Tyler County Hospital Administrator Tom Sturdivant, unveils a dedication plaque located outside the new Emergency Care Facility, which expresses appreciation to the Tyler County Hospital Auxiliary and the TLL Temple Foundation.

Tyler County Emergency Care Facility Holds Formal Opening

By: Kelli Barnes

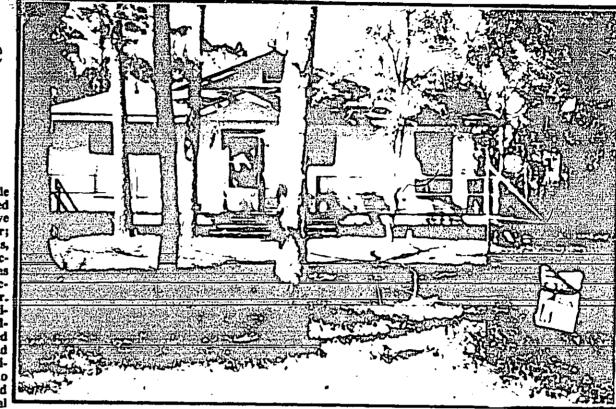

The long awaited dedication for the new Emergency and Waiting Room at Tyler County Hospital was held Thursday, Feb. According to Hosptial Administrator, Tom Sturdivant, the new additions were much needed and made possible only with the belp of the Tyler County Hospital Auxilliary and the TLL Temple Foundation. To date, the renovations are completely paid for with $20,056.31 from the Auxiliary, $86,093 from the TLL To ple Foundation, and another $86,093 from the hospi-

Boy Scouts Eye Youth Center Funds While Board Considers Next Move

Youth Development Center, Inc., which has been dormant for about two years since it stopped providing service to children in December, 1988. may be the object of an appeal from the Three Rivers Council Boy Scouts of America for some $18,000 in unused funds and assets for the beleagured Camp Urland Scout Camp facility in

According to Charles Beard, Executive Director for the Boy Scout Organization headquartered in Beaumont, "We are checking into whether or not we qualify in this request. The Boy Scouting organization was the original named benefactor in the incorporation papers, should the Youth Center dissolve its operation, Beard said. According Beard"We have an attorney who is checking with the Secretary of State to see if we still qualify, Camp Urland really needs the money", he indicated. The scouts kicked off their annual fund drive in Woodville Tuesday.

According to TCYDC

President Don Stevenson the operating board of the organization has been Prison Hospitality House "inactive" for the past year but is scheduling a meeting "Sometime this month"

Stevenson said action taken by the board about a year ago in deeding the youth center facility located on Springhill Road to the Sabine/Neches Baptist Area Association, headquartered Kirbyville, "May have been a mistake."

Stevenson said break-ins and vandalisms seemed to indicate that a reconsideration of that action might be neces-

Stevenson said several "housesitters" were allowed to reside in the three bedroom home in order to protect the property of the organization. Commissioner Precinct 1 Maxie Riley said that several of his workmen had "seen someone driving off with a portable building" located behind the facility recently, Riley said it was he concern that the Youth Center property "Go to help the kids of Tyler County." B.C. McCoy, who heads the Sabine Neches Baptist Area Association said Tuesday the Youth Center Facility had been considered as possible under a Missions proposal submitted by The Rev. Bo. Owens of Colmesneil. Currently the Baptist Association's custodian of the property is The Rev. Bill Swearingin. The property is now listed "For Sale" by Patton Realty of Woodville. According to Real Estate Agent Lane Patton "The price is $20,000 and highly Stevenson told THE BOOSTER Monday about a recent letter he recieved from former TCYDC President The Rev. J. R. Johnson inquiring about the disposition of the unused funds belonging to the organization urging him "to take some kind of action with the money."

Stevenson indicated be would call a meeting of the TCYDC board soon to discuss the money tasue and other matters. The organizations president also indicated he might be in favor of asking for the youth center facility back if that was the wish of his Tyler County Probation officials have indicated that there is a "definate need" for the Youth Shelter concept and services that were delivered in the past by the Youth Center organization.
