Woman's Study Club

City Council Expresses Appreciation To Club

The Woodville City Council said a formal "thank you" to members of the Woodville Woman's Study Club for their work placing "Welcome to Woodville" signs at each entrance to the city limits.

Mayor Tom Knapp presented a formal resolution commending the group for their work to project coordinator Georgia Collins, acknowledging, also, other club members present who worked on the project.

In other action the council agreed to purchase some $500,000 of insurance at a cost of $7,000, for any possible "material failure" of the flexible road material the council intends to purchase, in order to implement the $2 million in bonds for road construction and maintenance over the next two years.

"That's a pretty good lick," said Councilman Dr. Brian Babin, in reference to the cost of the insurance. But the motion passed, however, on a motion by Councilman Doug Tolbert, seconded by Councilman Gordon Anderson.

The council heard alternate suggestions from

City Manager Walt Davis concerning where to locate the ten-inch sewer line to the Gib Lewis Prison Unit, to be located one mile northeast of Woodville. Forest Lakes Development owner Carl Nichols expressed some concern about the sewer line routes outlined by Davis which circumvent his lake property.

"I'll cooperate 100 percent," Nichols said, adding, "but, I do want to see the plans first."

The council agreed to "walk off" the sewer line site location with the landowner in order to gain his approval for the plan.

The Way We Were:

A Rumble Seat Will Cost Extra

Many Tyler County residents refer to the 1930's as the "Good Ol' Days."

Looking back through "The County Booster" files, we see that although the Great Depression was in full swing in 1935, Tyler County fared pretty well. Fortunately, rural areas like this county had the farming industry which fared better than many others.

Below are some of the advertisements that ran in this newspaper during 1935:

The top of the line Delux Roadster had a rumble seat, and cost $550. The standard accessory group included a spare tire cost extra. The Universal Credit Company asked for a small down payment, but offered convenient, economical terms. All of these models could be found at Sutton-Fair Chevrolet in Woodville.

The "Booster" advertised such classy events as the Metropolitan Grand Opera, direct from its New York stage. The three-hour radio broadcast was sponsored by Listerine (manufacturer of mouth wash), and boasted Geraldine Farrar as its announcer.

The Community Public Service Company offered the triple-filtering console radio, which banishes radio frontiers, for $69.95. It had three tuning bands, a code filter, an air-place dial, 10-inch dynamic speaker and a full-floating variable condenser. Also, the Community Public Service Company, a utility company claimed to offer a "liberal allowance" for your trade-in.

Regular commercial broadcast radios were advertised as low as $29.95.

Another ad stated that you could reduce your ironing time one-third with a Coleman self-heating iron. It's entirely self-heating with no cords or wires. This iron burned its own gas, and lit instantly. According to the ad, it cost only one-half cent an hour to operate.

J.W. Pate Feed and Seed Store in Woodville sold Armour's Big Crop Fertilizers, which were made in Texas for Texas crops and soils.

J.H. Fains, in Doucette, had its 29th anniversary sale in 1935, and offered a 48-pound sack of Shawnee's Flour for $1.85. Also, you could buy good quality ladies rayon "stepins" for 15-cents.

Temple Foundation

Camp Ta-Ku-La Receives $33,000 Donation

Camp Ta-Ku-La, Inc., youth camp at Chester, has been given $33,000 by the T.L.L. Temple Foundation to assist in funding completion of the camp's meeting and housing facilities.

According to Camp Ta-Ku-La President, Dr. Steve Hays, 20,000 hours of donated labor have cleared land and restored a landmark building on the site.

The Temple Foundation grant made it possible for Camp Ta-Ku-La to receive an additional $100,000 from another source. "These dollars will permit us to complete the project," says Hays, "and establish a youth camp to serve East Texas. The T.L.L. Temple Foundation makes grants to nonprofit organizations and government agencies primarily in the East Texas Timber Belt. It was established by members of the Temple family in honor of the founder of the Southern Pine Lumber Company, now Temple-Inland Inc.

East Texas Officials Host Legislative Reception

AUSTIN-Deep East Texas officials lived up to their reputation Monday night when they hosted a reception for lawmakers here. The reception, hosted by the Deep East Texas County Commissioners' and County Judges' Association and the Deep East Delegation who were honored include newly elected Sen. William "Bill" Haley, Sen. Kent Caperton, newly elected State Rep. Curtis Sollean and Jerry Johnson, State Rep. Billy Clemmons, Allen Hightower, Ron Lewis and Mike McKinney.

Commerce. Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives Gibb Lewis, Attorney General Jim Mattox, Comptroller Bob Bullock and several administrators and Tribal Council members of the Alabama Coushatta Indian Reservation were there.

According to Commissioner Riley, the reception was much more than a social event. "This reception gives us the opportunity to meet with not only lawmakers," said Riley, "but also many others who make important decisions about Tyler County."

The reception provided Tyler County officials a chance to talk with upper level officials about the possibility of locating additional prison units or TDC offices in the county, and with key figures involved in grant allocations and other agency funding decisions, added Riley.

On Tuesday State Treasurer Ann Richards was scheduled as the keynote speaker following a breakfast held in conjunction with the reception. Richards, a possible candidate in the next gubernatorial election, was scheduled to speak at "Booster" press time.

The 71st Texas Legislature Begins Tuesday

Texas Council of Governments, has a reputation as being the best of the many similar receptions held to honor legislators, and welcome them to the 71st Texas Legislature.

The 140-day session began Tuesday, following a swearing-in ceremony at the state Capitol. Legislators of the Deep East Texas Legislative

About 450 people attended the reception, including several Tyler County officials.

