WOODVILLE to host Big League Sectionals

WOODVILLE - Tyler County baseball fans got a double shot of good news this week. After the Big League team captured the District 12 baseball title with a 7-4 win over Silsbee Saturday, it was announced that Hennigan Park would be the site of the Big League Sectional Tournament which begins Saturday.

The sectional tournament will feature seven teams, six from the Houston area, with the winner advancing to Waco for the state tournament. This will mark the first time that the sectional baseball tournament will be played in Woodville since 1977, the year Tyler County advanced to the Southern Regionals in Orlando, FL.

Tournament play opens 9 a.m. Saturday at Hennigan Park with Texas City meeting Katy. That game will be followed at noon with Pearland taking on Humble. At 5 p.m. Tyler County, representing the Beaumont area, takes on West University of Houston.

Play continues Sunday with games being played at San Jacinto College for one day only. Monday the games will resume again at Hennigan Park with the championship scheduled for Friday, July 28.

"We are very pleased to once again host the sectional tournament," said Tyler County Boys Baseball President, Gary Hennigan. "We hope to be able to host the tournament every year. People are impressed with our facilities here."

Tyler County moved into the sectional tournament by winning three consecutive games to take the District 12 title. Tyler County topped Kountze, 3-2, and Silsbee, 6-2 and 7-4.

Joey Brown and Justin McCabe pitched against Kountze. Jason Tolbert was the winning pitcher against Silsbee in the 6-2 victory. Jacob Conner, Pat Goff, and McCabe worked the mound in Tyler County's 7-4 win over Silsbee.

Joey Brown drove in four runs with a double and a triple to highlight the championship game against Silsbee Saturday night.

Members of Tyler County's Big League District Championship include: Tim Dennis, Jason Tolbert, Pat Goff, Jacob Conner, Kenyatta Williams, Justin McCabe, J.R. Williams, and Mike Williams.

Senior League All-stars fall in heartbreaker

WOODVILLE - Tyler County's Senior League All-Stars dropped a heartbreaker, 10-7, extra inning championship game to the West End All-Stars Saturday night.

The loss was Tyler County's second in the post season tournament. They earlier had fallen to West End, 20-0, but came back to defeat South Park, 11-6, to move into the championship game.

On Saturday's loss the local all-stars rallied back from a 6-1 deficit to tie the game with four runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Tyler County had a chance to win the game in the bottom of the seventh with runners on first and third, but a double ended the threat.

The four run rally in the fifth by Tyler County came on four walks and singles by Greg Cheney and Brent Parks.

Tyler County's solo run in the first came on back to back doubles by Marcus McCabe and B.J. Stewart.

In Tyler County's win over South Park, Parks doubled in the fifth inning. Cheney scored three runs after getting on with walks, and McCabe had a single.

West End held Tyler County to only two hits in their first game. Jason Winkle and Cheney had singles in the third inning, but Tyler County was unable to score.

Bradford to head Colmesneil girls athletic program

COLMESNEIL - Mary Bradford, who coached at class 2A Whitewright and class 3A Princeton for the past three years, will take over the past athletic program at Colmesneil High School.

Bradford will head girls volleyball, basketball, cross country, and softball at Colmesneil.

The new girls coach headed the girls basketball, cross country, and track program at Whitewright for the past three years. She was the girls volleyball and tennis coach, along with the assistant basketball coach at Princeton for two years.

A graduate of East Texas State University where she majored in English and Physical Education, Bradford grew up in Anna where she excelled in basketball and track.

"Colmesneil reminds me a lot of Anna," says Bradford. "It is the type of school that needs excitement and challenge. I want to get the excitement and the pride back. That will eventually bring success."

One of the new coach's goals will be to get more girls to participate in the athletic program. By doing so, she says, Colmesneil will be able to field junior varsity teams which in turn will feed the varsity teams.

Kim Cheney, a native of Colmesneil, will assist Bradford and lead the junior varsity teams. This will mark her first year in coaching.

Bradford has four of her athletes from Whitewright now playing on the collegiate level. At Princeton she had numerous all-district players and had the league's Most Valuable Player in basketball. She also had a cross country team advance to regional while at Whitewright.

