Rockland Lake Dam Project Top Story For 1982

YOUTH CENTER TO BE MOVED THIS WEEK	4 1/2 TONS CHEESE TO ARRIVE DAILY	CANDIDATES HERE	COUNTRY CLUB IMPROVEMENTS EYED	W.I.S.D. TRUSTEES HEAR 1982-83 BUDGET PLAN	FUTURE LAKE WATER "VALUABLE"
Professional house movers have split a two-acre, 1,600-foot landmark Woodville house located on the corner of Reid and Bluff Streets and the movers will, in two sections move the residence to a location west of Woodville on Springhill Road where it will become a permanent home for the Tyler County Youth Development Center, an organization created to help delinquent, neglected or dependent children between the ages of 10 and 17.	Federal Government surplus cheese, totaling 9,000 pounds (4 1/2 tons) will be picked up Thursday, for distribution to the needy of Tyler County following action Monday by the Tyler County Commissioners Court.	An apparent "no issue" election seems to be holding voter interest at a low level in Tyler County as slight public participation in a full-fledged political rally Saturday drew mostly families of politicians plus a few interested voters who turned out Saturday expecting a large rhetorical feast.	Future improvements may be on the drawing board for the "more or less" 160-acre, 9-hole Dogwood Country Club and Golf Course this week if the proceeds from a $325,000 loan from the Chester State Bank are applied toward property improvements there which owner Don Cole says he's aware are needed, "but doesn't want to be tied to any schedule of completion on."	Woodville School District Trustees wrestled Tuesday night with a proposed school budget for the upcoming 1982-83 year producing figures which will reflect an approximate 12.88 percent decrease from last year but was conditioned by teacher insurance requests in a prior executive session meeting which officials say "will balance the interests of teachers against the interests of the taxpayers."	"Water out of Lake Rockland will cost the customer several times the price of the water out of Lake Rayburn, but water a lot higher may be a lot better than no water at all," said J.D. Nixon, general manager of the Lower Neches Valley Authority in Beaumont in an interview Monday.

FIRE HITS RESERVATION POTTERY PLANT	LAWLIS SEEKS RE-ELECTION	509 VOTE EARLY	COMMUNITY SERVICE PROBATION POSSIBLE HERE	CUTBACKS, LAYOFFS HIT AREA	ARRESTS SUNDAY IN BUNCO RING
The Alabama Coushatta Indian Reservation Pottery Plant suffered a setback Friday, Jan. 8 when an early morning, 1:15 a.m., fire caused upwards of $20,000 worth of damage to the pottery facility. According to officials from the Reservation, the plant operating equipment was not damaged in the blaze and the fire was contained within 30 minutes. Fire Chief Alton Lee Sylesine said the fire apparently started by a hot plate which was left on in the employee breakroom.	Woodville Judge Monte D. Lawlis announced that he will seek re-election as Judge of the 1-A District Court. Lawlis has served as judge of that court since September 1, 1977 following his appointment by the former Governor, Dolph Briscoe. He was elected to a full term in the 1978 elections.	As absentee voting closed at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday some 509 persons had cast their ballots during the last election totals in 1980 which netted 578 absentee votes but which was an election with more hot issues than the present election offers.	Utilization of jail inmate and probation offenders in community work projects here will be one topic at the August Commissioners Court meeting with Adult Probation Officer Kenny Simpson appealing to the County Commissioners for utilization soon of this community asset.	A recent downturn in the economy has caused two major Woodville industrial concerns to curtail work activity, causing layoffs and shorter weeks.	Tyler County Sheriff's officers may have a lead on a local prostitution and-bunko ring as a result of an arrest made at 3:40 p.m. Sunday at the Shitworth Lumber mill in Chester of a 26-year old Phoenix, Arizona woman.

LOCAL BLOOD DRIVE SAID SUCCESSFUL	LOCAL STORES HIT	BROWDER THROWS VOTER SUPPORT TO WOODWARD	BUILDING DESTROYED	RAZE MARIJUANA FIELD	ROCKLAND LAKE REPORT IN D.C.
Some 119 area residents donated blood Jan. 14 and 15 for Woodville's 7th successful blood drive. Much of that blood had been transfused by Monday. Platelets, a blood component which encourages clotting, from 58 donors had been transfused of which 28 were used for 2 leukemia patients and 10 were used by a patient injured in an auto accident. Another 10 were needed during emergency open heart surgery, and a patient who had been stabbed required 10 units of platelets. Management cooperation, support and leadership also contributed to the success of the drive. Members of First Baptist Church of Woodville were also major contributors with the 2nd highest number of donors.	City Police are busy this week investigating two burglaries believed to be the same crew according to Woodville Police Chief Grady Gray who used similar techniques in breaking and entering the Sears store on South Hwy 69 and the Furniture Center in downtown Woodville.	A fast minute rush in balloting Saturday rescued what would have been a small's crawl in voting activity which when the votes were tallied about 11:30 p.m. Saturday night saw an approximate 40 percent overall turnout, down five percent from two years ago.	I don't have anything that says that the fire at Bob's Catfish and Steakhouse was arson" said Woodville Volunteer Fire Department Chief Alva Cook, following the blaze that leveled the eating establishment on Sunday at 2 a.m.	Persistence by the Tyler County Sheriff's office resulted in the arrest Tuesday of two 27-year-old men who were apprehended about five miles east of Woodville while reportedly harvesting, by topping, the stalks of a marijuana field.	The Southwestern Division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has recommended that the Lake Rockland project become an "active" U.S. Army Corps of Engineers project and have forwarded their recommendations to the Office of the Chief of Engineers in Washington D.C.

