Who wrote this letter?" Mr. Waddell asked me as from his desk. "I did," I stammered.

"What's wrong?" "Nothing," he said. "It's beautiful. But you didn't

"Yes, sir, I did," I said looking into the sympathetic face of the man who had been my science teacher in Junior School and with was now serving tary School where my son was completing first grade.

I find that hard to believe," he said waving the letter that, as secretary of the Gartield PTA. I had written to the faculty thanking them for the quality education they had imparted to my son and to the entire student body.

"Why?" I asked talking around the lump in my throat.

Where did you learn to write like this?" he asked. "I just wrote what I felt."

He studied the letter for a long moment then looked deeply into my eyes as though looking beyond the present to an earlier time.

He cleared his throat. Throughout your school years, he said, your trachers and I considered you a dullard. I think the educational system had better take a closer look at the field of science as opposed to the field of art. Thank you for coming," ho said as he stood to dismiss

On the way home the words filled my consciousness - "dullard". I was hurt, embarrassed and shocked at hearing my former teacher and friend say at the District Convention in Beaumont on April 19esenting the Lions Club is ne District will have a maxes at the Queen's Banquet on Saturday night at 7 p.m. Robbie Jo is the daughter of Lion Robert and Edith Vinson and is a Junior in Chester High School. Robbie Jo is a member of the girls basket ball team, active in the band and pep squad, the Future Farmers of America and a leader in the Junior class. She represented the Chester Lions Club in the Dogwood Festival Parade, with her Charming Presence on the most interesting "Float" with a replica of the first Tyler County Courthouse, built in 1849.

The Lions Club owes the credit for the building of the parade entry to Lion Don Cryer, Mary Cryer, Robert Vinson, Edith Vinson, Robert Moore, Nancy Moore and probably others. The Chester Lions appreciate the fine way hat Robbie Jo is representing the chib this year as our Sweetheart.
County Agent Bob

Armentrout was the guest peaker at the April 4 meeting, discussing some of the present problems with the sects and pests of crops conswered questions from the Club members. Lion Barney Tarver introduced the speaker and announced a good program for the April 18 meeting.

The Club heard several passind directors for 1991-92. The job assignments for the cantal Barberts on April 27, was distributed to members present by Chair-man Author Besnes. The Club members and three guests enjoyed a deli-cious meat prepared and served by Lion wives, Jo-Carolyn Sturrock and Sharon Heker.