Besides taking over the Colmesneil girls athletic program, Miss Bradford will also teach junior and freshman English.

Church News

Hillister Baptist VBS great success
 HILLISTER — Psalms 100:2 says "Serve the Lord with gladness," and that was the spirit of the faithful and dedicated teachers and workers in all areas who helped make Hillister Baptist Church's Vacation Bible School a great success. The session had a total enrollment of 79 with an average attendance of 68.
 All the children from age four through sixth grade had a great time with this year's theme, "Windows On The World", and the church would like to thank all parents, grandparents and others who brought the children.
 The Friday night program was enjoyed by a large number of people, and the Fellowship Hall was almost overflowing with those staying for refreshments.
 The church staff and volunteers will begin preparation for next year's VBS as soon as the literature is available. Director for this year's VBS was Mary Lou Prichard.

VBS at Beech Creek Baptist
 Vacation Bible school will be held at Beech Creek Baptist Church from Monday through Friday, July 31

Sunny Dell Homecoming
 COLMESNEIL — Sunny Dell Church, located five miles west of Colmesneil, will host its annual Homecoming Event Saturday and Sunday, July 22 and 23.
 Watermelon will be served at the church on Saturday night at around 7:30 p.m.
 Sunday's activities will begin with the song service at 10:30 a.m., followed by a business meeting, and then dinner on the ground. Rev. J. T. Ritey will bring the message for the day.
 A special invitation is extended to descendants of former church clerks. G. W. Raley served as the first church clerk in 1882 Betty Entice is the present clerk.

Our Lady Altar Society installs new officers

WOODVILLE — Our Lady of the Pines Altar Society installed new officers during its recent meeting. The newly elected officers are Iona Watt, president; Gladys Simon, vice-president; Doralee Robichaux, treasurer; and Sally Guillory, secretary.
 The organization would like to commend and thank all of the previous year's officers. "You truly did a splendid job," said a spokesperson for the group. "Our parish members work so well together. The men and women of Our Lady of the Pines have a bond of exceptional strength. We are all active in our parish and the whole community. Caring and Sharing, Outreach, Senior Citizens. We also take the sacraments to the sick and shut-ins, and work with the other church communities to help those less fortunate than ourselves."
 The Altar Society is also responsible for items needed for liturgies, including altar linens, vestments, candles, altar bread and wine; they clean the church, vessels, candle equipment and tabernacle, and have bake sales. They have extended an open invitation to all ladies of the church to attend meetings. Dates are posted in the church bulletin.
 The Calico Cottage (corner of Highway 287 and Eagle Drive) will be every Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and signs will soon be in place to help family and visitors locate the facility. The Calico Cottage displays and sells many items, including crafts, gifts and decorations made by members of the parish, and the popular Easter Eggs which will be going into their 22nd year in the next Easter season. Calico Cottage sales proceeds go into the treasury to help in their non-profit community work.

Gospel concert will feature Tender Mercies
 WOODVILLE — The Tyler based singing group Tender Mercies will present its unique style of southern gospel music at 7 p.m. Saturday, July 22 at Trinity Christian Center, on Highway 190, West of Woodville.
 This Southern Gospel music ministry, headquartered in Tyler, is a mix of southern and country Gospel and personal testimonies. Members Elizabeth Armstrong, Nancy Crim and Tina Ann Moody are born again Christians who have a deep desire to serve their Savior and share their testimonies and music.
 Their denominational backgrounds range from Baptist to non-denominational, and their common bond is Jesus Christ, His blood, His resurrection, and His mercy. Their ultimate goal is not fame or fortune, rather they want to be remembered as a group that genuinely loves the Lord and desires to see people saved.
 The trio has been singing for churches and festivals in the East Texas area for more than seven years. They have opened for such noted groups as The Cathedral, The Chuck Wagon Gang, Perfect Heart, The Bishop, and Brian Free and Assurance. Each of its members holds down a full-time job and sing practically every weekend.
 Most of Tender Mercies' engagements are for church services and church related functions. They are available for these functions on a love-offering basis.

