Ain't It Great!

By MIKE BURROW

I was reading a column in The Overton Press this week and I couldn't believe my eyes when I ran across an item which definitely proves that Chivalry is not dead.

According to the column, three bulldog rapists met their match when they were confronted by an ex-Marine trucker near Canton.

The Kroger grocery truck driver spotted a woman and her two children screaming for help at a roadside park and decided to intervene. He broke the jaw of one attacker, the arm of another and inflicted undetermined damage to the groin area of the third.

The 245-pound hero said he played every minute of it and told the volprits that he comes through the area three times a week and if they wanted any more of it, just hang around.

It appears that the Tyler County Blood Drive was a success again this year. According to Frankie Rogers at the Tyler County Hospital, 149 units of blood were donated last Thursday and Friday.

Well, it never fails!

Ben Worthy, who is heading up the Western Weekend affair during the Dogwood Festival, contacted me this week and asked if I would help with the Beard Growing Contest this year. We will be announcing the dates next week.

It is really ironic, but guess who shaved off his beard about two weeks ago? I had started growing one of those things around Thanksgiving and as the New Year was dawning on Woodville and the whiskers were gaining in length, I decided in a moment of weakness to dig out the razor.

Now, to the dismay of my wife and daughter, I feel I must set the bit example. They don't know it yet, but I have just decided to stop shaving again! Thanks, Ben, I needed an excuse to grow another beard.

In last week's Booster we had a little mixup in the Tyler County Viewpoint column. For some reason or another, we made a mistake and ran the wrong response for Wendy Thomason and Dolly Sturrock. The question was "What do you think about the high cost of gold?"

Wendy Thomason's reply should have read as follows: "The price of gold will go as high as $700 per oz. We are coming into the one-world monetary system, as the devaluation of the American dollar clearly shows. Silver also is going to increase as well as copper. Paper money will be worthless soon!"

Mrs. Sturrock's reply should have read as follows: "This I think is a $64 question, but it probably has to do with other items as well. If I understand it correctly there has to be gold enough to Ft. Knox to take care of all the greenback. No wonder a dollar isn't worth much. I just wish not for my sake, but the younger generation that things in the gold market would settle back to normal."

Rape Trial Delayed

The trial of Charles Lee, who is charged with the rape of a Hillister woman, has been postponed until February 19 in District Court in Tyler County.

Lee's trial was scheduled to begin Monday but was delayed after Lee's attorney, Roy Jerue of Houston, was granted a motion of continuance.

Two Drown In Accident

A Houston couple drowned apparently late Sunday when their car left the highway and plunged into Lake Steinhagen at the bridge crossing approximately 3:15 p.m. Monday were Harold Smith, 64, and Melba Smith, 54, of 6110 Winfield, Houston. They were driving a 1975 Ford LTD. Highway Patrol Coy Smith of Jasper said his department was called to the scene at about 2 p.m. Monday, shortly after a highway department crew found skid marks leading towards the lake. A diver was called to the scene and located the car at about 3:15 p.m., in the water approximately 284 feet from the highway. Patrolman Smith estimated that the vehicle was airborne for about 80 feet before striking the water.

ARBOR DAY HONOR--The Garden Club of Woodville held a special ceremony this past week on the lawn of the Woodville Junior High School honoring J.C. Clark Jr., principal. A tree was planted in Clark's honor in recognition of his many contributions to the students in Woodville. Surrounded by junior

The bodies were taken to Stringer-Ward Funeral Home in Jasper.

Patrolman Smith said that he estimated the time of the accident as between 3 and 8 p.m. Sunday. He said the couple was seen at a relative's house about 3 p.m. Sunday and was headed toward Woodville when the accident occurred. A passerby reported seeing the skid marks at about 8 p.m. Sunday.

Dogwood Directors Make Plans

The executive directors of the Tyler County Dogwood Festival met Wednesday, January 16, to discuss the 37th annual springtime event.

Tyler County in the Fifties will be the theme of this year's pageant. Scheduling for parades, dances and special activities is being finalized. The Tyler County Dogwood Marathon has again been calendarized due to its initial popularity. Featured will be the marathon (26 miles, 385 yards) and the 10 K (6.2 miles).

