'Conspiracy Of Silence' Is Death Threat Theme

An impassioned plea for "help" stemming from alleged threats on his life which were reportedly made by Sheriff Lewis Craven and his son Gary in March, 1977, were revealed Monday by Michael Ross Sidoric, formerly of Colmesneil, who while reading partially from a prepared text said that the Cravens told him and his fiancée, June Beamon, "That someone might find us lying facedown in the dirt with a slug in us."

Sidoric indicated that others in Tyler County were living in the same kind of fear and that, "There is a conspiracy of silence about this kind of thing that needs to stop."

Craven responded to Sidoric's accusations by saying, "You're lying, lying like a dog trotting down the road."

Sidoric told the Commissioners that following grand jury holdover testimony he gave regarding alleged misuse of county vehicles on a parcel of land Sidoric claims to own just across the Jasper-Angelina County line. "That Craven confronted Sidoric with exactly the same information which he (Sidoric) had revealed supposedly under the secret veil of grand jury privacy procedures."

Sidoric claims that grand jury "leaks" were the main cause which led to the confrontation with Craven. "How else would he know what I said to that group. He repeated to me everything like he had a tape recorder about what went on in that jury session."

In a press conference held in front of the Tyler County Courthouse and following the Commissioner's Court meeting where Sidoric told County Commissioners of his plight, Craven descended on Sidoric verbally and eyeball to eyeball with responses that said that Sidoric's actions were politically motivated and designed to hurt his campaign for re-election.

In a letter to the Editor printed in the Tyler County Booster, Thursday, May 1, 1980, June (Beamon) Sidoric challenged a recent Craven candidacy statement for re-election where he said that he was "honest, fair and impartial to all."

Mrs. Sidoric said that, "Nothing could be farther from the truth ... because my husband and I could not be scared off our land that has been in my husband's family for generations ... land that a Craven family company was mining without knowledge or consent, we live with constant fear."

Craven responded in today's edition of THE BOOSTER in a letter to the Editor by saying, "I say all statements by June B. Sidoric of threats and mining of family property without their consent are false and politically motivated." (See letter to the Editor, Page 2-A.)

During the press conference following the Commissioner's Court statements issued by Sidoric, pictures were distributed among area media of a Tyler County Sheriff's vehicle which Sidoric said was parked on his land reportedly during a rock pit mining activity, Sidoric said.

Sidoric contends that Craven has been using his office of Sheriff to conduct the mining of rock that belongs to him. Craven refuted that statement by saying that he has proof of his permission to quarry rock from the land which is located partially in Angelina and partially in Jasper County, just across the Tyler County line and on the north bank of the Neches River.

One source close to the Sheriff's office said, "When the squabbling over the mining in the rock pit began in late 1975, it was generally known that Sidoric's name was on a list ... one that was giving Craven trouble."

Sidoric said that on repeated trips from his present Austin residence to "Ross' Camp on the Neches" that he would find evidence of more and more of the mining operation he said, "eating up the land and causing terrible erosion."

Sidoric said that on numerous occasions that Angelina County Sheriff Burl McBride had made personal visits to the campsite cabin to check on the land at the request of Sidoric.

Following the holdover grand jury testimony voluntarily initiated by Sidoric on Aug. 4, 1976; there were two occasions, one where he was pulled off the road in Doucette, for Craven said, "Driving on the wrong side of the road and in a van which Craven said was typically stopped because of drug trafficking in the County." Sidoric denied that he was on the wrong side of the road and said he was in fact driving in a jeep. "Can he tell a jeep from a van?"

Sidoric said that he and a friend, Joe Griggs, currently of Clemmons, North Carolina, were stopped by Craven and a deputy and told that Craven wanted to know who was behind the Grand Jury testimony which Craven reportedly said was designed to "get he and his boy."

Craven was reported then to have said by Sidoric that, "I had better be careful, otherwise I could get hurt or put in jail."

In another incident which Sidoric related to in the press conference and which is said to have occurred at a Dam-B catfish restaurant, Sidoric said that he was confronted by Craven and his son Gary who asked Sidoric to step outside.

Sidoric, who was eating in the company of his fiancée, June Beamon, and a friend from Austin, Jim Wynn, was asked to step outside where he was then threatened, according to Sidoric, and reminded about his Grand Jury testimony.

