It used to be that the wearer of corrective lenser had a bit of an image problem. Not any longer. Not only have contact lenses changed the public in their quest for perfect vision, but glasses themselves are back in a big way.

All the advances in technology that made corrective lenses lighter, thinner and clearer have also helped people get interested in glasses again. New progressive lenses have gotten rid of the visible windows on standard bifocal lenses. They provide correction in a trifocal range...the lower portion corrects for reading, the middle for arm's length distance and the top for far away. There's no irritating line or visual jump when you scan up

In the times of the spostles...one was in Greece, he saw a statue to the unknown god. Ironic as it may seem, some people still do not know God. I see dark clouds in the west with light flashing to the ground

God has many faces and voices Christ is here...God's spirit is in all things.

I strike my neighbor. I strike Christ. I curse my neighbor... I curse Christ. I feed and clothe my neighbor... I feed and clothe Christ could this be God?

emember my dear Peopla...you are walking on socred ound...lot us take good care of it. -by Bob Joneas January, 1921

From across the field I could hear a mother calling her child. Could this be God calling her children home?

As I walked through the woods I could hear the breeze whispering the wonders of his creation?

Many hundreds of years ago people had many strange russis the leaves, could this be the voice of God gods and many different sacrifices. Today we offer ourselves and our labor as a sacrifice to God.

God can be so powerful and yet be so gentle.
