Horatio B. Hacket Throws Ice Water At Rockland Dam

Sept. 3, 1936

Washington, Aug. 29—Horatio B. Hackett, assistant public works administrator, said today (according to an AP dispatch), he would not be inclined to approve a $5,000,000 grant for a $12,000,000 irrigation and flood control program on the lower Neches river in south east Texas.

He said he doubted the advisability of a gift of that size "even if we had that much money for any one part of Texas."

Six Poisoned Sunday At Chester

May 28, 1937

Six residents of Peachtree were poisoned accidentally Sunday at noon, when they ate cornbread which was made from meal containing arsenic. The family of E.P. Brooks were entertaining a large number of friends at dinner, and all those who partook of the cornbread were affected immediately.

Those affected were Mrs. and Mrs. E.P. Brooks, two daughters, Misses Gertrude and Odessa, and Miss Mattie Lanier, and Joe Hancock.

Immediate medical aid was summoned, and yesterday morning all were completely recovered sufficiently to be able to sit up through most of the day.

According to Mrs. Brooks, the arsenic which was the cause of the poisoning had been purchased for the purpose of treating trees, and in some unexplained manner, a part of it fell into the meal barrel.

Collier Heads Drive

March 21, 1968

Malcolm Collier, assistant vice president of Citizens State Bank, has been selected chairman for Tyler County in the American Cancer Society's 1968 educational and fund raising crusade.

Mr. Collier announced that he had named Mrs. George Reynolds and Mrs. J.D. Irvin as co-chairmen for the residential drive.

Collier and his wife, Caroline, have two daughters. He is a native of Tyler County and was educated in the Woodville schools. He is a member of the First Baptist Church, where he is superintendent of Junior Sunday School.

He is a member and director of the Woodville Lions Club. He worked in the cancer crusade last year, assisted with the Boy Scout fund drive and the Salvation Army campaign.

Mr. Collier said that workers will be needed in the cancer crusade and that he will ask many Tyler Countians to assist. Anyone wishing to volunteer may call him at BU3-2561.

Sheriff After Bootleggers

May 30, 1935

Sheriff Nicholson reports to The Booster that in a series of recent raids he has captured three white men, one white woman and two nigger men.

On June 17th he came into possession of a still, one of the most modern and complete stills ever taken in a Tyler county raid, when 18 gallons of whiskey, 450 gallons of mash, other paraphernalia, This still was electrically equipped, gas burners, copper coils and boiler, fans and everything else used in the manufacture of booze.

Airport Site Is Secured

August 6, 1959

A site of land located about two miles out on the Livingston highway has been secured by the Tyler County Commissioners Court for proposed Tyler County Airport, according to E.D. Walker, county judge.

Total amount of land involved is in excess of 150 acres and is being secured from International Paper Co. The air strip will run in a northwest, southeast direction and the paved strip will exceed three thousand feet, according to present plans. Appropriation from the Federal Government to match local funds in the building of the airport, is still pending, according to Judge Walker. A bill for this purpose has been passed, but it may be some months before the money is actually allocated. Surveying of this site and clearing of the timber on the land is now underway.

Woodville Hit By Electric Windstorm

July 15, 1943

Woodville suffered a severe electrical storm and down pour of rain Thursday and we heard a minister say Sunday that he understood that some folks were frightened and others plain scared. Large branches were blown from trees over town, shingles lifted and roof leaked on many houses, and the Booster family for the third time in five years had a unit burn out in the hot water heater. It was thought that the house was on fire, as smoke poured out from the closet where heater is installed. Two switches were destroyed, no light in closet or on the porch. The electrician found a wire in the attic burned in two, as clean as a white could cut it, he said. It was something new to him to have that happen.

Progress Destroys Another Landmark

Dec. 17, 1931

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock a giant Magnolia fell martyr to progress, as highway 106 is clearing right of way through Woodville.