HOME IN TRANSIT	ABERNETHY IS "MR. EAST TEXAS"	WRIGHT SELECTED ROTARY GOVERNOR	KIRBY RESTORATION PROJECT FUND DRIVE NOW IN GEAR	TYLER COUNTY HOSPITAL ADDING REHAB CENTER	FERRISH IN PLANE CRASH
Professional house movers worked feverishly Tuesday in jacking up and moving the rear of a frame home which when connected to the front half will become the home of the Tyler County Youth Development Center, Inc. A facility run by Tyler County citizens for the benefit and protection of delinquent, neglected and dependent children between the ages of 10 and 17. The house will offer emergency custodial care for children between the ages of 10-17 who are not being provided adequate supervision.	The 1982 Mr. East Texas is a native son with international experience and a broad field of intellectual interests. Born in Altus, Oklahoma, Francis Edward Abernethy grew up in Palestine and Nacogdoches, where in 1943 he graduated from high school and from which he undertook his first international excursion as a gunner's mate in the Navy during World War II.	Gilbert Wright of Woodville has been selected as Rotary District Governor for this area for the 1983-84 term.	Tyler County Heritage Society, Inc. launches the Kirby Peachtree Village Restoration Fund raising drive this week with the expectation soon of an incentive check from the Chester State Bank in the amount of $1400. Don Schaufert, bank president, pledged the dollars toward the project at a Project Committee meeting held in The Community Room of the Chester Bank on July 22, 1981.	"A simultaneous combustion of need" may have sparked a relatively new concept for a "hospital placed" rehabilitation center here as staff members and volunteers work feverishly this week to open the all new Tyler County Hospital Rehabilitation Center located adjacent to the existing hospital facility in Woodville.	Dense fog has been attributed partially to the nose dive crash landing of a Piper 140 Cherokee single engine plane in which three Houston men were killed at about 11:15 p.m. Saturday. Identified in the wreck were Elton Businelle, 38 of Houston; Stephen Pavlik, 45, of Rosharon; and Charles Howard Akeley, 20, of Alvin.

IRS CONDUCTS PROPERTY SEIZURE	BLAKE PUTS WATER AS EMPHASIS	RESERVATION NAMES BYARS	CLEMENTS STUMPS HERE, AVOIDS MEDIA ACCESS	TYLER COUNTY HOSPITAL GETS $17,585 MATCH	CITIZEN NOMINEES SOUGHT
Agents from the Houston Internal Revenue Service seized the property of a local furniture repair shop owner Thursday, Jan. 28 brandishing several shotguns and slidearms in the "lawful" seizure.	State Senator Roy Blake of Nacogdoches said Wednesday at a Rotary Club meeting at the Woodville Inn that he would continue to push for continued Mental Health Mental Retardation funding for his district, higher salaries for the Texas Highway Patrolmen, and said he would vote also for the unincorporated area county one cent sales tax "as a buffer to higher property taxes that are just over the hill."	The Texas Indian Commission has appointed Tony Byars, a Choctaw Indian, as Superintendent of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation. Mr. Byars retired from the U.S. Marine Corps as a Sergeant Major and attended Baylor University receiving a BA Degree in Political Sciences.	Governor Bill Clements blasted Federal Judge William Wayne Justice Friday by claiming that his name was a "misnomer if I ever heard of one" stating that Justice himself "was the main problem in the controversy over the Texas prison system."	The T.T.L.L. Temple Foundation has awarded $17,585 to the Tyler County Hospital to assist in the purchase of additional emergency room equipment. Dede Cordes, president of the Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary, said equipment will include four telemetry receivers and an electrocardiogram transmitter.	Nominations are still being accepted for the 1982 Outstanding Citizen Award. The Tyler County Chamber of Commerce will make this award to an individual who has given unselfishly of himself or herself to substantially improve the economic and civic climate of Tyler County.