Hospice In The Pines 'philosophy'
 LUFKIN — Hospice in the Pines issued a statement of its philosophy this week to inform Tyler Countians about its ongoing work.
 "At Hospice in the Pines, we care for people in their final stages of life. We believe in the dignity of each person and the value of each human being. Hospice exists not to postpone death, but to help the patient and family to live as fully as possible. Death is not denied, but accepted, and life is affirmed and lived more fully as a result.
 "Whether accompanied by disease or not, death is a universal fact of life, and dying is a natural process. We believe that every person is entitled to participate fully in every part of life in order to prepare for death in a way that is personally satisfactory.
 "The final stage of life can be very meaningful to the patient and the family, especially when a caring community has been developed. Hospice is here to provide that caring community and to offer support during the bereavement process."
 Hospice needs help in the Woodville area. Call Virginia Bagley at Hospice in the Pines 1-800-324-8577 or (409) 632-1514 for information.

Outdoor precautions can help avoid tick-borne diseases

AUSTIN — As Texans increase their outdoor activities with the coming of spring, they need to be aware that some of nature's creatures, specifically ticks, not only can cause discomfort, but also may cause serious illness.

When outdoors, especially in wooded areas or tall grass:

- Wear long sleeves and long pants, with pant legs tucked into socks or boots. Tuck shirt tails into pants and use tape to seal the area where pants overlap socks or boot tops.
- Wear light-colored clothing to make ticks more visible.
- Use insect repellents containing "DEET" on the skin or "permethrin" on clothing and footwear.
- Avoid high grass and foliage when possible, since ticks on vegetation cling to passing animals.
- Keep pets out of infested areas, and regularly inspect them for ticks. Both dogs and cats are susceptible to these diseases.

While tick-borne diseases are treatable, knowledge of the symptoms and a few easy precautions can greatly reduce the likelihood of exposure or advanced illness.

When outdoors, especially in wooded areas or tall grass:

- Wear long sleeves and long pants, with pant legs tucked into socks or boots. Tuck shirt tails into pants and use tape to seal the area where pants overlap socks or boot tops.

Rev. Barbara Clemmons new pastor of First Christian Church in Woodville

WOODVILLE — The Reverend Barbara Clemmons of Houston has accepted the pastorate of the First Christian Church of Woodville.

Rev. Clemmons was born in Minneapolis, Minnesota to Herbert and Lenore Miller, and was raised in Ann Arbor, Michigan where her father was a professor in the School of Business Administration at the University of Michigan and author of accounting textbooks. As a child she attended the First Congregational Church which is the denomination brought to America by the Pilgrims.

She has a bachelor of arts degree from Michigan State University with a major in religion and a minor in mathematics. Before entering ministry, she earned her master of arts degree from the University of Arizona.

Clemmons earned her seminary degree from Harvard Divinity School in preparation for ministry, and was ordained by the United Church of Christ in Tucson, Arizona. The United Church of Christ (UCC) was the body created by the merger of the Congregational Christian Church and the Bethlehem Evangelical and Reformed Churches in the 1950's. The UCC and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) operate as international mission partners and cooperate closely in many areas of ministry.

After ordination, she served as an Assistant Minister of First Congregational Church in Tucson for two years. She supported her ministry by working in aerospace as a systems analyst and software development specialist. Her credits include work on specialized military test systems, the space shuttle, and environmental monitoring systems. Her career led her to the Houston area in order to join the Space Shuttle team. After the initial testing of the Enterprise, she left aerospace to co-found a software company which specializes in radiation protection software used in nuclear power plants. She served as vice-president of operations for this company from its founding (1979) until last year. She currently serves on the company's board of directors.

While in Houston, she served as the Education Minister of Community Church in La Porte, Texas. This congregation holds standing in both the Disciples of Christ and the UCC. While on the staff at Community Church to accept the pastorate of First Christian Church of Woodville, she assumes her duties in July.