According to Jim Wynn who was in earshot of the confrontation which he said lasted 10 minutes said that Craven's son Gary "asked Mike to step behind the building and go at it with fists." Wynn who said he can remember the incident vividly said also that the conversation seemed to be going around in circles, "like an argumen going in circles ... arguing for the sake of arguing in which neither side was doing anything to defuse the situation."

Wynn apparently gave the FBI eye witness testimony a few days after the incident which occurred. Sidoric said, on March 13, 1977.

Sidoric, also along with his fiancée, was instructed by the State Attorney General's office to contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Houston. Sidoric said that the FBI investigation was still pending, and "just because the Grand Jury session is over that doesn't mean the investigation is over."

Sidoric said that there was no political motivation to his statement before the Commissioner's Court and (Continued on page 3A)

ACS Crusade Nets $2884

The Tyler County Unit of the American Cancer Society met Tuesday, May 13, at the Woodville Inn for its regular Board meeting. Seven members and District 10 Field Representative Becky Prince were present. President Butch Howard called the meeting to order and officers and committee chairmen for the 1980-1981 year were elected. They are as follows: President, Dr. Jim Jinnette; Vice-President, Mr. Bevis Minter; Secretary, Mrs. Marie Tarver; Treasurer, Mrs. Martha Reynolds; Medical, Dr. R.E. Swearingen; Educational, Mr. Jackie Blakeney; Service, Mrs. Evelyn Irvin; Memorial, Dr. Jim Jinnette; Crusade, Mrs. Butch Howard; Youth Against Cancer, Melinda Stryker; Special Events, Merline Kimble; and Publicity, Mrs. Dorothy Swearingen.

It was reported that $2,884.00 had been contributed in the Crusade this year. This included the business and residential drive. Mr. Lawrence Upchurch conducted the business drive. Dr. Jinnette reported that $1,525.00 had been contributed a memorial.

Several films have been shown at various schools throughout the county.

There was some discussion about a Skate-A-Thon as a special fund raising event on July 26, 1980. Merline Kimble was elected to be in charge of this event.

The next meeting will be in September, 1980.

Woodville City Council In Busy Session

Recommended as "certainly low and certainly in compliance," the Woodville City Council awarded some $31,540 in Housing Rehabilitation work to Thomas Fortenberry and the firm of Triple "R" Construction.

The action to award the bids was on motions initiated by Councilman Jim Jinnette and seconded by Malcolm Radford.

In other action, the council ratified the appointment of Kenneth George as Woodville's representative to the Deep East Texas Council of Governments.

The council voted not to enter an agreement to pay for the Workman's

Comp. insurance on the personnel who work at the library.

The council adopted a resolution which gives Mayor Doug Tolbert the power to vote. "As that individual who represents the City of Woodville on the Tyler County Tax Appraisal Board, on the following method of assessing the board's operating expenses:

"Each participating unit's portion of the total cost is determined by the proportion its total property tax levy bears to the total amount of property taxes imposed in the district by all participating units."

The council also resolved to allow the Mayor to apply for the third year annual application for Year III of the Comprehensive Community Development Block Grant program and renew the present contract presently in force with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development on behalf of the city.

In another resolution, Councilman Doug Tolbert formally signed a document proclaiming Thursday, May 15, as National Head Start Day in the City of Woodville. Tolbert said the day will be observed to celebrate some 15 years of the pre-school developmental program at the Indian Village.

According to Darby Kethan, educational co-ordinator for the Indian Village Headstart program, "We are interested in bringing news of this celebration to the general public and will have a celebration also on May 17 at the Head Start Center in the Community Center on Highway 190 at the Indian Village."

In other city business, the council approved a lease agreement with the Woodville Independent School District for $1 a year for use of facilities near the old Scott school complex. It discussed a dust problem relating to the quality of rock used to pave

Elm Street; discussed allowing the Tyler County Softball Association to use the facilities at the new city park.

Doucette Homecoming Sunday Will Be Big Event

Durwood Ling and the Sawmill Gang are preparing an East Texas bar-b-que for the 16th Annual Homecoming to be held at the Old Union Church in Doucette on Sunday, May 18, 1980.

The Homecoming committee spokesman, Henry Hendrix, of Beaumont said they were expecting about 250 present and past residents of the town to be present at the homecoming. Last year about 300 people attended.