HOBBY HERE WEDNESDAY	SEN. BENTSEN CAMPAIGNS HERE	G.S.U. ASKS $131 MILLION RATE HIKE	CLEMMENTS SEEKS ROAD IMPROVEMENTS	ROCKLAND LAKE DAM REPORT DUE	COMMUNITY WORSHIP SERVICE IS NOV. 23
Tyler County Campaigners for Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby will host a reception for the incumbent candidate for the office Wednesday Feb. 10 at the Woodville Inn.	Second term U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen visited Woodville Monday, hosted by Gulf States Utilities Company and a host of the Tyler County Democrats.	Gulf States Utilities has filed requests with more than 60 municipalities, it serves in Texas and the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) asking for a two-step increase in rates. The first is a $131 million annual retail electric rate increase this year and the second is a $14.8 million next year.	A delegation made of Tyler County officials trekked to Austin Thursday for an appearance before the Texas State Highway Commission at a public hearing where the group asked for widening, safer passing lanes, and bridge improvements on Hwy. 190 West between Woodville and Livingston.	A Corps of Engineers $100,000 report still considered "in-house" but due to be released at the end of this month recommends removal of the Rockland Lake and Dam Project from the "inactive" list allowing the Corps of Engineers to proceed with preconstruction planning.	The Tyler County Ministerial Alliance will bring the annual community service on Tuesday, Nov. 23 at 7 p.m. The First Christian Church will be the host church.

$25,000 BOND SET IN DRUG CASE	DOGWOOD QUEEN IS CHERYL BASS	HIGHTOWNER OVER WOODWARD	DELEGATION SEEKS ROAD IMPROVEMENTS	UTILITIES MEETING SET	SOUTHWESTERN BELL RATE HIKE HERE SOON
An Alton deputy with the Tyler County Sheriff's office turned up what was believed to be a small, hidden cache of cocaine in a mobile home trailer in the Alton area Tuesday, Feb. 14, following a 9 p.m. arrest Sunday, Feb. 14.	Pretty Cheryl Bass, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brandin of Woodville was selected as the 39th Dogwood Queen under perfect skies Saturday night before a packed amphitheater. Selected as the Princess of Tyler County was Glenda McDuffie of Warren, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Omer L. Terry-Kimm Hallin of Liberty, was selected as The Grand Duchess.	Allan Hightowner convincingly doubled the winning vote needed for the District 18 Representative seat he said, without even the benefit of Polk County votes where he won 2,734 to Woodward's total of 494.	A delegation made of Tyler County officials trekked to Austin Thursday for an appearance before the Texas State Highway Commission at a public hearing where the group asked for widening, safer passing lanes, and bridge improvements on Hwy. 190 West between Woodville and Livingston.	A special public meeting will be held on Friday, Oct. 1 at 7 p.m. at the Woodville Lions Den (one mile east on Hwy 190). Every resident of Tyler County concerned with utility rates is urged to be present. Official representatives have been invited to participate in the problem and solution meeting. Mrs. Connors and Mrs. Kimmey of Warren are coordinators for the meeting.	The first Southwestern Bell bills reflecting the 10 percent surcharge on in-state long distance calls will begin arriving to Texas customers in Woodville next week, said Gene Thacker, Southwestern Bell community relations manager.

The Warren Independent School District Board of Trustees voted November 23 to repair the ceiling in the Fred Elementary School Auditorium and discussed improvements needed at other campuses in the District.	Members of the Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary are busy preparing for the "Country Caper" to be held Saturday, June 19 beginning at 7 p.m. at the Morris Clements Ranch.	Precinct 2 Commissioner Kenneth Lowe got a blast Monday from a disenchanted resident of White Tail Ridge who leveled charges at the Commissioner for "failure to keep up the property ditch and brown" the three mile dirt road leading into the community located near the Polk Tyler County line west of Woodville.	The Rockland project may become an active project of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers by as early as mid-October according to Jean Sike, Division Level Liaison officer for the Ft. Worth District Office Projects.	Congressman Charles Wilson (D) of Lufkin, in a telephone interview Monday with the Tyler County Booster said, "Lake Rockland will have my full support." Wilson continued, "I'm for it. I've always been for it. I'd love to build it. Now with a $200 million dollar deficit we're not going to build it the next couple of years." Asked

Woodville Hi-lites

It was the Day after Christmas and the rains still fell while the North and South winds continued their battle. Many Woodville visitors packed remnants of holiday goodies for a return trip to distant places.

The homes of Dr. and Mrs. Bob Swearingen, Red and Thelma McGee, John and Willard Story, Joe and Bill Edwards, Vicki Worfield, Arles and Ann Bingham, Jim and Connie Clark, and the Hubert Browns will be strangely quiet along with many others.

While out on the highways residents are returning from holiday frolics and festivities: Juanita Best, Eloise Praker, Jack and Mavis Whitmyer, C. A. and Helen Bevil from Austin, Genevieve DeLoach from Houston, Jeff Fortner, Jerry and Jason Pool from Colorado (by skis), Lee Mann also by skis from New Mexico, Sergio Ramos accompanied by "Crickle" and Chris Keithan, Misti Minter, Jessica Blackmon, and Teresa Deppe from South of the Border Mexico way.

All that clutter heard on Christmas Eve was created by Bob Frazier as Brookshire employee Bernice Goings finally convinced him that he really was the winner of a color TV! As Frazier claimed, "I've never won anything in my life and I only put in one entry!" Congratulations! And a special thanks to manager Jimmy Smith and Brookshire owners for providing the exciting extras during 1982.

While shopping last week, Winnie Matthews Robinson of Gladewater, here to visit the Norton's and his mother, Mrs. Laura Morgan.

