyler County.

Cordes gave this advice for newcomers locating here: "DON'T wait until you get sick to establish a family physician. Immediately find a doctor, he says, and get all records transferred to him so that when illness occurs you have already established a doctor-patient relationship."

He also pointed out that some additional help is currently available on weekends at Tyler County Hospital. Interns from John Sealy Hospital in Galveston man the emergency room facility here from late Friday evening to early Monday morning, on a 24-hour per day basis. They are there to treat emergency cases and other forms of illness, Cordes commented.

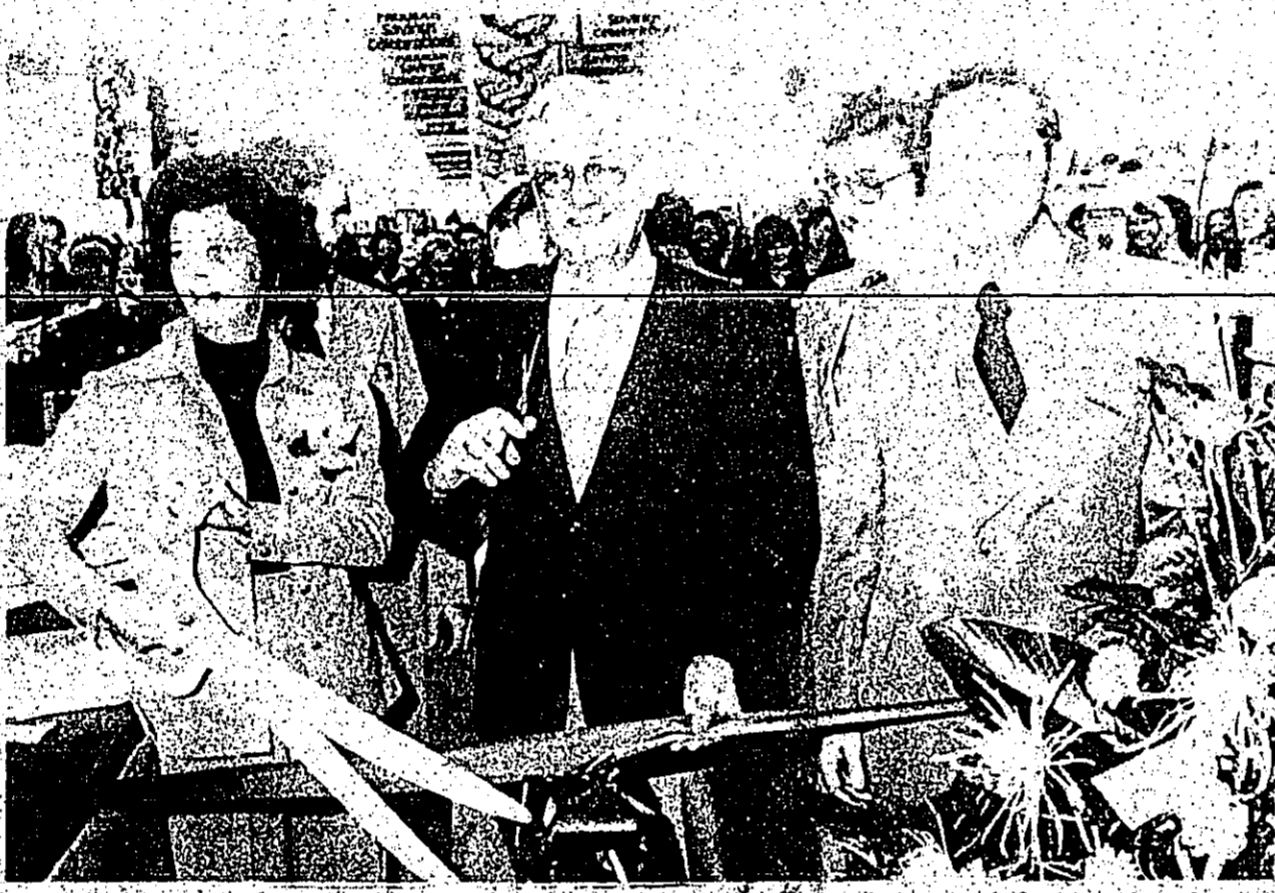

The minimum fee for emergency room usage is $15 and Cordes did reveal that the rates the interns charge are somewhat higher than one would pay at a regular doctor's office.