Sheriff Gary Hemmigan, Tyler County Hospital Administrator John Tucker, Citizen's State Bank Board of Directors Vice-Chairman John Coker, F.M. "Polly" Archer, and Dr. Bill Nichols, were among the several county residents attending. County Judge Jerome Owens and commissioners Maxie Riley and Jerry Mahan were there, as well as former Judges Allen Sturrock and Josiah Wheat.

Almost every state office was represented at the event, including officials from the state departments of Health, Air, Control, Board, Corrections, Public Safety, Mental Health and Marriage, and Reception. The state Capitol is in the background.

Congressmen Asking 50% Raise

It must be tough being a congressman. A congressman's sole purpose for running for that office is to serve those who put him in office. He works tirelessly to make life better for the everyday, hardworking people in his district. That's probably why he spends up to $1 million campaigning to secure your vote. And, once he takes office, you can bet your best interests are at the bottom line of why he ran for office in the first place. Take for instance the 50-percent pay raise congressmen are asking for. It's only reasonable that the current salaries of senators and congressmen, $89,500, be raised to $135,000. After all, it's tough looking after your best interests. And so what if he enjoys such "perks" in office as: •Pensions—Since 1937, members of the Senate and House have been able to invest up to 10-percent of their base pay in a 401 (k) pension plan. No problem, taxpayers only match up to five-percent of the salary, or $4,475 a year. These congressmen are also covered under social security, and may contribute up to eight-percent of their pay to a Civil Service retirement program. Members of Congress begin drawing their pension at age 50 after 20 years of service, or age 60 after 10 years. According to a column in the "Houston Chronicle," consumer advocate Ralph Nader, who opposes the pay raise, said that a study showed lifetime benefits paid to the average career civil servant total $730,635, compared to $208,408 to the average participant in a private pension plan. •Foreign Travel—Nader said members of Congress are given office space, office furniture and equipment, stationary supplies, mobile office, travel expenses on official business, leasing an automobile, use of the congressional residence. •Free Airport Parking—Members of Congress park free in reserved lots located at the terminals at Washington National and Dulles airports. But never mind these. They're necessary to help your congressman while he's representing your best interests. And if you'll look at the record, that's just what he does. Take for instance the whopping four-percent raise Congress allowed for the social security and military retirement recipients this year. Congressmen claim it's much more expensive living in Washington, therefore they need that 50-percent increase. But it doesn't matter whether you live in Washington or East Texas, if you are a retired vet or elderly person living on a fixed income, you'll have to do the best you can on four-percent. Another justification for the salary increase is that a good lawyer makes at least $100,000 a year. Why then, they are proposing to make. And after all, don't these public servants represent you, except on a larger scale? In the entire U.S., only the top 20-percent of lawyers make six-digit figure salaries. What's amazing, though, is that many of the people elected to these offices are lawyers. If lawyers make so much money, why wouldn't these guys just stay where the money is? Ever wonder why they spend big bucks to serve you? Think about this before the next election. You usually pay a lawyer for results. Did you get your money's worth with your congressman?

•Plants and Art—Congressional offices get free plants from the U.S. Botanical Gardens, and two framed reproductions from the National Gallery of Art, according to the Nader report. •Long-Distance Lines—Congressional members have use of WATS lines from their offices or homes. •Exercise Facilities—Are conveniently located in Capitol Hill office buildings, including swimming pools, weightrooms, steam rooms, saunas, handball, volleyball and basketball courts. •Free Parking—Is available to them at Capitol Hill and at any available curb space in Washington, except for fire hydrants and loading docks. •Housing Tax Deduction—Members of Congress get a special tax deduction of $3,000 per year for living expenses away from their district, says Nader. •Expense Accounts—Nader contends that, based

$12,550 for each of the 100 senators and 435 representatives. •Medical Care—These public servants also receive free medical care. According to Nader, a staff of nurses, doctors and medical technicians are stationed at the Capitol to meet the medical needs of senators and congressmen. They receive specialized services such as a medical response team, ambulance service, a complete laboratory, X-ray and pharmacy services, as well as immunizations and allergy injections. Members of Congress are also eligible for coverage for themselves and their families under the federal employees health program. •Life Insurance—Congressional members pay only half the cost of basic life insurance, with taxpayers paying the other half. •Housing Tax Deduction—Members of Congress get a special tax deduction of $3,000 per year for living expenses away from their district, says Nader. •Expense Accounts—Nader contends that, based

Grimes Garage Forerunner

Grimes Garage in Hillsboro was referred to as the Neiman-Marcus of service stations. In its prime, 14 gas pumps and 20 attendants were kept busy at the Waco street location. It was open all the time. The doors had no locks on them. Fred O. Grimes was the pioneer of full service gas stations in the southwest. He had the first garage in the county as well as the first wrecker. Grimes was the first mechanic in Hillsboro and he installed the first electric gas pump in town. But those first-pale in comparison to this one, his was the first station in the U.S. to provide public restrooms. As other stations added such facilities, Grimes Garage installed the finest restrooms in the U.S., with glass brick walls enclosing two tile powder rooms called the Blue Room and the Dubonnet Room. A guest book for customers to sign. Many famous names appeared through the years.

