Mayor Tolbert suggested to Butler that he excuse himself from the project and turn it over to someone that can handle it. "You've got a wildcat by the tail and you'd better turn him loose," said Councilman John

Woodville City Manager Walt Davis told the group that Tenneco, supplier of gas, would give 10 days to Woodville to pay its bill with 20 percent interest.

Councilmen were angered when it was reported that serious leaks existed in the system and that no steps had been taken thus far to correct

Woodyille Councilman Gordon Anderson said "If I were you I'd be up there right now fixing the leaks."

Butler told the council that he needed 30 days "So his group could formulate a system to keep the gas system alive.