This tree, more than a hundred years old stood at the north end of Pavillion street which runs just east of the J.F. Barclay store. One wonders how many generations of little folks played under its spreading branches, for while the present generation knows that this great tree is over a hundred years old, they do not know but that it is much more, and over town people watched for 2 o'clock and a pang of regret was felt as this beautiful old tree fell, even though the highway is indeed growing through the town and city.

High School, Now Occupied

March 25, 1968

Teachers of the high school and the several parents who were present Monday when the addition to Kirby high were occupied for the first time, are looking good and are looking forward to the coming fall school activities which will be held in the new building.

Those most concerned will find a routine of work accomplished that was practically impossible under the old crowded make-shift conditions.

The first room visited was the science and laboratory room in which Miss Sanders predominates. The size of the room, 23x26, has not all the equipment in place, but work will progress rapidly from now on. Even under present conditions the educational work will be carried on far more successfully and satisfactorily.

The Study Hall and Laboratory is also not fully equipped, but again, so far ahead of old conditions, this room will add much to class work.

R.A. Shaw and his aggy boys have a well equipped room, 23x26 feet, and the shop equipment is coming in daily and being rapidly installed.

Webb Miller in business administration has two rooms at his disposal. Bookkeeping, law courses and references exclusively in one room; Stenography and typing classes occupy a room also, with a partition between with large glass doors. There is to be instant improvement when Prof. Miller and his classes get thoroughly settled in these new departmental rooms.

In the balcony of the gymnasium, 550 spectators can be seated. The room is 50x78 feet, with 20-foot ceilings. Lockers and showers have been provided in separate rooms. This gym is undoubtedly the finest in any country school in east Texas.

Monroe Tolar's room, 23x26, is known as the emporium of mathematics. Tolar is the only man from the building transferred to one of the new rooms.

Miss Lola Drew has the fine cooking equipment and the best rooms for her Home Economic work. Truly it can be said this is one of the most important departments of educational work for girls. The sewing, rapidly made up, is thoroughly equipped and has three oil burning ranges, and two electric ranges are on the way. Dishes are kept in built-in cabinets and along the walls are six sewing machines.

The living room, 23x23, is splendidly furnished with divans, chairs, a center and dining table combined. A 12x12 Wilton rug spread before the fireplace creates a home atmosphere of refinement. The rooms are electrically lighted.

Graduates from the old Kirby-Hill, coming back to visit their Alma Mater, will hardly know the old building now that the new additions are completed.

There is still a lot of work to be done in the building. The grounds need a lot of work in the way of draining and terracing, but this is going on daily. The turnaround at the north east corner has not yet been completed. In the center of the building now that the new additions are completed, the grading is going on, the new football field, iron, and when completed will be one of the finest and most complete in this part of the state.

The Woodville school is looking up and Supl. C. W. Williams says the work has only just begun.

Tyler County Patriotic Rally To Be Held

March 25, 1968

Honorable Beeman Strong, prominent East Texas attorney and gifted orator of Beaumont will deliver the principal address at the patriotic rally to be held in Woodville, near Saturday afternoon. The rally is being sponsored by the Tyler County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce. Both of these organizations are county-wide and they are expecting thousands to attend the meeting from all parts of the county. The committee in charge of the rally has been requested to present and participate in the program. Captain James E. Wheat of the Defense Guard and Sheriff Harvey Phillips of the Tyler County Sheriff's Office will be in charge of the rally. The Tyler County Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of the rally.

The ladies of the Red Cross plan to cease their usual work and devote their time to making surgical dressings in time for the program. They have just completed 5,000 surgical dressings and are ready for another 50,000. The Red Cross is not only our soldiers are located in a great humanitarian body, it goes in to all the world where cut the soldiers are located, rendering first aid to the sick, wounded, and dying. It is through the Red Cross that thousands of our boys have been saved. They are depending upon the citizens of Tyler County to aid them in saving many more.

During the program, another phase of the Tyler County Booster is an entertaining and economical sort of a newspaper man.

Editor Willard has introduced an innovation in newspaper printing by abbreviating the conventional "Mr. and Mrs. O. R. S. Mrs. for the more simple" Mr. and Mrs. O. R. S. The editor has explained his action by saying that the "Mrs." is a needless repetition of the name of the wife. He has introduced a new "Mrs." for the more simple "Mrs." for the more simple.