Advertisement supporting the Dogwood Festival is available from members of the Kingsmen's organization.

Garden Club Honors Clark

J.C. Clark Jr., junior high school principal in Woodville, was honored last week during a special Arbor Day ceremony at the Woodville Junior High School. A tree was planted in his honor on the school campus in recognition of his many contributions to the education of young people in Tyler County.

A special program was staged for the Arbor Day observance and was highlighted by a group recitation by eighth grade students. Jack Blakeney was the guest speaker and Mrs. Ruth Houston sang the song "Trees."

The special program was sponsored by the Garden Club of Woodville. Clark, a native of Tyler County, has been associated with the Woodville School District for 24 years. He is a graduate of Kirby High School where he was very active in FFA. He was one of only two boys to ever earn an American Farmer Degree. He is married to the former Ernestine Tatum of Woodville and the father of two daughters; Barbara Clark Carr. (Continued on page 2A)

Vandals Arrested

Two juveniles and a 19-year-old man were arrested January 16 and charged for vandalism to the Fred Elementary School and several businesses in Fred on the night of January 15.

Tyler County Deputy Sheriff Odie Powell reported that James Ronald Soignet, 19, of Fred and two 17-year-old boys were charged for three felonies and one Class A misdemeanor. The three were taken into custody January 16 and arraigned by Justice of the Peace Roy Drake. Drake set bond for each at $15,500.

Powell said that he was notified of the vandalism about 8:30 a.m. January 16. He said the three suspects had been observed committing some of the vandalism by a concerned elderly citizen in Fred.

Powell stated that extensive damage was found at Fred Elementary School. The three apparently gained entrance to the building in the auditorium. A fire extinguisher and been discharged in the auditorium and a flag staff was broken. The three then apparently went to the Annex Building and vandalized an office there. A child's desk was thrown through a window. Entry into the main school was gained by breaking a window in a door. In that building, coke bottles had been thrown against a wall and several trophies were destroyed. Food was thrown on the floor and papers scattered around the cafeteria.

Dudley Denmon, owner of the Fred Cafe, also reported damage to his establishment. The cafe had been broken into through the back door, eggs were broken on the floor, tomatoes thrown through a window and merchandise scattered. Two pinball machines had been broken into.

Windows were also reported broken in Marvin Johnson's office next to the cafe. The Lions Club and Fire Department were also vandalized. Two cases of Coke, $7 in cash and a speaker were reported taken from the Fire Department.

Powell estimated that approximately $5,000 in damage was reported. Arresting officers were Powell, Constable Arthur Glicist and Sheriff Lewis Craven.

Industrial Financing Corporation Formed

The Tyler County Commissioner's Court gave its approval Friday, Jan. 18, to a petition calling for the creation of the Industrial Financing Corporation of Tyler County.

The Tyler County Chamber of Commerce had petitioned the court for the creation of the corporation in an effort to encourage industrial development and expansion in Tyler County. The commissioners had tabled the petition at an earlier meeting, stating that they wanted to study the matter further before taking action.

Commissioner Maxie Riley commented at the Friday meeting that it looks like a good thing for the county and at no expense to the county.

Bertis Best, representing the Chamber of Commerce at the meeting, told the commissioners that the Chamber thought it would be a usable vehicle for development of industry in Tyler County. The Chamber paid for the legal cost of setting up the corporation. The corporation can also be used for expansion of plants already located in Tyler County.

The Commissioner's Court appointed three persons to serve on the new corporation's board of directors. They are Thomas C. Knapp, Bertis Best and C.A. Williams.

In other business Friday the commissioners approved the payment of bills from the auditor's

Military Might Needed

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Economist Irving Kristol, writing in The Wall Street Journal, says that the decade ahead "promises to be an absolutely ghastly period." Few objective observers would disagree with his gloomy prediction.

It was only ten years ago that oil sold for $2.50 a barrel. In recent weeks, it has been selling for $40 on the spot market. It won't take many OPEC price hikes to get a barrel of oil to $50 or $60 or more. The impact on our daily lives will be colossal.