Paula Snowden from Beaumont, Marlon, Margery, Christy and Kim Chambliss from San Augustine, Dee and Jerry Rudd from Kingwood, Wanda, Buddy, Tommy and Lisa Ogden from Warren, from Woodville there were Ricky and Deirdre Grammer, Bobby, Sandra, Tammie and Tony Snowden, Dorothy, Frances, Phillip and Karen Britnell, Mrs. Stanley, Angie, Jeffrey and Stacey Hensarling, Rodney, Linda, Carrie and Becca Britnell, Lindsey and Judy Britnell, Vickie and Tony Knight and Bryant Morell.

Christmas time for a number of couples has an extra special sparkle as they celebrate wedding anniversaries. Among those celebrating are Jack and Mavis Whitmyer with 40 years, Lee and Jeannette Phillips with a grand 52 years, trailed by E. D. and Bertie Walker with 60 years. Others adding up years are Will and Odessa Worthingly 37 years, John and Sherry Harvey with 12 and Gary and Colleen Loox celebrate 9. Congratulations.

And as 1982 goes out of sight, we wish Perry Treat, Greg Green, Clifton Kellie, Mrs. Terry McKissack, Beth Trudell, Misti Minter, Eric Goodwin, Phillip McClure, Mrs. Truitt Williams, Mrs. C. S. O'Neal, Jr., Mrs. Hesper Justice, Gene Isobell, Jr., Mrs. Robert McCombs, Mrs. Landon Risinger, Jim Pool, Mrs. Becky Duckworth, Mrs. Bob Bailey, Mrs. Chris Spahn, Mrs. Max Lade, Mrs. Doug Tolbert, Dr. Curtis Garner, Mrs. Mattie Forsenberry, Becky Rose, Mrs. Ellis Platt, Mrs. Opal Parrish, Jeff Pope, Mrs. Gayle Burton, Mrs. Mildred Philiber and Dee Anne Hancock a very happy birthday.

And to all a good night.....

Wilson Retires

The day before Christmas was the last day as a salesclerk at the J. B. Best Store for Aida Wilson. After 11 years, she decided to trade in her pen and sales book for a travel bag and gardening tools.

Wilson has changed directions before when she retired after twenty years from the American National Bank in Beaumont. At the same time, her husband, J. D. (since passed away) retired and in the year of 1967, they decided to move to the lovely country area of Woodville.

Traveling and visiting activities have been a promotion of son J. D. Wilson, Jr., two married grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Wilson also has a Texas living in Tennessee whom she plans to spend some time visiting.

Reviving her green thumb and lovely yard will involve a large portion of time. With spring bulb planting time and dogwood time several flips of the calendar away, time will be filled.

Party time of reminiscing occupied a part of December 23 as employees and owners of J. B. Best honored Aida Wilson. She received a lovely double orchid corsage and a Samsonite Dress Garment Bag both symbolic of future activities. Amidst best wishes, she has assured all a frequent return as a shopper.

And so to Aida Wilson an adventure filled future and an especially happy new year in 1983.

'Minnie' Visits

"Minnie Pearl" was introduced at the Dec. 20 meeting of the Tyler County Retired Teachers Association by First Vice-President Alice Owens at the Shivers Library.

In real life "Minnie" is Mrs. Dorothy Tudor of Beaumont. She was presented a copy of the book Christmas at Grinders Switch. The former Regional Director of Texas State R.T.A., Mrs. Mae Tillery was a guest for the meeting.

C. O. Chandler presented the door prize - a portfolio of Texas scenes by artist Ronnie Wells - to the excited Fanny Darcy.

Everyone is reminded of the next meeting, third Monday, Jan. 17 at 10 a.m. Happy New Year.

Hillister Happenin's

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carter were called to Beaumont early last week by the death of his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Gammel. Services were Tuesday under direction of Kelly-Hixon with burial in Magnolia Cemetery.

The Clinton College had all of their family for Christmas Day - Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dean and Stacy of Mont View, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dean and baby of Brenham.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimberly Irvine and husband with the little daughter of Baytown, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer, JoAnn and Harold Jr. and Huntsville, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Idom of Humble, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Boykin, Leslie and Grace Woodville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dearl Foxworth and children of Houston were here Wednesday to celebrate an early Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Foxworth.

As usual the Holt clan met at the old home place with Mrs. Velma Sumrall except Mr. and Mrs. Will Holt of Kountze who were kept away because of illness. Those here were Leroy and Nita Holt with their daughter Maria and husband Bill Meehan and children Michelle and Eric of Port Arthur, a daughter Lisa and husband Dan Holland of Los Angeles, Irbay and Hazel

AARP Meeting

The first meeting of the New Year will be held Monday, Jan. 3, 1983 at 10 a.m. The new president, Mr. Carl Dickens will preside.

Mr. Tom Kent, program chairman, announced the planned program topic will focus on Law Enforcement.

The Board of Directors met in the dining room of the Woodville Inn at 9 a.m. prior to the 10 a.m. regular meeting. All chairpersons of committees are asked to be present.

