Satellite Dumps Operating Hours Set

Tyler County Commissioners set new operating hours for the county's satellite dumps during their January 27 meeting. Those hours are from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, and from 7 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday.

The Woodville facility will operate from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and also from 7 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Maxie Riley's facility will begin operating under the new hours on February 27.

In other business the Court: -Agreed to advertise for bids for a county depository, which is planned to be opened in March.

-Approved a $1,335 door improvement at the Department of Public Safety Drivers License Office.

-Hear Probation Officer Kenny Simpson withdraw a former request to transfer a telephone line to the county justice center.

-Tabled a request to advertise for bids on equipment for precinct 3.

-Approved a request to buy a water truck for the county. The truck can be either new or used and the county will pay cash.

-Agreed to lease a monochrome display and type-writing keyboard to the county probation office for $100 month.

-Approved a request to solicit bids for the installation of a four-inch pipe and septic tank at a mobile home on airport property.

-Agreed to purchase $641 in material for a porch at the county tax office, and also approved the purchase of carpet and labor to finish repairs in the county clerk's office.

-Tabled action on selecting a salary grievance committee, and tabled discussion on a T.V. at the justice center.

Wal-Mart Has New Manager

When Michael "Mike" Zedlitz, 27, the new manager at Woodville's Wal-Mart, began his duties as Manager recently, he brought with him 14 years of experience in the retail business.

NEW MANAGER-Mike Zedlitz became the new manager at the Woodville Wal-Mart this week.

Zedlitz started working in the retail business in Snyder. He began working for Wal-Mart six years ago, as a department manager in the Henderson store.

He was promoted to assistant manager of the Longview store in 1985.

"I'm a community-minded person," said Zedlitz. "And I plan to continue the community involvement this store is noted for, like the matching grants and Wal-Mart scholarship's."

He added that his goals for the store include continuing the good service at the store, and looking for any ways the store could ever improve that service.

Yates Awarded New Contract

By ANNABETH WILIS

Bettie Rae Yates, superintendent of schools for the Warren Independent School District, was awarded a new three-year contract at the board meeting Tuesday, Jan. 24.

Yates, who moved up through the ranks in the Warren District, has served as superintendent for one year.

The Board rejected a request by the Liaison Committee to have three school board members nominated to meet with the committee prior to each school board meeting.

Hut. According to Yates, it was costing the District money to maintain the building and she felt the district should offer to let the Scouts use a room in one of the school buildings. The Board instructed Yates to look into the possibility of putting the Scout Hut and the Superintendent's house up for sale to be moved.

The Board accepted the resignations of Peggy Taylor, Warren Elementary teacher, and Belinda Cliff, Fred Elementary teacher. Sheila Denise Richardson will replace Taylor and Delena Christian will replace Cliff.

One Man Arrested, Another Is Sought For Burglary

By LISA RAWLS

One man has been arrested and another is being sought in connection with the burglary of two vehicles at Holiday Pines Nursing Home.

Woodville police arrested Christopher Allen Morris, 38, of Denton County, on January 25, and charged him with the burglary of a habitat and burglary of a vehicle.

Another suspect allegedly involved in the incidents is being sought by police.

Warrants have also been issued in Denton County for Morris for the theft of a vehicle, according to Woodville Police Chief Norman Reynolds.

Recovered from Morris was a shotgun, pistol and other personal property taken in the burglary. Morris was arrested at a residence in Honey Island and is in the Tyler County Justice Center.

His arraignment was held January 25, and bond was set at $5,000 for the burglary of a vehicle charge, and $1,000 for the burglary of vehicle charge.

Woodville Police Officers Robert Smith and Randy Smith recovered the property from Morris, with the Tyler County Justice Center. Morris' attorney is James H. Smith.

Chester Class Tours Airport

The Chester Elementary Kindergarten Class claimed it's study on transportation with a field trip to the Houston Intercontinental Airport on Tuesday Jan. 17.

The 16 students and 10 adult chaperones were given a tour of the airport by Continental Airlines.

The tour included boarding a jet aircraft. The students were allowed to go inside the cockpit, as well as the passenger areas.

From the roof of the terminal, the children had the opportunity to see the working of the airport, including aircraft landings and take-offs.