The Chamber of Commerce will also present awards to members of the fire department who are rendering a noble service without charge.

Clyde E. Smith, Chairman of the Tyler County Junior Chamber of Commerce and President of the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce will open the meeting. Judge J.E. Wheat will introduce Mr. Strong.

Mrs. R.B. Alexander and Mrs. C.C. Beck will be in charge of the music and songs.

Woodville And Booster Receiving Press Eye For Use Of 'Mrms.'

Sept. 17, 1936

The use of Mrms for Mr. and Mrs. in this paper is being commented on in many distant states. Up to the time this paper began using Mrms we had never seen a newspaper using this short for Mrs. in any position.

However, the Express, published in Little Rock, Arkansas, has published the following in this, however, the Booster editor reads the Publisher's Auxiliary as a "diver to civer, but failed to find that paper divulged this short-cut. The Editor, however, is a different set of letters in a different manner. I.e., "Mrs. The following is the Express writer:

"Texas Editor Invents Handy Abbreviation

Believe It Or Not. Shutdown Of Long-Bell Lumber Mill

June 4, 1968

Last Saturday night was the official end of another noted sawmill of East Texas, when the Long-Bell Lumber Co. closed down at Doucette. This is one of the former large East Texas mills, with a large personnel of just a few years ago.

McCreedy, coming here from Canada, located there and owned the mill. Later Mrs. McCreedy relatives followed them and have helped make Woodville what it is in the person of Mrs. G.C. Shivers, Martin Nellius, R.E. Pennington and others. This location was covered with virgin timber in those days and was a wonderful and beautiful place. The Carter Co. purchased the mill and held it a short time and in 1906 the Thompsons purchased it and the hey-day of popularity of the Joe Richards, Dick Sparger and other well known names to lumber mills, for their help has gradually left for government jobs, which meant higher pay. No help could be procured for having lost, cutting timber, and if a piece of machinery was needed, with priorities.

and the slowness of getting parts replaced, trucks wearing, the stores could not be replaced, many mills in East Texas have been forced to close. These statements are made, not by Doucette personnel, but by this reporter who happens to read many newspapers and also owns a radio, so has some knowledge of the "why" and "wherefore" of a great deal of the world's happenings. The planer will continue and the store stay open until some time later. To say that the Booster is sorry to see the mill close is putting it mildly for the Willards have made many friends there, and feeling that the community has had a big part in building up this section, we do not like to lose more of the pioneer families from this county.

Woodville Caught By The Tail

Sept. 12, 1935

Alas! if a grand and glorious feeling, when the realization penetrates that Woodville is surrounded by an electric company that can afford, or in other words, in making enough profit at a reasonable price on juice to return to their users the meter deposits and the accumulated interest.

"Add on top of that charging such a price for electricity, which is not used all the time, and Woodville elite loved to go there. The large hotel post office depot, where young as well as older folks congregated to watch the train come in, three of the largest mercantile businesses of the county and Doucette was some town.

For some time Doucette had a bank owned by L.M. Feagin, started on his career as a so-called banker. Leaving the matter pending he needed more knowledge of the law, paying prices all out of line, out of reason and as near bankruptcy as we would like to see. All we actually need, because of high prices, and this same company buying the juice from the Gulf Utilities and peddling it out to Woodville, and there is a raft of people here who claim the price is still hiking, but, gosh, what can we do?"

The Gulf Utilities have already returned the meter deposits to their patrons with the interest.

