He went on to tell the crowd that as early as 1958, some of "our forward looking, civic-minded citizens passed a petition and got more than enough signatures to call a county-wide election for a bond issue to build an airport for Tyler County."

He also said that on May 10, 1958, when the issue was voted on, 619 voted for and 96 against the issuance of $60,000 in bonds. They were issued and sold to James C. Tucker and Company, and C. Leyton Willis, an airport engineer in Dallas, was chosen to help the county secure funding for the project.

Willis helped the county make the necessary application to the Federal Aviation Administration for matching funds from the government. According to Walker, securing the land and FAA funds required a lot of time, since "we ran into lots of red tape."

He went on to tell the crowd that about July 1960, the county signed an agreement with the FAA for $51,600 and the land was secured.

The county hired W.R. Boyd, Inc., of Center, to build the airport for $77,890, and on August 15, 1960 the county received a work order from the FAA. He said that after a fall and winter of cold, rainy weather, the project was completed.

Let Congress Recieve Equal Raise As Social Security, Military Retirees

The fact that Congress would overwhelmingly this week to reject a proposal to double their pay raise illustrates that the will of the American people can still be served by the officials they elect. Providing the people take an active role in government.

The American people did just that over the proposed pay raise. Once the media brought the proposal to the public's attention, the public responded by saying "We won't take it."

The proposed pay raise issue brought out another important fact about our congressmen that also needs some close attention.

The honoraria, payments for speeches and other public appearances that

The vote did not stop the honoraria. Therefore, members can still collect this money from these special interest groups that vote on legislation in which these groups have special interests in.

assure congressmen serve those constituents who need their representation the most—the elderly.

Remember that congressmen generously dot out the cost of living in the country with the rising cost of living, let them try the shoe on the other foot and see how it fits.

'Think Before You Lift' By Stephen P. Porcari

If there's a box to be moved at work, you just move it. If there's a piece of furniture to be moved at home, you just move it. You seldom think about how to do it properly. It's the tendency to want to get the obstacle out of the way as quickly as possible, and the erroneous belief that you can manage anything you can lift, that causes most back injuries.

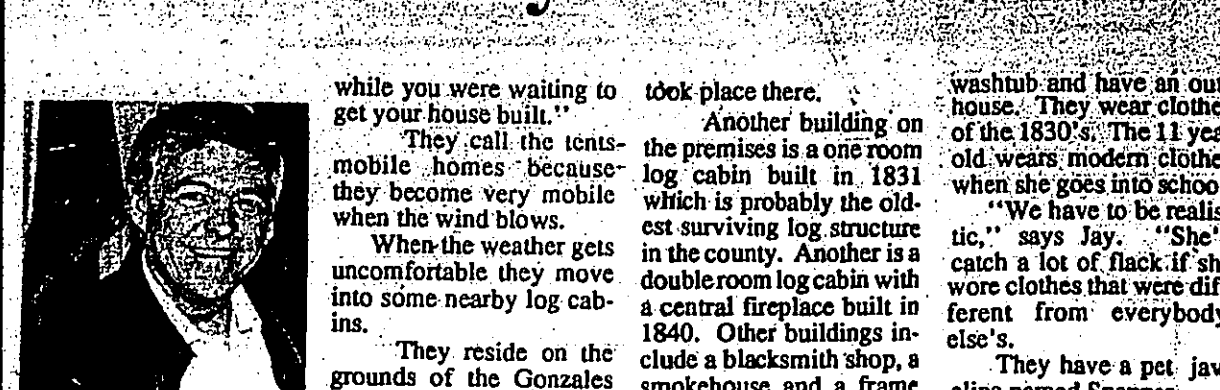

Sprains and strains of the back are the third major cause of activity limitation, superseded only by heart conditions and arthritis/rheumatism conditions. It is estimated that well over a million men, women and children suffer back injuries each year, mainly because they lift without thinking.

In addition to the agonizing pain that is experienced by the victims, it should be noted that temporary and permanent disability from back injury accounts for millions of hours of lost time, millions of dollars in lost salaries, and tens of millions of dollars in lost production.