Even at a somewhat higher fee, it appears that the area is fairly well covered on weekends. But, what about during the week in Tyler County for the patient who has come down with the flu or a bad cold and needs to see a doctor for treatment and medication?

From personal experience I can

Wal-Mart Store Now Open

Several hundred persons crowded into the new Wal-Mart store early Tuesday morning as the business formally opened for business in Woodville.

A ribbon cutting ceremony was conducted at 8:30 a.m. with Wal-Mart dignitaries and various county officials in attendance. Shortly before 9 a.m. the parking lot in front of the business was rapidly filling up with automobiles as customers were lining up out front of the store awaiting the opening.

At Miles of Bentonville, Ark., Region II vice president for Wal-Mart, told the group of dignitaries at the ribbon cutting ceremony that "Wal-Mart is making history today. The company was in the process of opening six stores - one in Tennessee, two in Arkansas and three in Texas, all in the same day."

He told the group that Wal-Mart now had 30 stores in Texas and a total of 270 in the United States. "I think Woodville will have one of the strongest 40,000 square foot stores in the company," he said.

Duane Naccarato, a district manager for Wal-Mart, stated that "Wal-Mart is the fastest growing retail chain in the United States today."

Howard Spoon, store manager, complimented the employees of the new store for doing an outstanding job in getting the store ready for the grand opening Tuesday.

Some of the county dignitaries in attendance at the grand opening were: Bud Byram, president of the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Pro-Tem Doug Tolbert; County Judge Allen Sturrock; several members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors; county commissioners, Police Chief Grady Ray, and others.

Tolbert assisted store manager Spoon and his wife, Patricia, cut the ribbon for the formal opening of the new store.

When contacted Tuesday afternoon, Spoon commented that the crowds on the first day had been great and that he was expecting an even bigger rush after 4 p.m. when people started getting off work.

Chamber Names New Directors

Five persons were recently elected to serve three-year terms on the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

New directors are Jerry Tolbert, representing Doug's Auto Sales; Dave Hardin, manager of Livingston Industrial Products; Eleanor Holderman, Holderman Real Estate; H.F. "Whit" Whitaker, local owner of the Western Auto store; and Mike Burrow, editor and general manager of the Tyler County Booster.

Their terms will become effective January 1, 1980.

Suspect Indicted On Rape Charge

Charles Lee, 23, of Hillister, was indicted Monday by a Tyler County Grand Jury for the October 14 aggravated rape and aggravated robbery of a Tyler County woman.

Bond was set at $100,000 for each charge. Lee is currently still being held in the Tyler County Jail. He was arrested October 15 at his place of work by Tyler County Sheriff's deputies. The 56-year-old woman had allegedly been raped at knife point and robbed shortly after returning from church.

Chief Deputy Butch Kraus reported last week that Lee had made a signed confession to both the rape and robbery following an intensive investigation by deputies.

District Clerk Pat Brown reported Tuesday that the grand jury had also returned several other indictments. Even though the indictments were not sealed, Brown refused to reveal the identities of the other persons indicted.

She did, however, reveal that two persons were indicted for unlawful possession of a controlled substance; one person was indicted for burglary; one for aggravated assault by use of a deadly weapon; one for driving while intoxicated; one for burglary; one for criminal mischief; one for theft by check; and one person was indicted for sexual abuse.

Big Star Theft Reported

Approximately $2,500 in cash and an undetermined amount of food stamps were reported stolen at about 4 p.m. Monday from the Big Star store in Woodville, according to Police Chief Grady Ray.

Chief Ray said that five or six women, reported to be Gypsies, went into the store and while some of them distracted an employee at the meat counter, others went into the manager's area in the rear of the establishment and took $2,547.21 in cash and the food stamps.

Ray commented that a witness outside the store stated that four or five cars containing "gypsy type" persons were parked outside the store during the time of the theft. A car bearing Illinois license plates pulled out shortly after the incident and the other cars followed, according to the witness.

Chief Ray said that an all points bulletin was put across the state for the automobile which was believed involved in the theft. The theft was apparently discovered shortly after the women left the store, he said.

HOMECOMING QUEEN—Rose Lacy, a senior at Kirby High School, was chosen as Homecoming Queen Friday and was crowned by last year's queen Gina Riley, a student at the University of Texas. The new queen is the daughter of Thomas and Johnnie Lacy and was escorted by Donald Rigby. She was also chosen as the Sweetheart of the Student Council. Miss Riley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marie Riley of Woodville.

