

Public Open Hearing Eyed At Warren School

By Annabeth Willis
Did color make a difference in the hiring and non-renewal of Warren coach and teacher James Wolf?

That's a question which the Warren School Board may have to address this week and in the weeks to come if the recently discharged Coach Wolf follows through with a letter requesting an open hearing on the matter at the next board meeting now set for Tuesday, August 28th.

In a plea for reinstatement Monday at a special called meeting, Wolf said, "I need my job; I want my job; my family is involved...we're hanging by a thread."

Wolf, a former graduate of Warren High School and Prairie View A & M University, was the first and only black teacher in the district since integration in 1956. Wolf stated that he was teaching in California in 1983 when he was contacted by the Warren District about the possibility of accepting a teaching position. He said that he informed Superintendent Adolph Hryhorchuk that he was not qualified for the position, but that Hryhorchuk told him that an emergency certificate could be obtained until the deficient coursework could be obtained.

Wolf said, "It was an honor to return to the school I graduated from." He was placed in charge of the district's detention hall and given coaching duties. Wolf produced a letter from Hryhorchuk to the Texas Education Agency supporting his claim that he was hired because he was black. In the letter requesting a Special Emergency Permit for Wolf, Hryhorchuk wrote, "I realize Mr. Wolf's deficiency, but for years I have attempted to employ a black person in the district and have been unsuccessful."

Wolf graduated from Warren and participated in school, college, and professional, and we felt he would be the person to fill this vacancy. After Mr. Wolf accepted the position there were a few negative comments made about his employment. For that reason I think it is imperative that this permit be granted. Warren integrated its black and white schools in 1956, and Wolf will be the first black teacher."

Wolf stated that he felt he was hired because the Accreditation Board from the Texas Education Agency was scheduled to visit Warren during 1983-84, and it would help the District to have a black on the teaching staff.

Wolf was told during the school year that he would have to take six college hours during the summer or he would not be rehired. He said that he took three hours, but was unable to take the other three hours due to the class being closed prior to his registration.

He produced a letter from Lamar University which verified this. Wolf was told August 1 that his contract would not be renewed. He feels that he was used for one year to satisfy any questions the Texas Education Agency may have had if the District did not have a black teacher. The Agency visits school districts every five years for accreditation. Wolf said that under the law his emergency certificate is renewable for two more years.

Hryhorchuk's response to Wolf's was, "This is not a hearing...I don't intend to respond...some of the things he said were out of order...I have everything on file...Mr. Wolf is not certified to teach...I was in contact with the agency at all times...what I have done was in accordance with the law."

Board Members Kenneth Gregory and Walter McPherson emphasized the fact that they did not vote to employ Wolf because he was black, but because they felt he was qualified for the job.

Marriage/Divorce In Texas

June is a bitter-sweet month in Texas. More marriages occurred during June last year than any other month, but more divorces also were granted during this month, reports the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health. During the month, 30,555 couples said "I do." Also popular were July with 18,801 marriages, September with 17,805, and December with 17,800. During these four months, more than 36 percent of the 199,037 marriages took place last year. The least popular month for marriage was January with 13,133 weddings. February with 13,595, November with 15,315, and March with 15,459 followed January in the lowest totals. Marriages were more common among brides under the age of 20 than any other age category. There were 42,575 brides below the age of 20 and 917 under the age of 15 in Texas. Bridgrooms under the age of 20 numbered 18,855, while 38 were under the age of 15. The month with the least number of brides was 26 and for brides 23. On the other end of the love and marriage scale were 97,061 divorces. June led the way with 8,900 marital break-ups. The month with the least number of divorces granted was February with 6,879. The wife involved in divorces was most likely to be in her 20's (43,552) while the husband was most likely to be in the 25-34 age range (40,959). Younger Texans were the only ones getting divorces. Couples married 35 years or more went into the divorce courts 107 times to have their marriages terminated.