The crisis in Iran may lead to enormous troubles for the U.S. throughout the "Muslim world." Egypt after President Sadat will be a very different country. The conservative government of Saudi Arabia may be living on borrowed time. The presence of a huge non-Saudi Arab population in that country, employed in the oil fields and elsewhere, is a profoundly destabilizing force.

In the 1970s, the United States lost several important allies there, for it is very isolated today. If in rapid decline, the rats will abandon the sinking ship.

The No. 1 need for the United States in the decade ahead is to restore the nation's military might, which is the foundation of its security.

President Carter has announced various defense improvements, but they are completely inadequate. He envisions a fleet of 550 ships in the 1990s. This is only a little more than half the number of vessels in the U.S. Navy at the end of the Vietnam War.

Since he took office, Mr. Carter has whittled away the naval construction program. He fought against a few nuclear aircraft carriers until public opinion turned strongly against him and world events compelled him to agree to a new floating airfield.

Where would we be today if we didn't have two carriers on station in the Arabian Sea?

For years, we have heard America described as an "affluent society" or a "post-industrial society." These notions were very destructive. They encouraged the American people to believe that they were so rich that they could pour billions into global welfare programs. They led Americans to believe that the U.S. could stay strong without heavy industry and modern factories. Suddenly, Americans are beginning to realize that the industrial base of their country is seriously deteriorated. They are beginning to understand that their standard of living is dependent on modern "affluent plants."

The country needs a new political leadership. It is the responsibility of the leadership to stress and stress the rebuilding of military and industrial power. If most understand that we can't afford huge foreign aid programs, it must be realistic about the need for intervention in situations that affect our survival as a nation. It must deal firmly with friends and foes.

These issues and considerations should be the stuff of the 1980 election campaign. The time is past the politics of domestic and foreign giveaways. Slogans and clichés are no substitute for a foreign policy, which includes economic policy.

The public has a right to know how the candidates plan to handle the crises which are bound to occur in the eighties.

Will the candidates renounce accommodation with the foes of the West? We must demand straight answers in this election year.

the University of Texas, and received his law degree and Doctor of Jurisprudence at St. Mary's University in San Antonio. Upon graduation from law school, Horka returned to Silsbee to enter law practice in the office of the late Terrell Buchanan. In 1969, he joined the Jefferson County District Attorney's staff and within a year was promoted to the Chief County Attorney's post; he was then promoted to the Felony Trial Division where he was the chief prosecutor in over 100 major criminal trials including arson, burglary, rape, robbery, and murder.

Horka then resigned that position to successfully be a candidate for County Attorney of Hardin County. During his three years as County Attorney he has increased the number of convictions in the County Court from less than 100, (as done by the previous County Attorney, George Kirkpatrick), to over 350 convictions per year. He has increased the number of convictions in the County Court from less than 100, (as done by the previous County Attorney, George Kirkpatrick), to over 350 convictions per year. He has increased the revenue generated from these criminal cases from less than $18,000.00 per year to over $100,000.00 per year. This increased revenue goes into the general fund and can help avoid increasing our taxes.

He has resided in Hardin County for over 30 years and is a direct descendant of the pioneer Taylor family of Old Hardin and Saratoga. Horka's Great Grandfather was Miles Taylor the Hardin County Treasurer, in the 1890's. He is the father of one daughter, Dee Dee Horka, who is 13 years old and the 8th grade.

Locally, Horka serves on the Silsbee Parks Advisory Board, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, is a past board member and past president of Silsbee Little Dribblers Association and Silsbee Little League. He was a 1974 delegate to the State Democratic Convention.

During Horka's career as a criminal prosecutor he has successfully completed courses in the prosecution of "Organized crime", "white collar crime", and consumer frauds in New Orleans, San Diego and Houston. He has also completed courses in career prosecuting and advanced criminal law offered by the Texas County and District Attorneys Association. He is a member of the National District Attorney's Association, Law Enforcement Officers Association and the Texas District and County Attorneys Association where he was on the juvenile advisory board.

