August and, overall, 1,900 government jobs disappeared. Total non-agricultural employment barely budged, losing 400 jobs from July to August. The total was a trade-off of 2,300 manufacturing jobs gained and 2,700 non-manufacturing jobs lost. Most of the jobs gained in manufacturing were in the production of non-durable goods, which saw a 5 percent increase from July to August. The most surprising loss was the 4,300 jobs that disappeared from the service sector. This 2 percent decrease brought down what would have been a relatively stable month for growth in non-manufacturing employment.

"We're still seeing very little change in non-farm salaries jobs," Nubers said. "And we are experiencing some negative impact from a slowdown in summer outdoor industries. That will definitely put us in a wait and see position for the September unemployment rates."

Texas MSAs with the lowest unemployment rates in August were Bryan-College Station, with a rate of 3.6 percent; Austin, at 4.5 percent; Amarillo, at 4.6 percent; and San Angelo, with a 5.2 percent rate.

The area with the highest unemployment rates included McAllen-Edinburg-Mission, with a 15.4 percent rate; Brownsville-Harlingen, at 10.6 percent; and El Paso and Odessa, each with a 9.5 percent rate.

August jobless rates for other East Texas counties include:

Sitton wins PPGA award

WOODVILLE — Diane Sitton, advertising sales representative of the Woodman, recently received the Garden Communicators Award Magazine Division, from the Professional Plant Growers Association. The award, given in recognition of excellence in horticultural journalism, was presented to Sitton for her article "Keep It Cool with Green and White." The article appeared in the July/August 1991 issue of Texas Gardener magazine. Sitton received an engraved plaque and a cash award.

She is the author of Texas Gardener's Guide to Growing and Using Herbs and her articles and photos have appeared in Organic Gardening, Flower and Garden, Texas Gardener, Herb Companion and regional publications. Sitton lives with her husband, James in Colmesneil.

Flower arranging class scheduled

WOODVILLE — The Community Services Division of Angelina College will offer a four week advanced flower arranging course at Woodville Junior High School which will begin on Monday, Oct. 12.

The course will meet on Monday nights 6-9 p.m. until Nov. 2. The cost of the course is $25. Students interested in registering for the course need to come by the Woodville Junior High School 5-6 p.m. on Oct. 12.

The instructor for the course is Suzanne Pittman of the Bizzy Bee Florist in Lufkin.

The course will instruct students on advanced principals of floral arrangement design including color selection, bows, the creation of corsages, and techniques of wiring flowers together. Students will create arrangements. Students can also expect to spend an additional $10-$15 for supplies as directed by the instructor.

Tyler County residents complete certification

WOODVILLE — A total of 17 Tyler County residents completed the Texas Parks and Wildlife hunter certification program presented Sept. 19-20 at the Tyler County Courthouse.

The certification course was taught by C.E. "Chuck" Bump, a TPWD certified instructor, and was sponsored by the Tyler County Sheriff's Office. Those completing the training include: Kevin Thomas, Timothy Stafford, Bryan Phillips, Clint Abston, Steven Henley, Varney Durham Jr., Matthew Seales, Jathan Borel, Shawn Williamson, Caleb Spruick, Cody Spills, Dewey Stuart and Heath Fuller, all of Woodville. Other students who completed the course were Jack Ard of Chester, David Johnson of Spurger and Patrick Dean and Dustin Shillings, both of Hillister.

Others assisting with the program include sheriff's posse President Terry Ripley, Secretary Tim Bump and Eddie Bump, who assisted his father, Chuck Bump, with the instruction.

Clark noted that since the Gib Lewis Prison Unit opened near Woodville, Tyler County has already had the benefit of the work of SPPD prosecutors in nine cases, five of which were the result of a near riot that occurred in 1991. Of the nine cases prosecuted in the county, all have resulted in convictions except one.

Champion adds to forest's 'special places'

HUNTSVILLE — Champion International Corporation has made two new additions to its "Special Places in the Forest," a program that gets aside environmentally and historically unique areas on the company's forestlands in East Texas.

The new additions, located in Polk and Houston counties, will join 10 initial areas put into the program since its establishment in 1991.

The new areas are:

- Cypress Island, a scenic corridor of the Neches River near Corrigan, known for its large cypress trees, lush hardwood bottoms, and abundance of wildlife. The area contains one of the largest bald cypress trees in East Texas, measuring 24 feet in circumference and 110 feet tall.
- The site covers about 114 acres, and Champion said it will continue to manage the surrounding hardwood bottomland for biodiversity.

The Madden Massacre Ground, a significant historical site located atop a hill on Champion land in Houston County.

Containing 20 acres, the site includes a state historical marker and a cemetery where seven women and their children were killed by Indians in the 1830s while their husbands and father were away.

Bill Krick of Huntsville, general manager of Champion's Texas Timberlands Region, said each of the areas in the Special Places program will be protected as long as Champion owns the lands.

All logging activity will cease and the only forest management activity to take place in the areas will be to suppress fire and insect outbreaks.

The Special Places will be allowed to grow and evolve naturally, and will remain under the care of Champion's wildlife biologists, ornithologists, and other scientists," he said.

While Champion will continue to make contributions of company land to conservation groups such as the Nature Conservancy when appropriate, Krick said the company will use the Special Places program to set aside unique areas which are surrounded entirely by other Champion lands.

By remaining under Champion ownership, the Special Places areas will also remain a part of the tax base of local schools and counties.

Because most of the set-asides are located in remote forest regions and are environmentally sensitive in many cases, entry to the unique areas will be by permit obtained through Champion's Texas Timberlands offices in Huntsville, Texas.

The Special Places program now includes 1,767 acres. Krick said additional areas will be added to the program in the future.

CAMPAGN CARAVAN — Donna Peterson (left), Republican candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, was in Woodville Monday afternoon as part of a campaign caravan sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau. The candidate met with about 50 area residents during the brief stop on her way to a TFB rally in Lufkin. The TFB recently endorsed Peterson over 20-year incumbent Charles Wilson (D-Lufkin). Two years ago on its Texas forestlands, Champion committed itself to a program of setting aside a series of "Special Places in the Forest"—areas chosen for their uniqueness, beauty, and history.

Since then, ten areas have been set aside in six East Texas counties. All logging and management practices were ceased except for efforts needed to protect the areas.

Now Champion has added two more areas as Special Places in the Forest.

- Cypress Island, a scenic corridor of the Neches River near Corrigan, is known for its magnificent cypress trees, lush hardwood bottoms, and abundance of wildlife. Standing in the middle of the area is one of the largest bald cypress trees in East Texas, measuring 24 feet in circumference and 110 feet tall.

"Another feature of the festival will be the unique musical entertainment," Johnson said. "The North Harris County Dulcimer Society and the Houston Balabika Society are scheduled to perform during the festival. The North Harris County Dulcimer Society has helped establish the Village Dulcimer Society here, and they, too, are scheduled to play."

The annual event will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 17, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 18.

Admission is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12.

Persons attending the event are being asked to park at the Tyler County Airport off Highway 190 just west of Woodville. A free shuttle bus will be available to carry festival goers to and from the airport parking area.

County adopts 1993 budget, tax rate

-Commissioners approve $4.6 million spending plan, retain 59.5 cent tax rate-

By GREG PEAK
Editor

WOODVILLE — After receiving no comments during a brief public hearing Monday morning, the Tyler County Commissioners gave their unanimous stamp of approval on a new $4,565,499.50 budget which will go into effect on Jan. 1.

About an hour later, during their regular October meeting, the commissioners also re-adopted the same 59.5 cent per $100 valuation tax rate that has been in place for the previous four years. Under the plan approved, 31 cents of the rate is allocated to the general fund, 17 cent to the road and bridge fund, 6.5 cents for the hospital and 5 cents to retire the jail bonds.

Calling the new 1993 spending plan "tight, with no fat at all," the commissioners praised the efforts of both county officials and employees in helping to keep spending down.

"The thing I'm most proud of is that we've kept the tax rate at the same level it's been since 1989," Precinct 3 Commissioner Jerry Mahan said. "We've been able to actually increase services by cutting into areas that have been outdated."

"Most all department heads are pleased by what we've done, as evidenced by the fact that we don't have anyone here protesting the new budget," Mahan added.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Maxie Riley said he was particularly pleased that the county managed to escape a tax hike after being hit with an unexpected $30,000 bill for employee workmen's compensation insurance earlier this year.