Fall football action is underway and whether you're a big sports fan yourself or just married to one, we've found something special for you. Let's go see! The console even comes with a sleep timer on the remote control that lets you command the set to turn off automatically after one hour. More important though, according to Johnny Walker, with this console you get Sony's Emmy-award-winning one-gun/one-lens picture tube that features their exclusive Aperture Grill and full, square cornered vertical screen. Go into the season with a winner!

HOOKED ON BOOKS - Several years ago I read an analogy. A rather acute writer had compared modern football games to pagan fertility rites. The similarity of the two was striking. Frankly, I've never been able to watch the game since without thinking of young maidens and gallant warriors wondering which clan got the golden egg. Nevertheless, football is America's favorite pastime. We love the Cowboys, we curse the Oilers and alot of us wouldn't miss a game if our lives depended on it. Husbands are especially enthusiastic about football. If your's is and you're not, you've got a wonderful suggestion. Drop by Janie's Book Nook, 311 South Magnolia. Janie Palmdexter carries new and used books and has several categories including classic, romance, science fiction, Gothic and historical. Besides being able to purchase books at 1/2 price without trade and 1/4 price with trade, customers can special order from Janie's catalogues.

SNAP, CRACKLE AND POP - "Pop Corn," wrote W. Atlee Burpee in one of his very early seed catalogues, "should be found in every garden, especially if there are children to enjoy it during the long winter evenings. It is a fact not generally known that pop corn pops best when more than one year old, and that, when well popped, it becomes twenty times its normal size; thus, a quart and a half will make nearly a bushel of popped corn." After reading Mr. Burpee's annual little-lecture on popcorn, readers would likely find a picture of a popper, hints on how to construct one of their own, and half-a-dozen or more varieties of popcorn seed. A lot of us don't plant popcorn, and that's where Orville Redenbacher picks up from where W. Atlee Burpee left off. Orville doesn't tell us how to do it; he does it for us and has been doing so through 40 generations of corn. The result, a gourmet popping corn (as Orville sees it) that's "right from the cornfield," fresh. Each ear is dried and shelled; the kernels are sorted and polished; then vacuum packed in resealable glass jars. Look for Orville Redenbacher's Gourmet Popping Corn at Brookshire Bros., 201 North Charlton.

To complement this nutritious and economical snack, blend some Italian herb or garlic butter. It'll melt in your mouth.

"Impossible Pie" Does The Impossible

From time to time, plate. Biequick baking mix, milk and eggs are mixed in the blender and poured into the pie plate; then the potluck suppers and whole dish goes into the oven. It's the modern way to bring old-fashioned flavor back to the dinner table. Why impossible? Because this versatile recipe seems to do the impossible... it makes its own crust while it bakes. That's a real boon to homemakers who don't have the time or want the bother of making a crust. The Impossible Pie originated in the mid-1960's. Passed along by word of mouth and through recipe exchanges, recipes for the custard-like creations soared in popularity. Today, the Impossible Pies that are appropriate for everything from main dishes to desserts. Impossible Pies are made with three basic steps-blend, pour, and bake. It has been said that about 90% of the calamities that people worry about never happen, and one of the great secrets of achieving a life with any kind of serenity or peace of mind is the art of distinguishing between legitimate worries and the other kind that merely cause a great deal of needless anxiety. Another barrier to serenity is the inability to separate the conditions that must be accepted from those that can be changed. This problem of human nature has been spelled out on wall plaques, among other places. By attending your church or Temple you will learn to rely on God's unfailing guidance for the wisdom and courage which will enable you to cope with every situation in life. For only then will you ever learn the true meaning of the word serenity.