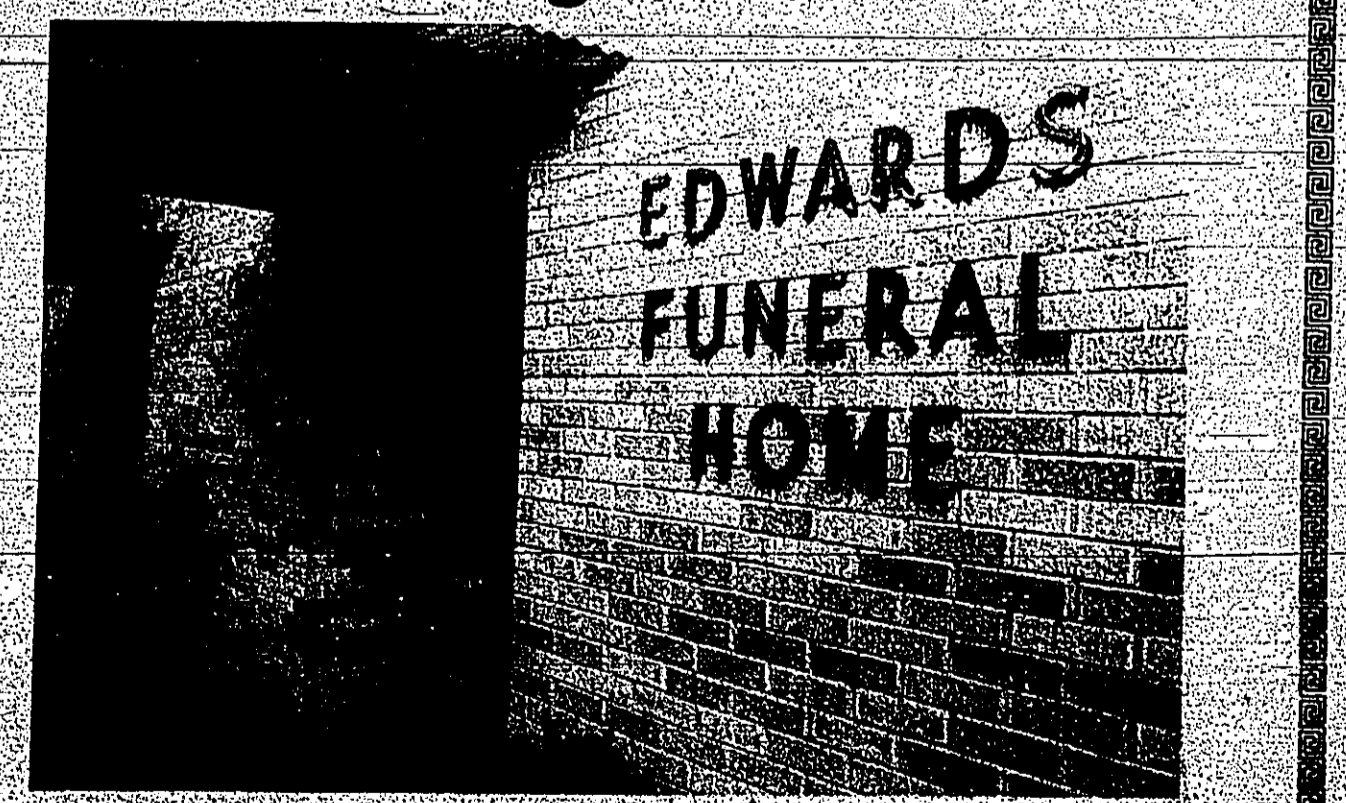

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed two business houses in Chester Saturday night. One building owned by J.R. Goolbsie, was occupied by his drug store and the radio store of Vincent Goolbsie. Part of the stock from the building was removed.

Tools and equipment of the garage operated by J.E. Ashworth and a barber shop operated by M.S. Ward were the total loss. When a building owned by H.W. Lewis burned.

The Livingston fire truck was called and arrived at the scene when they arrived there was not enough water to have done much good. The fire was changed by course. The very fact that the wind was not blowing from the opposite direction is the only thing that saved the balance of the business district.

Opening A Great Success

Nov. 23, 1939

The opening of the new theatre Thursday night was a most enjoyable occasion, and in fact, it appeared as if the theatre was a wedding or something of flowers offered during the day, both from home folks and from business houses of the great cities, and they completely filled the lobby.