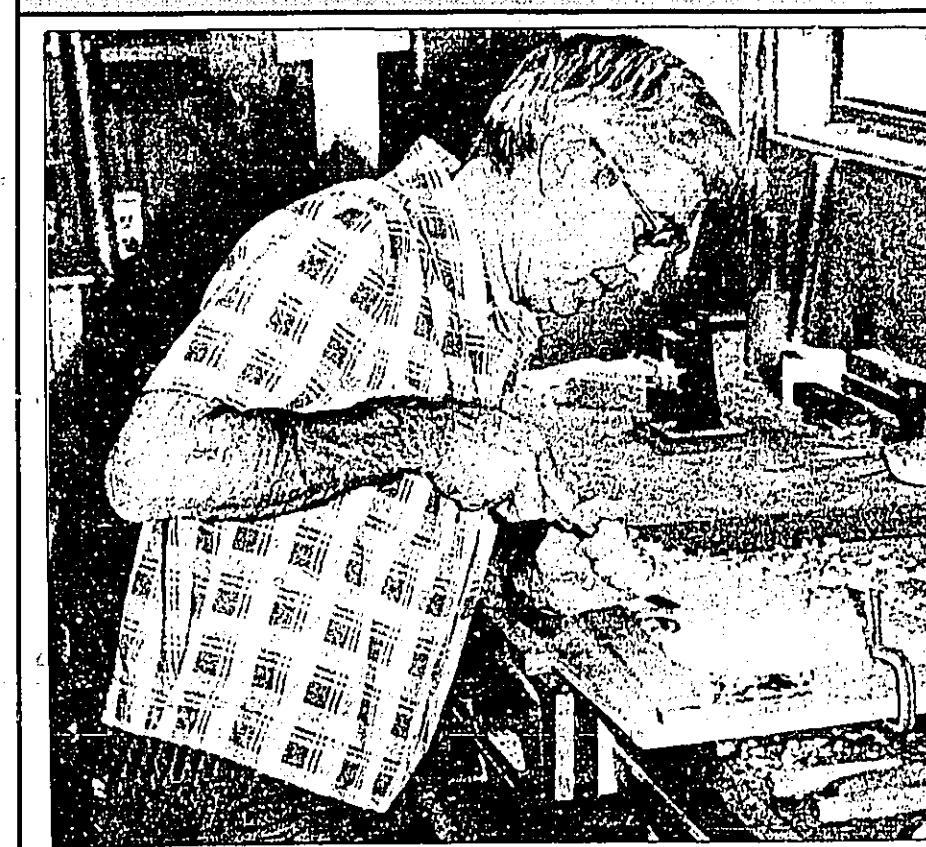

County Judge Jerome Owens noted that while the county has managed to keep its property tax rate stable, the 1993 budget allocates an additional $300,000 toward providing additional services to local residents in the form of additional money for road and bridge work, law enforcement and solid waste collection.

"I don't see how the county could do more with the money available," Owens added. "We weren't sure with the budgeting being mandated by the state and federal governments that we could hold the line on taxes, but we did."

Noting that only $2,010,780 of the $4,600,365 in projected 1993 revenue would come from property taxes, Riley praised the management ability of the county department heads for using their money wisely.

Harvest Festival slated Saturday and Sunday

Ancient art of instrument making among featured festival attractions

WOODVILLE — Jim Pickett may not be able to play the instruments he makes, but his skill, craftsmanship and simple love of music can be seen and heard in every guitar, violin and mandolin he builds.

Pickett, who retired from the computer business in 1985, has been building a variety of stringed instruments since 1981. His hobby turned into a business in 1986 "to give me something to do" and now the Tyler County man is building and selling 10-15 instruments each year.

"The Chester native will be among the invited craftsmen who will display and demonstrate their skills during the Fifth Annual Harvest Festival, Oct. 17-18.

The annual event, hosted by the Tyler County Heritage Society, will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days at Heritage Village in Woodville. It is designed to give visitors a view of the skills and crafts that the pioneer East Texas families used during the past century.

Pickett's contribution to the event will be in the musical arena in which he has grown to appreciate, although he does not play an instrument himself.

Although Pickett has enjoyed working with crafts most of his life, he got involved with musical instruments late in life and has only developed the necessary skills during the last few years.

"I've done a lot of things in my life, and most of it was work," he said. "This, however, is not. It gives me a unique feeling that I never thought I'd ever have."

"If I won the lottery today, tomorrow I'd still be carving fiddles," he said.

Although Pickett will make just about every type of stringed, acoustical instrument that can be named, his favorite to work on has always been the violin or fiddle.

"I try to keep two instruments going at all times. I may be working on a guitar, a mandolin or a cello, but I enjoy building the violins the best. I don't know why that is, except I really love to build violins," Pickett said.

Among the more difficult instruments to make, Pickett notes, is the city's financial consultant, explained that when the bonds were originally issued, they carried a 9.5 percent interest rate. By refinancing the debt, Adams said the city could issue the bonds at an interest rate of less than 6 percent.

Under two scenarios presented by Adams, by refinancing the bonds at the lower interest rates the city could save either $113,782 or $94,030 in interest payments through the year 2002. The $113,782 savings would be spread over the next 10 years while under the second plan, the city would realize almost all of the $94,030 saving during the 1993 and 1994 payments.

The second scenario is designed to benefit clients who might be experiencing budget problems due to the poor economy," Adams said. "You'd take almost all of the interest savings up front over the next couple of years to help balance your current expenses."

Adams said no formal decision was made regarding the two plans Monday, most council members voicing their preference for the second plan, which they pointed out would realize a greater savings over the life of the bonds.

In his presentation, Adams noted that in refinancing the bonds, the city would actually be increasing the principal debt, raising it from the current level of $725,000 to about $805,000. The additional debt would result from refinancing fees and expenses plus a loss in interest earnings on money set aside for bond payments during the 30 days that funds are tied up in an escrow account.

However, Adams noted that by cutting the interest rate on the debt from 9.5 to less than 6 percent, the money the city would pay in interest over the next 10 years would drop from the current $403,000 to $209,968.

Mayor Billy Rose explained following the meeting that while voters approved the $1.3 million in bonds back in 1984 to finance the rebuilding of the city's natural gas distribution system, Of that amount, only about $1 million in bonds were actually issued to pay for the project.

Rose noted that the city probably would have refinanced the bonds earlier, but as it turns out, it is good that we didn't. The interest rates have continued to drop so by refinancing now, we'll end up paying less interest than we would have had we refinanced the bonds a year or two ago.

In related action Monday night, the city council will vote to issue the bonds.

City eyes refinancing $725,000 in gas bonds

By GREG PEAK

WOODVILLE — Although council members wanted "a couple of more days" to study the proposal, work to begin refinancing the remaining debt on the city's 1984 gas bonds was given a tentative green light Monday night by the Woodville City Council.

Under the plan, the city would retire the remaining $725,000 in principal owed on the $1 million gas system bonds by issuing a new series of bonds at a lower interest rate.

Steve Adams of First Southwest Co., the city's financial consultant, explained that when the bonds were originally issued, they carried a 9.5 percent interest rate. By refinancing the debt, Adams said the city could issue the bonds at an interest rate of less than 6 percent.

Under two scenarios presented by Adams, by refinancing the bonds at the lower interest rates the city could save either $113,782 or $94,030 in interest payments through the year 2002. Ex-students seek change in school campus name

WOODVILLE — A petition asking the Woodville Independent School District's board to rename Woodville Intermediate School is being circulated by a group of ex-students who graduated in Woodville during 1940 and earlier.

The move to rename the intermediate campus as Kirby Intermediate School was launched during a reunion and school age children held Sept. 12. At that meeting, almost 100 ex-Woodville school students voted unanimously to once again honor John H. Kirby.

The intermediate school is located on the site of the old Kirby High School.

FOREST FIRE CLAIMS HOME — A forest fire that broke out at 4 p.m. Friday destroyed the Tom Barlow home in the Clear Springs Community between Moss Hill and Doucette. The fire, which was handled by the Woodville and Colmesneil fire departments as well as the Texas Forest Service, destroyed over 10 acres of timber and threatened two other homes in the remote, heavily wooded section of Tyler County. Members of the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department were just about to begin their annual homecoming barbecue at the fire station when they were called away to battle the blaze. At the Village

On the front page of the Woodsmen, dated Thursday, October 15, 1987, there was a picture of a man standing on a ladder on the court house lawn, updating a sign that touted the latest sum raised to SAVE THE VILLAGE. The picture below the picture identified the sign changer only as a volunteer. Actually, it was Fred Sullivan who, as president of the Tyler County Heritage Society for the past almost three years, is still very much a volunteer.

And, to be sure, Fred is still doing signs, the current ones, of course, having to do with the Village's Fifth Annual Harvest Festival this Saturday and Sunday, October 17 and 18. Society members bring him a field of dried corn stalks and a couple of bales of hay, and Fred turns them into things of beauty, at the village entrance, on the court house square, and throughout the Village to greet and delight festival visitors.

Harvest Festival time is here

In fact, one of the first things you'll notice as you enter the main gate to the Village grounds, even before you are aware that the east side of the main street has been completely rebuilt, will be a lush green vine, sporting yellow blossoms. That's because one of Fred's straw men from last year's festival, left by the pumpkin head to go to seed. And, while we can't promise you full blown pumpkins on the vine, we can promise you pumpkins and lots more at the mini-farmers market you'll find inside the Village during the Harvest Festival.