A maid in a white starched uniform served ice water to customers both inside and out. She also cared for small children while parents freshened up as their cars were being serviced. Any customer who waited more than 30 seconds for was awarded a free cold soft drink. Grimes, an outstanding innovator, was also a pioneer in advertising. In 1914, while visiting which made Grimes Garage the most famous service station in the world. He made signs from heavy iron and placed them at frequent intervals on the highway from Hillsboro to Dallas, Fort Worth and Austin. The signs were white, edged with an orange border and lettered in black. They all mentioned Grimes Garage. Since there was no state highway department then, Grimes provided service to motorists by painting mileages and directions on his markers. As the idea began tising men from around the world attending an international advertising meeting in Houston said Grimes Garage had the most outstanding advertising in Texas. Will Rogers once said the two things he remembered about Texas were the Alamo and Grimes Garage. Uncle Walt and Skeezix spoke of Grimes Garage in their comic strip Gasoline Alley. Grimes opened his first garage in 1906 in a building vacated by a snake show. Hill County had only half a dozen cars then. The speed limit was six miles an hour. In 1914 he purchased an old ivory stable and put in the garage that became famous. A sign instructed the customer to pull a rope which blew a whistle in the repair shop. Grimes would then go up front and pump the customer some gas. At one time, cars arrived in pieces and had to be assembled locally. Grimes did that for $5 a car. Any vehicle from another town that made it to Hillsboro needed servicing because the roads were so bad. And when it rained,

At an executive board meeting of the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce, tempers flared when a representative of the Electric Energy of Texas City told the crowd there could be a reduction of energy costs. He said he didn't know how much but the next bills would tell the story.

Pres. J.E. Wheat called for propositions and there was a bunch of 'em, offered for the mutual benefit of the town's treasury as well as mutual benefit. After the C of C completed its regular routine of procedure, Mayor Dave Mann took the floor and told of some of the things that ought to be done. It is noticeable, however, while truck taxes and occupation taxes were discussed no one made a motion to demand of the City Commissioners the attorney-one not afraid of his own shadow-be employed to collect years-past-due city taxes-by suit at law if necessary. February 26, 1935 will decide whether they will or will not legalize the sale of whiskey and other hard liquors. May we think soberly, and study the amendment to be voted on, before the date arrives. The Supreme Court handed down a decision in which it said: "The statistics of every state show a greater amount of crime and misery attributable to the use of ardent spirits than to any other source." One of the greatest menaces to motorists, cattle running loose on the right of ways, of state highways, at last has been made unlawful and the owners of cows made subject to a drastic penalty. A new law which becomes effective Saturday fixes the penalty up to $200 against owners whose cattle are discovered on state roadways by a state highway patrolman.

Nationwide Big Bass Money Contest

TULSA, Okla. (BBWC) will run Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1989. It is sponsored by Bassin' Magazine, one of the nation's largest outdoor publications. The prizes include: $1,000 for the biggest bass in each state and an extra $5,000 for a state record.

The Big Bass World Championship ($25,000 for the biggest bass in the country, $1,000 for a world record).

Additionally, the angler who catches the biggest bass in the country for the year can win an extra $10,000 if a subscriber to Bassin' or Popular Lures; $20,000 if he or she subscribes to both.

The entry fee is $7.00 - about the price of a resident fishing license in most states. "said Gerald Pope, publisher of Bassin' and Popular Lures magazines. He added that the angler must enroll before the fish is caught in order to qualify. "Then, when he catches a bass big enough to enter, he just follows the instructions in the entry packet."

"Leaders of the contest will be posted in each issue of Bassin' Magazine. The standings will also be sent to members of the outdoor press every month."

Pope noted that keeping fishermen aware of the biggest bass in each state would encourage "catch and release" to smaller fish.

"We have set a minimum size limit for each state," Pope said. "We encourage that only fish that would be kept as trophies will be entered. Fishermen are being urged to release any bass that's smaller than the minimum size."

Pope said that the contest will encourage the sport and enhance the resource.

"One dollar of each entry fee will go to organizations and government agencies that will use the money to further develop fisheries habitat and initiate conservation efforts," Pope said.

Entries must be made on an Official BBWC Entry Form, available in Bassin' and Popular Lures Magazine on newsstands now. The BBWC Brochure will be available at participating fishing tackle retailers throughout the country and by contacting Big Bass World Championship, P.O. Box 697201, Tulsa, Okla. 74169-7201.

HERITAGE VILLAGE MUSEUM

WOODVILLE, TEXAS 75979

JANUARY 12, 1989

Quilt Day At The Village Is Jan. 21

$100 Prize For Best Preserved, Oldest Quilt

Great-grandmother's old quilts have many stories to tell, and area quilt owners will have the opportunity to preserve some of these stories from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Heritage Village Museum on Saturday, January 21, with a chance to win a valuable prize.