The great cities and their liveried ushers, etc., had nothing on the day, and everyone enjoyed the evening. With new and up-to-date projecting machines, and good light and sound apparatus, Woodvillians will be able to enjoy a most good program, for a cheap price. The picture would be of place in Woodville in the fair theatre.

And the Booster joins again with all of the Fair friends in extending congratulations.

Birdwell's To Open New Store In Center

Nov. 23, 1951

Birdwell department stores will open a store in Center around the middle of February. Boyce Birdwell, owner, said this week.

"The heart has been signed on a location in the center of the Woodville district," Birdwell said.

This will be the Birdwell department store, sixth outlet. It will be located on Kountze, Silsbee, Liberty and Carthage in addition to the Woodville store.

Home office of the firm is in Woodville. The local store was the first one established.

Graduate From County

Aug. 6, 1936

Joe Wesley Dickerson of Coltrane, George W. Barclay and David H. Watts of Chester will receive degrees from Woodville, Tyler County, Texas. He cautioned members against under-taking too many projects, but at the same time urged that they work out a constructive program and keep it alive.

Mayor Dr. Watt Barclay also spoke briefly and expressed his desire to become an associate member, and pledged that the city administration would cooperate with the Junior C. of C. in any worthwhile project it undertook.

A committee was appointed to contact potential members in Chester, Coltrane, Warren, Spurger, in every town in the county. As was pointed out by Dickerson, the Junior C. of C. is not an exclusive organization of Woodville, but of the entire county.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday night, Sept. 10th in the District court room.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Slated To Go Places

Sept. 5, 1940

The Woodville Tyler County Junior Chamber of Commerce held its first regular meeting on Wednesday night of last week, with the assistance of the Tyler County Auxiliary, which advised it.

J.G. Haralson, Pres.; Marshall Ogden, Sec.; Robert Watts, Treas.; Carey Cruise, Sec.; Jack Lindsey was elected chairman of the board of directors with M.D. Murphy, Vernon Mills, Jeff Mooney and Mr. Bartlett comprising the other members.

The regular meeting night will be every other Tuesday. All officers took office immediately at their election.

Clyde E. Smith advised the group after all business had been transacted and pledged his cooperation and best efforts in behalf of the organization. Mr. Smith said he was gratified to see the young business men of Woodville, and Tyler County assume their rightful responsibility. The of

Fire Of Undiscovered Origin Completely Destroys Woodville High

Approx. 1934. Fire of undiscovered origin destroyed the Woodville High School building in its early hours of Wednesday morning. The fire was discovered between 2 and 3 o'clock and the fire department was immediately summoned. However, the fire plug to the school building was on the corner of the city lot near the water tower, some three blocks from the building. By the time the water was turned on, the fire had gained control and with the limited amount of hose available it was possible to save a small portion of the south wing of the building including the Home Economics department. Most of the contents of the building were likewise destroyed including the library, laboratory, typewriters, furniture and fixtures. The tools and equipment belonging to the Vocational Agricultural and Home Economics departments were saved. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Court Met Monday: J.E. Sturrock To Aid J.E. Wheat In Glover Trial

April 7, 1932
District Court met Monday ready to take up the Willford trial. Judge J. L. Many of Polk County, defending attorney proved to the court that his witness had not appeared and the case was advanced to Thursday of next week.

The attention of the court at this time was called to the fact that Wheat and Sandlin had withdrawn from the defense in the Glover murder trial. Judge Coe immediately decided Major J.E. Wheat was still Glover's attorney. Just what actuated his decision in releasing or accepting Sandlin's withdrawal, no one knows, but the Judge appointed Judge J.E. Sturrock to aid and defend Wheat in this trial. Judge Sturrock is well-made-one of his greatest speeches of appeal from the Judge's decision in attempting to be released from this case, but all to no avail. As the matter now stands it will be Wheat and Sturrock vs. Clyde Smith, prosecuting attorney in the case of the State of Texas vs. former Deputy Glover, who is charged with killing George Gibbs in August, 1931.

Will Clyde Smith File In Martin Dies Place?