Other field trips that the class has taken on this year have included: a "walk to town" to visit the post office, store, bank, cafe, and mechanic's shop in Chester; a tour of the Tyler County Hospital; a trip to Brookshire Brothers in Woodville; a visit to a ranch; and a trip to a Christmas tree farm.

Several more field trips are planned for the spring semester.

Southwestern Bell To Install Switching System

Southwestern Bell Telephone is proposing to install a state-of-the-art digital switching system in Woodville within the next five years, as part of the telephone company's "Texas First" plan to boost the state's economy.

The new switching system for Woodville is part of a wide-ranging package of proposals Southwestern Bell Telephone plans to present to the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Other changes include a freeze on basic telephone rates for the five-year period, elimination of four-party service and reduction of some long distance rates.

"The 'Texas First' plan will be presented to the PUC soon and we hope the commission acts quickly on our proposals," said Ken Wood, area manager for the telephone company.

Southwestern Bell Telephone is committed to providing our customers quality telecommunications service at reasonable rates. "Texas First" meets this commitment. In addition, our plan offers a unique opportunity to help stimulate economic development in Woodville and throughout Texas.

Wood said the key to Southwestern Bell Telephone's plans to speed up installation of new technology and lock in local rates will be PUC agreement to replace the current fixed rate of return on investment, allowed the company with an earnings range.

Currently, Southwestern Bell Telephone is limited to earnings of about 12 percent on its investment. Wood said a fixed return does not provide incentive for innovation.

"A fixed return was effective and useful in years gone by," he said, "but today we face greatly increased financial risk as we prepare to provide the latest in telecommunications equipment at the rapid pace desired by our customers."

"Our plan retains reasonable limits on earnings, but the flexibility it provides allows us the ability to fully meet current and future needs of the state."

Wood said the PUC still would regulate prices such as the proposed price freeze—but the "Texas First" plan gives Southwestern Bell Telephone incentive to innovate, like speeding up installation of the latest digital switching equipment.

"Under our proposal, we ask that the PUC authorize a range of return on our investment from 11 to 13 percent," he said. "If our earnings exceed the 13 percent limit, we automatically will credit half the amount in excess of 13 percent to customers' bills."

The digital switch Woodville will receive once the "Texas First" proposal is approved will give telephone customers access to the most advanced telecommunications technology available in the country today, Wood said.

Wood said the freeze on basic local rates would keep Southwestern Bell Telephone's local rates among the lowest in the nation, he said.

Woodville's one-party residential rate of $8.15 and one-party business rates of $19.15 would stay at present levels for the freeze period, Wood said.

"Our 'last basic' local rate increase in Texas was June 1, 1984, almost five years ago. That means by the end of the freeze, Southwestern Bell Telephone's rates in Woodville would not have changed for nearly a decade."

The freeze would apply only to basic local rates and would not include federal subscriber line charges, taxes, or charges for any other services such as Touch-tone or Custom Calling features.

Other elements of the "Texas First" plan would:

• Reduce Southwestern Bell Telephone's charges for long distance carriers for their access to the local network, with the expectation that those carriers would reduce their rates for long distance service within Texas.

• Allow four-party customers to upgrade their service to two-party service at the same rate as long as the basic local rate freeze remains in effect. If the customer chooses to upgrade to one-party service, the present one-party rate would apply.

• Expand optional toll-free calling to areas around Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Garner Assists With Research

The Alacostia Historical Society has received a $7500 contingent grant from the T.L.L. Temple Foundation to assist in the funding of a picture narrative of the Neches River, authored by East Texas writer Howard Peacock.

Peacock is the first recipient of a Writer-in-Residence Award, established by the Sam Houston Regional Library and Research Center.

According to Peacock, his literary and photographic essay will embrace the history and economic importance of the Neches River from its source in Van Zandt County to Sabine Lake.

Peacock said Anne Garner of Woodville will assist with research on the project.

The T.L.L. Temple Foundation makes grants to nonprofit organizations and government agencies primarily in the East Texas timber belt.

It was established by members of the Temple family in honor of the founder of the Southern Pine Lumber Company, now Temple-Inland Inc.

Volunteers appreciated

Hospital volunteers donated more than $15 million worth of volunteer services in 1988-89, according to the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, Inc.