The business meeting will be followed by an optional Dutch treat luncheon in the dining room of the Woodville Inn. Every member is urged to be present and interested persons 60 and older are invited.

Ivanhoe Round Table

The Ivanhoe Civic Club also held a sale and rummage sale to help out with some of the expenses of the year. 1983 has to be better than 1982, because we are going to live up to our creed.

Keep us O Lord from pettiness; Let us be large in thought, in word and deed. Let us be done with fault finding and leave off self-seeking. May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face without self-pity and without prejudice. May we never be hasty in judgement, and always generous in our judgments.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight forward and unselfish.

Let us take time for all things; make us grow calm and gentle. Grant us the grace that we realize that it is the little things that create the differences.

History of the Ivanhoe Civic Club continued. In 1972 Jean Riddle was president. In 1973 Leoda Stewart, president; Peg Ann Doris Holland, Secretary; Eline Rushing, Secretary; Hermelene McNeill, and Treasurer. Ora DeMontgomery, in 1974 Leoda Stewart was President; Peg Ann Doris Elizabeth Knowlton, Secretary; Martha Weaver.

Black Walnut Cake

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup shortening
3/4 cup sugar
2 eggs well beaten
1/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream until fluffy. Add eggs and mix well. Add dry mixture alternating with milk and vanilla, a small amount of each at a time and beat after each addition. Add walnut meats and mix well. Bake in a moderate oven at about 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Makes 2-8 inch layers.

Walnut Filling

2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup water
2 eggs whites
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped walnut meats (black walnut meats are best).

Cook sugar and water, stirring occasionally until the sugar dissolves. Boil without stirring until syrup will form a thread when dropped from the tip of a spoon (about 250 Degrees). Remove from fire and beat egg whites until stiff then pour a thin stream on the egg whites beating the mixture constantly until it is thick enough to spread; add chopped nut meats and flavoring, or the chopped nut meats may be sprinkled over the top of the cake.

From the cookbook of Bess May Sanders Marshall Walker (an early day resident of Chester)

NOTE: Cooking temperatures added in later years as original recipe was brought forth from a wood burning cook stove.

About Wood Burning Cook Stove Cooking

The first stoves had no thermostats or temperature regulators such as the modern gas and electric stoves and cooking appliances.

Over heat was regulated by the number of logs or amount of wood used. A pan of water was placed beneath a baking item to prevent burning of its bottom. The cookery quickly learned by the taste method and other ingenious means. As how long to cook different foods as wasting was not affordable.

State Council Recommends Ground (Well) Water Control

By Tompkins

Texas Energy and National Resources Policy Council (TENRAC) announced that the next state legislature encourage formation of underground water conservation districts to issue an additional 250 million dollars of state water bonds plus create a commission to negotiate with other states for importation of water into Texas.

The ground water conservation districts would have the power to implement and enforce state rules and standards issued by the Water Development Board. In areas of the state where overuse of "mining" of ground water is a problem and which were not in a ground water conservation district, the Department of Water Resources would have the power to implement state standards. As proposed by TENRAC, the ground water conservation districts would have the ability to assess fees for the use of ground water in their districts and also to purchase and sell surface or lake water.

According to Texas Department of Water Resources calculations, Jasper, Tyler and Angelina Counties are areas in the state which are currently overusing or "mining" well or ground water resources. That is, water is being withdrawn at a much faster rate from the ground than it can replace itself.

TENRAC also adopted a proposal of its Finance Subcommittee which is headed by Woodville lawyer, Josiah Wheat to recommend that the fourth coming legislature issue an additional $250 million in state water development bonds and in addition create a fund which would be used to insure state bonds.

Texas Department of Water Resources calculates that an estimated $40.2 billion will be required to meet population and industrial water needs of Texas through the year 2005.

TENRAC includes among its membership, top state officials including the Governor and the head of both the State Senate (Lt. Governor) and the House of Representatives (Speaker of the House).

Alan Miller's T-WHEELER

A few weeks ago we mentioned that Congress was considering giving themselves a pay raise, and we agreed that since this was to be an open debate on the floor of the House where all the noses could be counted, perhaps they were entitled to some additional income.

It was amazing how quickly the House got action, and the Senate followed by giving themselves unlimited income from speeches and the like. But that bit of largesse bestowed by the taxpayers and voters who put them there in the first place, as so often seems somewhat misplaced in view of their abysmal performance in the lame-duck session just concluded.

You can say of course that a "lame-duck" session by its very name shouldn't be expected to accomplish very much, and we would agree. Except the nation's business hadn't been taken care of while the Congress was in regular session. This being an election year and all, survival of the elected was more important to many officeholders, rather than the survival of our jobs and the economy in general.

Neither party is blameless in this by the way. Republicans and Democrats alike performed as idiots. No budget passed. No appropriations bills. Authorized to spend, yes, but provide the money, no.

So we came down to the lick log, and there we were. No money, federal employees threatened with furlough, and all we see are bleary-eyed Congressmen belying because they might not get home as early for Christmas as they would like.