Jan. 9, 1936
As the political stormy season approaches there comes a rather distinct rumbling from the second congressional district of Texas, which combined with faint sounds from the Department of State section, indicate that Clyde E. Smith, assistant secretary of State, will throw his hat into the congressional race down along the banks of the Neches.

popular political figures to emerge from some east Texas in many years. Smith is winning the second district congressional race, whether Martin Dies incumbents decides to run for the senate as he has indicated, or for reelection as the political wisacre predicts. "Secretary of State," an excellent title, has been some talk of Senator John Redditt of Lufkin entering the congressional race in this district.

going through the mind of Clyde Smith for weeks, or even months, and he is said to be on the verge of an announcement. Smith would offer any candidate still opposition on a congressional race. His vote in the attorney general's race of last election when he polled more votes than McCraw and Woodward combined in the first primary in that section, speaks for his popularity in the State West Austin.

Sullivan's Leaving Serious School Jolt

Feb. 4, 1943
People at Woodville and the community were shocked and disturbed Sunday to learn that F. P. (Sam) Sullivan had left Woodville and was to begin his work as F. P. A. representative in Newton on Monday.

Boys has been outstanding, and he has always been a friend in need to the farmers of the county. Sec. Treas. of the Tyler County C. of C. also the Red Cross has been a real support for the leaders of these two organizations. A faithful member of the Methodist church and Rotarian he will indeed be missed.

Rev. I.W. Fulham of Warren was in Woodville Monday.

Mrs. J.C. Miller and the babies returned to Newton with Mr. Sullivan some ten days ago.

J.W. Durham, R.M. (Wimpsey) Durham and Miss Rosalee Clemons of Houston were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Carrie Durham Monday.

A number of our boys had too much springtime Saturday. Bobbie Howard and others went to Lake Telus for a swim and it was so much fun they were glad that winter was over, they stayed in most of the day. Bobbie has really suffered from that celebration. Most likely the others, too, for he is badly burned early this week.

St. Louis, "I'll call you back," said Red Cross regional director here, when phoned by Texas Potter, field representative from the scene of a Texas tornado. "No, here, you won't," she replied.

Lineman plugged in a phone for me and I'm making this call from the top of a telephone pole.

Cyclone Wrecks J.P. Mann Store

May 30, 1935. About 2 p.m. Saturday, during a heavy rain-fall, a tornado dipped down into Colmesneil and lifted the roof off the J.P. Mann store, literally pushing in the south side of the huge building.

Mrs. Mann was just leaving her north door at the house to go to the store when, before her astonished eyes, the building crumpled.

The freak wind tore off a portion of the bank roof, broke out windows of the Collier barber shop, the Taylor Cafe, was set off its foundation and windows broken. Several windows were broken in the Commercial hotel and the chimney destroyed.

The roof of the J.M. Milner home was mowed up, trees ruined and the front porch wrecked.

One side of the Feagin lumber shed was torn out, the roof of the grade school torn off and the old Masonic Lodge hall is off its foundation and crazily leaning hard to the north.

Toy Tatum lost the roof off his garage and trees at the Mary home were ruined. After this the twister seemingly tired of its fun went back to the higher regions until another cyclone might strike it to gambol about the earth again.

A small piece of roofing and one small window was blown off and out at the Meadow store, also, the large tree at the northwest corner of the store was pretty well destroyed and it will be some time before the shade of it can be used by the towns to settle matters of local importance.

A number of people were in the Mann store when the blow struck, and all threw themselves on the floor near the meat counter, and the huge Kelsenator held the stumbers off them. All grant, it was a miracle that no one was injured.

The rain, damaged the contents of the store, but all hands turned in to help and everything was moved into the old store building in the north, where business was continued Tuesday.

Sincere sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Mann who were nearly prostrated over the affair, but both now insist they are happy that it was no worse and glad that no one was hurt or killed.

The loss has been variously estimated at from $7,000 to $14,000 and it is reported there was no cyclone insurance on either the building or the contents of the store.