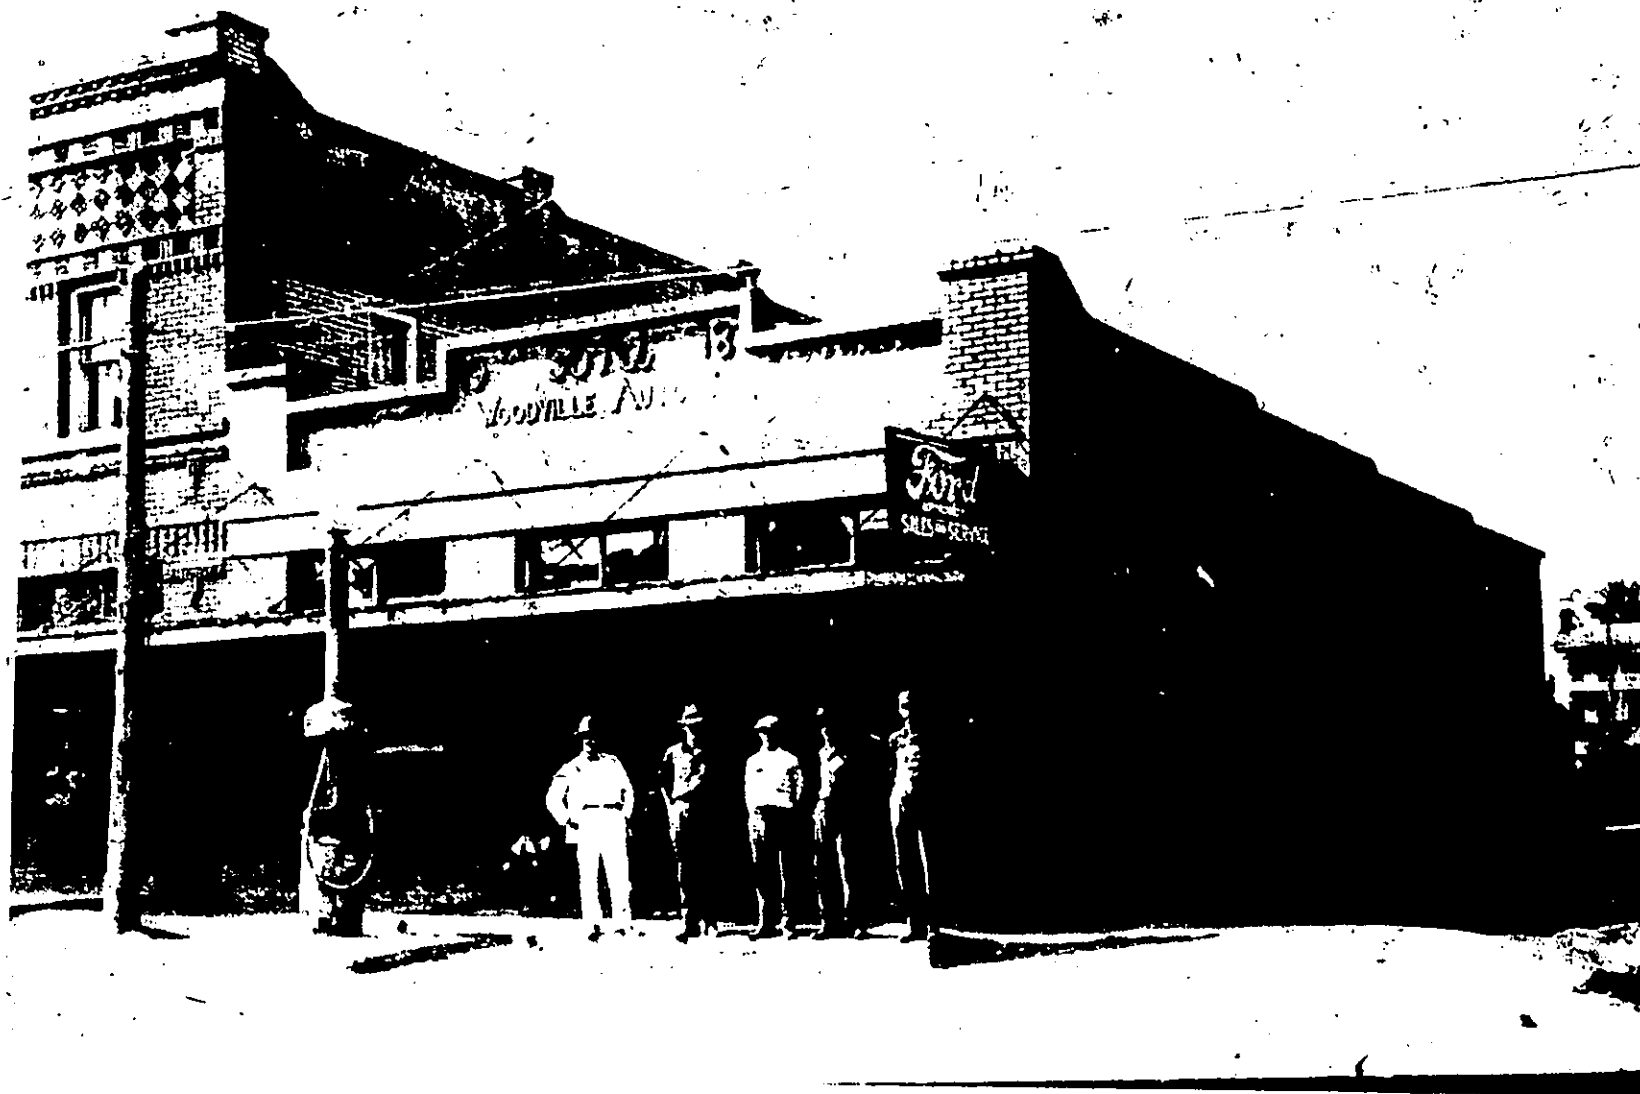

On that day, members of the Texas Heritage Quilt Society will be on hand to evaluate quilts brought to the Village and document them as to age and pattern. A $100 prize will be given for the oldest, best-preserved quilt presented for documentation.

According to Anita Murphy of Kountze, the Society is looking for quilts made in Texas by Texas women, prior to 1940. Sometimes people think they have a quilt that is older than it really is, she says, but experts can determine approximate dates in several ways. "For instance, a person might think a quilt is 200 years old, but then we find machine stitching and know it isn't," Mrs. Murphy continues. "The sewing machine didn't come into use until 1815."

"We want to make public the art of quilting and the skill of the women who made them," says Kay Hudeck, president of the Texas Heritage Quilt Society, a statewide, non-profit organization working with over 50 guilds throughout the state. "These women didn't have the books we have today or the fabric choices. Some even spun their own thread."