Legislation Passed To Protect Texas' Children

Legislation passed in motor vehicles than any other state in the Texas Legislature last June will reduce Texas residents to the steps designed to reduce child deaths and injuries. The requirement applies to passenger cars and light trucks while operating on any public street, or highway in the state. The safety seat used must meet the federal standards for crash tested restraint systems as set by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and must be used in accordance to the instructions of the manufacturer of the safety seat system. A resident transporting a child two years of age or older and under four years of age must either secure the child in an approved child passenger safety seat system. The legislature expressed its concern about the safety of children as a result of a bill which will be punishable by a fine of not less than $25 or more than $50. It is a defense to prosecution however, if a person charged with the offense proves that a child passenger safety seat system was not available or that the child was under the age of two years. The bill also provides for a fine of not less than $25 or more than $50. It is a defense to prosecution however, if a person charged with the offense proves that a child passenger safety seat system was not available or that the child was under the age of two years.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

It is senility an inevitable consequence of advanced age? Not at all. The recent attention to Alzheimer's disease and other conditions which can cause the symptom of senility has led some people to wrongly believe that the majority of older citizens are affected. Research at the University of California indicates that the intellectual functioning of the vast majority of people remains intact in old age. Serious intellectual impairment affects only about five percent of people over 65, while 20 percent of those over 75 are seriously affected. As he celebrated more than a half century in show business, comedian Henry Youngman told interviewers that he had absolutely no plans for retirement. At 77, Henry was still delivering his jokes to 200 audiences a year, a backbreaking schedule for any performer. "I refuse to what I do," he said. "I don't play golf, I don't play tennis. And I think I'm better now than I ever was!"

Get your facts first, then you can distort them as much as you please. Mark Twain

Alan Miller's T-WHEELER

It took an aroused legislature in 1872 to figure out that we were going to have to do something about public education in Texas. Teachers wanted more pay, parents wanted more discipline in the classrooms. Even the holy of holies, high school football, came under attack.

Well, we taxpayers are going to chip in to see that some of these problems are addressed. And for some of us, that tax load will be added to when the district budgets become known.

Oh, to be a school board back in 1872. We wish we knew where the following set of rules originated, but believe it or not, the T-Wheeler can remember that some of them were still in effect when he was a first grader back in 1930.

Teachers each day will fill lamps and clean chimneys.

Remember, this was 1872, before REA and Grand Coulee Dam.

Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.

Isn't it quite clear whether the water is for the teacher since she apparently handles the coal, or if one bucket of water is supposed to last the class for the entire day.

Teachers can take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.

Now we can be reasonably sure that "courting" in 1872 was a very active evening at the local drive-in movie tent sure wasn't visiting the hooker on Highway 94. Probably meant sitting on the front porch on a glider with your girl with about as much chance of publicly touching her as Walter Moulton has of smooching with Fern.

After ten hours in school, the teachers may spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.

The catch here is that there were probably not too many other good books in 1872. Maybe the local Charles Dickens and Louisa May Alcott. Certainly not Lolita or From Here to There.

Senator Blake Reports On Education Reforms

Austin, Texas (AP)—Senator Blake reported today that the Texas Legislature has passed a series of education reforms that will increase the minimum monthly salary for teachers to $114 until Step 10 is reached.

Provision was made for teachers who were teaching last year to be placed on the step of the 1984-85 schedule that would increase their minimum monthly salary by at least $170.

This means that teachers with Bachelor's degrees and six years experience and teachers with Master's degrees and four years experience will start at Step 0, which is the minimum.

As you might expect, many of the experienced teachers in those circumstances regarded their placement at Step 0, the same as a beginning teacher, as unfair.

While I would not argue, I would point out that no teacher's minimum salary in the 1984-85 school year will be increased by less than $170 a month. When the bill came from conference committee, it provided for teachers who were teaching last year to be placed on the step of the 1984-85 schedule that would increase their minimum monthly salary by at least $170.

The same bill that changed the minimum salary schedule provided for a career ladder plan which would allow a teacher, on the basis of experience, evaluation and continuing education or training, to earn more than the state minimum. Experienced teachers will get a head start in getting on the career ladder. I will discuss the career ladder in my next report.

THE GARDEN EDITOR

Acrobatic Clematis is the neighborhood show-off, climbing trees and fences, covering trellises, filling arbors, scrambling up poles and mailboxes to flash its brilliant flowers.