Trans-Texas water program sponsors modify work to be done in Southeast Texas water study

AUSTIN — The Trans-Texas Water Program's Southeast Study Area Policy Management Committee (PMC) met in Houston July 13 and, as a result of preliminary findings, agreed to modify the scope of work for the study currently being conducted in Southeast Texas. The Trans-Texas Water Program consists of a series of studies to identify the most cost-effective and environmentally sensitive strategies for meeting the current and future water supply needs of a large portion of the state encompassing about one-third of the state's population.

At the PMC meeting, the members of the Southeast Texas Policy Management Committee agreed that the following actions and modifications be made in the Phase I scope of work and planning process to reflect information gained from preliminary findings:

- Preliminary analysis of regional water supply needs show that while water transfers from the Sabine and Neches basins remain a viable long-term option for the region, this need is projected to be approximately 40 years distant. Given these factors, the scope of work for analysis of these transfer options will be limited to timing issues, conceptual cost and routing information, and environmental considerations.
- Baseline environmental conditions of Sabine Lake and adjacent areas in both Texas and Louisiana will be studied to determine management objectives for Sabine Lake.
- Additional participation will be offered to regional planning commissions and councils of government to attend and participate in the Southeast PMC.
- Based on the recommendation of state representative Ron Lewis, Mauriceville, potential economic benefits for Southeast Texas from a water program will be developed with local participation.
- The staff of the Texas Water Development Board and the Southeast PMC have agreed to an enhanced public information and involvement process for the Trans-Texas Water Program.
- The Southeast Technical Advisory Committee will be restructured to increase the participation of regional interests.
- The local/regional sponsors include: City of Austin, Bexar Metropolitan Water District, Brazos River Authority, City of Corpus Christi, Edwards Underground Water District, Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority, City of Houston, Lavaca-Navidad River Authority, Lower Colorado River Authority, Lower Neches Valley Authority, Neches River Authority, Sabine River Authority, San Antonio Water System and the San Jacinto River Authority.
- The state participants are: The Texas Water Development Board, The Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission, The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and The Coastal Coordination Council.
- The federal participants are: The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

At the Village

By Dottie Johnson

Butterflies and Indian lore were the magic around when Whitney Garity built his first Texas Summer Story Hour on Tuesday morning at the Village.

Kindergartners through second graders gathered around our costumed storyteller on the Village stage to learn how butterflies came to be, to hear Whitney sing songs from "Pocahontas" and to personalize these wonders on paper.

And this was just the beginning of this newest in Village programming that has latched onto the extraordinary talents of this young person.

Next Tuesday, July 25, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Whitney will tell the story of "Uncle Marshall and the Lone Star Bull," and you can be sure there will be some fun activity to accompany this story.

Tuesday, August 1, will introduce "The Cowboy and the Black-eyed Pea," and August 8, "Akemidun's Gift," stories all that bring a bit of Texas history to life.

There is no charge for these story hours, of course. They are simply an extension of the Summer Story Hours the Allan Shivers Library has been offering for years. And we're privileged to follow in their stead.

So, if you have we ones of your own or grandchildren on a visit, bring them out to the Village next Tuesday at 10:30 and let them get a taste of

Texas story telling and some more medics to ponder

Texas in story and play. Not too hot for history.

The heat hasn't kept our visitors away. They will come and see and obviously enjoy. This past weekend saw a young couple from Austin getting a kick out of early Texas.

And, in case we haven't mentioned it, most of our visitors enjoy looking at our Exhibit of Early Tyler County doctors. The tools and histories of these men are especially interesting.

And, in case we haven't mentioned it, most of our visitors enjoy looking at our Exhibit of Early Tyler County doctors. The tools and histories of these men are especially interesting.

And then there's the latest from Jack Whitney. How can you get mad at a guy who almost single handedly transcribed the censuses from 1850 through his latest, 1820 - that lasted representing approximately 444 hours of volunteer labor?

Well you can't, especially when you find that he has pulled out every page from the 1880, 1890, 1910 and 1920 censuses that listed a physician's name. Unfortunately, there are no census records available for 1890, a crucial period in our history. These records were burned in a fire in Washington, D.C.