"I have a sincere and deep rooted interest in the people of this District due to the fact that I was raised here and my family were some of the first settlers in this area, and I see a very disturbing and alarming trend happening in our District, where criminals are at best slapped on the wrist for their crimes. I think it is time that the old saying "Crime doesn't pay" is reborn and our Courts through proper prosecution starts cracking down on those who commit major crimes in our community. The Office of Judicial Review in Texas in its published reports shows that in the past 3 years the 88th District has one of the lowest rates of conviction and fewest persons tried in the whole state of Texas. I intend to turn these figures around and let those who would commit crimes in our communities know that, in the 88th Judicial District, justice will come down hard on them," Horka said.

"I have spent over 15 years preparing and getting the experience and training needed to be a competent District Attorney, including over seven years as Assistant District Attorney in Jefferson County and over three years as County Attorney of Hardin County, and I hope the people of this District will look at the credentials of any opponent I may have and cast their vote for the most qualified man for the job," he said.

Be a "super" consumer—know the life-cycle cost of each appliance you buy. Life-cycle cost is the real cost of your appliance over its lifetime, rather than just the store's price tag. Appliances drain away much of our money, so their total cost is a major factor in each family's budget.

Recent research showed that in one year, consumers spent $12 billion to buy appliances, plus $19 billion to run all their appliances—and $2 billion more to have them repaired and serviced.

To figure life-cycle cost, start with the life expectancy (in years) times the yearly energy cost. Then add the purchase price plus the estimated repair and maintenance costs.

New labeling rules will help consumers figure life-cycle costs of appliances.

Labels will tell you the average annual energy cost of an appliance based on average utility rates.

They'll also include a chart to help you estimate the yearly cost of running the appliance—based on local utility rates, and they will tell you the range of energy costs for similar models.

Ask your dealer for life-expectancy figures and the cost estimate for repair and maintenance.

Educational programs are conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Make 1980 Safe Year

COLLEGE STATION—Make 1980 your year of food safety, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist.

Preventing illness and loss of food through spoilage can save time and money, she adds.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Here's a brief seven-part plan to help carry out the resolution:

- 1) Keep refrigerator temperatures between 35 and 40 degrees F.
- 2) Make sure the freezer stays at 0 degrees F.
- 3) These precautions will keep bacteria from growing since it needs warmth, moisture and food for survival.
- 4) Keep meat and poultry refrigerated always.
- 5) Be aware of the new nitrite-free meat products, and don't mistake them for cured ones. Nitrite-free meats keep safely only three to seven days. Instead, use the usual three weeks that cured meats keep.
- 6) Wrap foods loosely for refrigerator storage.
- 7) For freezer storage, wrap foods tightly in moisture, vapor-proof paper. That will prevent freezer burn, and it insures a high-quality, well-preserved product.
- 8) Do not store cured meats in the freezer, since that can hasten rancidity.
- 9) Thaw frozen meat and poultry in the refrigerator—or, if time is critical, thaw it in a water-tight package under cold water.

Highway Work Bids Due Soon

AUSTIN—Bids for the seal coating of sections of highways in Chambers, Hardin, Jasper, Jefferson, Liberty, Newton, Orange and Tyler Counties are expected to be received in January by the State Department of Transportation.

The work, which will involve over 75 miles of highways, consists of applying asphalt and rock to the roadway surface to promote waterproofing and help maintain pavement strength.

Beaumont District Engineer Franklin Young said portions of the following highways will be seal coated:

Chambers County: FM 565, FM 1405 and FM 1942.

Hardin County: SH 105.

Jasper County: US 190.

Jefferson County: SH 87.

Liberty County: FM 1980, FM 60, SH 105, FM 162, FM 1008 and FM 1011.

Newton County: SH 87 and FM 2991.

Orange County: IH 10 and FM 1131.

Tyler County: FM 92, FM 2827, FM 2992 and R 255.

The completed seal coat projects will provide an improved riding and skid-resistant surface for motorists.