And, of course, that's just the start as you take the tour down main street, where craft people will be found demonstrating their wares and old-fashioned ways on either side, or the high road past the tool shop to the industrial area of the Village.

One of the Village Square, the Blacksmiths will be in full swing, adding their singing anvils to the music and story telling taking place on the outdoor stage.

Somewhere out there in this little village that depicts life in Tyler County ca. 1840, 1900 and sometimes beyond, you'll find a lady with an interesting collection and demonstration of old tools, the kind you had to heat on a wood stove, and a group of men from Lufkin with pop n' johnny single piston engines.

You'll find Davin Ivan of Spurger with his hand made leather saddles and weaponry, made according to patterns popular over a century ago, folklorist Bill Bratt spinning tales and horse hair head bands and SFA's Pat Barton tying fish nets. And in another corner will be Clarence and David Wiedenfeld making and demonstrating those old fashioned toys that were so popular with kids of every age last year.

Woodville's own Whittlin' Sid Owens will be on hand with his beautiful wood carvings as will Rosalea Support of Gladewater, who sculpts cat-alpa woods as her husband shows his mastery in the making of white oak baskets.

And up on the hill, overlooking the Village, you'll find a group of hardy men, women and children, spending the weekend in a Texas Revolutionary Encampment, living the life of their forefathers during the 1830's.

A variety of good foods and beverages will be available in Village proper, and the Pickett House of old iron and serving their famous country cooking throughout the day.

It's going to be a lot of fun, an education, a chance to see for yourself what life was like "way back then," as members of the newly organized Village Playhouse wander through the crowds, enacting the rolls of real pioneers.

Admission to the Village for the Harvest Festival is $5 for adults, $2.50 for children, parking will be available at the Fairgrounds, a mile west of the Village, with free shuttle bus service to and from the festival grounds. Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Meanwhile, going back not so long ago, just five years to the campaign that made this all possible, we recall a lady named Jeralline Fulton, who told the Woodsmen she didn't have any money to give to help save the Village. She did, however, make good quilts and she liked to sew.

"That place means a lot to me," Jeralline told Heritage Society members. The first job I ever had was at Heritage Village. And so, on Saturday, October 27, just five years ago this coming Saturday, October 17, members stood at the foot of the wooden man and sold Jeralline's quilts as fast as she could make them. And they were good.

Education tax hike on horizon

By Lynell Williams
Texas From Association

AUSTIN — Gov. Ann Richards will call legislation into special session next month's election, almost certainly to raise taxes to finance public schools.

At the Texas Education Agency, President Bush and leaders of the Texas Education Association met in San Antonio to discuss the North American Free Trade Agreement.

"We are creating the largest, richest and most productive market in the world," Bush said, "a $6 trillion market of 360 million people that stretches from Alaska and the Yukon to the Yucatan Peninsula."

The trade pact, expected to boost the Rio Grande Valley economy and sales in Texas-grown commodities in Mexico, would become effective in 1994, if each nation's congress approves.

Richards, who did not attend the signing, said she agreed with Bush on most aspects of the trade, but voiced several pro-union concerns.

Richards, who has endorsed Ark. Gov. Bill Clinton, called Bush "a president in Texas' ceremonial" to win votes.

Delay No Accident
Richards said Texas legislators will consider a reform plan crafted by herself, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock and Speaker Gil Lewis, but released no details.

Richards inherited the public school finance problems she didn't create, but she has not solved it, either.

It's no accident that Richards and the leadership delayed until after the election to bring the sticky issue back into public focus. It makes all politicians look inept.

In earlier sessions, the Legislature split votes along party lines and the Democrats won each occasion, only to be forced back to Square One by the Texas Supreme Court.

Their last effort created higher property taxes which the Texas Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional, but allowed to be collected.

Lane Ducks, New Taxes
Thus, the issue today lies in a shambles, and Richards is at another crossroads in her political career.

She does not call lawmakers into session this summer to help her raise taxes in the middle of campaign season, now can she gamble on waiting until the January regular session, when anti-tax Republicans may well hold more seats.

Her last week's announcement, she held out pragmatism and painted no rose outlook for success.

As it is, she must rely on the 36 known lame duck legislators and whoever else is defeated Nov. 1 - i.e., those not afraid to increase taxes because their terms are ended.

Guy Taps Wallace
The governor named Justice John Wallace, now a private attorney, to serve the few weeks remaining for the Texas Railroad Commission seat vacated by Lena Guerrero.

Guerrero, scandalized by lies on her resume, resigned last month but continued to campaign for election against the panel, and in fact is outpacing her GOP opponent, Guy Taps Wallace.

In the wake of her exposure, however, Williamson has benefited by cash infusions in his campaign, enough to lead her for the last reported ring $358,727 to $286,039.

Other Highlights
House Speaker Gil Lewis named Rep. Kim Brimmer, R-Fort Worth, chairman of the House Education Committee. He replaces Rep. Mark Stiles, D-Beaumont, who has been named head of the Ways and Means Committee.

Texas has had its worst year since 1954 in the sale of oil and gas leases, according to Texas Land Commissioner Gary Mauro. Those leases sold for $5.6 billion. The School Land Board Received 56 bids for $2.4 million, compared with the sale last October of 84 tracts for $5.4 million.

Sen. Jim Turner, D-Crocket, said he will introduce legislation to create the Texas commission on Children, which he hopes will be part of the solution to youth problems. Commission members would develop legislative proposals addressing children's health, education, juvenile crime and family violence.

Former State Rep. James Hury of Galveston died last week from an aneurysm. Hury, piloting a light plane, had just landed when an air gust caught one wing and "up and down" into the plane landing behind him; his propeller smashed into his cockpit.

Two weeks earlier, Hury had resigned his seat to begin what many considered a bright future as a lobbyist.

Texas Railroad Commissioner Bob Krueger wanted the U.S. to mortgage its future by depending too much on foreign oil, and plugged Clinton for president.

Advocates for Bush commented that the proposed trade pact with Mexico could open new supply fields and markets for U.S. petro-chemical industries.

Former Gov. Bill Clements, now living in Dallas, said the negative comment about his friend, "not temperamentally suited" to be president.

The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the federal court-ordered redistricting plan for the Texas Senate.

Texas Instruments, Inc. announced it will close its Abilene defense plant next spring, eliminating about 350 jobs. 50 employees will be transferred to other TI plants in North Texas.

The Woodville Convalescent Center would like to congratulate the 4-H members for their recent accomplishments and awards received at the Tyler County Fair. Our hats are off to you for a job well done.

Our residents took part in the Tyler County Fair. Thanks to all who stopped by our booth for a blood pressure check. Raffle tickets are available for the beautiful quilt which was displayed in our booth, one dollar each or seven chances for five dollars. The quilt was made by Edith Williams of Colmesneil. The following residents attended the fair and would like to thank them for their participation and time of visit: Ernestine Russell, Vertie Crow, Mabel McIntire, Duke Davis, Fannie Turner, Little Lane and Connie Whitford.

The top bowling winner this week is Mabel Dean. She is becoming quite a "pro."

Thanks are extended to the following Entertainment groups: The residents enjoy the sounds of the Brother Hood Band, the tapping rag time sound of the Wildwood Band, the sound of the Wildwood Band, the sound of the Wildwood Band.

Spurger Writes:

The Parrot

By Kay Dowden
I have a parrot who talks. His name is Pio. Pio's feet are deformed. He has very little movement in his feet. Most of the time he uses his beak to move around in his cage. He can perch, but he has to hold on with his beak.

Sometimes he forgets to hold on. He will fall to the bottom of his cage. Sure he gets discouraged. He never gives up though. All of a sudden you see a beak coming from the bottom of the cage. I watch as he struggles to climb his way back up to the top of his cage.

When I see him struggling to climb to the top, it reminds me of myself because there are days when I am struggling to climb to the top. Sometimes I get discouraged. Then I think of him and he just makes me want to try harder. Guess you can't keep a good bird down!

Holiday Pines Manor News

By Jessie Haynes
Yet another busy week. The chill is in the air and the leaves on the trees grow more beautiful every day.

We had resident's council meeting this week and we nominated our special people of the month. Our volunteer of the month is June Zimke. She has been a volunteer for many years. Our employee of the month is Jackie Wallace. She is a nurse and works at the Tyler County Hospital.

We have had plenty of brain teasers this week too. We wonder what Melinda is gonna come up with next!!!

We had a great visit with Ben Coplin this week. He visited us during church practice and sang along with us. It was good seeing him again.

We had a great time Thursday evening. We threw a surprise birthday party for Roger Byars. I think he was a little shocked and surprised. As always he put on a good show for us. Also for our enjoyment while he was on break he listened to Tim Hughes on the radio. Our Holiday Pines Achey Breaky Dancers enjoyed themselves dancing while Roger sang the titled songs. His mother, Maxine Carroll, was one of our students and he was surprised.

