Shopping With Diane

This week, in shopping Tyler County, we've found some interesting old items that hold a lot of history. They might just stir some memories. Let's go see!

REMEMBER WHEN - Getting water wasn't always as easy as turning on a chrome faucet marked hot or cold. Do you remember when you used to grab the bucket, march outside to the well, untie the rope, lower the bucket, then slowly begin cranking it toward the top?

If you lived in Tyler County back in the 30s, chances are you may have had a bored well. Bored wells required special buckets. The buckets were long, thin cylinders that resembled stove pipes. They had a bucket leather at the bottom and a lever at the top. Remember? They stayed attached to the well rope; you'd lower 'em, fill 'em, lift 'em, then swing 'em over the side of the well. You'd then release the water into the bucket you'd carry to the house.

Chances are you haven't seen a bored well bucket in years. And, chances are, you've never seen one like the ones now in stock at Sarah's Gifts and Things, 706 S. Magnolia.

Under the talented hands of Sarah Holmes, owner of the shop, the old buckets have been transformed from discarded relics of the past to bright, decorative conversation pieces.

One, in particular, never looked so good. It's painted shiny black and it's covered with the reddest strawberries you've ever seen. It probably doesn't hold water. This one is filled with memories and a lot of imagination. Why not stop by and have a look.

IT'S NOT GETTING OLDER. IT'S GETTING BETTER - Who'd have ever thought, back before the days of indoor plumbing, that wash stands would someday be cherished as antiques? Who'd of dreamed then that someday the stands would be put to service in entry halls, dens and even kitchens - put to service as desks, storage units and even as extra counter space for rolling out pie crust.

At one time the stands were valued for their utilitarian contribution. Today, antique wash stands provide versatility and are valued not only as a nostalgic link to the past, but in some cases, as an investment for the future.

If you're in the market for such an item, we've found a beauty. It's at Family Affairs Antiques, Highway 190 West.

According to shop owner, Belle Mahan, the wash stand is made from American oak and is solid wood. It's fashioned in the East Lake design. It's slightly more decorative than some and has brass trim as well as antique brass pulls.

If you're wondering where you'd put in, remember, they are versatile and this one's worth making room for.

SPECIAL DELIVERY - It hasn't been so long ago since you could count on knowing your neighbors by their first name, betting on the Dodgers and having them win, and finding a chicken in every pot.

On "chicken to the bone" mornings, you could also count on opening the door and finding a white tower of milk, frozen right out of the bottle.

It's not likely that you'll find that anymore. It's not that the weather has changed; times have and so has the dairy industry.

The only modern touch the company has added is color, says "Bill" Gray. The bottles are in pink, pale wisteria, and old drug store blue. They're terrific!

NEW PLACES - Wolf Creek Expressions has recently opened in Colmesnell and is turning out some beautifully crafted leather items. The business is owned by Robert and Denise Wyche, along with Robert's mother, Fran Wyche.

According to the team, they specialize in handcrafted Apache boots. They also offer decorative bookbags, belts, and personalized orders.

If you'd like to get in touch with Wolf Creek Expressions, call 409-837-2933.

"Wheels-For-Life" Bike-A-Thon Held Locally April 28

Woodville, April 14, 1984. Bike-a-thon chairman, Inez Knight today asked Woodville residents to participate in the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels-For-Life" Bike-a-thon to be held April 28th at Woodville Football Field.

Riders are needed for the Bike-a-thon to raise funds for the world-famous research center and its battle against childhood cancer and other catastrophic childhood diseases.

Mrs. Knight said this year's ride is being dedicated to Terry, a leukemia patient at St. Jude's Hospital.

"By riding for Terry, we'll really be helping all stricken children since research is the only way these illnesses can be conquered," Mrs. Knight said.

"We are looking for people who will contribute some of their time and energy to help children live. We really need bike riders, since they are the ones who can make this Bike-a-thon successful."

In the Bike-a-thon, riders enlist sponsors who donate a sum for each mile completed. Riders who raise $25 will receive a St. Jude T-shirt, and those raising $75 will receive a barrel tote bag," said Mrs. Knight. Sponsor forms are available at any school office.

"You can put your muscles to work for a child's life in this Bike-a-thon," Mrs. Knight said. "We need every bike and every rider."