Quilt historian Laverne Mathews of Orange will assist judges in evaluating the quilts. Each one will be numbered, photographed, measured and documented with the coded information becoming a permanent part of the Society's archives.

Although judges use several methods

of dating quilts, Quilt Search Day participants should bring any information or family history, oral or written, they might have to help with documentation. The age of one quilt at a similar Search Day was documented by a photograph of the owner's mother winning first prize with her quilt at the Dallas State Fair in 1921.

Judges study dyes, fabrics, thread, stitching, batting and filler material in their efforts to date a quilt. In addition to documentation, quilt owners will learn the name of the pattern used in their quilts and receive information on proper care and cleaning.

A collection of books on quilting and quilt history will be on display at Heritage Village throughout the month along with quilts made by modern-day quilt makers. No quilts in this display will be sold. The Texas Heritage Quilt Society, however, will have for sale an informative book, published in 1986, from their first 19 Quilt Search Days.

The Golden Triangle Quilt Guild, which meets in Beaumont with some 261 members, many from Tyler County, and the Kingwood Quilt Guild with some 180 members will both be available for your help and information. So come and register your "Heirloom" quilt to help honor and record the love and labor of past quiltmakers in this most loving of art forms. There will be no charge for documentation.

East Texas Blacksmith's Alliance Meeting - Hammerfest Set

The newly formed East Texas Blacksmith's Alliance will hold its first meeting and Hammerfest at Heritage Village Museum on Saturday and Sunday, January 28 and 29.

According to Charlie Schultz, the Village's Number One Blacksmith, letters have gone out to all the members outlining the agenda and giving them information on hotel and restaurant facilities in Woodville.

Activities will start with a coffee and doughnuts reception at 9 a.m. on Saturday, January 28, registration and a greeting by Mr. Schultz, followed by a 90-minute video, entitled "Shared Traditions" on loan from the Artist Blacksmith Association of North America.

After an informal hot dog and chip lunch for all members and their families, hosted by the Alliance, the forges will be fired up at the Blacksmith Shop, where the anvils will ring throughout the afternoon in a demonstration open to all visitors to the Village.

Registration will continue on Sunday morning, beginning at 11 a.m., after which members and their families will gather for a Dutch Lunch at the Pickett House on the Village grounds, where they'll enjoy an "all you can eat" family style meal of Chicken and Dumplings, Fried Chicken and all the trimmings, served in the homey atmosphere of an old time boarding house.

At 1:30, a repeat showing of the Video "Shared Traditions" will be shown, followed by a general meeting and "bull session" for all members, during which plans will be made for future gatherings. The meeting will adjourn at 4:00 p.m.

Movies on the Art and History of Quilts to be Shown

As part of Heritage Village Museum's January Quilt Month, two fascinating movies on the art and the history of quilting will be shown at the Allan Shivers Library, and the public is invited at no charge.

The first movie, entitled "Quilts and Women's Lives," will be shown at 11 a.m. on Saturday 14 at the Library.

On Saturday, January 28, again at 11 a.m. a second, hour-long film, entitled "Hearts and Hands" will be shown. This fascinating film documents the many ways in which women of the 19th century translated the history and the events of their times into their quilting patterns.

An Open Invitation to the Annual Meeting of the Tyler County Heritage Society

By Christine Moor Sanders
President, Tyler County
Heritage Society

The Tyler County Heritage Society wishes to invite everyone, who is a member of the Society or would like to become a member, to attend the annual meeting of the Heritage Society to be held on Monday, January 30, at the Pickett House at Heritage Village.

Dinner will be served at 6:00 p.m. with the meeting scheduled to start at 7:00 p.m. Dinner reservations should be made by January 23 by calling the Village at 283-2272.

New and renewed memberships may be purchased at the door or checks can be sent in advance to the Tyler County Heritage Society, P.O. Box 888, Woodville, TX 75779.

If it is our wish to have the greatest voting participation possible as we begin this new year, your attendance at this important meeting will not only offer you an enjoyable evening and an excellent dinner, but it will afford you the opportunity to receive first hand information about the extraordinary progress being made at Heritage Village Museum, as well as the many other activities of the Tyler County Heritage Society.

The dreams of Tyler County and indeed the entire community are coming true as we see what has been accomplished at Heritage Village. This past year, our complex has become one of the dominating factors in enhancing the quality of life throughout the county. But, we need your interest and your participation.

Rest assured that if Tyler County is to attract a broader economic base, Heritage Village Museum will stand out as a very significant plus toward enhancing the quality of life in our area. Many businesses base their location decisions on the quality of life in the community. It is one of the most important factors in the selection process.

Heritage Village Museum has become the place, where Tyler County puts its best foot forward. It is becoming a show case for the community through the preservation and presentation of our heritage. Our museum store is remarkable in that it features the crafts of many of the area's most talented people. Through this store, we are giving them the opportunity to make a living by selling their excellent wares.

John Killam, the Village's resident jeweler, has been most successful. We hope to lease space for other quality craftspeople to set up business at the Village.

As a member, you and your friends will be able to participate in all the activities of the Village and be entertained by the Heritage Village Band, the Villagers Singing Group, the Junior Historians and many other special programs throughout the year. As a member, you will be permitted to enter the Village at any time free of charge, and you will receive a free copy of the East Texas Echo Newspaper each month.

The Tyler County Heritage Society is on the threshold of bigger and better things, many of which will unfold during 1989. And we invite you to come join us and be part of our endeavor to build an even better community.