During its "heyday," the Doucette mill was supplied by log trains and Doucette was one of the largest sawmill operations in the Long Bell

Lumber Co. system and was a supplier of the world market.

GSU Officers Elections Held

Gulf States Utilities Company stockholders recently elected veteran employee J.R. "Pat" Murphy to the board of directors while the board paid tribute to a retiring advisory director, B.D. Orgain.

In another personnel matter, the board elevated Edward M. Loggins, formerly senior vice president-administrative services, to executive vice president-administrative services.

Murphy, who is senior vice president for production based in Baton Rouge, was elected to fill a new position on the board, which has been expanded from 13 to 14 members. All other directors were re-elected during the firm's annual meeting at its corporate headquarters in Beaumont.

Murphy has worked for GSU 44 years and served in various engineering and personnel capacities before becoming vice president of personnel in 1977. He subsequently served as vice president of Louisiana operations and vice president of operations before assuming his present position in 1977.

Orgain also has been associated with GSU for many years, having become a director in 1963 and an advisory director in 1975.

Pecan Scab Control

By CLINTON R. CURRIE
County Extension Agent

Diseases of pecans account for a national average crop loss of 21 percent each year. The most destructive of the diseases on pecans is pecan scab, Fusicladium effusum. While in severe cases this disease can cause total foliage and nut loss, with proper use of fungicides damage from this disease can be prevented.

Starting in early spring this disease breaks out of dormancy from infection sites on the last year's shoots, buds and leaves. The spores released to the air land on new tender developing leaves and shoots. These spores germinate when the free moisture is present on the leaf and temperatures range from 70 to 95 degrees F. Although the pecan supply of food to the total tree scab nuts will have an even greater impact on the current nut crop. The nut receiver, generally through the vascular network between the shell and the free moisture is present. Consequently, any such damage will directly lower the kernel quality and total yield. Total nut loss can result in severe cases of nut scab. This loss is especially high in the young developing pecans.

Scab attacks pecan nuts in all stages of nut development. Since scab damage cannot be reversed, early infections take the greatest toll. Nuts just getting started during the first generation pecan nut casebearer particularly need fungicide protection. Unfavorable weather conditions during this period favor rapid development and spread of the scab fungus.

Include a fungicide with the first generation pecan nut casebearer to protect against early nut scab infection. Receptivity to scab infection on nut scab susceptible varieties varies 10-14 days later if weather prevails.

Prevention is the key to a good scab program. The leaves, shoots and nuts must be protected from the fungal spores that land on them by a film of fungicide. Once the spores germinate and the scab organism invades the tissue, minimal effect is possible. When spores land and germinate on a leaf protected by a fungicide, the spores will be prevented from germinating or killed soon after germination. Fungicide protection is usually weather conditions during this period favor rapid development and spread of the scab fungus.

It's Twister Time In Texas

April, May and June are prime time for twisters. May seems to be the worst month of all and the hours between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. are the most dangerous time because that is when it is easiest for thunderstorms to form and create tornadoes, according to weather experts.

North Central Texas in the area ranging roughly from Lubbock to Dallas seems to be the heart of the Texas tornado zone, the U.S. Weather Service (USWS) says. But few areas are safe from tornadoes. A killer tornado struck north of Austin in April and many other areas are vulnerable because they have spring storms. For instance, warm moist air coming up from the Gulf of Mexico can collide with concentrations of cool dry air coming across North Texas from the Rocky Mountains and the northern U.S. This collision creates thunderstorms that may spawn tornadoes and hail storms.

Scientists have studied tornadoes for years and the one thing they are sure of is their unpredictability. Twisters may appear anytime, anywhere there is a storm. People need to be alert and prepared to deal with them at all times but especially during prime tornado time, the Texas Medical Association says.

Tornadoes usually occur in hot, sticky weather with southerly winds and threatening sky with dark clouds billowing down. In most cases the tornado moves from the west or southwest toward the northeast. Rain and hail often precede the tornado.