Interested persons can contact Troy Holiman, Rt. 1 Box 77, Woodville, Tx. 283-2379. St. Jude Hospital was founded by entrepreneur Danny Thomas, and operates primarily from public contributions.

Alan Miller's T-WHEELER

Frankly, the press coverage of the 1984 presidential campaign leaves us more than a little overwhelmed. Networks forecasting the results. Commentators pontificating on the nuances of the campaign. There's Gary Hart born? Is Mondale a tool of the special interests? Who's backing Jesse Jackson?

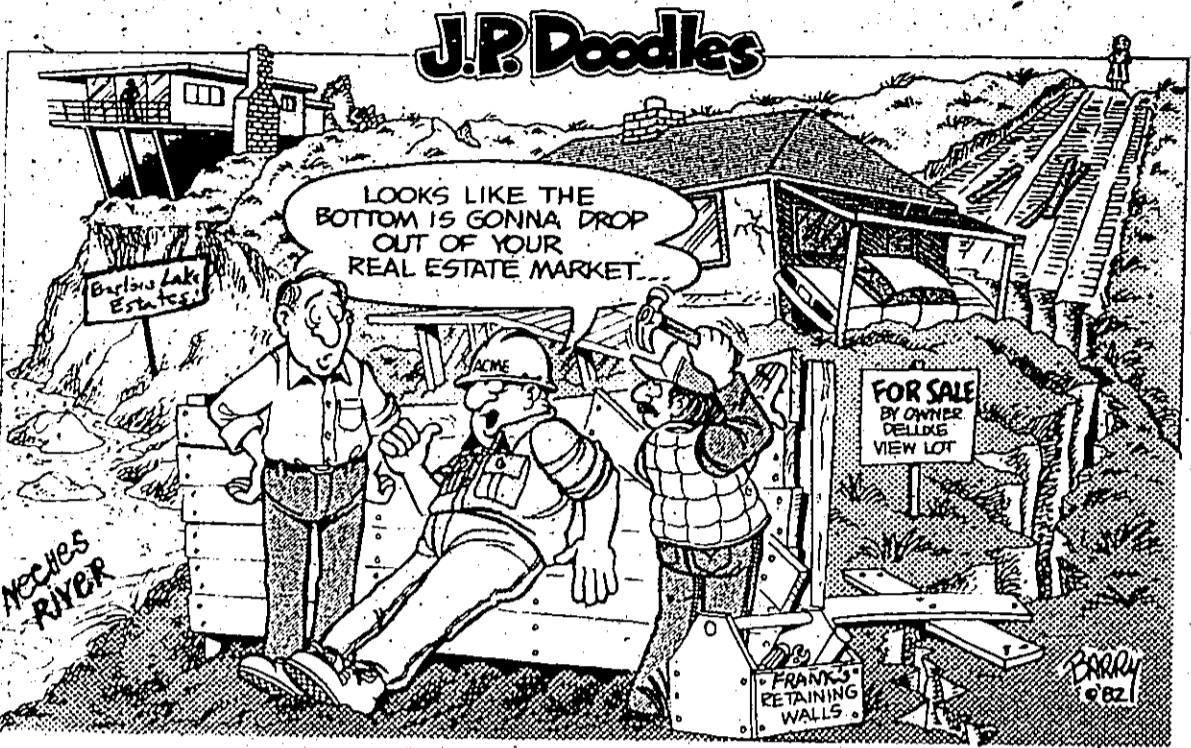

All this sort of pales when we remember being a part of the local press that covered the Truman campaign in 1948. Back then passenger trains still ran on time, and there were schedules that reached almost every city and hamlet across the country. Truman wasn't given a snowball's chance of beating New York Governor Tom Dew.

True, World War Two had been over a couple of years, but nobody was crediting Harry with that. And after all the British brassies Winston Churchill out of office almost before the guns were stilled. Harry decided he would whistle-stop the country, making stops along the way to press home his disgust with the "doing nothing Republican Congress." It might amaze you to know that back then the Republicans did control the Congress.

