Chester Lions Record High Yearly Attendance

Mann Receives BBA In Finance

Lee Perry Mann received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree on May 7, 1988 from Abilene Christian University in Abilene. His major was in accounting and awards are presented on five-year intervals of Lion membership in the International Lions Club.

Lee is a 1983 graduate of Woodville High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Mann, Jr. of Woodville.

One 75 watt bulb gives more light than three 25 watt bulbs.

Chester Lions Club members averaged 76.95% attendance for the 1987-1988 Lions year ending on June 30, with ten members receiving perfect attendance awards. President Robert Vinsor presented awards to Lions Arthur Barnes, James Hughes, Harold Sturrock, J.W. Willson, Bower Pool, Harold Lewis, Neal Hartman, Clarence Seaman, Frank Pickett and J.E. Seaman. Lions Harold Sturrock and James (Rusty) Hughes were present at 100% of the meetings. Lions attendance rules allows members to make up absences by attending other Clubs and giving a written excuse for illness, job related or other that make it impossible for a member to attend.

Tammy Fort Attends Leadership Confab

CINCINNATI, Ohio—Tammy Fort, a senior at Woodville High School, Woodville, Texas, was one of 1,500 teens selected from 300,000 home economics students na-nationally to attend Future Homemakers of America's annual leadership meeting, July 11-14 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The youth-developed meeting theme "Mission IS Possible" describes a renewed commitment to three aspects of Future Homemakers of America's goal—public awareness, increased membership and responsible citizens.

"Participated in eight hours of STAR Events that trained us for our region," Tammy said. "And the workshops on business etiquette and building family traditions will help give our new chapter new ideas for projects."

The Woodville Future Homemakers of America sponsored Tammy's trip through money making projects. A member of the Woodville F.H.A./T.R.O. chapter for four years, Tammy is a chapter officer. Their adviser is Judy Collier. Tammy is the daughter of Jesse Fort of Woodville.

Future Homemakers of America is a national vocational student organization of 300,000 home economics students through grade 12. It is the only in-school student organization with family relations, community service, future careers and the changing roles of men and women in the home and workplace as its central focus. Program emphasis prepares youth for their adult roles in a complex society and panels.

If you are interested in altogether, students at this year's Future Homemakers of America annual meeting chose from over 150 hours of workshops and events. Activities focused on helping them strengthen and expand their abilities as public speakers, project planners, chapter organizers, and responsible citizens.

Since the meeting is also a training conference, members learn to channel their leadership skills into projects resulting in personal achievement and the accomplishment of chapter goals that affect the family, school and community. Conference participants shared successful projects related to youth concerns. And, the planned activities focused on national programs reviewed at the meeting.

A number of these youth concerns—teenage pregnancy and parenthood, AIDS prevention, substance abuse, fitness and nutrition, teen stress, child emotional abuse, family relations, community service, future careers and the changing roles of men and women in the home and workplace—were among the topics discussed at the conference through issues sessions, hands-on workshops and panels.