Another good signal is a low, rumbling sound for the USWS. The USWS lists three types of weather bulletins. The first is a "watch" bulletin, which indicates where and when probabilities

The Consumer Alert

Attorney General

AUSTIN—As part of a national energy conservation effort, Texas utilities and industries have been called upon to shift their primary energy source from the locally abundant petroleum and natural gas to coal. The United States has vast reserves of coal, and Texas is supporting the effort, but unfortunately this has created the situation where electric utility rates have been driven up in our state due to the new dependence on coal to produce electricity. My office believes these rates are too high, and for two reasons: the Interstate Commerce Commission has not excessive rates for the transport of coal, and some states exporting coal to Texas have levied an excessive severance tax on that coal. To fight these artificially high prices, Texas consumers are paying for electricity more than in any other state in the U.S. Congress pursuing the interest of Texas in receiving a fair and realistic price for coal.

For over 60 years, Texas has been the nation's foremost energy producer, contributing twenty-five percent of all energy ever produced in the United States. Concurrently, as a large state having both agricultural and industrial development, Texas has also been at the forefront of energy conservation. The vast agricultural and industrial economy that now exists has been heavily dependent upon the "cheap" and abundant electricity used by its plants. In recent years, Texas utility companies alone will be purchasing almost 24 million tons of coal, which will cost the state $1.5 billion. Texas' own weight in producing

Last Week's News
Best of luck to our Fred students who attended the cheerleading clinic in Warren on Saturday, April 26. They were: Missy Hart, Susie Long, Vance Crawley, Maurie Batt, Betty Baker, Terri Ard, Robert Culp, Connie Eddings, Trina Cravey, Matt Parrish, and Tammy Downey.

Fred Elementary has a special day this week. The Fred Elementary PTC met for their monthly meeting this past Tuesday. Mr. Bruce Taylor, Warren's new head coach, made a special visit to the students. Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Pettit were proud to have as their weekend guests—Mrs. Ann McChesney, Richard Pettit, from Houston.

The ETC sponsors Field Day on May 16. Most all students are already signed up for events of the day. This is a special day the students look forward to all year.

Mr. Larry Gore road jockey, you are glad you don't have Linda Gore's job.

In this day and time of religious services is hard to find. I know we can all agree, it is nice to see Nelda Jenkins' friendly face and waving.

Fred Grocey, never have I been in the store that I haven't been greeted by a smile. If you missed Channel 12 News at 2 p.m. Tuesday night, you missed a treat. Elementary students were all smiles and waving.

Lizzy Grocey, everyone come and bring a basket lunch.

Survivors include two sons: Bailey Crosby of Jasper and R.L. Combs of Colmesnell one sister, Mrs. Mary Crosby of Colmesnell, seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were Delbert Combs, Janis Kirkland, Dan McKee, Frances Johnson and Vernon Bowman.

There will be a gospel singing at Bethel Baptist Church in Warren Saturday night, May 17th, beginning at 7 p.m. There will be special groups and quartets participating.

The public is invited according to Jim Gillett, Chairman.

PARROTS DO TALK... BUT!

SO DOES A RECORD PLAYER

Our Nation faces a serious threat of communism just off our shores. At the same time within our nation, they are seeking to undermine our faith in God. There are many sayings and expressions going around in our country that are communistic inspired.

In order to prevent "parrot-like" sayings, that weaken our nation, attend church regularly, and study God's word so that the truth is more easily recognized.

"Put on the inside armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

Homemade Ice Cream Is Heaven On Earth

Nature's heavenly goodness can make up to a gallon of ice cream in less than an hour. Here are the ingredients and the instructions for making it.

1. Wash the can, dasher and cover in hot soapy water. Then cool.

2. Select your ice cream recipe. Purchase the ingredients, make the mixture and chill the entire unit.

3. Weight and/or measure salt. For freezing one gallon of ice cream, you will use about three to four cups of rock salt (approximately two pounds) and approximately 20 pounds of crushed ice. Four will need less ice and salt if you harden or ripen the ice cream in the refrigerator freezer first.

4. Position the container and dasher in the freezer bucket. Pour the ice cream mixture into the can, filling it no more than 2/3 of the can's capacity. Place cover on can; fit motor of dasher into cover and secure to bucket.

5. For an electric freezer, plug in the motor and allow it to run for one minute. For a hand freezer, turn the dasher to stir the mixture for the same length of time.

6. While the freezer is turning, add ice and salt in layers. Begin with 6 cups of ice (about 2 inches), then evenly distribute about 1/2 cup of salt. Alternate ice and salt until the container is surrounded and almost to the top of the can.