So call in your reservation today, and join us at the Pickett House at 6 p.m. on Monday, January 30, and be part of what's happening in Tyler County this coming year through membership in the Tyler County Heritage Society. You'll soon discover it's a lot of fun, so give yourself a treat.

Heritage Village Museum Features a Unique Collection of Pioneer Artifacts

1.—PARKING LOT for visitors to Heritage Village & Museum Store, Pickett House and Big Woods Nature Trails.

2.—PICKETT HOUSE: Country Cooking served Boarding House style in the quaint atmosphere of an old time school house. Open daily March thru August from 11 am to 8 pm.

3.—MUSEUM STORE: Entrance to The Village is through the Village Museum Store, where you'll find a unique collection of gift items in keeping with the historical, educational and ecological themes presented in The Village.

4.—JEWELRY SHOP: Custom jewelry designer John Killam will demonstrate his artistry in silver, karat gold, precious and semi-precious stone to Village visitors during regular hours. He will also be open to the general public by appointment through a separate entrance from the parking lot.

5.—JUSTICE OF THE PEACE: In the old days, the Justice of the Peace held a very important post. His duties included assaying minerals as well as performing marriage ceremonies and handing out punishment to criminals. The JP office is housed in a building donated by the Bert Hensarling family of Woodville, which once stood behind the old Raney Hotel, serving at various times as a drummer's showroom and a hotel laundry.

6.—BAND STAND: This is a miniature copy of the old band stand that once graced the square of almost every small town. Here, townspeople gathered on a summer's evening to hear the local band perform or a politician test his oratorical skills. Next to the bandstand is Woodville's first piece of fire-fighting equipment, donated by the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department. It was chemical in action and pulled by the fire fighters themselves.

7.—PAWN SHOP: The old-time mechanical money banks in the window only hint at the artifacts within. On the right is a wagon pantry, the forerunner of the Chuck Wagon, which has spaces for flour, sugar, salt, coffee, just about everything a family needed moving West. The stage coach money box and old-time hard-hat diving equipment are among the hundreds of interesting objects in the shop.

8.—TEXAS DINNER BELLS: In the old days, a blacksmith might not have been able to cast a bell, but he could always forge a triangle. Consequently, the triangle rang out across pioneer lands both as an alarm and as a "Come and get it" at chow time. Once again, these reminders of a past era are being made and sold at Heritage Village. They are also being wholesaled to other tourist attractions throughout the state.

9.—POST OFFICE: Willie Reinhardt was the last postmaster of this authentic Post Office, which was moved from Pluck, Texas, once located off Hwy. 287 near Corrigan. Of special interest is the Spencerian script on the wall, a common style of writing in the old days, using a split-nib pen, that is impossible to duplicate with today's ball point pen.

10.—BARBER SHOP: If you had stopped in at this Barber Shop in 1888, you would have had your choice of two chairs, both of which could be laid back and revolved, but not raised and lowered. You could have enjoyed looking at the pin-up girls decorating the walls - these are originals from old Coca Cola calendars - and, if you really thought it was necessary, you could have gone a step farther than a shave and a haircut and taken a bath in the 1836 copper tub in the back room, which once belonged to a famous Jefferson, Texas, blacksmith, and was donated to the Village by Arledge Coleman.

11.—SHERIFF'S OFFICE AND JAIL: Every town had one of these, of course, but this one was built especially for children and picture taking. You're even invited to write your name on the wall.

12.—BLACKSMITH SHOP: This shop, donated by the Milton Durhams of Woodville, was in use in Colmesneil, Texas, in the late 1800's. Today, it is one of the major attractions in The Village, as one of the three active Village Blacksmiths can most always be seen, working at the forge and anvil to create an array of decorative items, which can be purchased in the Museum Store. Heading the group is Charles Schultz, a third generation blacksmith with a masters degree in metallurgy. Joining him are Ed Cotton, whose entire life revolves around his work as a smithy and teacher, and Mark Hester, who shoes horses for a living and blacksmiths for the fun of it.

13.—WAGON SHED, CANE GRINDER AND SYRUP MILL: By the walkway behind the shed, the cane grinder and syrup mill bring back sweet memories of cane being fed into the mill, the juice being extracted, as a horse went around and around turning the grinders, then the slow process of cooking it just right to produce a delectable syrup. The Wagon Shed was a catch-all for everything from horse collars to hen's nests. The wagon, donated by the J. Wood Fains, was used for freight from Beaumont to Woodville. The buggy, donated by Allan Shivers, boasted a luggage rack and a lantern that could be carried or hung on the back.

14.—TOLAR KITCHEN: Built by Robert Tolar as his first home in Tyler County in 1866 and donated by his ancestors, the Tolar Kitchen is the only structure in The Village to be awarded the medallion by the Texas Historical Commission. Except for the chimney, the kitchen was moved intact from Hillister, where the Tolar family used the kitchen into the 1930's, providing sumptuous meals, prepared over the open fire, for any traveler who stopped along the old road from Woodville to Beaumont. The bedroom, featuring an antique bed with rope springs, shuck mattress and feather mattress, was used as a pantry after the main house was built. The quilt chest is handmade with no nails in it and, of course, every bedroom had a chamber pot for those cold winter nights. The Smoke Room off the back porch was used to store meats and to prepare foods for canning.

15.—BIG HOUSE: Here you'll find a variety of larger articles: washing machines such as the old hand operated "rocker" which sloshed clothes back and forth, an antique loom with string heddles and four harnesses, set up by Catherine Morony of Woodville, a spinning wheel donated by Dr. Howell Grimes, and a complete 1886 newspaper print shop, donated by the Garner and Watson families of Florence, Texas, where the Florence Vidette was once hand set and run on the old flat bed press.