So the government continues to operate by resolution rather than disciplined by a budget, and regardless of what you may have heard or read, we are spending a bunch more money in nearly every department of government than we were under Jimmy Carter. The spending machine is active and well-oiled.

But believe it or not, there is a glimmer of hope on the horizon. And it will start in the forest products industry, the whipping boy of government excesses send the economy reeling, housing takes the beating through higher interest rates and upward moving inflation.

The deficits pile up, subsidies and handouts stay in place, and housing hits the skids dragging down the furniture and appliance industries with it.

until the Federal Reserve or somebody gets things under control. And the unemployed are the ones who suffer.

With Congress' only answer make work end jobs that look politically good back home but do absolutely nothing to revive the economy and put people back to work.

So 1983 as we see it is the year when we as workers and consumers can decide that we can make the economy perform. That nothing government can do is really going to help, because that is apparently not where their real interest lies.

Republicans in the Senate hamstringing the gasoline tax. The House required by the Constitution to prepare a budget refuses to act. A Pentagon wants an expensive new war, called an MX missile, but the Chiefs of Staff don't even know how they want to base it. Just give us the money and the automatic check writers gladly comply. How many other millions or billions are being offered up in the same way.

Senator Dickey said years ago that hardly anyone could imagine what a billion dollars was, Congress least of anybody, and he was so right.

So Congress will come back in January to "save Social Security", a favorite combination of buzzwords to ensure election two years hence. Others will tout new H-bombs to keep the Russians from under our beds. And others will try to put up trade barriers to keep those sneaks from Europe and Asia from gobbling up even more of the consumer market here at home.

We just have a hunch that despite what Congress does or does not do, it will be all of us as individual consumers and producers who will get the economy back on track.

Whether Congress knows it or not, we know there is no free lunch. The special interest gaudies will be trying to distract us most of the time, to base it. Just give us the money and we'll worry about that later.

One government agency submits phony invoices to be paid, and the automatic check writers gladly comply. How many other millions or billions are being offered up in the same way.

Senator Dickey said years ago that hardly anyone could imagine what a billion dollars was, Congress least of anybody, and he was so right.

Duck Hunting

Duck hunting is very poor these days. There seems to be quite a few ducks around but they are not moving enough for hunters to have much action. They like to stay out in the open water away from the hunters. I know two hunters that went two days and killed a total of 4 ducks.

Last week I told about two duck hunters that spent more time getting their truck out of the mud than they did hunting in the Veach Basin area of Sam Rayburn Lake. Well, last Friday they left that small flat bottom boat at home and took a big fiberglass boat and .68 horse motor.

They put in at Casey Creek and ran across the lake to Veach Basin. It only takes about 15 minutes to run over the lake because the water is calm.

They made it across the lake fine but didn't kill many ducks because they were not moving. After a few hours of

Banquet Tickets On Sale

Tickets are now on sale for the Annual Banquet of the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce to be held on Thursday, Jan. 20, 1983. The Banquet will be held at the Woodville High School Cafeteria beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speaker for the event will be Jim Savage, Director of Public Relations and Administrative Services for the Zig Zigar Corporation. He has earned the reputation as well as the title of "Motivational Teacher." Jim never shies an idea without a plan of action because motivation without education or instruction will guarantee frustrations. Among his nationally known clients are Xerox Corporation, the Palmer Drug Abuse Program, and AT&T Long Lines, who have been quoted as describing his program as "Dynamic!" He has been a football coach at all levels, including special assignment coach and professional scout for the Washington Redskins. Jim Savage now works directly with Zig Zigar in developing testing programs and assisting as a teacher at the Born To Win Course and speaking on the Ziglar Philosophy. These presentations and others have taken him all across the United States, sharing Zig Zigar Concepts with business leaders, educators, clergy, lay groups and service clubs.

Also highlighting the evening will be the presentation of the 1982 Outstanding Citizen Award by Incoming Chamber President Steve Evans.

Houston Oilers

The Houston Oilers started out about like Texas did and went down the same way. Fumbles and interceptions was their downfall. Todd Dodge of the Longhorns had an excuse for some of his mistakes such as cold weather, high wind and a little snow, and starting his first game of the year, but what was Earl Campbell's excuse? Earl the Pearl has become Earl the Mother of Pearls. I wonder if he thought it would even things out since he fumbled on Cleveland's one yard in the first half when he fumbled on Houston's one yard line in the second half. The Oilers' offense tried to win and did enough blocking for them to win. They have always been given credit for the game, he won for the Oilers and now he has been eliminated. I'm hoping this one.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—Texas is coming... investment restrictions on... funds of public retirement... investments to be... beneficiaries... died and requires that... Thus, investment policy... vests with investment man... investments be made solely by more flexible.

During the last regular legislative session there were many bills dealing with retirement systems. However, there are several especially important pieces of legislation which directly affect public retirement systems that I would like to call to your attention.