7. Make sure that the hole in the freezer bucket remains unobstructed to allow the brine to drain.

8. When the motor immediately unplugs it (with dry hands), turn dasher, turn dasher, turn dasher. Clear away ice and salt down to about 2 inches below cover. Remove motor or crank. Wipe cover and can free of ice and salt. Carefully remove cover and dasher.

9. RIPENING
1. Push ice cream down from top-side of can, blending the soft and firm portions. Cover the can with foil and replace the cover.

2. Pack the freezer bucket with ice and salt, using a ratio of more salt to ice than what you used for "freezing." Wrap the freezer in a heavy towel or newspaper and place it in a cool area for 2-3 hours. Drain the brine and check the ice and salt frequently. Add more if necessary. Or, harden in the family freezer. Pack ice cream in plastic containers, but be sure to leave room for expansion. Or, leave the ice cream in the can, cover and store in the freezer.

3. Use your imagination. Any type of ice cream flavor is possible. Homemade Country Style Ice Cream is an excellent opportunity for an outdoor party where guests have the chance to create their own old-fashioned desserts by adding sauces, nuts or fresh berries to a creamy vanilla delicacy.

COUNTRY STYLE VANILLA ICE CREAM
Yield: approx. 3 1/2 quarts
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream
1 bowl beat eggs until foamy; Gradually add sugar; beat until thickened. Add milk, cream.

pureed ripe bananas, 2 cups finely chopped black walnuts after ice cream mix is cooled and before chilling. Peanut butter, 1 cup fudge sauce. Omit salt. Add nuts before chilling. After freezing, substitute brown sugar for white. Omit salt.

plastic freezer container, alternating layers of ice cream with cooled fudge sauce; swirl each layer with spatula for marbled effect. Freeze 1 cup chopped salted pecans, 1/4 teaspoon maple flavor. Substitute brown sugar for white. Omit salt.

COOL DELICIOUS --- Homemade ice cream tastes better with fresh cut fruit blended in or used as a topping as shown above.

Energy Savers

By LIZ ARNOLD, County Extension Agent

Energy savers meet the induction range, the "someday" new "cooking" in the kitchen.

Induction (cool heat) countertop ranges are unlike any conventional range - mainly they're highly energy efficient, since they turn the cooking utensil itself into a burner.

Also, they're "wipe-clean" and the surface "doubles" as a cutting board or countertop.

In addition, they feature several safety precautions - they won't let a pot burn if it "boils dry," for example.

Cooking without the usual heating elements, the range induces heat directly into the cookware rather than the usual method of heating up a cooktop and then transferring heat to the cookware.

Specifically here's how it works: an electromagnetic coil beneath a ceramic cooking surface creates a magnetic field.

When iron or steel cookware is placed within the field, it heats up instantly and cooks the food in the cookware.

Because the cookware itself becomes the burner, the only heat created is the heat in the pan, although the pan might reflect a small amount of heat back to the cooktop.

Consequently, the induction unit is extremely energy efficient and the method of cooking is cooler and safer than conventional methods.

Two types are available - a free-standing range with the induction unit built into the cooktop, and a built-in unit. Both are perfect for the kitchen. The built-in unit is the slide-top type, and the free-standing unit has a built-in range so you can see the heat. Both are "high" in energy efficiency.

Horace Raises $180 In Benefit

Lee Charles Horace of Colmesnell raised $180 in the May drive to benefit the Mental Health Association in Tyler County.

The Association organized a "Beltline" march to collect house-to-house donations. As a voluntary organization, the Association receives no government funds. It relies on private donations, such as those collected during the "Beltline" campaign.

Contributions support the educational and social action programs of the Mental Health Association.

"I would personally like to express my appreciation to the chairperson and the people of your community for your part in promoting mental health," said John Stevens, President of the Mental Health Association in Texas.

Remember a few years ago when Texans got fooled by a name and elected the wrong Yarborough?

Well, some people are trying the same trick again in the State Representative's race in District 16.

Only this time the name is not Don Yarborough... it's LARRY BROWDER. Larry and his staff spent a lot of time and effort trying to make people think he was the same Browder who had served as your State Representative. He isn't - but Larry nearly pulled it off on the voters. Fortunately, enough people in District 16 saw through the trick, so now Larry is in a runoff with Ed Norwood.

When you vote on June 7, remember this: Of the men in this race, only Ed Norwood has always told you clearly what he stood for and WHO HE WAS! We will leave it to you to decide why Larry Browder thought his last name was all the voters needed to know about.