A good friend of mine, Louise Jackson, took myself and Myrtle Andrews for a scenic tour of Tyler County. We went to Campers Cove, Town Hill, Spurger and Harmony. It was a beautiful ride into its lovely this time of the year.

We had Bible study with Bro. Wyatt Lee and it was another good lesson. Tex and I on the patio was quiet nice, too!!! The weekend was filled with games, movies, church, singing, and gospel music with the Kay Baptist Church. We missed Bro. Bobby Cree. We hope we will see him next week.

The rain hindered us enjoying a good game of croquet. I guess we will try again.

We would like to thank J.D. Landry for his assistance with our activities this weekend.

Thanks to all who came this week.

Hospitality training class offered Oct. 27

WOODVILLE — The Texas Hospitality Training Program for managers/owners of tourism-related businesses will be offered from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27, at the Tyler County Courthouse's commissioners courtroom.

Presented by County Extension Agent Sherry James and County Clerk Doniece Gregory, the program is designed to assist tourism business owners in developing new concepts and skills to better serve their customers.

The program is being co-sponsored locally by the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce and the Tyler County Extension Service.

"Texas Hospitality: Sharing Our Heritage — Sharing Our Pride" is a new state-wide training program for

"front-line" employees and managers of businesses serving tourists. Videos and training manuals have been developed to provide instruction in "hospitality habits" and "business service management."

According to the program organizers, hospitality skills to be taught help business owners obtain repeat business and customer loyalty. They also improve employee morale and attitude, reduce employee turnover, increase customer satisfaction and reduce complaints, give the unemployed more opportunity for employment in tourism and service-related industry and enhance opportunity for upward mobility in service positions.

During the program, managers will learn:

- How to improve customer service through "visitor friendly" systems.
- The value of tourism for the community and for Texas.
- "Hospitality Habits" to improve service and customer satisfaction.
- The hiring and training of customer-focused employees.
- Ways to develop an action plan for improving customer service.

Cost of the program is $5 and those wishing to take part must sign-up by Oct. 16. To register, contact Sherry James, County Extension Agent, 100 County Courthouse Basement, Woodville, Texas 75979 or call (409) 283-8284.

Corneal Infections from Contact Lens

Red, painful eyes among contact lens wearers may be a sign of infection of the cornea, the transparent circle in the center of each eye. Inflammation and infection of the cornea due to improper contact lens care can cause other problems such as reduced visual acuity, abnormal sensitivity to light, and watery discharge from the eyes.

According to recent reports in the medical journals Linear and New England Journal of Medicine, wearing extended-wear soft lens overnight increases the risk of corneal inflammation by 10 to 15 times as compared to day-time-only use. The risk of getting a serious infection from extended-wear soft lens is 21 times higher as compared to wearing rigid gas-permeable lens. According to Dr. Elisabeth Cohen and Jay Krichevsky, writing in Patient Care, the infection risk from disposable contact lens is not known currently, but such lens may cause less infection than the extended-wear type because they are discarded before significant protein and mucous deposits occur. These researchers make four suggestions:

1. Follow recommended measures for lens care.
2. Wear lens for only the prescribed length of time.
3. Remove lens if there is discomfort, redness, or discharge.
4. Be prepared to discontinue lens wear if necessary.

Maloy sets school record in Woodville's first win

with Don Stevenson

WOODVILLE - When Woodville coach Melvin Houston said that he wanted his team just to "go out and have fun" following their second district loss two weeks ago, little did he realize that his ace running back, DeCarlos Maloy, would take him literally.

Maloy and his teammates definitely did their share of "having fun" Friday night before a packed homecoming crowd, and amused themselves with a 51-44 win over the Kountze Lions for their first win of the season.

Maloy set at least two school records in the process, including most touchdowns in a game and most rushing yards in a game. The Woodville junior scored seven times for a total of 42 points, and ran up and down the field for 324 yards on 46 carries. He came within 20 yards of breaking the one game rushing record set earlier this year by Dexter Hebert of Beaumont Kelly.

"It was the most fun I've had in a long time," said the Woodville running back after the record breaking performance.

Although the fun started early for Maloy and his teammates, and continued throughout most of the game, it became serious in the final three minutes of the contest when Kountze scored twice and threatened another time.

"In the end we had to play defense with our offense," admitted Houston. "In other words, as long as Woodville had the ball, Kountze couldn't score."

Taking advantage of this, Houston winning their first game of the year, Houston said, "This kind of puts us over the hump and gives us momentum."

Referring to Maloy's performance he added, "Anytime a kid gets that much yardage, you have to also give credit to the offensive line. No doubt about it, it was a great job of running."

Maloy's touchdown runs included runs of 34, 6, 10, 28, 26, and 89. He scored twice in every quarter, except the third.

Running behind tackles Billy Tolar and Derrick Hennigan, guards Mark Santos and Brian Bell, and center Michael Kenham, Maloy scored on his second carry of the night from the Kountze 34-yard line.

After Kountze narrowed the score on a 29-yard touchdown pass, Maloy went back to work on a six-yard touchdown scamper.

The next time Woodville got the ball, the Eagles set out on an impressive 55-yard drive that consumed 15 plays and was capped with a 10 yard scoring run by Maloy. On the drive, Maloy carried eight times for 54 yards, and on one 15-yard run broke three tackles.

The final touchdown in the half came on a six yard run by Maloy after Woodville marched to the Kountze goal three times. On two of the opportunities Woodville was thwarted by interceptions, but the third time was the charm with Maloy carrying four times for 33 yards after a short Kountze punt.

Although Woodville held a 27-7 lead at halftime and extended it to 34-7 early in the third period on a 28-yard run by Maloy, Kountze refused to play dead.

While not having much success on the ground, the Lions went to the air to get back into the game. Harrison McMillan scored on an 82-yard pass play from Johnny Smith for one, and Smith scored another after an interception.

With memories of the Orangefield comeback still fresh in their minds, Woodville coaches were still wanting to put more points on the board with the Eagles holding a 34-22 lead. Enter Woodville kicker Stephen Ramos for a crisp, 35-yard field goal to give a little more cushion.

In fact if it were not for Ramos' kicks, Woodville could have lost the game. The Eagle junior booted five extra points along with the field for a total of eight points in the game.

Kountze was still not through. Three minutes into the fourth quarter the Lions scored again on a Jamie Powell 13-yard run to narrow the score to 37-30.

Maloy and the Eagle offense countered with a pair of touchdowns to once again hold a three touchdown lead. Both scores came on drives of 50 yards or more, with Maloy scoring from 26 and eight yards.

With a passing attack that accumulated over 300 yards, the Lions kept a capacity homecoming crowd from leaving with a pair of touchdowns in less than three minutes apart.

The first came on a 77-yard pass from Smith to Chris Bolser. The second came after a Woodville fumble that their own eight yard line. Smith took it in and two point pass play from Smith and Bolser narrowed the score again by seven.

Woodville's offense finally got the ball and ran out the clock for their first win of the season.

The win gives Woodville a 1-4-1 season record and a 1-2 district record. Kountze is 2-4 and 0-3 in district play.

The Eagles next travel to Bama where they will play Stephen F. Austin, 35-0 Friday night.

Maloy credits line, brother in record setting performance

WOODVILLE - Woodville's DeCarlos Maloy not only has the experience of knowing how to run on the football field, but also knows the right things to say when asked about his record setting performance Friday night against Kountze.

When asked how he set the record, he quickly gave credit to his offensive line stating, "They blocked real good."

The junior running back came within 20 yards of breaking this year's state rushing record set earlier by Beaumont Kelly's Dexter Hebert. His 394 yards on 46 carries and seven touchdowns set a Woodville school rushing record.

"I felt like I could have made it (broken the record)," said Maloy, "but we were trying to win the game."

Maloy admits knowing that he had a shot at breaking the record at halftime when Woodville statistician Josh Lamberth informed him that he had already rushed for 153 yards.

"I would have like to have had it," admits Maloy, "but coach Houston didn't know that I was that close."

Maloy also admitted to every strong tie to his brother who is serving in the Army in Korea. Derrick Maloy played quarterback for Woodville several years ago and makes overseas calls every Friday night to check on his brother's progress.

"He is the reason I wear number two," says the younger Maloy. "That was his number in high school."

Maloy gives credit to his brother for his running style and believes that he is more like a Tony Danza set runner than anyone else.

"One difference is that I hit them the first time," says Maloy. "The second time they figure they are going to get hit again and they close their eyes."

Maloy has hit and kicked for 1,015 yards through six games this season. That is an average of almost 170 yards per game. His per carry average is 7.7.

His record setting performance Friday night came on the heels of a shoulder injury in Tuesday practice. Working at line backer on defense, Maloy hurt his right shoulder and did not suit up for Wednesday workouts. His arm was in a sling for two days.

Maloy, a true Texan at heart, says that he loves to play college ball somewhere in Texas. "Hopefully either the University of Texas or the Aggies," he says.

