At the Village

By Dottie Johnson

It seems redundant, it's only because it is. The touring season is once again upon us.

City folk want to get out and smell the fresh air and see what the country folk are up to.

Many say they'd like to help, but so few ever do. And so, redundancy takes over as we split off the names of those touring.

Once the Village got wind of the situation, they quickly called on those who volunteer to help.

You know the list. Their names pop up on tour after tour.

Dear Editor: I am writing to you in defense of an attack posed against me by Mr. Mike Stacey.

I am the same convict who wrote you about the educational opportunities that are being provided at the Gib Lewis Unit.

To Mr. Stacey I say: Sir, I am sorry your campaign against me has cost me my job.

As a taxpayer, you must know the rules by now. Your rights to express your views as mine, I also have.

Sir, please understand that without education the rehabilitation process cannot work.

I have been asked by a large number of you to sign up and run for one of the seats coming up on the Colmesneil School Board of Trustees.

Many possibilities of conflicts of interest. I know that the laws say that I am eligible to run and to serve if I should win.

Touring season is here again

ing the group through the Village, Georgia Collins spinning and weaving in the Museum Store, Leroy McGovney with his paints and palette.

The point of all this, besides a rather routine report of what's happening at the Village, is to emphasize the Village's ever pressing need for volunteers.

It doesn't take a lot of time, chances are you'll get more out of the experience than you give.

County to support Eagles with big send off

WOODVILLE—Although it will be early for a lot of people, a large contingent is expected to send the Woodville Eagle basketball team on to Austin for the state tournament Wednesday morning with a pep rally.

Tournament holds fond memories for Lamberth, Ferguson

AUSTIN—The state basketball tournament this week will not doubt revive many memories for Woodville coach John Lamberth and Tom Ferguson, who is now the alternative school supervisor for Galena Park school district, left coaching several years ago after compiling a 314-224 record in 17 years.

* Eagles enter state tournament

The Eagles no doubt were inspired by a large contingent of fans who will see their team on Friday night and Saturday afternoon in Brenham and Tuesday night in Conroe, the site of the state tournament.

Woodville received almost 500 tickets for the Woodville-Southlake Carroll semifinal game. Tickets were sold for $5 a session which also included the Fernis-Gonzales contest.
