Clayton Is DETDA Guest

Austin Fuller, President of the Deep East Texas Development Association, announced recently that the regular monthly meeting of the Association will be in Nacogdoches County and will be held at 10 a.m. on Friday, June 27, 1980 at the Holiday Inn. The Inn is located on Hwy. 59 North.

Fuller said he was pleased to announce that House Speaker Bill Clayton, a Texas political figure for the past two decades and three times Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives would be the principal speaker for this monthly meeting.

Outreach Group Raising Project Plans Fund

Tyler County Minority Outreach has scheduled a fund-raising banquet on July 11 to be held at the Woodville Inn. Those attending this affair will be benefited by lectures by some of East Texas' most distinguished black leaders and will be entertained by several great musical talents.

Tickets are now on sale for this event. The price of the tickets are $10 each.

In a separate project to be carried out by this organization (TCMO), barbecue dinners will be sold at the Blooming Star Masonic Hall and delivered therefrom during the day, July 12. The dinners will sell for $4.50 each.

For further information concerning either of these projects, please call these numbers: 283-2036 in Woodville and 837-5116 in Colmesneil.

These efforts are being made by TCMO for the purpose of bringing to Tyler County an establishment that will add much to its growth and progress. Therefore, the support of all Tyler Countians is urgently requested.

Clayton is one of those elected officials most responsible for guiding the future of Texas. Since he was first elected Speaker in 1975, Clayton has been the leading voice for trimming

MISS TEXAS OR ELSE!

Couquettish, two-year-old Bethwyn Bingham of Chattanooga, Tennessee, has grown up to be 21-year-old Bethwyn Bingham of Woodville and now holds the title of "Miss Tyler County."

size of government while insisting on efficiency in its programs and services. His hand has guided tax reform legislation, the sunset process, educational upgrading and funding of schools and human service programs. He has advocated that taxpayers get full value for each dollar spent.

He was elected Speaker by the House membership in 1975, 1977 and 1979. In addition to many innovative processes, he has brought to the Legislature. Clayton is recognized as a water and conservation expert and a leader in national legislative groups, having served as chairman of several regional and national organizations of the states.

He was born in Olney, Texas, 51 years ago and grew up on the family farm at Springlake on the High Plains. He graduated with a bachelor of science in agricultural economics from Texas A&M in 1950 and in 1979 was named a distinguished alumni. He also received an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Texas Wesleyan University in 1979.

DETDA members and guests will hear reports from the Committee Chairman and from the State and Federal Agencies from the multi county area and from those involved in Deep East Texas activities.

Appreciation is expressed to the members of the Association from Nacogdoches County who have made arrangements for this meeting.

Weather Cripples County

High winds, heavy rains and "twister-type" weather hit Woodville hard Friday about 2 p.m. causing extensive damage to some 2,000 Gulf States Utilities customers and creating electrical outages throughout Tyler County.

According to Wyatt Bell, manager of the Tyler County system, Spurger, Hillister, Fred and Warren were hit hardest when about nine major trees downed main feeder lines which come up from Beaumont along the highway to service the Tyler County area.

According to Bell, "We sure do want to thank all the fine customers of Gulf States Utilities who were patient with us while we worked out the problem. We realize it was a long outage, but we fought it round the clock and we appreciate the patience and understanding that our customers gave us. We put the best service forward that we had."

Bell said the local electric station utilized some 25 men and about a dozen vehicles to take care of the situation which he termed "a severe storm."

Bell said the customers who were still without service numbered about only 25 or 30 as of noon the following day.

The local GSU manager also said the storm was so widespread that it was experienced by the system "from Beaumont to Lake Charles. We had to call in one emergency crew from Beaumont and we were lucky to get them. We had 'boo-boo' trees down in this one."

LIONS RODEO QUEEN -- Michelle Richie, 17, daughter of Mrs. Taylor Richie of Woodville was selected as the 1980 Tyler County Lions Rodeo Queen sponsored by the Dam-B Lions Club. Michelle holds numerous riding titles and has collected over 500 trophies and belt buckles. She is a member of the national Honor Society and the National Spanish Society. Her horse's name is "Our Wonder Bars." Presenting her the roses is last year's queen, Toni Stephenson of Nederland.

Fairway Opening This Thursday

Stanley J. Williams Investments would like to congratulate Fairway Foods on their grand opening in the Woodville Center.

Woodville Center is being developed by the Houston-based investment building firm of Stanley J. Williams, Williams Builders of Texas, Inc. have constructed the Fairway Foods Supermarket and will complete the rest of the Woodville Center. Houston architect Charles Thompson designed the center, and when the center is completed, Stanley J. Williams will continue to manage the development.

Woodville Center is the first retail complex of its kind to serve this part of Tyler County, says Mr. Stanley J. Williams. "We think our location is a strategic one which will serve a wide area off Highway 69 and Highway 190. The potential for retail growth here is unlimited."

Woodville Center is one of several centers Stanley J. Williams has brought to smaller communities. The company has gained recognition as a developer of quality neighborhood shopping centers throughout the Southwest, and in other parts of the country. Stanley J. Williams builds approximately 800,000 square feet of lease space in an average year.

AAUW Group Meets

Members of the Tyler County Branch of the American Association of University Women enjoyed a social luncheon Friday, June 20, at the Allan Shivers Library. The purpose of this meeting was to give current and prospective members a chance to meet their dues for the 1980-81 year. After the lunch and an "informal business" meeting, a drawing was held to see who would get their dues paid by the branch for the next year, and Mrs. Leigh Kent was the winner. Others present paid dues of $19.75 and received membership cards. Persons interested in joining the Tyler County Branch of AAUW may pay dues at the library and they will be mailed their membership cards. In order to receive AAUW mailings from the national office, everyone should try to pay their dues so that they can be sent in by July 1. The branch meetings for the 1980-81 year will be held the third Monday night of the month and meetings will be in the members' homes. Leah Kent will be hostess for the September 15 meeting.