Clematis is a beautiful vine all season, but it saves its real show for midsummer, when the verdant foliage is pushed aside by a sheath of enormous blooms. The Clematis flower is unique in that it has no true petals, but petal-like sepals instead. Because of this trait, the blooms have an unusual velvety texture and rich color intensity.

Three luscious Clematis colors that are the bloomingest, climbingest, sturdiest vines you can drape about your yard are Jackmani a violet-purple, earnest Markham a bright red and Nelly Moser a lavender-pink.

Jackmani offers rich violet-purple blooms, a color that has been prized since the variety was first exhibited in England in 1863. It is the first of the large-flowered hybrids (4-5") ever developed, and it remains the all-time favorite of Clematis fanciers.

Ernest Markham is a bright petunia red that will set your lawn aglow with its vibrant tones and huge 5-7" bloom size.

Nelly Moser is everything you'd expect from a lady—delicate, refined, and radiant in two-toned lavender-pink.

The Clematis will thrive in ordinary garden soil but loam containing lime is perhaps the ideal. If lime is lacking and the soil is light and sand, loam, cow manure, and crushed limestone should be added, the ground being dug to a depth of two feet. An annual mulching with decayed manure or compost early in June is of great benefit as it not only supplies plant food but keeps the roots cool and moist.

Mis or match colorful Clematis for new excitement in your yard this summer. You'll find a thousand uses for this versatile plant.

CONSUMER CORNER

E.T. may have stolen your heart, but EFT is going to take your checkbook.

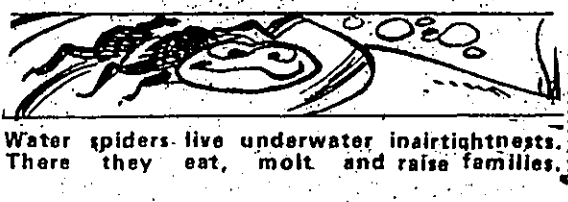

Bankers predict the day isn't far off when EFT—electronic funds transfer—will make your checkbooks all but obsolete, give you 24-hour access to your financial assets (even the equity in your home), and virtually eliminate conventional bank card fraud.

Bringing the efficiency of electronics to banking may make things easier and less costly for everyone.

EFT's best-known form is the automated teller. Some 40,000 automated tellers let U.S. consumers withdraw cash from savings or checking accounts, using an electronic "check" called a debit card.

Increasingly, debit cards will be accepted at retail stores in place of cash and checks. Stores will be electronically linked to banks so that debit cards can be used to transfer cash from the consumer's to the retailer's account.

While there may always be some need for checks, companies are trying to simplify and add greater safety to the way we transact business. Visa, for example, plans to introduce a talking terminal that reads electronic data on a card, dials a computer and informs the merchant—in English—whether to accept or reject a purchase. The company reports that it is also looking at a machine that would protect the legitimate cardholder by verifying signatures. The device's electronic "eye" would actually watch the way the customer writes and then decide whether the signature matches the one on file in a computer.

JUST THINKING

Many people think that sin is nothing more than a violation of human relationship. They consider an action sinful only if it is frowned upon by society, if it violates their own conscience, or if it is harmful to someone. To such people, correcting sin is nothing more than making things right with other people. When this is done they feel a peaceful release.

But sin is more than this. Sin is any deviation from God's will. "All unrighteousness is sin." 1 John 5:17. It may be doing what God disapproves. "Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law; for sin is the transgression of the law." 1 John 3:4. Or, it may be failing to do right. "Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." James 4:17.

Sin is more serious than most people realize and it explains the penalty attached to it: "For the wages of sin is death." Romans 6:23. It means, also, that no man is forgiven until all is right with God.

God is perfectly holy and infinitely just. Justice demands that God punish sin with that penalty which His justice prescribes for the guilty - death. How do we get out of this predicament?

"Listen to Paul in Ephesians 2:4-5: "But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ." God provided His own Son as a shield to receive the blow in place of sinful man.

Truly, Jesus is the Way to forgiveness of sins. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins." Eph. 1:7. How does one come in contact with His blood? The answer next week.