Frank B. James Jr., of Orange, is the department's engineer in charge of the work.

If there's no time to thaw "frozen solid" meats—and be sure to allow extra time for the cooking (1 1/2 times the usual time for large roasts, for example).

Use clean cutting boards for foods preparation.

Clean them with one part bleach to four parts water after using them.

Also, it's wise to use a separate board for meats and another for vegetables.

Never buy foods

Animal Facts Are Interesting

When President agents seized a boat named Pedro that an American lighter was with a canoe paddle into a boating rig last April, he put his opponent, Alstralian, customs the nation's news-papers.

But the President's impounded five pythons into their country-in his underpants and in pouches strapped to his legs.

It was also a busy year for bees. An estimated 3 million swarmed in on Flintstone, Md., after the conservation group found in its annual survey of such happenings a year in which hundreds of school girls at a track meet attacked the bees.

Human vandals assaulted wildlife for instance, by draining or cutting off the water supply to two hatcheries-killing 450,000 trout and salmon in the New York State Fish and Game Department's hatchery at Leeton, N.Y., and 25,000 brown trout at Leeton, W. Va.

A school of 100 Canadian porcupine was found in its annual survey of such happenings a year in which hundreds of school girls at a track meet attacked the bees.

COUNTRY CLUB CORNER

SPORTS EDITOR - Golfers are taking advantage of the mild sunny days for golf on the links by exercise and to sharpen their golf games. With the "Top Tour" (Open Golf Tournament) on a national television, to remain as of the spring start of the golfing season, many golfers are gagging their clubs out of the garage or parking area for local courses. Rainy weather has started grass growing and trees are already budding.

Ramblin' Round Rockland

by Aloha Freeland

Greetings again to our readers from Rockland and we are pleased that you all cooperated so well in our news gathering plan. The news was compiled in about half the time and we feel that everyone who wanted a news item printed has been able to do so. It worked terrifically and we will continue this plan until we find a better one. So keep the news coming. Again, that number is 837-2331.

Here's the news for this week: Mrs. Elaine Cowart was a recent visitor with friends, Barbara and Tommy Mitchell in Kountze. Several of our people attended the funeral of Mrs. Willis Chambers of Zavalla Church on January 15. Our sympathy goes to her family.

Rev. Moore of Crockett was the guest speaker Sunday at both services at the Rockland Revival Center. Mrs. Gladys Jeanes enjoyed the week-end with her daughter.

We'd like you to meet

Judges-Commissioners Conference Set At A & M

COLLEGE STATION — Challenges facing county government in the 1980s will be the theme of the 22nd annual County Judges and Commissioners Conference here Feb. 5-7.

Key county and state government officials will be on hand to address such issues as energy and transportation for the '80s, points our John Gil-martin, county officials program specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. More than 600 county officials from throughout Texas are expected to attend.

Gov. Bill Clements will deliver the keynote address at the conference Thursday morning, Feb. 7, at 9 o'clock. Other featured speakers will include Attorney General Mark White and Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace, who will both speak the morning Feb. 6, and Commissioner of Agriculture Reagan Brown, who will conclude the Thursday morning session.

Extension Director Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel will deliver the welcome address at the first general session on Wednesday, Feb. 6. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. the first day at the Ramada Inn, Wallace, who will both speak the morning Feb. 6, and Commissioner of Agriculture Reagan Brown, who will conclude the Thursday morning session.

Extension Director Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel will deliver the welcome address at the first general session on Among discussions during general sessions of the conference will be state property taxes, jails, rural land values, rural fire districts and revenue sharing.

The conference is conducted annually by the Extension Service in cooperation with the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas. Current president of the association is McLennan County Commissioner Roy Nail.

Farmers Face March Deadline

COLLEGE STATION — While most taxpayers have until April 15 to file their 1979 income tax returns, farmers and ranchers face an earlier filing date — March 3.

The March 3 date stands for agricultural producers who did not file an estimate of their income taxes and pay these estimated taxes by Jan. 15. Those who did file an estimate have until the April 15 deadline to file final returns.