Hushpuppy Olympics Draws 4,000

LUFKIN Nearly 4,000 East Texas residents gathered in the piney woods of Lufkin recently to celebrate the Ninth Annual Southern Hushpuppy Olympics. At stake was $1,000 grand prize and the distinction of being crowned "The South's Greatest Hushpuppy Cook."

Competition in the 1980 Olympics was fierce with 20 Texas cooks, including four past champions, competing for the crown. This year's Olympics was won by Dallas architect and gourmet cook Parker Folse, who received his fourth gold medal since the competition began in 1972.

Folse, who also won first place in 1975, 1976 and 1979, outscored his challengers, including second place winner Bill Lawhorn of Dallas and two-time winner

Cecil Davis of Wichita Falls, who came in third. Folse, whose recipe includes shrimp, crab meat and crayfish, admitted after the judging that he didn't change the recipe that won him the 1979 championship. But he did disclose the secret ingredient that helped him win in 1979 and 1980: he just didn't tell anyone about it. "I used a heaping teaspoon of Imperial Sugar. The sugar makes the hushpuppies take on a golden color. I've used Imperial Sugar in my hushpuppy recipe for nine years, the four-time Grand Champion said softly, "but I've never revealed it. I guess it's time I did." And in doing so, Folse revealed his entire 1980 prize-winning hushpuppy recipe:

Parker Folse's Olympic Hushpuppies
 1/4 cup flour
 1/2 cup corn meal
 1 heaping teaspoon Imperial Sugar
 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
 1/2 teaspoon ground coriander
 1/2 teaspoon creole seasoning or chili powder
 1 heaping tablespoon chopped parsley
 1 heaping tablespoon chopped green onion
 1 heaping tablespoon chopped pimento
 1 heaping tablespoon chopped boiled shrimp
 1 heaping tablespoon chopped lump crabmeat
 1 heaping tablespoon chopped, fresh cooked crayfish tails
 1 egg
 1/2 cup milk

Stir all ingredients together in a bowl adding enough milk to moisten batter. Place in pastry bag fitted with a large star-shaped tip and then swirl batter onto 365 degree cooking oil. Turn hushpuppies once and cook until golden color. Remove, drain and salt to taste. The recipe, which can be doubled, make 12 large hushpuppies.

Parker Folse's recipe has come a long way since this traditional culinary art became part of the culture and heritage of the Southern United States. Hushpuppy cooking is colorful and falls in the same class as chili-making. There is a breed of people, most of whom reside in areas around Southern lakes, who practice hushpuppy cooking with the same devotion that a West Texan cooks chili or a Mexican-American cooks tamales.

Some cooks, particularly those who specialize in fish, take great pride in their ability to make a tasty hushpuppy. Many, including Parker Folse, have their own special recipe and secret ingredient and talk enthusiastically of the qualities of their prize hushpuppies.

The word hushpuppy itself is colorful. It conjures nostalgic visions of a Southern meal, a hunter's cook-out, and the aroma of frying catfish over a lakeside fire. According to legend, and there seems to be more than just a few versions of the legend, the hushpuppy got its name in the early 1800's when Southern hunters huddled around camp fires tossed leftover corn patties to their hungry, howling, restless dogs, saying, "Hush, puppy!"

Quick Breads Delicious

By LIZ ARNOLD
 County Extension Agent

Try quick breads. There's no kneading, no waiting and very little clean-up and preparation time involved.

In addition, the variety of refrigerated, frozen and packaged quick breads on the market makes serving quick breads even quicker.

For busy households, these convenient products may prove very economical.

Compare the cost of ingredients for a favorite recipe with the price of equal amounts of similar convenience bakery products.

If time is more important than money, the added cost of convenience products may not amount to much.

Also, all convenience quick breads are not more expensive than the homemade variety.

Generally, products to which the consumer adds milk or eggs are less expensive than heat-and-serve or frozen products.

Prices and quality do vary, so check prices of various brands and select ones the family won't let leftover quick breads go to waste. They reheat well in the conventional or microwave oven.

Reheat in foil in the conventional oven or toaster oven at about 350 degrees F. until hot, about 10-15 minutes.

For best results, sprinkle lightly with water before wrapping in foil.

Check oven instructions when reheating in the microwave and follow exactly.

In addition, leftover quick breads are a great base for creamed meat dishes. Simply toast split muffins and biscuits or waffles and top with meat sauce.

Serve the following "Quick Cheese Bread":

2 packages Biscuit Mix
 3/4 cup water
 2 eggs, beaten
 2 teaspoons dry mustard
 1 1/2 cups grated sharp cheese
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease loaf pan. Empty mix into large bowl. Stir in water and beat with wooden spoon until smooth. Add remaining ingredients except 1/2 cup of cheese and the butter. Mix thoroughly and pour into pan. Sprinkle with remaining cheese and dot with butter. Bake 40-45 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove and cool on rack before serving.

This competition is held every two years for 7th and 8th grade bands, regardless of school enrollment. Thus, the local band competes with much larger schools from the "Golden Triangle" area.

Winning the title this year extends Woodville's domination of this event to six consecutive years.

Director, Russell Cronin, says, "I am pleased with the group's achievements and I urge next year's members to practice diligently and be prepared to uphold the standards set by Woodville bands."