We had the good fortune to pick up the tour in Spokane, Washington, and ride it to the town of Wenatchee, about halfway across the state on the road to Seattle. Remember seeing pictures of the observation car on trains of years ago didn't know Harry Truman in office, and a fringed canopy overhead. The car wasn't Harry's office, but it was a press car and place to greet the press and the party faithful.

For those of you who don't know eastern Washington state, there are but a few small towns, about the size of Dufur, a little like Mexia, Texas, without the oil wells. When we watch the slick performance of the most part of the tour, but the amazing thing was that Harry's arrival. People crowded the tracks and platforms just for a chance to see him, and listen to what he had to say.

The speech didn't vary much. Con- sidered caught hell. As Harry was to say, "I am very proud that so many of you express my love and appreciation to election and have de- voted your support to my trust- worthy candidate for the Spurger School Board. I am very excited

Wilson Tackles Hydrilla

WASHINGTON, Rep. Charles Wilson (D-TX) today announced pro- grams in cooperative ef- forts to solve the hydrilla weed infestation problem in the Houston County Lake. At Wilson's request, funds have been made avail- able to the Army Corps of Engineers to expedite their search for possible solutions.

Hydrilla is a fast-growing aquatic weed. It is choking the lake system. Although there is no immediate threat to the area's water supply, recreational use of the lake - which is im- portant to local economy - will be severely limited if the spread of hydrilla continues.

Hunting, Fishing and Lying

The weather continues to interfere with three fish fishing. A front seems to be moving through every other day and the wind blows continuously. I don't think there has been a good fishing day in three weeks. I went Wednesday the 11th and it was blowing from all directions. We caught 8 fish with one nearly 4 lbs. Fished a tournament out of six miles on Toledo.

Fishing Report

Saturday and we caught three fish. The wind was terrible and the tournament was delayed 30 minutes every other day and the thunderstorm could pass through. Some fellows waited until Sunday to fish so the wind would instead of better. The fish have not completed their spawn yet and I wonder if they ever will.

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Core-Trust's Managerial Consulting Relations

A look at "local measured service"

Perhaps you've heard about a new optional type of service that Bell Telephone of Texas is proposing for its Texas customers. It's called Local Measured Service (LMS). Simply put, LMS would give you the option of paying for your direct use of the telephone network.

Southwestern Bell Telephone's LMS proposal to the Public Utility Commission (PUC) includes an option that would lower fixed monthly charges while adding a monthly usage charge for each completed outgoing call. Those calls would be billed on the basis of distance, duration of the call and the time of day.

Another option would be a "LIFELINE" service at a $5 monthly fee. This service would be targeted to the elderly on poverty level income. The rate would include a usage allowance of 25 completed outgoing local calls. Additional completed outgoing local calls would be billed out at the rate of cents each. Customers would not be charged for incoming calls under either plan.

It's your option

LMS is for residential customers, as well as single-line, one-party business customers. And of course you could keep the current "flat-rate" monthly service if you'd prefer.

These new local service pricing plans would be available within 60 days of Commission approval in 89 offices which currently serve over 2,500,000 customer lines. The company plans to equip the remaining offices within two years after approval.

I think you'll agree there are several benefits to measured service. It would give you options for choosing the plan that gives you more control over your phone bill. You'd also have the option of paying for the service you used, rather than subsidizing those who use their phones a great deal more than you do.

While LMS as a standard service offering would be new to Southwestern Bell Telephone's Texas customers, it isn't new in Texas. Customers of three other companies in the Lone Star State - General Telephone, Continental Telephone and Century - are taking advantage of LMS. And like us, other companies - United Tel. Palo Pinto Tel and Mustang Tel - have requests pending with the PUC.

Customer interest

We're proposing the service because we've known there has been a need for optional pricing in Texas. Last summer we conducted a survey to determine customer interest in LMS.

We found that interest was strong, particularly among those customers making fewer local calls or shorter duration calls. The results also showed that customers want wide choices to how they pay for service by having the ability to match their cost to their calling needs.

At this time, PUC hearings on LMS are set to begin Sept. 24 in Austin. You can look for more information about LMS in the special insert in your telephone bill.

A new brochure, "Services for Disabled Customers," is now available. It has information on disabled services and how to contact AT&T's National Special Needs Center. You can get a copy by writing to:

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. "Services for the Disabled" P.O. Box 20265 Dallas, Texas 75265
