Rockland Baptist Gray To Speak Today

William H. Gray, coordinator of Partnership Missions, Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the guest speaker at the Rockland Baptist Church in Rockland today (Sunday).

Gray will speak during the regular morning worship service which begins at 11 a.m.

Gray is well known for his work among Texas Baptists, especially Spanish-speaking Baptists.

He was born in Waco, married to Nadine Sikes Gray, and the couple has two children, Bradley and Anna.

Gray graduated from Waco High School, received his B.A. at Baylor University and his B.D. at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

He also attended the Spanish Language School in San Jose, Costa Rica.

His professional experience has been wide and varied. He served in the U.S. Air Force, has pastored churches at Dale and Willis, Texas, has been an associate pastor as well as a youth director in San Antonio in addition to being an associate/interim pastor in Tomball.

He is, perhaps, best known, however, for his work on the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

While serving on the Foreign Mission Board, he was a career missionary from 1960 to 1982, serving as Field Evangelist in Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico, Bookstore Administrator in Mexico City, Missionary Involvement Coordinator, teacher in the Mexican Baptist Bible Institute, a member of the Board of trustees at the Seminario Bautista de Mexico (Baptist Seminary of Mexico) and was the Secretary of Mexico Mission for 15 years.

Gray will be answering pertinent questions concerning the mission, as well as recruiting other volunteers.

Gray will also be at the Woodville Inn during the lunch hour, which time he would have an opportunity to speak to any interested parties.

Gray has several publications to his credit as well, among them being an article in "The Commission" and is also a recipient of the J. Edgar Davis Award from the National Baptist Convention of Mexico for contribution to ministry of the printed page.

Gray is speaking to the Rockland Church to inform them of the activities which will be experienced during this summer's visit to Australia during the partnership mission experience.

New Warren Elementary Holds Ribbon Cutting

By ANNABETH WILKINS

It was a long time coming, but the new Warren Elementary School is just as nice as the dreamed it would be. Plus, it feels that by next year the facility will result in higher test scores from the students attending.

Plus, he first requested a new elementary school. He said that environment plays a big part in the mental attitude of students and the brightness of the new school will have a positive effect on both students and teachers.

Floyd Inman, who can be seen at the ribbon cutting ceremony for the new school at the Open House, Monday, Jan. 23, can remember when the old Warren Elementary School was the only school in the district.

Inman served on the Board of Trustees from 1950 until 1962. The district has come a long way since then, having built the middle school, Fred Elementary, the high school and the new Warren elementary.

The new school is quite different from the 1930's building that was vacated.

There are lots of windows and bright colors and plenty of space. Teachers proudly displayed their rooms at the Open House while all visitors agreed that the new facility was worth waiting for.

Editors Note: Local cookbook author Mary Chapman just received the second printing of her cookbook "Sharing Recipes."

The book, published in 1986, is a collection of recipes, collected over 50 years from friends and relatives.

The cookbook is sold at several area businesses, including Sullivan's Hardware, the Middle Buster Restaurant, Jarriso's Drugstore, Heritage Village, and S Drugs. True Value Hardware at Colmesneil, and the "Booster" office.

Chapman will be as a regular feature in the "Booster's" Sunday issue, publishing recipes from her cookbook, and others not included in the book.

The "Booster" hopes our readers will enjoy these recipes from one of the finest cooks east of the Mississippi.

"Sharing Recipes" not only offers delicious, taste-tempting recipes, but also includes a complete list of substitutions, and tips on how to get the most out of your food.

Now that the holidays are over and we're back in our work-a-day world, when there is little time to spare at the end of our busy day, this easy Mexican Casserole is ideal for a speedy supper and you'll be free for other things while the meal is in the oven.

OPINION

"Booster Letters Must Be Signed"

A woman came in this week with a letter stating her opinion of the need for recreational activities in Tyler County, in response to an editorial printed in the Thursday, Jan. 26 issue of the "Booster."

The letter had no phone number, address, or even the name of the person who authored it.

The "Booster" feels sure that the women's opinions in the letter were something she felt strongly about, and she wanted to speak her mind on.

It is this newspaper's policy to not print letters unless they are signed, and either a phone number or address is included, so that verification can be made of who wrote the letter. The unsigned letter, though, that we have obviously not made this policy clear, so we would use this letter as an example, to again try to make our readers aware of implementation of this policy. The letter stated that it was from a mother of two teenagers, who is concerned about the lack of recreational activities for this county's youth. The unsigned letter stated, "I know there are others that may feel as I do, and as a mother of two teens, I'd like to see more involving this paper should such a letter label another person or business, or attribution should be given to someone who is not responsible—we must have verification of authorship."