Ironically, in Friday's record setting performance, two of Maloy's runs were called back due to penalties. They totaled over 20 yards.

Wednesday as to when he will return to play.

The loss moved Colmesneil's season record to 2-4, which was their first district contest of the season.

In the first half Barnes rolled in with a three-yard scoring run sandwiched between two Bub David touchdowns. Between Barnes and David the duo scored all 42 Chester points. David also kicked six extra points.

David scored the first touchdown for the Yellowjackets on a 20 yard pass from quarterback Michael Wallace. The drive capped the opening kickoff and he scored four touchdowns in the Friday night win and rushed for 241 yards on 27 carries.

"I didn't know what I'm going to do," stated a grateful Enis following the victory, "because we really need him at his regular position too."

Burnes scored all three Chester touchdowns in the second half to put the game out of reach after the Yellowjackets held a 21-14 lead at intermission. He scored on a pair of six-yard runs and a 15 yarder. The touchdowns came at the end of three separate Chester drives.

In the second half Chester made adjustments and the Cardinals never threatened again.

"We didn't have any problems moving the ball," said Enis. "But we had trouble stopping them. At halftime we made adjustments to stop their veer."

Enis was pleased with the work of his offensive line, citing play by guards Bruce Jesse and Scott Gumbrell, and tackles LaVandor Berry and Buster Parks.

Burnes was above defensive standout in the game. Playing in the secondary he intercepted two High Island passes.

Offensively, Burnes has scored nine touchdowns this season either rushing or receiving. In his first action at running back two weeks ago he rushed for 103 yards against Carlisle.

The win by Chester moves their season record to 2-2-2 and puts them atop the district standings alongside Burkeville and Evadale with a 1-0 mark.

Friday the Yellowjackets journey to Colmesneil for a annual grudge battle, while Evadale meets Burkeville in a key district game.

WARRENS UPSET HULL-DAISETTA, 38-14
DAISETTA - Taking a cue from a

Warren Warriors still plan to have it their way... regardless of what opponents were... the Warriors kept a preseason goal alive Friday night by upsetting a favored Hull-Daisetta Bobcats team, 38-14. The loss was the first district defeat by the Bobcats in over three years and kept Warren's district championship hopes alive.

"Our goal is to win district," stated an elated Peyton Mullins following the Friday victory. "The kids knew it was a must-win game and they came ready to play."

Led by a stingy defense and a pair of 100-yard-plus runners, the Warriors jumped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead and never looked back.

Warrior quarterback Harold Martin got Warren on the board first with a one-yard run that capped a no huddle, 11-play, 73-yard drive on the Warriors' first possession.

The Bobcats then fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the Warriors recovered at the 33. Four plays later Jason Moore, who finished the night with 101 yards, slashed over from a yard out.

After Hull-Daisetta scored on a one-yard run by Steve Broussard, the Warriors went back to work again. Center Brad Atkinson fulfilled a lineman's dream by scoring a touchdown on a Warren fumble recovery in the endzone. The play ended a 58-yard Warren drive.

With less than three minutes remaining in the half, the Bobcats pulled off their best play of the night. Bobcat quarterback David Mitchell flipped a screen pass to Broussard who set sail on a 57-yard touchdown romp.

"We had the play covered," groused Mullins, "but our lineman was too slow."

After holding a 20-14 halftime lead, the Warriors and Bobcats played scoreless in the third period. But in the fourth it was all Warren.

Moore became one of the three Warren fourth quarter touchdowns on runs of five and seven yards. Todd Read got either one on an 11-yard pass from Martin.

WARRENS UPSET HULL-DAISETTA, 38-14
DAISETTA - Taking a cue from a

Warren Warriors still plan to have it their way... regardless of what opponents were... the Warriors kept a preseason goal alive Friday night by upsetting a favored Hull-Daisetta Bobcats team, 38-14. The loss was the first district defeat by the Bobcats in over three years and kept Warren's district championship hopes alive.

"Our goal is to win district," stated an elated Peyton Mullins following the Friday victory. "The kids knew it was a must-win game and they came ready to play."

Led by a stingy defense and a pair of 100-yard-plus runners, the Warriors jumped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead and never looked back.

Warrior quarterback Harold Martin got Warren on the board first with a one-yard run that capped a no huddle, 11-play, 73-yard drive on the Warriors' first possession.

The Bobcats then fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the Warriors recovered at the 33. Four plays later Jason Moore, who finished the night with 101 yards, slashed over from a yard out.

After Hull-Daisetta scored on a one-yard run by Steve Broussard, the Warriors went back to work again. Center Brad Atkinson fulfilled a lineman's dream by scoring a touchdown on a Warren fumble recovery in the endzone. The play ended a 58-yard Warren drive.

With less than three minutes remaining in the half, the Bobcats pulled off their best play of the night. Bobcat quarterback David Mitchell flipped a screen pass to Broussard who set sail on a 57-yard touchdown romp.

"We had the play covered," groused Mullins, "but our lineman was too slow."

After holding a 20-14 halftime lead, the Warriors and Bobcats played scoreless in the third period. But in the fourth it was all Warren.

Moore became one of the three Warren fourth quarter touchdowns on runs of five and seven yards. Todd Read got either one on an 11-yard pass from Martin.

August and, overall, 1,900 government jobs disappeared. Total non-agricultural employment barely budged, losing 400 jobs from July to August. The total was a trade-off of 2,300 manufacturing jobs gained and 2,700 non-manufacturing jobs lost. Most of the jobs gained in manufacturing were in the production of non-durable goods, which saw a 5 percent increase from July to August. The most surprising loss was the 4,300 jobs that disappeared from the service sector. This 2 percent decrease brought down what would have been a relatively stable month for growth in non-manufacturing employment. Were still seeing very little change in non-farm salaried jobs," Nohers said. "And we are experiencing some negative impact from a slowdown in

Sitton wins PPGA award

WOODVILLE — Diane Sitton, advertising sales representative of the Woodman, recently received the Garden Communicators Award, Magazine Division, from the Professional Plant Growers Association. The award, given in recognition of excellence in horticultural journalism, was presented to Sitton for her article "Keep it Cool with Green and White." The article appeared in the July/August 1991 issue of Texas Gardener magazine. Sitton received a framed plaque and a cash award.

She is the author of Texas Gardener's Guide to Growing and Using Herbs and her articles and photos have appeared in Organic Gardening, Flower and Garden, Texas Gardener, Herb Companion and regional publications. Sitton lives with her husband, James, in Colmesneil.

Flower arranging class scheduled

WOODVILLE — The Community Services Division of Angelika College will offer a four week advanced flower arranging class at Woodville Junior High School which will begin Monday, Oct. 12. The course will meet on Monday nights 6-9 p.m. until Nov. 2. The cost of the course is $25. Students interested in registering for the course need to come by the Woodville Junior High School 5-6 p.m. on Oct. 12. The course instructor for the course is Suzanne Plummer of the Bizzy/Bea Florist in Lufkin. The course will instruct students on advanced principles of floral arrangement including color selection, bows, the creation of corsages, and techniques of wiring flowers together. Students will create arrangements. Students can also expect to spend an additional $10-$15 for supplies as directed by the instructor.

Tyler County residents complete certification

WOODVILLE — A total of 17 Tyler County residents completed the Texas Parks and Wildlife hunter certification program presented Sept. 19-20 at the Tyler County Courthouse. The certification course was taught by C.E. "Chuck" Bump, a TPWD certified instructor, and was sponsored by the Tyler County Sheriff's Office. Those completing the training include: Kevin Thomas, Timothy Stafford, Bryan Phillips, Clint Abston, Steven Henley, Varney Durham Jr., Matthew Seales, Jathan Borel, Shawn Williamson, Caleb Sparlock, Cody Spells, Dewey Stuart and Heath Fuller, all of Woodville. Other students who completed the course were Jack Ard of Chester, David Johnson of Spurger and Patrick Dean and Dustin Shillings, both of Hillister. Others assisting with the program include Sheriff's posse President Terry Riley, Secretary Tim Bump and Eddie Bump, who assisted his father, Chuck Bump, with the instruction.

Total non-agricultural employment rates in August were Bryan College Station, with a rate of 3.6 percent; Austin, at 5.5 percent; Amarillo, at 4.6 percent; and San Angelo, with a 5.2 percent rate. The area with the highest unemployment rates included McAllen-Edinburg-Mission, with a 15.4 percent rate; Brownsville-Harlingen, at 10.6 percent; and El Paso and Odessa, each with a 9.5 percent rate. August jobless rates for other East Texas counties include:

Clark noted that since the GIB Lewis Prison Unit opened near Woodville, Tyler County has already had the benefit of the work of SPPD prosecutors in nine cases, five of which were the result of a near riot that occurred in 1991. Of the nine cases prosecuted in the county, all have resulted in convictions except one.