16.—RAILROAD STATION: The materials for the depot came from the 1890 Hillister, Texas, Station. Most of the artifacts inside were donated by Millard F. Martin of Houston, others by C. H. Hartwell and J. A. Summers. The loop hanging on the wall held the Order Stick. When a train came through without stopping, the station manager would hold out the Order Stick to the conductor or could pick up his orders without slowing down. These orders would provide information such as any work being done on the tracks before the next station, such information coming in over the "wireless." Any outgoing mail would also be attached to this order stick. Incoming mail was thrown onto the station platform from the moving train. The colors of the railroad lanterns on display in the Museum Shop speak for themselves, except that a red lantern also meant "hands off," and that car could not be touched until the lantern was removed.

17.—Z.C. COLLIER STORE: Much of the original materials and furnishings are included in this reconstruction of the Collier store, which was built in Town Bluff in 1863 by Zacharia Cowart Collier and catered to the needs of travelers up and down the Neches as well as to the growing number of families crossing the river into Tyler County by way of the Collier Ferry. This historic general store, which also served as post office, bank and pharmacy was rebuilt at Heritage Village by Virginia Collier Howell and her husband, Charles A. Howell, as a tribute to her grandfather, Mrs. B.C. Richardson, a member of the Barlow family who purchased the store from the Colliers, contributed many artifacts, as did David Collier of Woodville, and Joseph Barlow, who lives on the site originally occupied by the Collier home, donated timbers and bricks that were part of the original store.

18.—COTTON GIN: The principle of this miniature cotton gin, donated by the Jerry Tolar family of Doucette, is the same as a large one. Only the purpose is different, and at one time it was an important local industry. Cotton filled mattresses, which had become soiled and lumpy, were brought to the company, which owned this machine, to have them cleaned. The cotton would be removed, reginned to clean it and make it soft again, then covered again with new ticking. The Seed Separating Machine hanging on the wall was used to separate various sizes of grain or to cleanse corn, beans or what-have-you from dirt before sending it to market.

19.—APOTHECARY: Here, in an old time drugstore without the extras, only prescriptions and home remedy materials were sold. The panning on the left was contributed by the Woodville Methodist Church, and the glass for the prescription counter, from a drug store in Rockland, was donated by the late Dr. and Mrs. Kuebler of Port Arthur. The "electric shock" machine, which was supposed to cure everything, actually was a quack remedy and did nothing at all.

20.—DOCTOR'S OFFICE: A tribute to the many doctors, who have contributed to the health and welfare of Tyler County residents over the past 130 years or more, this typical doctor's office is a composite collection of many, including Dr. John Shivers of Woodville and Dr. N. E. Laidacker of China. The Woodville Medical Community, headed by Dr. Gayle Burton, is making plans to renovate this office.

21.—CHAIR FACTORY: Until 1964, this chair factory was in operation at Burkeville by Dallas Miller, who was not only ingenious in fabricating machinery but was considered the best chair maker in this part of the country. To be noted are the lathe on which Mr. Miller turned the chair legs, the hole puncher for his hides and the drying racks for his chair backs. The factory, which Mr. Miller built almost entirely of wood, was donated to Heritage Village by members of his family.

22.—MUSIC SHOP: Much of the musical history memorabilia to be found in this shop came from the Bubba Ross collection. Old sheet music was contributed by the Fred Bennett family. One of the very first phonographs can be seen in the window.

23.—SEAMSTRESS SHOP: Recreation of an 1875-1885 Shop, which was in its day a genteel way for a lady to earn a living. A delightful look into the past world of fashion, this shop has many original items used over 100 years ago in addition to a variety of dresses and hats, which have been created especially by its Adopters after much research into the period.

24.—LEATHER SHOP: Whether you needed a fine leather saddle, a pair of leather boots or a pair of ladies leather shoes, you would have looked for a shop such as this. The machine used was made especially for leather, and the leather maker made use of his scraps for belts and whips and other small goods.

25.—LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE: This is a typical one-room school, where all grades were taught by one teacher. The plantation bell outside was for calling students to class.

26.—THE BIG WOODS: This 11.5 acres of woods and hiking trails, recently donated by Jack and Marie Whitemeyer of Colmesneil, offers all the delights of the Big Thicket on a smaller scale to Heritage Village and Pickett House visitors.

Notes From the Village

By Marjorie Schultz
Village Manager

Our Quilt Month got off to a good start on Saturday, January 7, when a group of wood-be and veteran quilters met with Dorothy Lefkowitz at the Village and shared ideas and information.

In attendance were Joy Maddox, Cleta Rawls, Nina Mosely, Mamie Cortez, Margaret Melgram, Irma Hickman and Frances Fouts.

If you're wondering what happened to the agent's uniform that's usually on display at the Village Depot, rest assured it's being well cared-for at the cleaners, while repairs are underway.

Looking ahead toward Dogwood time, Jim Hudgins, director of the Heritage Village Band is looking for a parade wagon the band can use as the Village's entry in the parade. If you can help them out, call Jim at 283-7741 or 283-3307 or leave a message here with me at the Village, 283-2272.

Our first six months of Village programs are lining up nicely, but as always we need your help, so if you've got anything to spice up our planned activities, we'd love to hear from you. In February, we'll be featuring textiles, weaving and dyeing; in March, the theme will be on gardening; in April, Genealogy; and in May, Music. And, in June we're looking forward to our second class of Junior Historians to bring life to our midst with their Living Village presentation.