TAHA members donated 4,477,613 hours of volunteer services to Texas hospitals, reports from 90 percent of 320 TAHA member auxiliaries show.

By minimum wage standards, that figure is worth $15,000,003 and represents an increase of nearly 500,000 volunteer hours from 1986-1987.

In 1987-88, TAHA donated $3,598,780 in annual gifts to hospitals, about $700,000 more than last year. The scholarship program provided 879 medically-related scholarships totaling $597,923, an increase of almost $300,800. Membership in TAHA also grew, with more than 10,000 new junior and senior volunteers.

The primary purpose of TAHA is threefold—to educate, to disperse information regarding every type of health care program and to sponsor and encourage volunteer organizations to serve hospitals and other health care groups.

Margie Bozeman, president of TAHA, said.

15 Accidents Occurred Last Month

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated a total of 15 rural traffic accidents in Tyler County during the month of December.

As a result of these traffic accidents, troopers reported 12 injuries and one fatality.

During the 12 months of 1988, Tyler County has experienced a total of 195 rural traffic accidents, 153 injuries and five traffic related deaths.

In the 10 East Texas counties that comprise Highway Patrol Sub-District 28-B: Angelina, Jasper, Nacogdoches, Newton, Polk, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Trinity and Tyler, Highway Patrol troopers have investigated a total of 2406 rural traffic accidents in 1988.

These accidents have resulted in 88 deaths and 1709 injuries.

This compares to 2411 accidents, 97 deaths, and 1654 injuries the same time period in 1987.

OPINION

Commissioner's Concern Deserves Recognition

When you read that county commissioners cut back the operating hours at the county's three satellite dumps, commissioners hope you'll read between the lines.

This was a measure that all the commissioners expressed concern for. None of them wanted to build had to.

New state regulations have put landfill operators in a bind. The regulations dictate what hours these facilities can be open. They also will make the operation of these facilities extremely expensive.

Victor Cain, an environmental quality specialist for the citizens. But that is something all of these commissioners' concern for. None of them wanted to build had to.

Doesn't sound like they are unconcerned, or planning on bailing out. The fact is that the new Court has little time to make some big decisions about solid waste management in this county.

open pits at each site. They deserve our patience, and understanding about the matter. If they could make rash decisions it could be more costly down the road. And they are bound to make decisions that some people won't like, or understand.

The problem of solid waste management is something that needs to be looked at on both a short and long term basis. Commissioners should be commended for trying to do just that.

But most of all, they should be commended for their efforts to continue providing those services for this county's citizens, even though they don't have to.

Surviving Is Way Of Life For Buckhalter

Seventy-four-year-old Thelma Buckhalter spends each day in worry and fear. What she is facing is something many elderly people across the country face, who live alone and on a meager monthly income.

As the cost of living rises it becomes more and more difficult for these people to survive, even in the worst conditions.

Buckhalter lives on $209 per month social security and $188 social security. She needs to have her teeth fixed, they were long ago rotted, leaving only stumps that make it difficult to eat.

"I feel like I'm at the bank of the river, about to fall in," she said. "I can't go on living like this."

house. Her sad eyes became brighter. You could see it, that glimmer of hope. I shared her excitement and wondered how I could help make this situation better.

Not so. "I had a lot of competition," says Ben. "Some folks wanted barbecue, but it didn't originate in Texas. The Republicans wanted chateaubriand. Another group wanted chitterlings."

Ben ran that around the legislature for a while, but couldn't get much reaction, so he decided instead to try to make chili the official state dish of Texas.

Since chili originated in Texas, Ben thought it to elevate the dish and give it status and attention would be met with enthusiasm by his fellow lawmakers.

Fame Not New To Grant

Judge Ben Z. Grant sits on the state court of appeals in Texas. He commutes from his home in Marshall.

He grew up in Louisiana but says as soon as he got old enough, he moved to Texas.

After getting his law degree from the University of Texas, he practiced law in Marshall and was a district judge. He served 10 years in the state legislature.

In the late 70's a friend of his in Marshall, Albert Agnor, who sometimes wears a hat made of armadillo shell, approached Ben on some serious business.

He wanted Ben to make farkleberry the official state berry of Texas.