Champion adds to forest's 'special places'

HUNTSVILLE — Champion International Corporation has made two new additions to its "Special Places in the Forest," a program that sets aside environmentally and historically unique areas on the company's forestlands in East Texas.

The new additions, located in Polk and Houston counties, will join 10 initial areas set aside in the program since its establishment in 1990. The new areas are:

- Cypress Island, a scenic corridor of the Neches River near Corrigan, known for its large cypress trees, lush hardwood bottoms, and abundance of wildlife. The area contains one of the largest bald cypress trees in East Texas, measuring 24 feet in circumference and 110 feet tall.
- The Madden Massacre Ground, a significant historical site located atop a hill on Champion land in Houston County.

Containing 20 acres, the site includes a state historical marker and a cemetery where seven women and their children were killed by Indians in the 1830s while their husbands and fathers were away. Bill Krick of Huntsville, general manager of Champion's Texas Timberlands Region, said each of the areas in the Special Places program will be protected as long as Champion owns the lands.

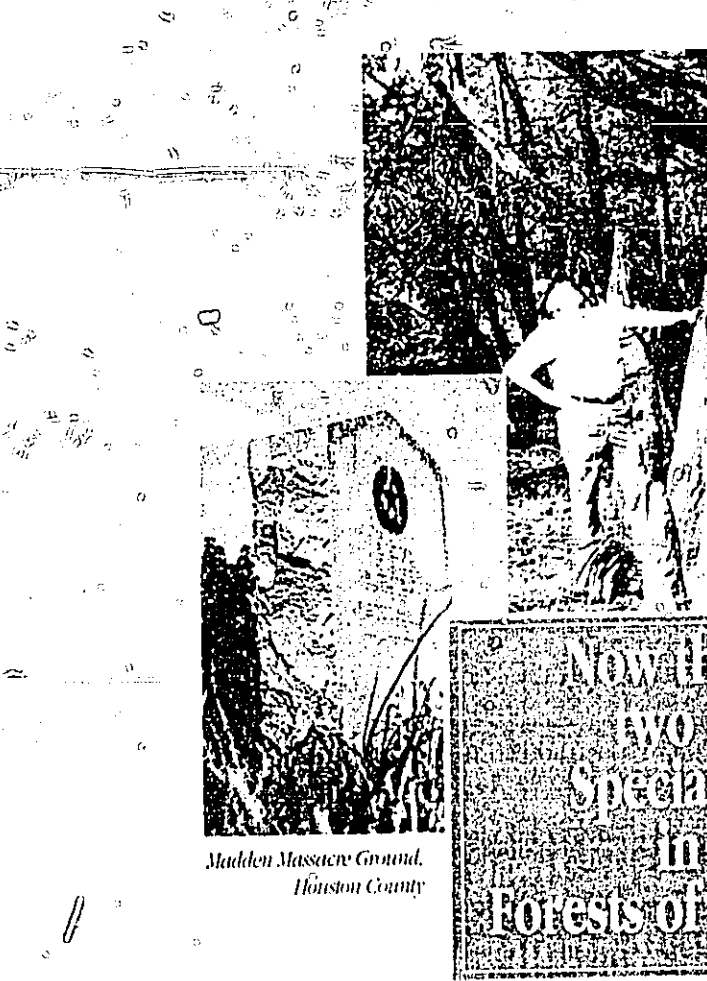

All logging activity will cease and the only forest management activity to take place in the areas will be to suppress fire and insect outbreaks. The Special Places will be allowed to grow and evolve naturally, and will remain under the care of Champion's wildlife biologists, entomologists, and other scientists," he said.

While Champion will continue to make contributions of company land to conservation groups such as the Nature Conservancy when appropriate, Krick said the company will use the Special Places program to set aside unique areas which are surrounded entirely by other Champion lands.

By remaining under Champion ownership, the Special Places areas will also remain a part of the tax base of local schools and counties. Because most of the sensitive areas are located in remote forest regions and are environmentally sensitive in many cases, entry to the unique areas will be by permit, obtained through Champion's Texas Timberlands offices in Huntsville, Texas. The Special Places program now includes 1,767 acres, Krick said additional areas will be added to the program in the future.

CAMPAGN CARAVAN — Donna Peterson (left), Republican candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives, was in Woodville Monday afternoon as part of a campaign caravan sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau. The candidate met with about 50 area residents during the brief stop on her way to a TFB rally in Lufkin. The TFB recently endorsed Peterson over 20-year incumbent Charles Wilson (D-Lufkin). Madden Massacre Ground, Houston County

Two years ago on its Texas forestlands, Champion committed itself to a program of setting aside a series of "Special Places in the Forest"—areas chosen for their uniqueness, beauty, and history. Since then, ten areas have been set aside in six East Texas counties. All logging and management practices were ceased except for efforts needed to protect the areas. Now Champion has added two more areas as Special Places in the Forest.

- Cypress Island, a scenic corridor of the Neches River near Corrigan, is known for its magnificent cypress trees, lush hardwood bottoms, and abundance of wildlife.
- Standing in the middle of the area is one of the largest bald cypress trees in East Texas, measuring 24 feet in circumference and 110 feet tall.

"Another feature of the festival will be the unique musical entertainment," Johnson said. "The North Harris County Dulcimer Society and the Houston Balalaika Society are scheduled to perform during the festival. The North Harris County Dulcimer Society has helped establish the Village Dulcimer Society here, and they, too, are scheduled to play." The annual event will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 17, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 18. Admission is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. Persons attending the event are urged to park at the Tyler County Airport off Highway 190 just west of Woodville. A free shuttle bus will be available to carry festival goers to and from the airport parking area.

County adopts 1993 budget, tax rate

-Commissioners approve $4.6 million spending plan, retain 59.5 cent tax rate-

By GREG PEAK
Editor

WOODVILLE — After receiving no opposition to the $4.6 million spending plan, the Tyler County Commissioners approved the plan Monday morning. The Tyler County Commissioners gave their unanimous stamp of approval on a new $4,565,499.50 budget which will go into effect on Jan. 1. About an hour later, during their regular October meeting, the commissioners also re-adopted the same 59.5 cent per $100 valuation tax rate that has been in place for the previous four years. Under the plan approved, 31 cents of the rate is allocated to the general fund, 17 cents to the road and bridge fund, 6.5 cents for the hospital and 5 cents to retire the jail bonds. Calling the new 1993 spending plan "tight with no fat at all," the commissioners praised the efforts of both county officials and employees in helping to keep spending down.

"The thing I'm most proud of is that we've kept the tax rate at the same level it has been since 1989," Precinct 3 Commissioner Jerry Mahan said. "We've been able to actually increase services by cutting into areas that have been outdated."

"Most all department heads are pleased by what we've done, as evidenced by the fact that we don't have anyone here protesting the new budget," Mahan added.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Maxie Riley said he was particularly pleased that the county managed to escape a tax hike after being hit with an unexpected $300,000 bill for employee workers' compensation insurance earlier this year.

County Judge Jerome Owens noted that while the county has managed to keep its property tax rate stable, the 1993 budget allocates an additional $300,000 toward providing additional services to local residents in the form of additional money for road and bridge work, law enforcement and solid waste collection. "I don't see how the county could do more with the money available," Owens added. "We've done a very good job of the things being mandated by the state and federal governments that we could hold the line on taxes, but we didn't."

Noting that only $2,010,780 of the $4,565,499.50 projected 1993 revenue would come from property taxes, Riley praised the management ability of the county department heads for using

City eyes refinancing $725,000 in gas bonds

By GREG PEAK
Editor

WOODVILLE — Although council members wanted "a couple of more days" to study the proposal, work toward refinancing the remaining debt on the city's 1984 gas bonds was given a tentative green light Monday night by the Woodville City Council.

Under the plan, the city would retire the remaining $725,000 in principal owed on the $1 million gas system bonds by issuing a new series of bonds at a lower interest rate.

Steve Adams of First Southwest Co., the city's financial consultant, explained that when the bonds were originally issued, they carried a 9.5 percent interest rate. By refinancing the debt, Adams said the city could re-issue the bonds at an interest rate of less than 6 percent.

Under two scenarios presented by Adams, by refinancing the bonds at the lower interest rates the city could save either $113,782 or $94,030 in interest payments through the year 2002. The $113,782 savings would be spread out over the next 10 years while under the second plan, the city would realize almost all of the $94,030 savings during the 1993 and 1994 payment periods.

The second scenario is designed to benefit clients who might be experiencing budget problems due to the poor economy," Adams said. "You'd take almost all of the interest savings up front over the next couple of years to help balance your current expenses."

"I don't know if it's the best, but I don't know if it's the worst," Pickett said. "I'd like to build violins, but I don't have the money to do it."