Each public retirement system in Texas is now required to register with the State Pension Review Board and the Legislative Budget Board. In addition, these systems must submit reports. These provisions enable the Boards to keep an overview of all retirement systems and to have information on these systems available to legislators.

Periodically, each public retirement system must provide to its members summaries of system benefits, summaries of significant changes in the system, summaries of the financial condition of the system, and statements of contributions and payments. These requirements can be enforced. This will allow the members to have current information about a system which they may have joined many years before.

Annual financial reports and copies of actuarial studies are required to be filed with the State Pension Review Board. Actuarial studies are required at least once every three years. A procedure for submitting annual reports has been created. Such reporting requirements allow the state to keep close scrutiny on the actuarial soundness of the systems.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS

The 97th Congress was in its waning hours, and funding was about to expire for most of the government's operations because only a fraction of needed appropriations legislation had been passed.

When it became apparent that we would be unable to pass a separate defense appropriations bill, the entire year's funding for the Department of Defense was included in the Continuing Resolution.

Yet, when House and Senate conferees met to resolve the differences between the versions passed by the two houses, they agreed to delete almost all of these provisions. Moreover, the Senate was asked to approve the work of the Conference Committee, without possibility of further amendment.

In addition to the serious concerns I have about the legislative process by which Congress acted on key defense issues, I also am troubled by some of the specific decisions that were made in the course of this process.

For example, the Continuing Resolution contains no money to produce the MX missile, and fails to provide adequate research and development funding.

There are other important programs which were dropped in the final version of the Continuing Resolution. For instance, one of my amendments which the Senate adopted would have provided $82 million in "long-lead" funding for F-16 fighters to be produced in future years.

I was successful in getting the Senate to eliminate almost $500 million of this money, but when the final version came to us for approval, every dollar had been restored. This is wasteful spending, and it is waste that cannot be blamed on the Pentagon.

In short, the Continuing Resolution, especially as it applies to defense, is bad legislation. I could not support a bill which subjected the legislators' process, failed to fund validated national defense needs, and at the same time taxed taxpayers money for unnecessary programs.

Q: When my uncle died several years ago, his property was valued at $50,000. Several of us inherited under his will. If we sell the land now, what taxes will be due? A: Federal estate tax would not be due on an estate worth $50,000. State inheritance tax may be due by each heir, however, depending on the number of beneficiaries and how closely related each was to your uncle.

Question: I'm hearing that the incidence of cancer is rising. I'm 65. Am I more likely to get cancer now than I was 20 years ago? Answer: It is true that cancer is predominantly a disease of middle and advanced age.

Question: I've heard that if you have a family history of cancer, you may have a higher risk of getting it. Is this true? Answer: Yes, Bopha-pool speech can usually be taught in a matter of weeks.

Question: I have lived in a rural environment all my life. Will I be more likely to get cancer if I move to a large city? Answer: While overall cancer deaths are higher in densely populated and industrialized areas of the United States, it is not so clear that they are more likely to be fatal.

Question: I had a small lump removed from under my arm about two years ago and it was benign. Now I think I have another developing in the same area. What should I do? Answer: By all means you should consult your doctor again. Odds are that this lump also is benign.

Question: I've heard that if you have a family history of cancer, you may have a higher risk of getting it. Is this true? Answer: Yes, Bopha-pool speech can usually be taught in a matter of weeks.

AUSTIN - Arriving alive is a logical and reasonable goal for a trip taken at anytime of the year, but especially one taken at the merriest season of all. Yet the merrymaking itself sometimes clouds judgement making your safe arrival and that of your loved ones in doubt.

Drunk driving continues to be one of our nation's most serious public health and safety problems. Fifty percent of all drivers killed each year have blood alcohol concentrations above the legal limit, 0.10%. In single automobile crashes where it is more certain who is at fault, over 65% of those who died were legally drunk. Over a quarter of a million people have lost their lives in alcohol related crashes in the last decade.

It is estimated that only between 1 in 500 and 1 in 2,000 drivers on the road with a blood alcohol content greater than 0.10% is arrested. Most of those who are arrested have blood alcohol content greater than 0.20%.

As you can see, for every drunk driver arrested, there are between 500 and 2,000 out there who are not. While drinking and driving is clearly not acceptable behavior, there are other related situations that are just as dangerous. Prescription drugs are a prime example. Antihistamines, tranquilizers and any medication containing a narcotic reduce reflex action and limit judgement. Any of these, when mixed with a single alcoholic drink, can double the impairment effect of both.

Contrary to popular opinion, not all of the alcohol related accidents nor even a majority of them, involve chronic problem drinkers. The occasional and social drinker is less able to operate a motor vehicle safely than one who drinks all the time.

These statistics are alarming but would be even more alarming if we put faces behind them. If we could see the faces of the victims and especially those of their loved ones, only then could we fully appreciate the horrible statistics.

They become even more tragic when we put young faces with them. Teenage drivers are involved in one of every five fatal accidents that occur with almost 9,000 between 15 and 19 years old killed in motor vehicle accidents in 1980.