Rockland Bridge Contract Let At $34,000 Less Than Estimate

March 5, 1931. Saturday night Judge J.E. Sturrock and Commissioners E.W. Phillips and W.A. Conner returned from Austin where the Texas State Highway Commission was in session, letting some $8,000,000 worth of contracts out over the state, which included nearly all kinds of road work, grading, black-topping, maintenance work and bridge building contracts.

The engineer's estimate on the so-called Rockland bridge was $158,549.71, and the firm of Thomas & Ratchiff of Rogers, Texas, placed the lowest bid among others, who were attending the conference attempting to land state contracts. Thomas & Ratchiff's bid in round numbers was $34,000, lower than any other bid and this is considered quite a drop from the engineer's estimate. Folks say wondering how "come it is so." But the fact remains the contractor's bid is the one to go for. The possible event the firm goes "hay wire" the bondmen will be obliged to step in and complete any unfinished work.

However, the firm has an available reputation for this class of work and they have several contracts in different places and things seem to be going along in good shape everywhere. It is not stated how soon the contractors will commence work on the job, but there is a clause that calls for completion of the work in 140 working days. Any Tyler County is going to get this new bridge and that is what most interests the traveling public.

Milk Price Named For Tyler County

Jan. 21, 1943. Effective January 18, a revision in the selling price of Fluid-Sweet Milk for Tyler County has been ordered in a new regulation issued by the Southwest Regional OPA office, J.H. Elin, chairman of the Tyler County Rationing board announces. The "ceiling" price revision in Tyler county is a part of a regional wide program designed to restore balance in the supply of milk to different communities and for different use. The order takes the price in the marketing of the areas, but maintains present levels in some, while reducing prices in a few areas. Ceiling prices established by the regulations for Tyler county are as follows:

As The Fats And Leans In Baseball, Indeed T'was A Picture

May 14, 1931.

Last Friday the strong right hand of P. H. Powell carried the Fats to a triumph by score of 19 to 6. The score makes it look on paper as though it was merely a procession of hits and runs, far too one sided to even be interesting. "Tain't so."

There was a plenty doing all the time and those on the side lines were as busy and working as hard as those in the game.

Pitcher Powell went the whole route for the Fats and not only did he have the Leans whiffing the breezes, but he had 'em flailing, hitting into double and triple plays, and reaching for 'em where there wasn't a sign of a floating sphere. We say floating advisedly because the regulation base ball was not used, but rather the indoor baseball, which floats up to the plate as big as a butterfly or a balloon and runs far too plainly discernable. One strange thing about these indoor baseballs is the fact they actually diminish in size as they cross the plate.

Of course, a ball game without personal enmity out here in the sticks, wouldn't be worth while, viewing from any old standpoint. This personal enmity stuff was exemplified in the dust between Powell and Jay Kelley. However, they may get along on other days, in a baseball game they are each others' dearest enemies. Here is how it was shown up in the game assisted by the Booster man, Kelly Walker, first throw ball, one, low inside; strike one, grooved the pan; ball two, wide out; strike one, called; strike two, swung at it, after the catcher had the ball; popped up and Powell knocked it down; Manan covered and made the putout unassisted; run; Williams coming down; Kelly and putting the ball on him.

How these two fellows love each other! Play by play would take up too much space.

Judge Starrock set to catch, a fly ball, and one out; a fly ball, but Dittie Grove, Eaves, had a couple of fly balls, apparently were ticked for three base awats.

The game was replete with brilliant plays, good base running, and some clean fielding. Dave Mann hit a couple of good ones, but one of them fell in a well. Powell accumulated four hits, Joe Shillings, ditto.

Several of the Fats registered a couple each, and the pinch hitters usually delivered plenty or distress to the Leans. Four of the Leans delivered two hits each. Nellius, Baker, Ferguson, and double B Martin, as the box score sheet showed. Only a 10 cent admission was charged to the fair ground ball diamond, and twice that amount would have been a bargain attraction.

At 4:00 p.m. Oct. 29, on the Woodville high school field the Eagles will meet a very strong Chester eleven, which has a very good record. Monday, Oct. 31, the Woodville fans are expecting the hardest fight of the season in view of the fact that both teams are in excellent shape.