TO COMPETE-Woodville Junior High School Choir students competed recently earned a place in the Texas Music Educators Region X Choir. A complete list of their names will be printed in the "Booster" in the upcoming Sunday issue.

HIGH SCHOOL-Students who recently earned a place in the Texas Music Educators Region X choir will be listed in the "Booster" also on Sunday.

Choir Students Recognized

A total of 24 students from the Woodville Independent School District program earned a place in the Texas Music Educators Association-Region X Choir.

Fourteen of these are high school members and 10 are from the middle school.

The middle school will be traveling to Nederland, Feb. 4 for the District U.I.L. Meet. The high school will be going out 18, to a Livingston meet.

Most of the high school students began preparation for auditions in August at summer camp, held at Stephen F. Austin University.

All of these students' competed with several hundred students within Region X, comprised of 5A, 4A, and 3A schools.

"I am extremely proud of these students' superior vocal accomplishments," said Choir Director Ruth R. Houston.

"I feel that the total cultural experiences of meeting, rehearsing and performing with other students is by far a most important factor," she added.

Chatagnier Completes Army Courses

Pvt. Larry D. Chatagnier Jr., son of Steven M. Chatagnier of Spurger, and Jackie R. Rich of Nederland, has graduated from the U.S. Army armor crewman courses at Fort Knox, Ky.

He is a 1988 graduate of Sourter High School.

man, including the firing of armament and small weapons.

They were also taught field radio operation, map reading, and repair and maintenance procedures of the tank.

Students learned the duties of a tank crew.

When you travel, are you likely to visit historic sites or museums?

In a survey recently completed by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, it was found that most people answer "yes."

In fact, next to shopping, visitors to Texas enjoy visiting historical attractions more than any other activity.

It's not accident, that sites such as the Alamo in San Antonio, the baroque Elissa in Galveston, and the Capitol Building in Austin draw millions of visitors each year.

Texas and their visitors are interested in the state's history, and want to learn more about it.

This fascination with history is being noticed by state lawmakers. With the slump in oil prices and a growing concern about the state's economic stability, government leaders are looking for other ways to increase revenues.

One answer is tourism, a $17.3 billion dollar industry in Texas, and growing.

Tourism, particularly in the coming decade, will be inexorably linked to historic preservation—a partnership that will benefit us all.

Already, communities are capitalizing on this interest in history by maintaining local and county history museums, opening bed and breakfast inns, offering historical walking and homes tours, and rehabilitating historic buildings for retail or cultural uses.

All along the state's highways and byways, one can now view a variety of historical landmarks, including real estate development, do not suffer as a result to this partnership.

"Little towns, too, have learned that historic preservation can create a thriving tourist industry," Prommer adds.

Meals that are exciting and delicious, yet low in calories, fat and cholesterol—that's what "The Culinary Heats" course is all about.

Developed by the American Heart Association, the course is now being offered in Woodville by the Tyler County Extension Service.

The four-part course covers the basic principles of nutrition, food selection and preparation, ways to modify your favorite recipes, and planning a meal.

First Graders

First graders at Woodville Elementary School learned recently how to write in a big way.

They learned how to write their first paragraph by writing a letter to the president of the U.S.

According to Dorothy Pettijohn, teacher, most of the 18 children in the class are six years old.

The lesson was part of a writing and social studies lesson.

"The kids were amazed when they found out they could talk to the president," said Pettijohn.

"They didn't know they could communicate with somebody like the president," Pettijohn added that it would really be thrilling to these kids to get a reply.

Although not all of the 18 children attended class the day of the lesson, she said, the project was a major one.

For children who had before only written one sentence, Pettijohn said that writing a paragraph was the only major step in the lesson.

What these children wrote about says a lot about how they view their neighborhood," said Pettijohn.

One student invited him to town Wednesday. Others asked that he help their parents get a job or money.

One child asked him to help "Daddy" not drink. Below are the letters.

Dear Mr. Bush, I am glad that you are president, my mom and my Daddy want a raise. I am 7 years old. I am in first grade. I want to be a president some day. I hope you will be a good president.

This week the Kindergarten Class was studying the letter "Y" and "Z". On Tuesday Mr. Young visited the class and demonstrated yo-yoing. On Wednesday they made "Zebra Pudding" layering chocolate and vanilla pudding to make "stripes". During their study of transportation they went on a field trip to the Houston Intercontinental Airport and Continental Airlines gave them a tour of the airport. The best part was getting to board a real jet.

