COWBOY

Guests at the Colmesneil home Sunday were Mrs. Arthur Shillings and son of Groesbeck, Mrs. Loy Shillings and family, and Mrs. Joe Shillings and family of Woodville. Mrs. L. A. Taylor and children spent the week end at Apple Springs visiting relatives. Everyone seems sorry to hear of the truck collision Monday in which Elgie Leavings was killed and Cecil Davis and Ardle Winters were injured. Relatives of the deceased have the sympathy of their many friends here. Mrs. Bobby Bendy was Jasper visitor Thursday. Miss Mary Beth Parker of Zavalla is visiting the aunt Mrs. T. E. Howell. Mrs. H. N. Adams were very glad to have their daughter, Moille Marie, home last week. Guests in the Maurice Courtney home Sunday were Mrs. Alvin. Children and children of Sunny Dell. R. B. Boyette made a trip to Beaumont Monday. Among those who were surprised to his fellow workers who knew him as a capable workman and a safety-minded foreman—they could explain it only as just one of those things that happen. The operator of the shovel stated that Munner had been directing the building of a farmer road-bed for the trucks to use to be loaded. On one of the turns of the shovel the operator saw the truck backing up toward the foreman but before he could swing the bucket out of the danger area Munner was crushed against it.

The installation of running water in the home and piping it to the barn, a windmill, a concrete cellar, a shower, a new tank, a garage, and more chicken houses are among the home improvements in which the boy has had a part. J. C. has assisted his father in improving their pasture so that today it is one of the best in the county. They plan to continue this and improve their herd by the purchase soon of a better sire.

This young farmer reads a number of the best farm magazines and is keenly interested in the progressive ideas he sees in them and on the trips he makes with the F. F. A. boys and their adviser to A&M college, to the pasture experiment station near Lufkin, the stock shows, and the state fair in Dallas and other fairs. All in all, he is a fine representative of the Future Farmers of this section and gives promise of making an excellent farmer who is willing to work to have on the farm many of the comforts and conveniences of the town.