Our special thanks to Quaidie Sullivan and the staff of the Allan

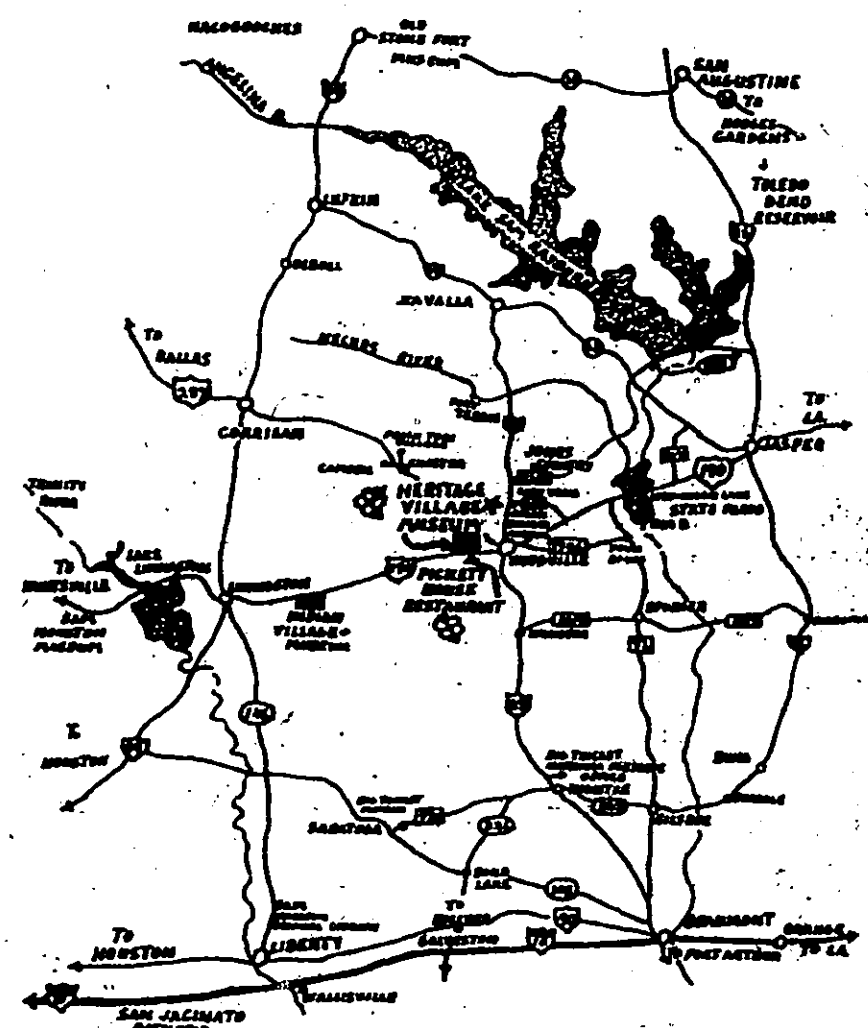

Shivers Library for allowing us to show two excellent films on quilting as part of our Quilt Month. These will be shown on Saturday, January 14, and Saturday, January 22, both starting at 11 a.m. Guides will be available for tours of the Allan Shivers museum, both before and after the movies, so be sure to take advantage of the opportunity to visit this important facility in our midst.

And, if you're looking for something special to boost your historical knowledge of Texas, come take a look at our new book sets entitled "The Story of Texas." The four parts cover The Beginning, Independence, The Frontier and the 20th Century. Easily told and colorfully illustrated, these books, now on sale in our Museum store.

The Allan Shivers Library is pleased to announce the arrival of over 100 hours of PBS programming on VHS cassettes. This award winning collection, soon to be available for loan to library patrons as well as local educational facilities and clubs, was a gift from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation of Chicago.

Through the foundation's Video Classics Project, these tapes are now available to over 600 libraries across the nation and to anyone that has a library card.

Titles in the series, which is currently being processed and catalogued by library personnel, include "American Playhouse," Allstar Cooke's "America," "Civilization," "The Story of English," "The Jewel In The Crown," among others.

For those who do not own a home VCR, the library offers a viewing room with facilities furnished at the Texas State Library Systems and local donations.

LIBRARY JOINS WITH HERITAGE VILLAGE
FOR SPECIAL FILM SHOWINGS

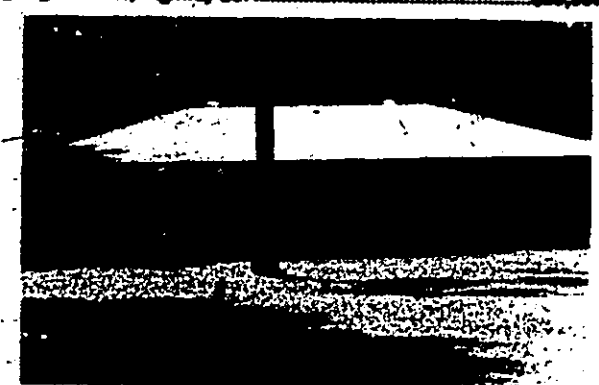

On Saturday, January 14, at 11 a.m., the Allan Shivers Library, in cooperation with Heritage Village Museum, will present a 30-minute film, entitled "Quilts and Women's Lives," detailing the lives of six different women as expressed in their quilts.

On Saturday, January 28, at 11 a.m., the Library will again join with Heritage Village in presenting a delightful hour-long film, entitled "Hearts and Hands," which tells how women throughout the 19th century translated the history of their times into their quilt making. There will be no charge for viewing either of these fascinating films, which are part of Heritage Village's month-long program on art of quilting. The Library and Museum will be open for tours both before and after the movie presentations.