Wilson Family Modern Pioneers

By TUMBLEWEED SMITH

Jay Wilson and his family live like pioneers on the grounds of an unusual museum at Gonzales.

"Periodically we make live soap," says Jay. "All we use to clean with is the live soap we make ourselves. We smoke meats out here, we make jerky, there's always something to do."

Jay, his wife, their 18 year old son and 11 year old daughter live in tents.

"It was common for people coming into Texas in the 1830's to live in temporary shelters," explains Jay. "You didn't buy a home. There were none. You had to build them. So you had to have temporary living quarters."

home built with rough hewn lumber in 1856. The purpose of the village is to show people the lifestyles of the 19th century. Jay and his family give programs and demonstrate various pioneer skills such as quilting, churning, blacksmithing, weaving, spinning, firemaking, gun, log preparation, open fire or fireplace cooking.

Prices range from a dollar for a walk through tour to $25 for a "design your own" program in which skills are experienced by participants. Last year Jay presented special programs to more than 26,000 children.

The Wilsons bathe in a wash tub and have an outdoor house. They wear clothes of the 1830's. The 11 year old wears modern clothes when she goes into school.

"We have to be realistic," says Jay. "She's caught a lot of flack if she wears clothes that were different from everybody else's."

They have a pet, Jay's elina named Snapper. "When he gets scared he'll turn around and chop his teeth at you," says Jay. "That's why we call him Snapper. He's a great little pet. He sleeps in one of our tents with us on the floor. Some nights he'll just put my hand down off the bed and he comes over, smells my hand and goes back to sleep."

Recently Snapper started going to bed with a rock in his mouth. "He took it around in his mouth," says Jay. "It makes a clattering noise that'll wake you up at night I guarantee you."

Letters: Renowned Product Will Be Missed

Editor:

April 30, 1967, our son Shelby Hickman was discharged from a tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force, stationed in Greenland. He was with the SAC and was also a recreation specialist. He went to Denmark to attend the Danish School of Languages at the University of Copenhagen. He took business administration, and in addition to his studies was instructor in modern dance and other facets of art.

Denmark did their first musical, "Annie Get Your Guns." Shelby was introduced to the director, Preben Kass, a Danish actor who was also the producer and director. Shelby was chosen for the lead dancer. This was when Shelby met Ebbelansberg, also an actor and producer. He owned the Rial Theatre. They became close friends. We were notified of Ebbelansberg's sudden death from kidney failure on February 4.

Ebbe came to see us every summer, spent most of his time at the Barclay Lake camp house. He told us this was the most beautiful place in the world and that he did his best writing while visiting us. He preferred paddling the boat when on the lake, rather than using the motor.

We had no time to inform him of the trouble we were having with the E and L Lumber Company.

of all the damage they had done to the lake.

I have been the care taker of the Barclay Lake for seven years. It is owned by Dan and Beverly Barclay Collier. Beverly is the daughter of the late Dr. Barclay.

We and many other of our friends will surely miss Ebbe.

Sermon Of The Week Help Others To Sit At Jesus' Feet

By THE REV. CLYDE BENNETT

The scripture for today is from Luke 9:35-38. "They found the man sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind. Jesus seems to be habitually taking the pieces of a person's life and putting them together. As a composer of great music makes beautiful sounds out of discordant progressions and harmonies, Jesus makes something beautiful out of the many parts of a person's life."

In the Scripture preceding the one used this morning we find a man who was tortured, his life in turmoil, afraid of being cured, living among the tombs and isolated from other persons.

But now we see Jesus coming to the man and once again making him whole. The people came to see what Jesus had done. "They found the man sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed and in his right mind. Jesus seems to be habitually taking the pieces of a person's life and putting them together. As a composer of great music makes beautiful sounds out of discordant progressions and harmonies, Jesus makes something beautiful out of the many parts of a person's life."

God's love is something that is always doing great things through his people. With God's love working in and through us, we too can help persons put the pieces of their lives together again. "They found the man sitting at the feet of Jesus." May we help others to sit at the feet of Jesus, through God's love that rests in us.