Many of the names found on these pages have already been dealt with. Many have not, so we'll give you a new one a try.

In 1880, we found H. W. Collins, Abner Brown, J. A. Saunders, W. F. Farnell, S. B. Johnson, all listed as physicians in an earlier column.

M. L. also mentioned Dr. Morgan, who was listed in an earlier column. It seems that Dr. Morgan, like so many country doctors of his time, doubled in brass as a dentist. M. L. says that he found these physicians when he was in the late 20's, riding down to Hicksburg with his dad, William R. Bingham, in his Model T. The purpose of the trip was to see Dr. Morgan pull all of his father's teeth. Seems those teeth gave him so much trouble, he decided he'd do better without, and he did. William R. Bingham was County Commissioner at the time, but the lack of teeth never slowed him down.

According to interview with the late A. Y. Collier Jr. and his brother Jack, Dr. Morgan was later shot and killed during a visit to Polk County. Other doctors that remembered from the Hicksburg days were Dr. Jordan, who was killed by a train at the Hicksburg site, and Dr. Haley.

Back to the census

Andrew Turner, Jesse Ively, Charles A. Porter, Thomas Morgan and V. A. Gibson.

Of course, Jack had to throw in a couple of midwives, several dentists and a faith healer, just to keep me on my toes.

In 1910, we found the same Dr. Pope (only shown here as Willis) and a new listing for his son William H. Pope along with Charlie W. Evans, James V. Arnold, C. S. Coker, Henry L. Hutson, Richard P. Stewart and Marif Blewske, all new to our ongoing lists.

In 1920, Jack picked up Dr. Thomas Lovington, a sawmill doctor in the Steel Grove area, and Dr. Henry S. Kirby, who we believe to have been the younger brother of John Henry.

Lots of men of medicine to be tracked down, but beyond names we're finding it quiet out there. Is M. L. Bingham the only native Tyler Countyman with a memory for medical trivia?

Carol Phillips was so excited in giving her report on the progress of the new Genealogy Library she's been working on for so many volunteer hours, that she could hardly speak.

This is the biggest job I've ever undertaken, she told Heritage Society board members, and she has been more than pleased with the way it has all come together, thanks to the earlier work of Mary Hild, who set up the Dewey Decimal system, and that of Joyce Wilson, Sandy Boetcher and Whitney Garity.

The "Stranger" in our midst

By Darby Kethan

left an envied playground to help in the world? Mine did. "Don't talk to strangers." "Don't go into houses of strangers or get near cars of strangers."

"Was yours specific about just who was strangers? My mom was. . . sort of. Don't go into a strange house, don't go up to a car with someone in it you don't know." Did you know your parents' wisdom. For sure, kids' faces didn't show up on TV (no TV) or newspapers or milk cartons with horrifying regularity as they do now. We didn't know or hear so much about kids being harmed.

Yet now, in the enlightened 90's, kids seem in danger of being "hurt" by friends or family as well as by strangers. Evidence of these tragedies abounds. TV coverage is detailed about such crimes, posters of missing young people cover convenience stores and milk cartons are filled with child billboards. Parents repeatedly warn children about perils, yet abductions and atrocities against our children seem to be a recent experience, even children who received careful parental training proved easy targets when the techniques, children, ages five through 10, willingly accepted the "stranger" in our midst.

That's why we are so sorry more of you haven't taken advantage of the opportunity to sit in on one of Whitney's Thursday afternoon "Be A Villager" sessions. Not only is it fun, learning afterwards, it's a way you can be part of the Village and the community whose history it represents.

And while you're writing down "Thursday, one p.m. at the Hann House," make another note to call Joyce Wilson at 283-5377 if you are interested in a Beginning Genealogy Class. Carol says it will most likely be a Monday daytime class, but she needs your interest and your input.

And then we'll need you to decide which day of the month you would like to be acting librarian. You have your choice of any Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday. Just once a month, 10 times a year. Not much to give, but so important to our Village, our Society, our Community.