For Texas farmers and ranchers preparing their 1979 income tax returns, Dr. Ashley Lovell of Bryan area economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, offers several considerations.

Filing requirements for 1979 are changed from 1978.

For example, an individual must file a return if his gross income is $3,300 or more and a married couple under 65 years of age must file if their joint gross income is more than $5,400. If both are 65 or older, they may make $6,400 before having to file a return.

For some businessmen, a more urgent deadline is Jan. 31, the due date for Form 943 and Form W-2.

Form 943, "Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees," must be filed if you were required to withhold and pay social security tax, or if you withheld income tax under voluntary withholding agreements on farm labor wages during 1979.

Form W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement," must be provided to each employee to whom you paid wages subject to social security taxes or from whose wages federal income tax was voluntarily withheld. Employees should receive Form W-2's by Jan. 31.

For other changes and reporting requirements regarding 1979 income tax returns, Lovell suggests a copy of Internal Revenue Service Publication No. 17, "Your Federal Income Tax" (1980 edition).

Farmers and ranchers will want to get a copy of IRS Publication No. 225, "Farmers Tax Guide" (Revised October 1979).

Minimum Wage Required

WASHINGTON — Final determinations have been made specifying certain state and local government activities which are subject to minimum wage and overtime requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), the Labor Department has announced.

The interpretations issued by the Department's Wage and Hour Division, list eight functions or activities of states and their political subdivisions which have been determined to be non-traditional and therefore subject to the FLSA requirements.

Non-traditional activities listed in the interpretations include: state alcoholic beverage stores; off-track betting corporations; local mass transit systems; electric power generation and distribution; provision of residential and commercial telephone and telegraphic communications; production and sale of organic fertilizer (as a by-product of sewerage processing); production, cultivation, growing or harvesting of agricultural commodities for sale to consumers; and repair and maintenance of boats and marine engines for the general public.

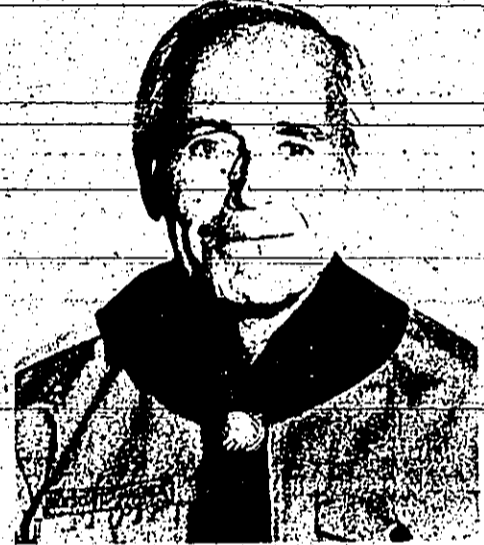

Employee engaged in such activities must be paid at least the minimum wage, which is currently $3.10 per hour, and not less than one and one-half times their regular rates of pay for hours worked in excess of 40 in the workweek. This provision does not apply to certain managerial or otherwise exempt employees.

As a result of the 1976 Supreme Court ruling, National League of Cities vs. U.S., minimum wage and overtime compensation provision of the FLSA can not constitutional be applied to state and local government employees who are engaged in traditional activities.

Schools, hospitals, fire prevention, police protection, sanitation, public health, parks and recreation are included in this category under the ruling.

In previous rulings, the Wage and Hour Division has held that the operations of ordinary public libraries and museums are traditional functions and not subject to the FLSA provisions. These traditional functions are also listed in the final interpretations.