COUNTRY CLUB CORNER. BY DON COLE. FROM JEE TO GREEN... While golf maintains and grows in popularity among the "Over 40" set, there is an even greater surge in golfing by younger folks. These "under 40" golfers are teenagers and outdoor enthusiasts, who are in their 20's and 30's and are seeking a fun alternative to jogging, hunting and fishing.

Occasionally, I am reminded of some of the golf witisms I have heard on the course as I chuckle to myself such as: "Situation - when a poor putter sinks a long critical putt, "a blind hog finds an acorn."

W.A. "Bones" Childress and his wife Marti, hosted Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chang's from Morgan City, La. for a round this week. Jim was a golf pro at a south Louisiana course for many years. Tom Kent and Craig Childress played along to pick up some pointers from Jim. And speaking of Tom Kent, one beautiful day last week he came out to play golf and walked the course which should put all of us to shame - by the way he just celebrated his 74th birthday!!!

Westwood Shores in Trinity is having a golf tournament November 17-18 and info is available at the Dogwood Country Club. Meetings and Events: Meetings are booked at the Club Tuesday and Thursday nights of this week by the Greater East Texas Health Systems Agency, and Saturday night the Full Gospel Business Men will have their fellowship dinner at the DCC.

SPORTS TIP OF THE WEEK... Clubs should suit the individual golfer. The length of the shafts, and the grip (handle) can be ordered just for specific golfer needs. If you are a power swing hitter, you may need a stiff shaft or a regular shaft for the average hitter. You may prefer the leather grip to the composition grip. Certainly, the length of a golfer's arm will determine the length of the club.

Eagles Down Wildcats, 24-8

Coming off a 24 to 6 win over the Kirbyville Wildcats the Woodville Eagles according to Head Coach Melvin Houston are in a "Do or Die" situation this week as this Friday they'll travel to Newton for their "homecoming event."

Newton is currently even with Woodville and Warren for district honors and Houston has termed this week as "Elimination week."

Jackets Win, 36-7

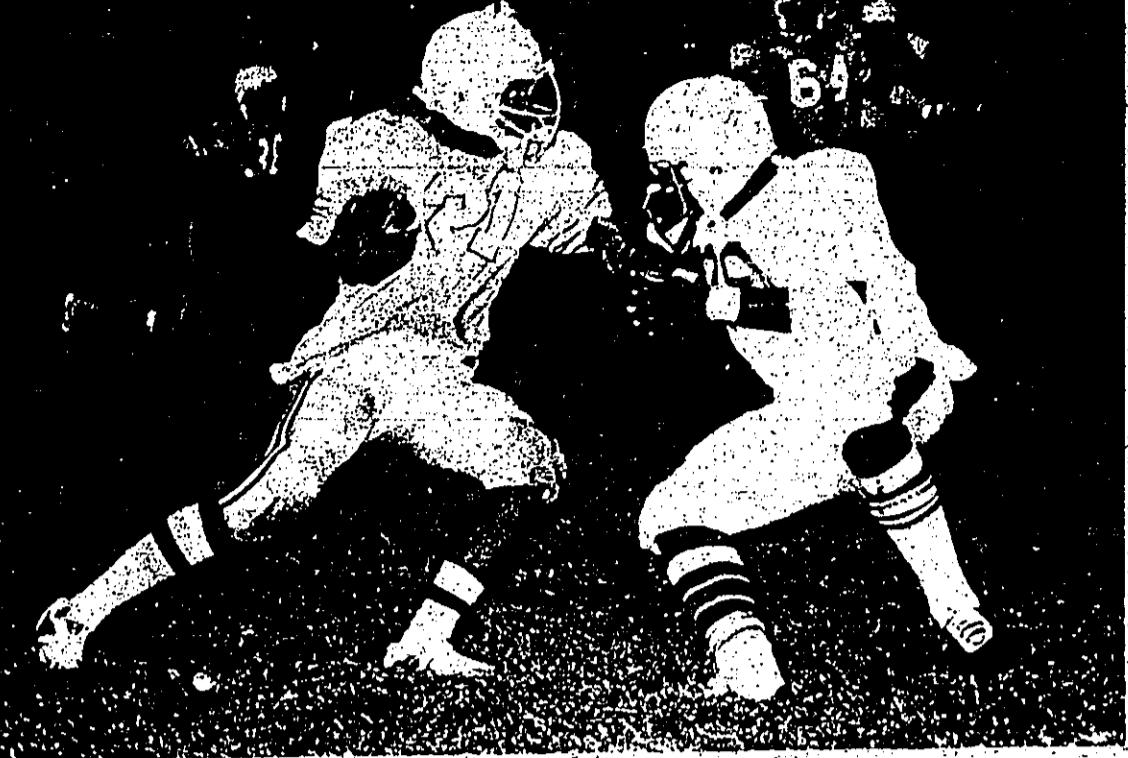

The Chester Yellow-jackets downed Sabine 36-7, Friday night. Chester had 13 first downs, lost 4 of 6 fumbles and completed 2 of 3 passes. Sabine had 7 first downs, fumbled once but retained possession and had 4 completions of 14 passes.