He was hurried to a physician and now seems none the wiser for the experience.

Nine Men Hurt In Bridge Collapse

Nov. 24, 1932
There was considerable excitement in town Tuesday when word was received that the big truck operated by the Geophysical Research Corporation had broken through a bridge near Colmesneil.

CCC Boys On Rescue Mission

Oct. 8, 1936
Sunday night the CCC Camp was alarmed by both fire bells ringing. The boys were running to their respective stations and asking where the fire was. They were informed that an old man was lost in the woods and that his relatives had requested the aid of the CCC boys in hunting. Lt. Lively called for volunteers to aid in the search. Every boy stepped out and it was necessary to keep some of the boys to look after camp duties. A searching party was organized and placed in command of Lt. Earl L. Lively signed receipts for the trucks while the boys were getting lanterns and flash lights ready for the search. Three trucks were loaded and the boys were on the way. Arriving at the home of Mr. Waldrep they searched through the timber and creek bottoms until after 1 a.m. Failing to find him they returned to camp to catch a few hours sleep before returning to the scene early Monday morning. The boys were up at their usual time Monday and as soon as breakfast was over started to renew the search. They returned to camp tired and reported they could not find any trace of Mr. Waldrep. Soon after a phone message came stating that Mr. Waldrep had been found wandering along a forest road built by the CCC boys.

some 20 feet to the bottom of a small ravine. On the truck also was dynamite and a case of dynamite caps and the wonder of it all was the disaster was not accompanied by an explosion.

Everyone riding on the truck was injured save the driver who appeared slightly shocked but practically unharmed and he says the cab was all that protected him. Most seriously hurt were Halcomb Moffett, 23, and J.C. Peebles, 22, both of Livingston. They were sent to a hospital at Beaumont, suffering from severe lacerations and bruises and possible internal injuries. The others injured included Woodrow Southernland, Athens; Preston Wagner, Rusk; Mack McClain, Livingston; Joe Cornell, Gilmer; Grady Higden and Billy Higden, both of Pearsall; and Cornell Schudt, Beaumont. None of these men were seriously hurt.

Escaping injury were the driver, Everett

Lawrence of Gilmer; Hollis Higden of Pearsall; Jack Quinn, Gilmer; and Otis Donaho of Madisonville.

Halcomb Moffett was brought in to Woodville together with four or five other injured men. Moffett was unconscious and was kept in the car until an ambulance from Beaumont arrived. Dr. Shivers worked on four or five of the boys bandaging them up and when the ambulance arrived the doctor assisted in getting the men placed, and then he accompanied them to Beaumont to be of assistance if the men did not stand the ride.

Later it developed no one was dangerously injured, although broken arms and sprains are keeping the men rather quiet.

The bridge was not on a county road. In fact was merely a sort of trail bridge to small farms off the highway.

New Neches Bridge Will Open Friday

Feb. 11, 1943
Formal opening of the new highway bridge over the Neches river between Woodville and Jasper on U.S. Highway 190, formerly State Highway 45, will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow, February 12, reports Judge J.E. Wheat, who is president of the old Highway 45 association, which is sponsoring the ceremony. Because of the war no big celebration will be held but friends all along the road are being invited to come to express appreciation to the highway groups which have been responsible for the completion of the bridges on the road.

Honor guests invited for the occasion are the state highway commissioners for the last 10 years, G.G. Wickline of Austin, bridge engineer; Tom Huffman, of Austin, former division engineer; T.J. Kelley, Beaumont; Gibb Gilchrist of A. and M. college, former highway engineer; R.B. Alexander, engineer in charge of building the bridge; R.F. Jordan, construction engineer; former Sen. John S. Redditt of Lufkin and Sens. Clem Fain of Livingston, Allen Shivers of Port Arthur and Ben Ramsey of San Augustine.

The Neches river bridge is the last of three bridges to be completed which have delayed work on the highway for many years. Ten years ago Highway 45 association was organized to back the completion of the road. Assisting with arrangements for the opening program are O.M. Stone of Jasper and W.E. Suter the resident engineer.
