With the exception of breakfast cereals, most Americans avoid grains in their diet with the misguided notion that they are fattening. Grains and cereals contain no more calories and fewer fats than meat and they provide complex carbohydrates, B vitamins, iron, magnesium, and fiber. Thesefoods will also satisfy your hunger far better than sweets and fats. It is recommended that we cat 4 servings from the bread, cereal, and grains ood group each day. County Agents Report

Well, the freeze this month has seriously affected many of the gardens and yards here in Tyler County. If your corn wasn't jointed, it should come back out and most of the potatoes I've seen should be alright. Of the peaches and pears I've checked, it looks like they will have a 90% loss. On your azaleas, bridal wreaths and other flowering shrubs, they will probably drop all their blooms, but the plants should recover. Dr. Jim Robinson and Dr. George will be in town on Monday, April 13 to give a program on plant disease and insects. in your yard and garden. The program

Job Well Done

LETTER TO THE EDITOR: On behalf of the employees of the Deep East Texas Council of Governments, we would like to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to Judge Allen Sturrock for the support he has given us during his tenure as Tyler County Judge and wish him our best as he retires from county government next, month. Not only has he represented. Tyler County with a unique style of leadership, he has also represented your county with distinction throughout the State of Texas: East Texans espeically benefited from his leadership during the time he served as President of the Deep East Texas Council of Governments. As a result of his efforts and those of other local government officials in East Texas, over $7.000,000 of our tax dollars are returned to East Texas communities each year. These tax dollars are working to get the unemployed back on the tax rolls by improving their skills and helping them find jobs, to assist small businesses in securing loans to expand and grow in the community, to provide adequate housing for low income residents, to provide nutritional meals and a social environment for senior citizens and to assist them in serving their communities through meaningful volunteer ser-

The Tyler County Commissioners Court and the City Council of Woodville, acting through their twelvecounty regional association of local governments (DETCOG), have made it possible for the citizens of Tyler County to benefit from the following programs: 1. Housing Assstance: there are currently 15 one bedroom, 16 two bedroom, 7 three bedroom and 2 four bedroom HUD Section 8 rental units in Tyler County for an annual value of 2. Senior Citizens Services: approximately $50,000 per year are provided for nutritional meals, home-delivered meals and supportive services for senior citizens in Tyler County.

3. Volunteer Services: there are currently 49 senior citizens providing their services free to various organizations in Tyler County for a total of 10,416 hours per year. Even at minimum wages, the value of those services in $34,894 per year.

4. Job Training and Employment: three Tyler County residents are employed under a "work experience!" program valued at $6,084, seventeen are involved in an "on-the-job training" program valued at $34,162, seven are enrolled in "Classroom training" worth $7,000 and twenty-four will b eligible for the "Summer Youth" program at a value of $32,160. 5. SMAIL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

MOST SMAIL BUSINESSES DONT HAVE A BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO GUIDE THEM. Most have no management committees in fact, imany small businesses are run by the owner and his or her spouse and a few employees.

It is difficult for small family operations to compete with the management capacity of large chain stores of turnkey franchise operations.

Perhaps the following ideas can save you some time and money and make your small business more profitable:

"Keep your accountant, bunker, insurance agent, and lawyer informed as your business progresses. These people consult regularly with numerous businesses, and will help you avoid pitfalls in making business decisions.

"To sell right, you have to but light. It you're young to offer your customers prices that are competitive, you must buy right. Aftend wholesale auctions, buy factory direct where possible? and establish a buying co-up with other small, but non-competing business.

"Customer service it costs and it pays. You're entire staff should be aware that the customer provides all the paychecks and determines all future raises. Since your company is small, it's easy to implement customer staff should be aware that the customer provides all the paychecks and determines all future raises. Since your company is small, it's easy to implement customer staff should be aware that the customer provides all the paychecks and telermines all future raises. Since your company is small, it's easy to implement customer staff should be aware thought businesses around the country. You II flud out what others are soing at the country.