Almost 60% of those killed had alcohol in their blood at the time of the fatal accidents, with 43% having blood alcohol concentrations over 0.10%. Fourteen teenagers die and an additional 360 are injured in alcohol related crashes each day.

Teenage drivers comprise only 8% of the driving public and only account for 6% of the vehicle miles travelled in this country but are involved in 17% of the accidents and amount to 15% of all drunk drivers in accidents.

Of 330 children born today, 1 will die and 4 will sustain serious injuries in alcohol related crashes before they reach the age of 24. Life expectancy has improved in the U.S. over the past 75 years in every age group except one. The exception is the 15-24 age group whose death rate is higher than it was 20 years ago.

The problem is well defined, but the solution is not so evident. Many advocate mandatory jail time for offenders; others prefer required attendance at alcohol and drug abuse programs; while still others favor stepped up traffic law enforcement.

While I can see some merit in all of the suggestions, if we are apprehending only 1 of the 500-2,000 drivers who are out there and legally drunk, we are not even scratching the surface. The odds of getting caught are too low. We need more enforcement of the law, because if we don't improve our percentages, it is likely that neither of the other two suggestions will serve as much of a deterrent.

The innocent public deserves every protection, and we must exhaust every effort to provide it.

Dreams Come True In The Cub Scouts

Adventurous and exciting, it's the dream of many a young boy. But it's more than just a dream for the two million members of the Cub Scouts—an organization now celebrating its 50th Anniversary.

Robert L. Untch, national director of the Cub Scouts, says Cub Scouting is more popular than ever during this Golden Anniversary year.

"Cub Scouting offers fun and adventure to every boy from ages 8 through 10," says Mr. Untch. "Cub Scouts participate in weekly meetings where they make lasting friendships. They also have fun at games and sports in which they learn good sportsmanship, and go on nature trips where they learn about the beauty and value of our environment."

Other Cub Scout activities—the list is almost endless—feature summer cookouts, museum and plant tours, swimming parties, physical fitness competition, and bicycle rodeos.

These diverse activities have several things in common. They are educational and fun but, most of all, they encourage family participation, good citizenship and leadership. And that's what Cub Scouting is all about.

If you would like to make a dream come true for your son, join the Cub Scouts. Contact your local Boy Scouts of America Council for information. Consult the white or yellow pages of your telephone directory.

The Inequity of the Earnings Test

by Cy Brickfield

Pity the poor doctors, lawyers, business executives and Wall Street financiers. It seems that they have become scapegoats in a misguided, emotional campaign to defeat legislation in which they have no important stake but which is of critical importance to countless thousands of older Americans.

The legislation—proposed by President Reagan in his package of Social Security reforms and long advocated by NRTA and AARP, among others—would repeal the Social Security earnings test.

Perhaps no other provision of Social Security law has fostered such resentment and created such misunderstanding as the earnings test, which reduces Social Security benefits by $1 for each $2 earned by an individual in excess of $5,500 per year.

The test penalizes thousands of older workers who must continue working in order to supplement inadequate incomes, while allowing wealthy retirees with unlimited unearned income from investments and interest to draw their full Social Security benefits.

It imposes an effective tax rate of more than 60 percent solely on those persons between the ages of 65 and 72 (65 to 71 beginning next year) who often are still working because they desperately need the income.

It perpetuates the totally ludicrous policy that it is wrong for an older person both to earn income and receive retirement benefits, but that it suddenly becomes right when that person reaches age 72.

And it subverts what has always been an underlying principle of Social Security—that, unlike welfare, an individual earns the right to benefits by paying into the system during his or her working years.

Small wonder then that many older Americans—who have contributed to Social Security throughout their working lives—are deeply resentful of the earnings test.

But whenever an attempt is made to repeal this onerous, inequitable provision, we are told that its repeal would primarily benefit only a "privileged minority" of doctors, lawyers, business executives and other high-income professionals who tend to continue working past age 65.

This emotional argument about "windfalls for the rich" sounds persuasive. Unfortunately, it totally ignores another group of earnings test victims—the countless thousands of older Americans of modest means who consciously limit their annual income to less than $5,500 per year so as not to be penalized.

Surely these "average" Americans would significantly benefit from repeal of the earnings test. In fact, it can be argued that the extra wages these individuals could earn if the test were repealed would be more valuable to them than would the additional Social Security benefits received by doctors, lawyers, etc.

Another complaint voiced by those who would perpetuate the earnings test is that its repeal would be too costly. Again, they completely ignore another important factor: Their cost estimates fail to take into account the increased revenue from Social Security payroll taxes and income taxes which would be generated by those older persons who would be free to continue working without penalty.

A 1979 Social Security Administration study calculated that if only ten percent of workers between the ages of 65 and 69 continued to work fulltime, nearly four-fifths of the total cost of eliminating the earnings test would be offset by increased income and payroll taxes.

Finally, those who seek to perpetuate the status-quo on this issue are seemingly blind to the demographic reality of the coming decades. With more and more potential retirees and fewer and fewer workers, it is vital that we encourage older persons to continue working and contributing (both to society and to the Social Security trust funds) rather than penalizing them for doing so.