The Warren Warriors put on a "short time in the contest" in the final minute of the game Kelly's offense of 288 yards, 135 yards passing, 7 of 16 passes, 2 touchdowns, 40 yards rushing, 137 yards rushing, 37 first downs and 340 total yards rushing. Kelly's record was 1-5 before the game. Shelbyville next week at Warrior stadium. They were a much better team than they appeared to be. They had the good luck of the Warriors Head Coach Jack Powell commended. They had the strongest force ahead of the Kelly running backs we've faced this year.

Bulldogs Defeated, 26-0

The Colmesneil Bulldogs fell to a high rated High Island team, 26-0, last Friday night. High Island used a strong defense and three big plays which accounted for almost one-half of their total offense to defeat the Bulldogs. Even though the Bulldogs could not produce any sustained offensive threat against the state ranked Cardinals, the defense, led by Linebacker, Kenny Russell, performed tenaciously throughout the game. The leading rusher for the Bulldogs was Michael Marshall with 66 yards in 60 carries. High Island scored one touchdown in each of the four quarters of the game. Extra points were accomplished on the first and second touchdowns. Colmesneil had six first downs, 117 yards rushing, minus seven yards passing, one of 10 completions, one interception, three passing, three completions of 11 passes, three fumbles, two first downs, 228 yards and three penalties for 35 yards.

Some Veterans Have Benefits

Half of all veterans who served during the Vietnam War are still eligible for GI Bill education benefits, according to Veterans Administration statistics released today.

Although 65 percent of the 9 million plus veterans of the Vietnam Era have used the GI Bill, VA estimates that more than five million are still entitled to some or all of the training time they earned.

The estimate is based on the number of veterans who have not reached the tenth anniversary of their separation from military service when, by law, their GI Bill education rights expire.

VA is eager that veterans know that training must be completed within this ten-year period. Administration of Veterans Affairs Max Cleland said, "It is a waste to allow this valuable entitlement to slip by."

VA predicts that 887,000 veterans will lose their eligibility during the twelve-month period starting October 1, fiscal year 1980 for the federal government.

This is eligibility that could mean up to $45,000 in financial assistance for school or college, farm or on-the-job training or a combination of school and job training.

EAGLE BAND...Members of the Woodville High School Eagle Band kept the Homecoming spirit high during the downtown pep rally last Friday. The downtown area was crowded with students and spectators.

VA predicted the total number of trainees under the active bill will surpass the WWII number early in fiscal year 1981.

Fifty percent of WWII and 42 percent of Korean Conflict veterans used their GI Bills.

VA estimates that more than half the veterans and eligible today will have passed the ten-year benefit limit.

While many have reached their educational goal and more than one million will train this year, Cleland said, "We urge veterans with entitlement to start a program early enough to complete it before time runs out."

"V" describes the and slit for steam fall '79 fashion silhouettes with broadened shoulders, defined waistlines, slim and shorter skirts. A return to shape provides a neat, softly tailored and glamorous "retro" look of the 50's.

Plant Handbook Offered

Worn over skirts, pants or dresses, the jacket or blazer is a bit shorter than in past seasons.

Suit-like blouses include soft, simple uncluttered lines in silky fabrics of bright or subtle colors. Other blouses feature flared and broadened shoulders, small classic collars, and pocket detail.

To accessorize, add ribbon ties, narrow neckties or decorative pins.

Shapely, shirt dresses make head-linges with a simple look. Shoulders are well shaped, skirts slim and waists cinched. Watch for asymmetrical closings, front wraps, and soft, silky fabrics.

Paris continue a glimpse down a tapered length is at the ankle, showing off an ankle strap pump or low boot. Plaids, gathers, and tucks give fullness at the waist.

To layer for warmth, add a class sweater or vest. Choose from shaker, knits, twin sets, jacquards or argyles. Wear sweaters over a coordinated blouse and accent with a belt at the waist.