We hope this woman will give us a call so we can run her well-written, and thoughtful letter. And we hope other readers will take advantage of the opportunity to use "their" newspaper to express themselves.

"Tyler County Booster" Editorial

From Our Files

MAY 8, 1920

The future looked bright for a new bank that located in Tyler County in 1920, according to a front-page story in the "Tyler County Messenger."

Below is the story that ran on May 8, 1920:

A new bank opened its doors in Woodville today. And if the first day of business is any indication, the future is bright for Citizens State Bank.

MEMORIES—Lee and Janet Phillips, of Hope Mills, look over one of their cherished mementos, a "Tyler County Messenger" dated May 8, 1920. The paper was published the year that Lee, 99, and Janet, 86, were married. Staff photo by Lisa Rawls.

"Today has given me great confidence in Citizens State Bank," was the proud statement of Alex Thompson, president of the new bank.

Thompson announced names of other bank officers who were elected Aug. 15, 1919. They are J.A. Mooney, vice-president and chairman of the board; L.M. Fagan, cashier, and D.P. Mann, assistant cashier and secretary of the board.

The first haul, made by the new deputy, Ernest LaRoe, was pulled off at Warren some bit ago, when a man was arrested on a whiskey charge. Shortly afterward, another well known Colmesneil citizen, was arrested, it is said by the Sheriff, and the deputies had watched him in the process of making a run. He was brought here and later released on bond.

About two weeks ago, pro officers slipped into the community of Fred and captured five men, all of whom were carried to Beaumont, and they later entered pleas of guilty before Federal court, their fines ranging from $50.00 to $200.00. Two of them drew 30-day jail sentences in addition to their fines.

Then on last Saturday, officers seemed to have turned their attention from fellows with a bottle to the source of supply and two young men were arrested on a branch near the Town Bluff road in the Antioch community about eight miles east of town.

This raid was made last Saturday by deputies Ernest LaRoe, Will Ferguson and Bill Eaves, and the boys taken into custody. The lads were brought in and locked up, together with 4 gallons of whiskey and a truck was sent back for the paraphernalia confiscated—consisting of a 60 gallon oil drum still and a barrel or two containing mash.

At her office in Sweetwater she moistened some of the bait and started working it between her fingers. "You just take some and put it on your

Catfish Ruby And Stinkless Bait

On the square in Sweetwater there's a combination bait and catfish business.

Catfish Ruby is in charge of the bait. Her husband takes care of the bait bonds.

Now when I first heard the name Catfish Ruby I thought of an older lady about five feet wide wearing a flower sack dress, brogans and a sunbonnet. I was surprised to discover Catfish Ruby looks like a movie star.

Ruby Turner is her real name. She lives on Lake Sweetwater. She loses all track of time when she goes fishing.

Before starting her bait business, she didn't work.

"I would get up in the morning, get my husband off to work and put my son on the school bus," says Ruby. "Then I'd look out the back door and see the lake. It looks like a mirror. It's gorgeous out there."

Ruby would look around the house and see all the chores she had to do.

"She would say to herself, 'I think I could run out there and fish for a few minutes and get back in the house and get my work done before everybody gets back home.'"

So she would get her rod and reel and her bait and go fishing.

But Ruby loses all track of time when she's fishing.

"I look up and here comes the school bus. I realize the boys are not made, the breakfast dishes are still on the table. Nothing has been done."

She would run in the house, drag the vacuum cleaner out to the middle of the floor, throw the dishes in the sink, and put a frozen piece of chicken out on the counter.

would come home. First question: "Did you catch any fish?"

When Ruby asked how he knew she had been fishing, he replied, "When I walked in the door I could hook. It works. You always catch something."

She proved it was edible by popping some of it into her mouth.

bailed. "You know, that bait that Ruby makes, that special bait."

Ruby devised a package and she and her husband got on the road and sold the bait, going from store to store.

Now six employees are working to make enough Ruby's No-Stink Special Bait to meet the demand.

She never seriously considered selling it on any grand scale. She started keeping a supply of her bait under the counter.

Soon more and more people were coming in asking for that bailed. "You know, that bait that Ruby makes, that special bait."