Among the more difficult instruments to make, Pickett notes, is the

FOREST FIRE CLAIMS HOME — A forest fire that broke out about 4 p.m. Friday destroyed the Tom Barlow home in the Clear Springs Community between Moss Hill and Doucette. The fire, which was battled by the Woodville and Colmesneil fire departments as well as the Texas Forest Service, destroyed over 100 acres of timber and threatened two other homes in the remote, heavily wooded section of Tyler County. Members of the Woodville Volunteer Fire Department were just about to begin their annual homecoming barbecue at the station when they were called away to battle the blaze. Hospitality training class offered Oct. 27

WOODVILLE — The Texas Hospitality Training Program for managers/owners of tourism-related businesses will be offered from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27, at the Tyler County Courthouse's commissioners courtroom.

Presented by County Extension Agent Sherry Jeanes and County Clerk Donice Gregory, the program is designed to assist tourism business owners in developing new concepts and skills to better serve their customers. The program is being co-sponsored locally by the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce and the Tyler County Extension Service.

"Texas Hospitality: Sharing Our Heritage — Sharing Our Pride" is a new state-wide training program for

"front-line" employees and managers of businesses serving tourists. Videos and training manuals have been developed to provide instruction in "hospitality habits" and "business service management."

According to the program organizers, hospitality skills to be taught help business owners obtain repeat business and customer loyalty. They also improve employee morale and attitude, reduce employee turnover, increase customer satisfaction and reduce complaints, give the unemployed more opportunity for employment in tourism and service-related industry and enhance opportunity for upward mobility in service positions.

During the program, managers will

learn:

- How to improve customer service through "visitor friendly" systems.
- The value of tourism for the community and for Texas.
- "Hospitality Habits" to improve service and customer satisfaction.
- The hiring and training of customer-focused employees.
- Ways to develop an action plan for improving customer service.

Cost of the program is $5 and those wishing to take part must sign up by Oct. 16. To register, contact Sherry Jeanes, County Extension Agent, 100 County Courthouse Basement, Woodville, Texas 75797 or call (409) 283-5284.

Club members are asked to please fill out and bring to this meeting a list of the horticulture planting they have accomplished during the period of January 92 through December 92. The awards committee is busy seeing that the club rating, horticulture, rating and Arbor Day reports will be ready to send in to District by Nov. 1.

Southern Zone District Meeting of Garden Clubs will be held November 13 at Center, Texas. Baulish Seiler, president of Woodville Garden Club will make an annual report of our club's accomplishments, and Delcia Kelley will be in charge of Ways and Means.

Great American Smokeout set

BEAUMONT — The American Cancer Society will celebrate the 16th annual Great American Smokeout on November 19, by encouraging smokers to quit for a day...and possibly for good.

A Gallup poll conducted after the 1991 Great American Smokeout found that a record number of smokers, 5.8 million, stayed off cigarettes longer than the 24 hours. That's nearly 1 million more than the previous year. Of the 35.5% of American smokers who participated in the event, 7 million gave up cigarettes for the full 24 hours.

Dance benefits Christmas program

WOODVILLE — The "Light Up The Square" benefit dance will be held from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 17 in the Woodville Inn Ballroom.

Sponsored by the Tyler County Chamber of Commerce, proceeds for the dance will go to the "Christmas in Tyler County" program. Larry Flannigan will serve as the DJ.

Tickets are $6 per person and dancers are invited to "Bring Your Own Bottle" to the event.

Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce (283-2652), Janett's Pharmacy, J.B. Best and Co., Sullivan's Hardware, Heritage Village, Connie's Flower Shop and Cruise Composers Travel Agency.

Maloy sets school record in Woodville's first win

WOODVILLE — When Woodville coach Melvin Houston said that he wanted his team just to "go out and have fun" following their second district loss two weeks ago, little did he realize that his ace running back, DeCarlos Maloy, would take him literally.

Maloy and his teammates definitely did their share of "having fun" Friday night before a packed homecoming crowd, and amused themselves with a 51-44 win over the Colmesneil Lions for their first win of the season.

Maloy set at least two school records in the process, including most touchdowns in a game and most rushing yards in a game. The Woodville junior scored seven times for a total of 394 yards and was capped with a 10-yard scoring run by Maloy. On the drive, Maloy carried eight times for 54 yards, and on one 15-yard run broke three tackles.

The final touchdown in the half came on a six-yard run by Maloy after Woodville marched to the Kountze goal three times. On two of the opportunities Woodville was thwarted by interceptions, but the third time was the charm with Maloy carrying four times for 33 yards after a short Kountze punt.

Although Woodville held a 27-7 lead at halftime and extended it to 34-7 early in the third period on a 28-yard run by Maloy, Kountze refused to play dead.

While not having much success on the ground, the Lions went to the air to get back into the game. Harrison McMillan scored on an 82-yard pass play from Johnny Smith for one, and Maloy scored another after interception.

With memories of the Orangefield comeback still fresh in their minds, Woodville coaches were still wanting credit to the offensive line. No doubt about it was a great job of running.

Maloy's touchdown runs included runs of 34, 6, 10, 28, 26, and 89. He scored twice in every quarter, except the third.

Running behind tackles Billy Tolar and Derrick Hennigan, guards Mark Santos and Brian Bell, and center Michael Keathan, Maloy scored on his second carry of the night from the Kountze 34-yard line.

After Kountze narrowed the score on a 29-yard touchdown pass, Maloy went back to work on a six-yard touchdown scamper.

The next time Woodville got the ball, the Eagles set out on an impressive 95-yard drive that consumed 15 plays and was capped with a 10-yard scoring run by Maloy. On the drive, Maloy carried eight times for 54 yards, and on one 15-yard run broke three tackles.

"It was the most fun I've had in a long time," said the Woodville running back after the record-breaking performance.

Although the fun started early for Maloy and his teammates, and continued throughout most of the game, it became serious in the final three minutes of the contest when Kountze scored twice and threatened another time.

"In the end we had to play defense with our offense," admitted Houston. In other words, as long as Woodville had the ball, Kountze couldn't score.

Taking a slight rest with his Eagles winning their first game of the year, Houston said, "This kind of puts us over the hump and gives us momentum."

Referring to Maloy's performance he added, "Anytime a back gains that much yardage, you have to also give credit to the offensive line. No doubt about it was a great job of running."

Maloy credits line, brother in record setting performance

WOODVILLE — Woodville's DeCarlos Maloy not only has the experience of knowing how to run the football field, but also knows the right things to say when asked about his record setting performance Friday night against Kountze.

When asked how he set the record, he quickly gave credit to his offensive line. "They blocked real good," the junior running back said within 20 yards of breaking this year's state rushing record set earlier by Beaumont Kelly's Dexter Hebert. His 394 yards on 46 carries and seven touchdowns set a Woodville school rushing record.

"I felt like I could have made it (broken the record)," said Maloy, "but we were trying to win the game."

Maloy admits knowing that he had a shot at breaking the record at halftime when Woodville statistician Josh Lamberth informed him that he had already rushed for 153 yards.

"I would have like to have had it," admits Maloy, "but coach Houston didn't know that I was that close."

Maloy also admits to very strong ties to his brother who is serving in the Army in Korea. Derrick Maloy played quarterback for Woodville several years ago and makes overseas calls every Friday night to check on his brother's progress.

"He is the reason I wear number two," says the younger Maloy. "That was his number in high school."

Maloy gave credit to his brother for his running style and believes that he is more like a Tony Danza runner than anyone else.

"One difference is that I hit them the first time," says Maloy. "The second time they start running and you have to hit again and they close their eyes. That's when I 'joke' 'em."

Maloy has hit and blocked for 1,015 yards through six games this season. That is an average of almost 170 yards per game. His per carry average is 7.7.

His record setting performance Friday night came on the heels of a shoulder injury in Tuesday practice. Working at line backer on defense, Maloy hurt his right shoulder and did not suit up for Wednesday workouts. His arm was in a sling for two days.

Maloy, a one Texas at heart, says that he hopes to play college ball somewhere in Texas. "Hopefully either the University of Texas or the Aggies," he says.

Ironically, on Friday's record setting performance, two of Maloy's runs were called back due to penalties. They totaled over 20 yards.

Bulldogs blasted by Burkeville, 46-8

BURKEVILLE — On the night of big rushing yardage for running backs in East Texas, Burkeville's Andre Thomas did his part. It was just too bad that it was against the Colmesneil Bulldogs.

Thomas ran around, through, just about anywhere he wanted in leading the Mustangs to a 46-8 win over Colmesneil. Officially he rushed for 271 yards and four touchdowns, with all his scoring coming in the first half.

There were bright spots for Colmesneil in their fourth loss of the season. Running back Greg Bean rushed for 98 yards on 22 carries, and the Bulldog defense allowed only 12 of the 45 points in the second half.

Scott Edkins hauled in a six yard pass from quarterback Les Sison for Colmesneil's lone score with four minutes remaining in the third period. The score capped a 70-yard Bulldog drive. The two point conversion was made on a Greg Bean run.

"The kids played hard," said Colmesneil coach Mike Jacobs following the loss. "They didn't give up, but just couldn't stop Thomas."