Senior League All-stars fall in heartbreaker

WOODVILLE - Tyler County's Senior League All-Stars dropped a heartbreaker, 10-7, extra inning championship game to the West End All-Stars Saturday night.

The loss was Tyler County's second in the post season tournament, they earlier had fallen to West End, 20-0, but came back to defeat South Park, 11-6, to move into the championship game.

In Saturday's loss the local all-stars rallied back from a 6-1 deficit to tie the game with four runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth.

Tyler County had a chance to win the game in the bottom of the seventh with runners on first and third, but a double play ended the threat.

The four run rally in the fifth by Tyler County came on four walks and singles by Greg Cheney and Brent Parks.

Tyler County's solo run in the first came on back to back doubles by Marcus McCabe and B.J. Stewart.

In Tyler County's win over South Park, Parks doubled in the fifth inning. Cheney scored three runs after getting on with walks, and McCabe had a single.

West End held Tyler County to only two hits in their first game. Jason Winkle and Cheney had singles in the third inning, but Tyler County was unable to score.

Senior League Softballers lose to West End

BEAUMONT - Tyler County's Senior League Softball All-Stars fell to Beaumont West End, 4-3, last week in a sectional tournament game. The loss by Tyler County gave West End the title to the District 12 championship and advanced them to regional play.

West End jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first four innings, scoring one in the third and three more in the fourth.

Tyler County rallied back for three runs in the sixth on singles by Kerene Allen, Jamie Shepherd, Eryn Byrom, and Marcus Cheney.

Allen struck out 12 for Tyler County in going the distance.

The Senior League earlier had defeated Humble and had hosts to West End.

Minor League girls fall in finals

WOODVILLE - The Minor League Softball All-Stars fell to Lumberton, 13-11, in the championship game of the District 12 Softball Tournament Monday night.

The loss came on the heels of a 14-9 loss to Lumberton last week. Lumberton now advances to regional play in Houston.

Both losses were not without sparkling defense, pitching, and hitting by the "Ocel" all-stars.

In today's game, Tyler County jumped out to a 6-2 lead in the first inning before Lumberton made its comeback with three runs in the sixth inning.

Courtney Flowers led Tyler County at the plate with a triple, a single, and three runs batted in. Cassie Flowers had a double and drove in a run, while Ashley Tibbitts had a single.

In the local all-stars scored the final runs on singles by Dennard and Tasha Johnson.

Missy Watters, Parker, Ashley Williams, and Courtney Flowers also had hits in the game, but Tyler County missed several opportunities to score more runs by leaving 11 runners on base.

Going into the final two games against Lumberton, Tyler County was unbeaten. Their championship battle against Lumberton was the farthest a county minor league team has gone in the post season playoffs.

The team was coached by Richard Sutton and Ernie Waters.

Bradford to head Colmesneil girls athletic program

COLMESNEIL - Mary Bradford, who coached at class 2A Whitewright and class 3A Princeton for the past five years, will take over the girls athletic program at Colmesneil High School.

Bradford will head girls volleyball, basketball, cross country, and softball at Colmesneil.

The new girls coach headed the girls basketball, cross country, and track program at Whitewright for the past three years. She was the girls volleyball and tennis coach, along with the assistant basketball coach at Princeton for two years.

A graduate of East Texas State University where she majored in English and Physical Education, Bradford grew up in Anna where she excelled in basketball and track.

"Colmesneil reminds me a lot of Anna," says Bradford. "It is the type of school that needs excitement and challenge. I want to get the excitement and the pride back. That will eventually bring success."

One of the new coach's goals will be to get more girls to participate in the athletic program. By doing so, she says, Colmesneil will be able to field junior varsity teams which in turn will feed the varsity teams.

Kim Cheney, a native of Colmesneil, will assist Bradford and head the junior varsity teams. This will mark her first year in coaching.

Bradford has four of her athletes from Whitewright now playing on the collegiate level. At Princeton she had numerous all-district players and had the league's Most Valuable Player in basketball. She also had a cross country team advance to regional while at Whitewright.

Besides taking over the Colmesneil girls athletic program, Miss Bradford will also teach junior and freshman English.
