OPINIONS
Yours, Theirs, Ours

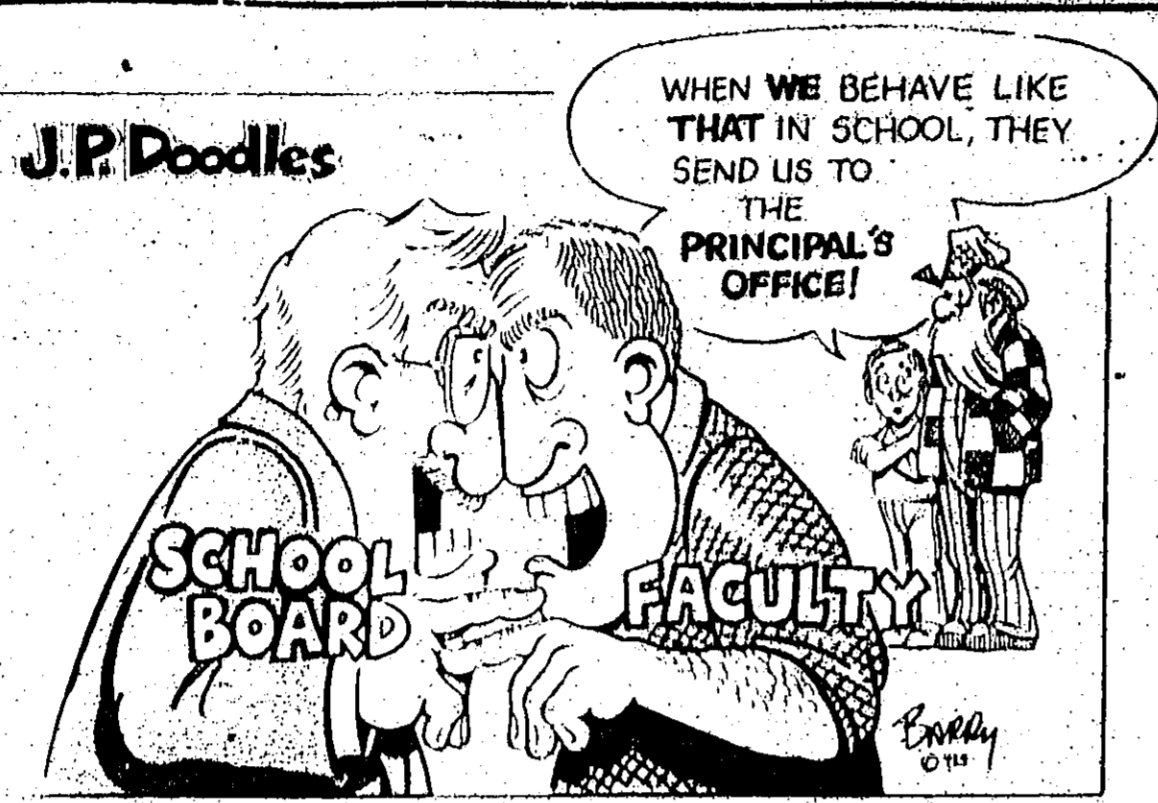

Thurs., July 21, 1983

Get your facts first, then you can distort them as much as you please. Mark Twain

Alan Miller, T-Wheeler
Some of the most interesting stories in your local newspaper are those lying in the margins of the obituaries and classified ads. Editors call these fillers "some thing to take up the white space." We found a great story repeating these exactly, and thought you might like to share the news of that post mortem at the hands of a humorist at Kennedy airport in New York City. Kennedy airport is not in New York City. Houston International. Planes are taking off and landing on split second schedules, and hundreds of weary and impatient goodwives know what time are straggled by. Houstonians say that...

Open Mind

Dear Editor,
Records clearly both are that I don't think is probably the most positive thing I have seen many but never one so beautifully kept. A game was in progress and I enjoyed it so much. What really impressed me is the work and dedication given by Gary Hennigan. How many law men (or men of any occupation) do you know...

FROM THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE

LEON FOWLER SHERIFF
Dear Editor,
While passing through your very nice town while vacationing, I saw your lovely ball park and decided to look it over. I have seen many but never one so beautifully kept. A game was in progress and I enjoyed it so much. What really impressed me is the work and dedication given by Gary Hennigan. How many law men (or men of any occupation) do you know...

Cooperative Effort To Stay Healthy

Staying healthy is accomplished through a cooperative effort between the patient and the doctor. That message comes from a pamphlet titled "You and Your Doctor: Partners in Health Care," produced by the Texas Medical Association. The brochure lists five suggestions for making this relationship work:

- Be a well-informed patient. This means understanding what your health problem is and what might have caused it. Your doctor can discuss these points with you. Know what medications you are taking and what they are supposed to do. Another way to keep informed is to use home health books, which can give you warning signs of various diseases.
- Talk to your doctor. This includes telling the physician about past medical problems, allergic reactions to any drugs, and diseases in your family. The doctor must know this information to serve you best. You also may want to discuss a particular treatment or complaint. If you are a smoker, let your doctor know.
- Follow your doctor's instructions. Most important is taking a prescription until you have finished it all, even if you are feeling better.
- Know this information to serve you best. You also may want to discuss a particular treatment or complaint. If you are a smoker, let your doctor know.
- Follow your doctor's instructions. Most important is taking a prescription until you have finished it all, even if you are feeling better.

Other suggestions include: learn to manage stress; keep immunizations current; keep accurate and up-to-date medical records; this helps a doctor on a first visit or in an emergency; a copy of the pamphlet can be obtained by writing the Texas Medical Association.

Thomas Elected Retail Director

Kath Thomas was elected as Retail Director for the Texas State Florists Association at the annual convention, held July 9-12 in Austin. Over 1,400 florists from around the country attended the convention. Activities included design schools, showing new trends in funeral design, hospital and home flowers, and wedding work, business seminars, a trade fair showing the newest products and services.

Also attending the convention on Sunday were Ruth Thomas and Bonnie McAllister, both of Thomas Nursery & Florist.

Kath will serve two years on the board. Her duties will include attending board meetings and voting on policy for the Association, and Miss Thomas is also a member of AIFD (American Institute of Floral Designers), South Texas Teleflora (board member), Society of American Florists, Southern Retailers, Southeast Texas Allied Florists Association, (School Chairperson for the SIFAPA annual Design School), and a Texas Master Florist.

Flying With Your Foot On The Ground.
Astronauts, commercial pilots, doctors, school kids, housewives, and others in fact, more than 85,000 Americans fly regularly without ever leaving the ground. HOW? They fly miniature aircraft of all types and sizes.

These model airplanes belong to the Academy of Model Aeronautics - the largest sport aviation organization in the world. Miniature aircraft are used for sport, for business, and for military purposes. Miniature aircraft enthusiasts fly everything from microscale indoor models to quarter scale multi-engine airplanes.