After Wayne Marshall scored on a 25-yard pass from Eddie Sunday in the first quarter, Thomas went to work. The junior running back scored on a two yard run, another from nine yards, one from three yards, and a fourth from 37 yards.

"We played with them in the second half," said Jacobs looking for positive points. "They kept their first team in until the last minute."

One negative for Colmesneil was the loss of lineman Cody Widner who left the game in the first quarter with a knee injury. A decision will be made

Wednesday as to when he will return to play.

The loss moved Colmesneil's season record to 2-4. It was their first district contest of the season.

Barnes leads Chester in homecoming rout

CHESTER — Travis Barnes has caused a dilemma for Chester coach Don Ennis.

Barnes, who has been substituting for injured tailback Curtis Berry, for the second week led the Yellowjackets to a victory, this time a 42-14 homecoming win over High Island.

The junior wide receiver turned running back scored four touchdowns in the Friday night win and rushed for 241 yards on 27 carries.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," stated a grateful Ennis following the victory, "because we really need him at his regular position too."

Barnes scored all three Chester touchdowns in the second half to put the game out of reach after the Yellowjackets held a 21-14 lead at intermission. He scored on a pair of six-yard runs and a 15-yarder. The touchdowns came at the end of three separate Chester drives.

In the first half Barnes rolled in with a three-yard scoring run sandwiched between two Bob David touchdowns.

Between Barnes and David the duo scored all 42 Chester points. David also kicked six extra points.

David scored the first touchdown for the Yellowjackets on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Michael Wallace. The drive capped the opening kickoff and included a pair of 30-yard runs by Barnes.

The next time Chester touched the ball, it was off to the races again, this time on a 70-yard drive that ended on a three yard run by Barnes.

High Island immediately mowed the deficit with a score on a 15-yard reverse pass, but Chester retained with a blocked punt that David headed in for a score from the three.

The Cardinals made their second and final run on their next series, scoring on a ten yard run.

In the second half Chester made adjustments as the Cardinals never threatened again.

"We didn't have any problems moving the ball," said Ennis. "But we had trouble stopping them. At halftime we made adjustments to stop their veer."

Ennis was pleased with the work of his offensive line, citing play by guards Bruce Jolley and Scott Gambrell, and tackles LaVander Berry and Buster Parks.

Barnes was the offensive MVP standout in the game. Playing in the secondary he intercepted two High Island passes. Offensively, Barnes has scored nine touchdowns this season either rushing or receiving. In his first action at running back two weeks ago he rushed for 105 yards against Carlisle.

The win by Chester leaves their season record to 2-2-2 and puts them into the district standings alongside Burkeville and Evadale with a 1-0 mark.

Friday the Yellowjackets journeyed to Colmesneil for its annual grudge battle, while Evadale meets Burkeville in a key district game.

Spurger bops Big Sandy & Evadale in v'ball action

SPURGER — When the chips are down and the volleyball is in the air, a wise person will always choose the Lady Pirates of Spurger.

Friday night a young Spurger team journeyed to Big Sandy to take on the unbeaten Wildcats in a district showdown. While many thought this might be an end of a dynasty for the Pirates, it ended as just another clutch win for Spurger, taking a 1-12, 1-5, 2-1 victory.

Spurger senior Christi Herndon dominates the match in all phases of the game, including 15 kills, Laura Mott added eight service points for the Pirates.

To add insult to injury, the Pirates junior varsity stayed unbeaten with a 15-3, 15-1 win over Big Sandy. Missy Chandler had 12 service points and Brandi Byrd added eight more.

Monday night the Spurger varsity easily swept past Evadale, 15-6, 15-11 in a home victory. Herndon again led the way with 10-kills and eight service points. Mott also had eight service points, while Tashia Cook added eight kills.

Spurger's junior varsity rallied back from a 13-16 game to win 15-9, 15-4. Chandler had 12 winning serves, with Elizabeth Hatten adding ten, and Staci Johnson with eight more.

Friday Spurger can clinch a playoff spot with a win over Goodrich at home. The Pirates are 5-0 in district play and 15-5 for the season. They have not lost a district match in five years.

Monday, the girls will enter the Kirbyville Volleyball Tournament Thursday and Saturday sporting a record of 3-2.

Warren homecoming, Chester-Colmesneil shootout top Friday's football schedule

TYLER COUNTY — It's homecoming in Warren, and it's time for the annual Chester-Colmesneil shootout Friday as High school football enters week seven in the county.

The Warriors will host West Hardin for homecoming and will come into the game as high as after upsetting Hull-Daisetta, 38-14, last week. The win was the first time Warren had beaten the Bobcats since the Warriors were in 3A over 10 years ago.

West Hardin in the meantime, ripped Hardin, 30-0, to improve its record to 4-2 for the season and 1-1 in district play. The Warriors are 4-2 for the year and 1-1 in district play also.

Warren coach Peyton Mullins is concerned about the Warriors homecoming game with West Hardin.

"There are a lot of things to distract you at homecoming," he warns.

Warren's upset win over Hull-Daisetta was on the Bobcats' homecoming.

There will be an unofficial homecoming at Colmesneil Friday night. Although both teams have already played their homecoming game, the fact that Chester is coming to town will bring in plenty of exes from both schools.

Chester will come into the game on a two game winning streak, while Colmesneil has lost two in a row. The Yellowjackets blew past High Island, 42-14 to open district play last week, while Colmesneil was ran over by Burkeville, 46-8.

"They are going to be tough," admits Colmesneil coach Mike Jacobs. "They are on a roll. Their two victories came at a good time."

Colmesneil always plays us well," says Chester coach Don Ennis. "We are going to have to be ready to play. We will have to be all the way up."

While the big games are being played in the county, Woodville travels to Bunn in another district contest Friday night.

The Eagles are coming off a 51-44 win over Kountze, the first Woodville win of the season. The victory moved Woodville's record to 1-4-1.

Bunn was ripped by Stephen F. Austin.

Warriors upset Hull-Daisetta, 38-14

DAISETTA — Taking a cue from a popular hamburger commercial, the Warren Warriors still plan to have it their way... regardless of what opponents they face.

The Warriors kept a preseason goal alive Friday night by upsetting a favored Hull-Daisetta Bobcat team, 38-14. The loss was the first district defeat by the Bobcats in over three years and kept Warren's district championship hopes alive.

"Our goal is to win district," stated an elated Peyton Mullins following the Friday victory. "The kids knew it was a must-win game and they came ready to play."

Led by a stingy defense and a pair of 100-yard-plus runners, the Warriors jumped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead and never looked back.

Warrior quarterback Harold Martin got Warren on the board first with a one-yard run that capped a no-huddle, 11-play, 73-yard drive on the Warriors' first possession.

The Bobcats then fumbled the ensuing kickoff and the Warriors recovered at the 33. Four plays later Jason Moore, who finished the night with 101 yards, slashed over from a yard out.

After Hull-Daisetta scored on a one-yard run by Steve Broussard, the Warriors went back to work again. Center Brad Atkinson fulfilled a lineman's dream by scoring a touchdown on a Warren fumble recovery in the endzone. The play ended a 58-yard Warren drive.

With less than three minutes remaining in the half, the Bobcats pulled off their best act of the night. Bobcat quarterback David Mitchell flipped a screen pass to Broussard who set sail on a 57-yard touchdown romp.

Moore finished the night with 101 yards, slashed over from a yard out.

After holding a 20-14 halftime lead, the Warriors and Bobcats played scoreless in the third period. But in the fourth it was all Warren.

Moore scored two of the three Warren fourth quarter touchdowns on runs of five and seven yards. Todd Read got the other one on an 11-yard pass from Martin.

WARREN — After taking a 26-6 whipping from the Orangefield Bobcats, the Woodville Eagles eighth grade team bounced back to win a 20-18 squeaker over Kountze last week.

The Eagles scored first when QB Charlie McCullough ployed in from two yards out. QB Justin McCabe then hit LE Mark Lane for the two-point conversion. The Lions stormed back to score 12 straight points to take a 12-8 halftime lead.

The Eagles would not be denied this time. The Eagle defense took over the game in the second half. Defensive end Jeremy Kiel blocked a Lion punt and QB Charlie McCullough then got his second TD from one yard away for a 14-12 Eagle lead.

The Eagles scored again when QB Justin McCabe hit Byron Rigby on a 57-yard TD pass, to make the score 20-8.

Kountze came back to score late in the game, but DE Charlie McCullough picked off their two-point conversion try to preserve the Eagle victory. The Eagles record now stands at 4-1. They are currently tied for second place in the district race.

Defensive standouts were: NG Tim Dennis, 12 tackles, 1 fumble recovery; LB Robert Adams, 10 tackles, 1 sack; DE McCullough, 7 tackles, 1 interception; DE Jeremy Kiel, 6 tackles; LT Gerald Betts, 6 tackles; CB Armond Gregory, 1 interception.

The Eagles next game will be in Bunn against the Bunn Cougars.