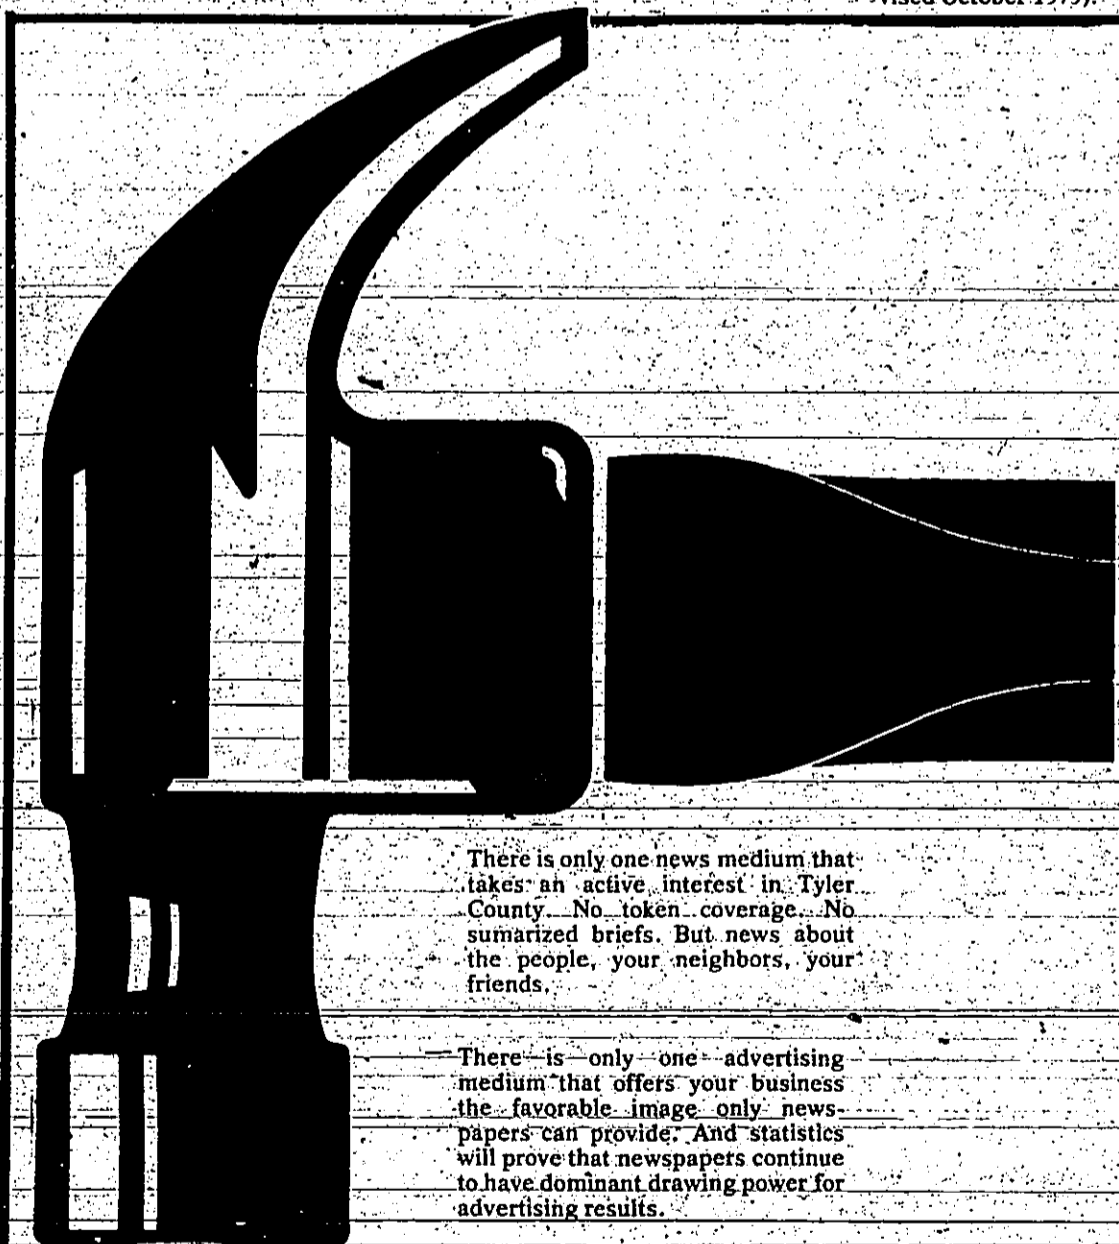

The FLSA is administered and enforced by the Wage and Hour Division, a part of the Employment Standards Administration.