The first grade class in the Resource Room is working on oral language skills. They had a show and tell session. Travis Crookes showed a toy rabbit, Janice Young a small, white, fluffy chick, and John Fisher a Mickey's Corn Popper. This activity gave them an opportunity in using words and formulating sentences.

The fifth grade class is working real hard getting prepared for the TEAMS test that is coming up next week. The sixth grade class made posters encouraging the class to do their very best on the test. Music time has become a FUN time for the fifth grade class as the new band director, Dwayne Forsythe, challenges them to learn many new things in the field of music.

The Junior and Senior classes attended the Warren Career Day on Tuesday, January 24th. They obtained information about colleges, technical schools, and the armed forces.

Kindergarten teacher, Beth Wilbanks and High School Principal, Raymond Wallace, attended a workshop presented by Region 11 Service Center in Beaumont on Alcohol/Drug Prevention "Choosing For Yourself" on Monday, January 30th.

Mr. Gary Gazzaway, Superintendent of Schools, is attending the Superintendent's Organization Meetings in Austin this week.

The Jacks and Lady Jacks will take on the Leggett Pirates at Leggett on Tuesday, January 31st at 6:00 p.m. and will face the Big Sandy Wildcats on Friday, February 3rd, at the Jacks Gym. Come out and support your teams.

"Great Day For Texas When Super Collider Set Here"

struction of the SSC alone will create thousands of high-paying jobs in Texas over the next few years.

It will be the world's largest "atom smasher," a high-tech magnetic race-way where scientists will ram sub-atomic particles into each other at nearly the speed of light. Earlier work with this type of research led to such discoveries as the high-power tubes used for broadcasting and such revolutionary medical devices as CAT scanners.

The SSC will be a clean, environmentally safe, research center, and it will attract the world's best scientists to work on expanding the frontiers of human knowledge and understanding.

The SSC also is expensive—an estimated $4.4 billion, spread out over eight years, for construction. Texans have agreed to commit $1 billion of our money to the project, and we must shoot for adequate federal SSC funding this year to get construction under way, since delay could threaten our national commitment to the project.

With federal deficit-cutting a top priority, it will take a lot of work to secure funding for the SSC in Washington. Even when six other states were still in the running for the project, we had to fight some funding battles. Now that Texas has been chosen, we can anticipate reduced support from states no longer in the running.

But we must remind skeptics that our country can't afford not to build the SSC. Just as we make room in the budget for critical national defense programs and for meeting basic human needs, we also must provide for basic research to maintain American leadership in science and technology into the 21st Century.

Such leadership is vital support for our economic growth, our industrial competitiveness, and our national security. The SSC is a key element in a comprehensive program for achieving scientific excellence. It's important for Texas, and the people of our state have pledged major financial support. It's vital to our country for the people of our state, and the working scientists who will keep it on track and on schedule.

Everybody Wins!

Are you ready for some good news? If so, we encourage you to continue reading, because Contel has some news that could make you stand up and cheer!

Beginning in January 1989, Contel will kick off an ambitious program designed to improve service and lower rates.

It's a program that's made possible through 1984 Tax Reform Act. And the savings that Contel received are being passed on directly to you. It's a win-win situation and here's what we're going to do:

• Offer total one party service. One party service will be available in all areas within three years. If you're currently a multi-line customer, you can soon receive one party service at a lower rate than what you would currently pay. You'll be notified when your area is about to convert to one party service.

• Lower your monthly phone bill. In your November and December bills, you should have received a decrease in your access line charge and a toll credit.

• Establish new flat rates. Once your area converts to one party, mileage charges will be eliminated and a uniform flat rate for long distance service will be established. If you're a customer living outside the base rate area, your savings could be substantial.

• Establish a lifeline program. If you're a head of household customer with an income below the federally mandated poverty level, you may qualify for a credit on your Subscriber Line Charge. Look for details in your phone bill.

So that's the good news! And it's a situation in which everybody wins. For you, our customer, it means lower rates, better service and improved equipment.

Look for further information on this new program in your phone bill and get ready to celebrate. Because with our new service plan, everybody wins!