For those colder days, coats draw attention. Coats are narrow with wider shoulders tapered to the hem line. Wear them belted or loose.

Small collars, often shawl or band, add interest at the neck.

The newest length is three-quarters to seven-eighths, revealing a skirt or pants underneath.

Colors and fabrics add excitement to fall fashions.

Black accented with white or brights heads the list. Other popular colors include teal, egg plant, pearl gray, wine and plum.

Soft and plush describes the fabrics with jerseys, velours, silk, chenille, velvet, and crepe de chine leading the show.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Timber Harvest Largest Ever

COLLEGE STATION - The timber harvest in Texas reached record levels in 1978, but for the first time since the early 1900's, the pine harvest exceeded the amount grown.

Although predicted to happen, harvesting pine faster than its growth occurred earlier than most expert expectations.

The pine harvest has more than doubled over the past decade, compared to only a 16 percent increase in wood growth. Production of pine products has skyrocketed to meet demands for housing and other needs of the state's rapidly growing population. Decreasing timber supplies in western states and higher western production costs are also responsible for growth of forest product companies in Texas.

The overall timber harvest was 533 million cubic feet, an increase of 8 percent over the annual timber harvest reported by the Texas Forest Service.

Production of southern yellow pine represented 79 percent of the total volume, increasing 7 percent over the 1977 harvest. This was 1.7 percent more than the inventory growing stock.

Although the hardwood production in Texas increased by 33 percent, the harvest is still about one-half the total growth of hardwood trees. This substantial increase is attributed to the increasing demand for hardwood products and the unreasonably dry weather conditions that allowed logging of many inaccessible hardwood sites.

During the year, increases were reported in round pulpwood, sawlogs, and veneer logs. Exports of hardwood products and imports of pine products also increased. Overall, Texas exported a larger volume of wood than it imported by a margin of almost 2 to 1.

Production of primary wood products increased for lumber, plywood, and treated wood products; with the largest gains in hardwood lumber, cross ties, hardwood chips, and treated switch ties.

Noticeable decreases occurred in production of miscellaneous wood products, treated construction poles, cross arms and treated plywood.

Counties with the highest volume of harvested timber in 1978 included Pook, Trinity, Montgomery, Newton, Jasper, and Polk. Comanche had the largest overall volume of harvested wood products in 1978 with 39 million cubic feet, approximately 7 percent of the total volume in the state.

While the current demand for softwood products is expected to increase and create more pressure for forest landholders to harvest their timber to fulfill the demand, short term harvest growth trend for pine will continue to look bleak. This situation emphasizes the importance of good forest management in conserving the supply, and the Texas Forest Service report said.

Fall Foliage Landscape Ideas

COLLEGE STATION - Improve your home landscape with trees that offer spectacular fall foliage colors, says Everett Janné.

Properly selecting plant materials capable of producing fall color, mixed with evergreen plants, you can enjoy a spectacular foliage display in your own backyard.

contends Janné, a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service System.

"Get an idea for your fall landscape by traveling around Texas and looking at the display of foliage colors," suggests the horticulturist.

The two most spectacular areas for fall color in Texas are usually the Hill Country area, with a preponderance of Texas oak, and the Piny Woods of East Texas, which feature sugar maple, black gum, shumard oak, flowering dogwood and American sweet gum.

"These selections as well as others can bring fall color to home landscapes," says Janné.

"One of the best introduced varieties for home landscape color is the Callery pear, especially the Aristocrat and Bradford selections," contends Janné. "This Chinese pistachio is also well known for its fall color."

A tree which frequently has better fall color than most is the Chinese tallow, adds the horticulturist. However, it has become a problem tree in some coastal areas as it is taking over many fertile river bottom soils.

"The color intensity of fall foliage depends on a great deal upon climatic and environmental conditions existing as plants finish out the growing season," explains Janné.

He cites several reasons why fall foliage colors may be poor in a given year.

"Plants growing under shaded conditions usually do not produce as much color as those growing in full sunlight."

"Weather may not be favorable. Night temperatures must drop below 45 degrees for good color, but cold daytime temperatures can severely reduce the amount of fall color. Cloudy or rainy days will also reduce color intensity."

"Soils with low levels of nutrients will generally produce plants with poor foliage color. However, excessive amounts of nitrogen can have the same effect."

"Genetic make-up of seedling variation can contribute to poor foliage color."