On June 7, please vote for the only man in this race who has always been proud of BOTH his names - ED NORWOOD FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

War Pictures

Renews Old Memories

Postmaster Floyd Inman of Warren, Texas, recently received a picture from an old army buddy that was taken in the communication section of the 391st Fighter Squadron in France during World War II.

Inman states that he first met these men in the early days of 1944 when the group was organized in Richmond, Virginia. These people came from all walks of life and from all over the United States.

Floyd said that he volunteered in the Army Air Force after trying to enlist in the Canadian Air Force. He received a nice letter from the Canadian officials stating that since the United States would not sign a release that they were no longer accepting volunteers.

During the latter part of 1943 Floyd volunteered for gunnery school in order to serve as a gunner on one of the bombers. After passing the physical his squadron commander would not sign a release due to the fact that his group had been alerted to go overseas.

Our group landed in Glasgow, Scotland in January 10, 1944. We immediately left by train for southern England. We were there for about five months. During this time we were to find out how it felt to be under enemy attack. The people of London were forced to spend their nights in the subway as a matter of protection.

Our group crossed the English Channel on June 13, 1944 and occupied Air Strip A-1, the first one in France. We were given the P-47 Thunderbolt as a fighter bomber. The 391st Fighter Sqdn. was a part of the 36th Fighter Group of the 9th Air Force.

During the heavy fighting that followed in the early days in Normandy our group received the Presidential Unit Citation for destroying 35 enemy tanks during one mission. Our group provided air support for General Patton in his race across France. I remember one day that General Patton came to our base and expressed his appreciation for the air support.

During the battle of the Bulge on Jan. 1, 1945 our base was attacked by over 50 ME 109s. After 45 minutes of dog battle, 42 of these planes were shot down. Our unit twice cited by the Government and awarded the Belgian Fourragere.

Improve Forests Now Says Specialists

LIVINGSTON - The current economic slump should motivate many forest landowners to undertake forest improvement practices, according to a state forestry specialist.

Landowners who improve their pine-hardwood woodlands will improve the quality of their forest resource and get multiple benefits in the process, said Charles "Doc" Walker, district forester with the Texas Forest Service. "Of all the forest management practices available to landowners, timber stand improvement will produce the greatest financial return per dollar invested."

"In this area timber stand improvement is usually oriented toward improving the growth of pines," he stated. "Pines have greater commercial value than hardwoods, except for occasional stands of high quality hardwoods, or broadleaved trees, found along river bottoms."

Walker indicated that pines released from hardwood and brush competition will grow faster and thus will produce higher value timber crops more quickly.

Forest improvement practices also can produce desirable side benefits, according to the Forest Service spokesman.

"Low quality hardwoods killed during improvement operations can be cut into firewood, for possible sale or sale by the landowner," he said. "Some national forest areas open to public firewood cutting by permit -- are stands in which improvement operations have been conducted."

Other uses of low quality hardwoods listed by Walker include pulpwood, railroad ties and specialty items.

"Deer and other wildlife will benefit from increased browse production in the openings created by improvement operations," Walker added. "Nesting habitats also are created in the openings and in dead trees which are left standing."

"Timberland owners have different objectives," he said, "and forest improvement practices geared toward pine production may not fit into every owner's plans. For the woodland owner who wants to grow trees for profit, however, forest improvement may be very advantageous."

Landowners who want additional information on this and other forestry practices can contact the Texas Forest Service, 501 American Drive, Livingston, Texas 77351. A Service forester will be glad to assist you.

Jasper Rodeo Draws Over 5,000

A sell-out crowd approaching 5,000 fans packed the Jasper Lions Rodeo arena for the final night of the 34th edition of this annual charity event, Saturday, May 10.

Although ticket sales totals are still no final, it appears that a new sales record was set for the 7th year in a row, according to A.B. Chapman, ticket sales chairman for the Jasper Noon Lions Club.

A record 352 professional cowboys and cowgirls turned out for the 1980 Jasper event, including 15 current and former Champions of the World. Winners split over $24,000 in prize money; another Jasper record, making the Lions Rodeo the largest being held in the United States last week. Among those sharing in the prizes were:

(1) Bareback Bronc Riding - Monty Elms, of Salado, Tx, edged out the current No. 1 in this event, Mickey Young, and the reigning World Champ, Bruce Ford, who tied for second.