"Use absorbent powder carpet cleaners at intervals to prolong the periods between wet cleanings, suggests Janné, "and home furnishing specialists. This method will brighten and remove dull, dingy, oily deposits with a minimum treatment."

"A tree which frequently has better fall color than most is the Chinese tallow, adds the Agricultural Extension Service.

Friends of Mrs. Horace Flowers are glad that she is at home after spending several days in Tyler County hospital.

Myrtle and Howard Estes of Beaumont and the Carroll Rice family of Lumberton were here Sunday to see their mother, Mrs. Mary Miller who is in Tyler County hospital.

Visiting Mrs. Besie Huggins during the week were her nephew Ryan Cook of Nederland, Mrs. Mattie Clifton of Groves and Mrs. Ora Moss of Fort Arthur.

Holiday Pines Report

October is a beautiful month and starts with varied reactions to a change in the weather. It is a time of change in people's moods. Some of the responses I received were: "Why is it foggy then?" "I think I am getting the flu or something." "I had to tell the gentlemen I asked me to walk to Dallas was too poor to remember it." "I will only take a little of your time to come out for a walk." "I enjoyed fresh fish the extra effort." "I resolve never to do anything which should be afraid to do if it were the last hour of my life."

Congratulations to our birthday people this month.

personnel are tending to their needs within the room during the presentation. Many of the residents are employees, personally, I would like to thank the Viola Lloyd Smiers for her many hours in training, reading and searching for new methods to keep our In-Service Department abreast of all new procedures, rules and regulations and create good employee relations. Thank you Viola, for doing a good and very needed training job. The results are showing already.

Today, Sunday, October 28, the residents of Holiday Pines enjoyed fresh fish donated by the Woodville Bass Club. Everyone thanks you and the only negative comment I heard was "I ate too much." Thank you for your thoughtfulness and consideration. You made many people happy on a Sunday and made it possible to break the routine for them. Fresh fish on Sunday!

A personal note to all of my employees and to all who call Holiday Pines Lodge "Home." I resolve never to do anything which should be afraid to do if it were the last hour of my life.

Congratulations to our birthday people this month.

An Important Message To Our Customers Concerning Inflation!

In 1962, when the first Wal-Mart Store was opened, two simple basic principles were the guidelines we lived by - WE SELL FOR LESS, EVERYDAY...and SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

Today, 17 years and 238 stores later, these two principles continue to guide our actions.

Throughout the years, we have prided ourselves in being the leader in offering first quality merchandise at lower prices than anyone else. Inflation or nothing else will alter our position on this.

Everytime Inflation worsened, we have been the leader in coming forth with programs and efforts to lessen the burden on everyone within our trade areas.

Now again, we are making every effort to ease the impact of Inflation on our customers.

Here are just a few ways Wal-Mart is battling inflation.

1. We vigorously resist any price increase from our suppliers. Every price increase we eliminate or delay means savings for you.
2. In many instances recently, Wal-Mart has absorbed price increases from our suppliers, but have not raised our selling price to our customers.
3. We continually strive to have the lowest everyday shell price on every single item everyday of the year.
4. We have consistently, over the years, been among the leading Retail Companies in America in Expense Control. This tight control of expenses enables us to pass on lower prices to you.
5. We regularly run special sales events and offer even lower prices and bigger savings to our customers.

6. Early this year, Wal-Mart actually LOWERED the everyday selling price on many high volume items.

The response from you, our customers, was so good that we know you appreciated this anti-inflationary action. Therefore, we are continuing the program and at this time, we have lowered the everyday selling prices of several other key items.

7. We have contacted our Government Officials personally, and in the mail, urging them to take steps to control excessive Governmental Expenses and Inflationary Programs. We urge you to join us in this effort.

8. We have become very energy conscious, and have actually run tests on our stores on energy usage. As a result steps have been taken to cut our energy consumption considerably. If we can cut our energy costs, we can cut more prices for you.

9. We built new warehousing facilities to allow us to move products quicker and cheaper to our stores. By cutting our freight costs, we can sell the merchandise at a lower price to you.

10. By carrying a broader assortment of merchandise, we have become more of a one-stop shopping center, which enables you to shop in one location for all your needs.

With your continued support, we can, and will, increase our efforts to slow down inflation. We pledge to vigorously resist cost increases and all unnecessary expenses. In fact, we are working hard to dispel the feeling that inflation is inevitable. Join with us in fighting inflation by shopping for value and prices. Write your elected officials and retailers such as ourselves. Let us know how we can serve you even better.