(2) Saddle Bronc Riding - Bud Pauley, a Montana cowboy, shared first-place money with Clint Johnson, currently ranked No. 2 on the PRCATour.

(3) Barrel Racing - was taken by Cindy Ganatt, from Athens, La., in an event featuring 4 former World Champions.

(4) Steer Wrestling - saw Dave Brock, of Pueblo, Colo., beat out the current World Champ, Stan Williamson, by a mere 3-tenths of a second.

(5) Calf Roping - was an instant replay as 1979 Jasper winner, Roy Cooper, twice Champion of the World and currently ranked No. 2 in 1980 winnings, took the honors with a 10.4 second clocking.

(6) Bull Riding - the premier contest in any rodeo was won by five-time World Champion, Don Gay, out of Mesquite, Tx., who led a field including all the current top 10 PRCAT riders with an 88 point ride.

"All-Around Cowboy" honors went to 9-time National Finals qualifier, Sandy Kirby, who scored in both the Bareback Bronc and Bull Riding events.

Queen of the 1980 Jasper Lions Rodeo is Melissa Boles, daughter of Carolyn and Mike Martindale of Jasper. Melissa has won many other Rodeo Queen crowns and currently attends college in Uvalde, Tx. She will receive in excess of $1,500 in prizes. First and second runners-up were Jana Alexander of Livingston, and Toni Stephenson of Nederland.

In the annual Rodeo parade, held on opening day and drawing crowds estimated at 10,000, category winners announced by Parade Chairman, Gary Gatlin, were:

Civic Float - Jasper Chamber of Commerce.

Commercial Float - Tom's Sales.

Youth-Float - Baptist Children's Day School.

Band - Chester High School (second consecutive year).

Trail Riders - Buna Bridle Club (second consecutive year).

According to Gene Hicks, Rodeo Committee Chairman, "The most important results of this year's Rodeo are that the fans were entertained and their great support will enable us to give more this year in the way of scholarships and assistance to local, state, national and international Lions Club charities. We really appreciate our fans and the support they give to our rodeo."

The 35th edition of the Jasper Lions Rodeo is scheduled for May 6, 7, 8 and 9, 1981.

Pressure Canner Clinic Set

"Before the home canning season gets into full swing, it is a good idea to inspect all canning equipment," explains Liz Arnold, County Extension Agent. "Proper equipment is an absolute necessity."

Pressure canners equipped with a dial gauge should be tested at least once a year. Pressure canners should also be tested for air-tightness. If steam and pressure are escaping, this can lead to food contamination.

DO NOT USE the following canning methods for fruits and vegetables:

- Open kettle
- Oven canning
- Microwave canning

Some acidification methods of low-acid vegetables.

Canning powders, compounds, antibiotics. These methods do not insure complete destruction of spoilage organisms and some additives may not be safe for human consumption.

"We will be having a Pressure Canner Clinic all during May at the County Extension Office. There is no charge for the testing. Our office is located on the first floor of the Courthouse," Liz tells us. If you have questions concerning the testing clinic or any phase of food preservation, call the Extension Office at 283-2482.

Tyler Countians Recieve Almost $200,000 In S S

More than 1,000 surviving widows, widowers, parents and children in Tyler County receive almost $200,000 a month from Social Security.

These payments are made from the part of Social Security that provides for monthly payments to be made to survivors upon the death of a worker who was insured under Social Security. Other parts of the Social Security "package" insured workers have are retirement payments, disability payments, and Medicare.

Those eligible for survivors payments are unmarried children under age 18 (or up to age 22 if full-time students); unmarried children 18 or over who were disabled before age 22 and who continue to be disabled; widow or widower 60 or older; widow, widower or surviving divorced mother if caring for the worker's child under 18 or disabled who is getting survivors payments; widow or widower at age 50 who becomes disabled within seven years of the worker's death; and dependent parents 62 or older. Checks can also go to divorced spouses and grandchildren in certain conditions.

Payment amounts are based on the worker's earnings record, higher payments going to survivors of the worker with the higher record.

Survivor payments are the highest in total amount Social Security pays. A young widow and children can receive payments, with the widow resuming payment at age 60. The family minimum is over $200 a month, ranging up to a maximum of over $900 a month. Payments that will amount to well over $100,000 total to a family are not uncommon.
